The TATLER

William Jewell College

Quicquid agunt Homines nostri Farrago Libelli.

May, 1961.

THOUGH our illustrious predecessor, Mr. Tatler, was wont to publish his advices and reflections every Tuesday, Thursday, and Saturday in the week, we find it more convenient in this modern age to issue merely an annual report, containing all matters of interest to the worthy and well-affected members of the campus. Perceptive readers will no doubt speedily discover that the quality of prose from Mr. Tatler's day to the present time has been hardly affected, retaining as it does the supple lucidity of well-rounded periods as handily as though it had been genteel by written with goose quill and dispatched to some Fleet Street printer's devil, thence to be laid luxuriously in Caslon Old Style. Through the good offices of a foreign gentleman, a Monsignor Daguerrotype, the printed material in the Tatler has been complemented by black and white and colored illustrations and portraitures—a concession to the modern appetite for variety of which we feel sure Mr. Tatler would approve.

May we earnestly entreat, thus, all original subscribers, as well as any persons but newly come upon the Hill, to give us their patronage, especially since they are sure to discover, somewhere within our pages, at least one name or face that cannot help but gratify their sensibilities.

From the Cage.

HOW often doth the Fancy conjure up those fond images from the past, now, alas, bygone forever. Even now, methinks, I smell the pungent odour of coffee, fresh-slopped o'er the table by careless stirring, and taste once more the careless rapture of sitting at the round table, playing Hombre, or Whist, knowing full well that class, and textbooks, and lecture notes languish, waiting for our presence across the wind-swept Hill, in bleak Marston, or Iv'ry Storied Jewell. The music from the speaker plays, unheeded, as Fiji's lounge at the center table, Sigma Nu's gaze speculatively from the corner booth, and over all, the KA's and the Lambda Chi's wait restlessly for their orders. Nor is the fairer sex o'erlook'd; the peals of laughter ring the room, and many a bright-eyed duel begun in Spanish class continues, sotto voce, over a Coke. But then the fateful tapping on the intercom, and all's dispelled, and Davie clears her throat and says, "The building is closed for Chapel."

Dedication . . .

Mr. D. Vern LaFrenz, Associate Professor of Mathematics, came to our campus in 1945. Being himself a graduate of William Jewell College, he was willing to assist the administration by accepting a position on the faculty when there was a shortage during World War II. After the war he remained and since that time he has proven to be an able and willing teacher of many mathematics' classes. Students of algebra, trigonometry, geometry, astronomy, and calculus will remember his lessons as periods of enjoyable learning.

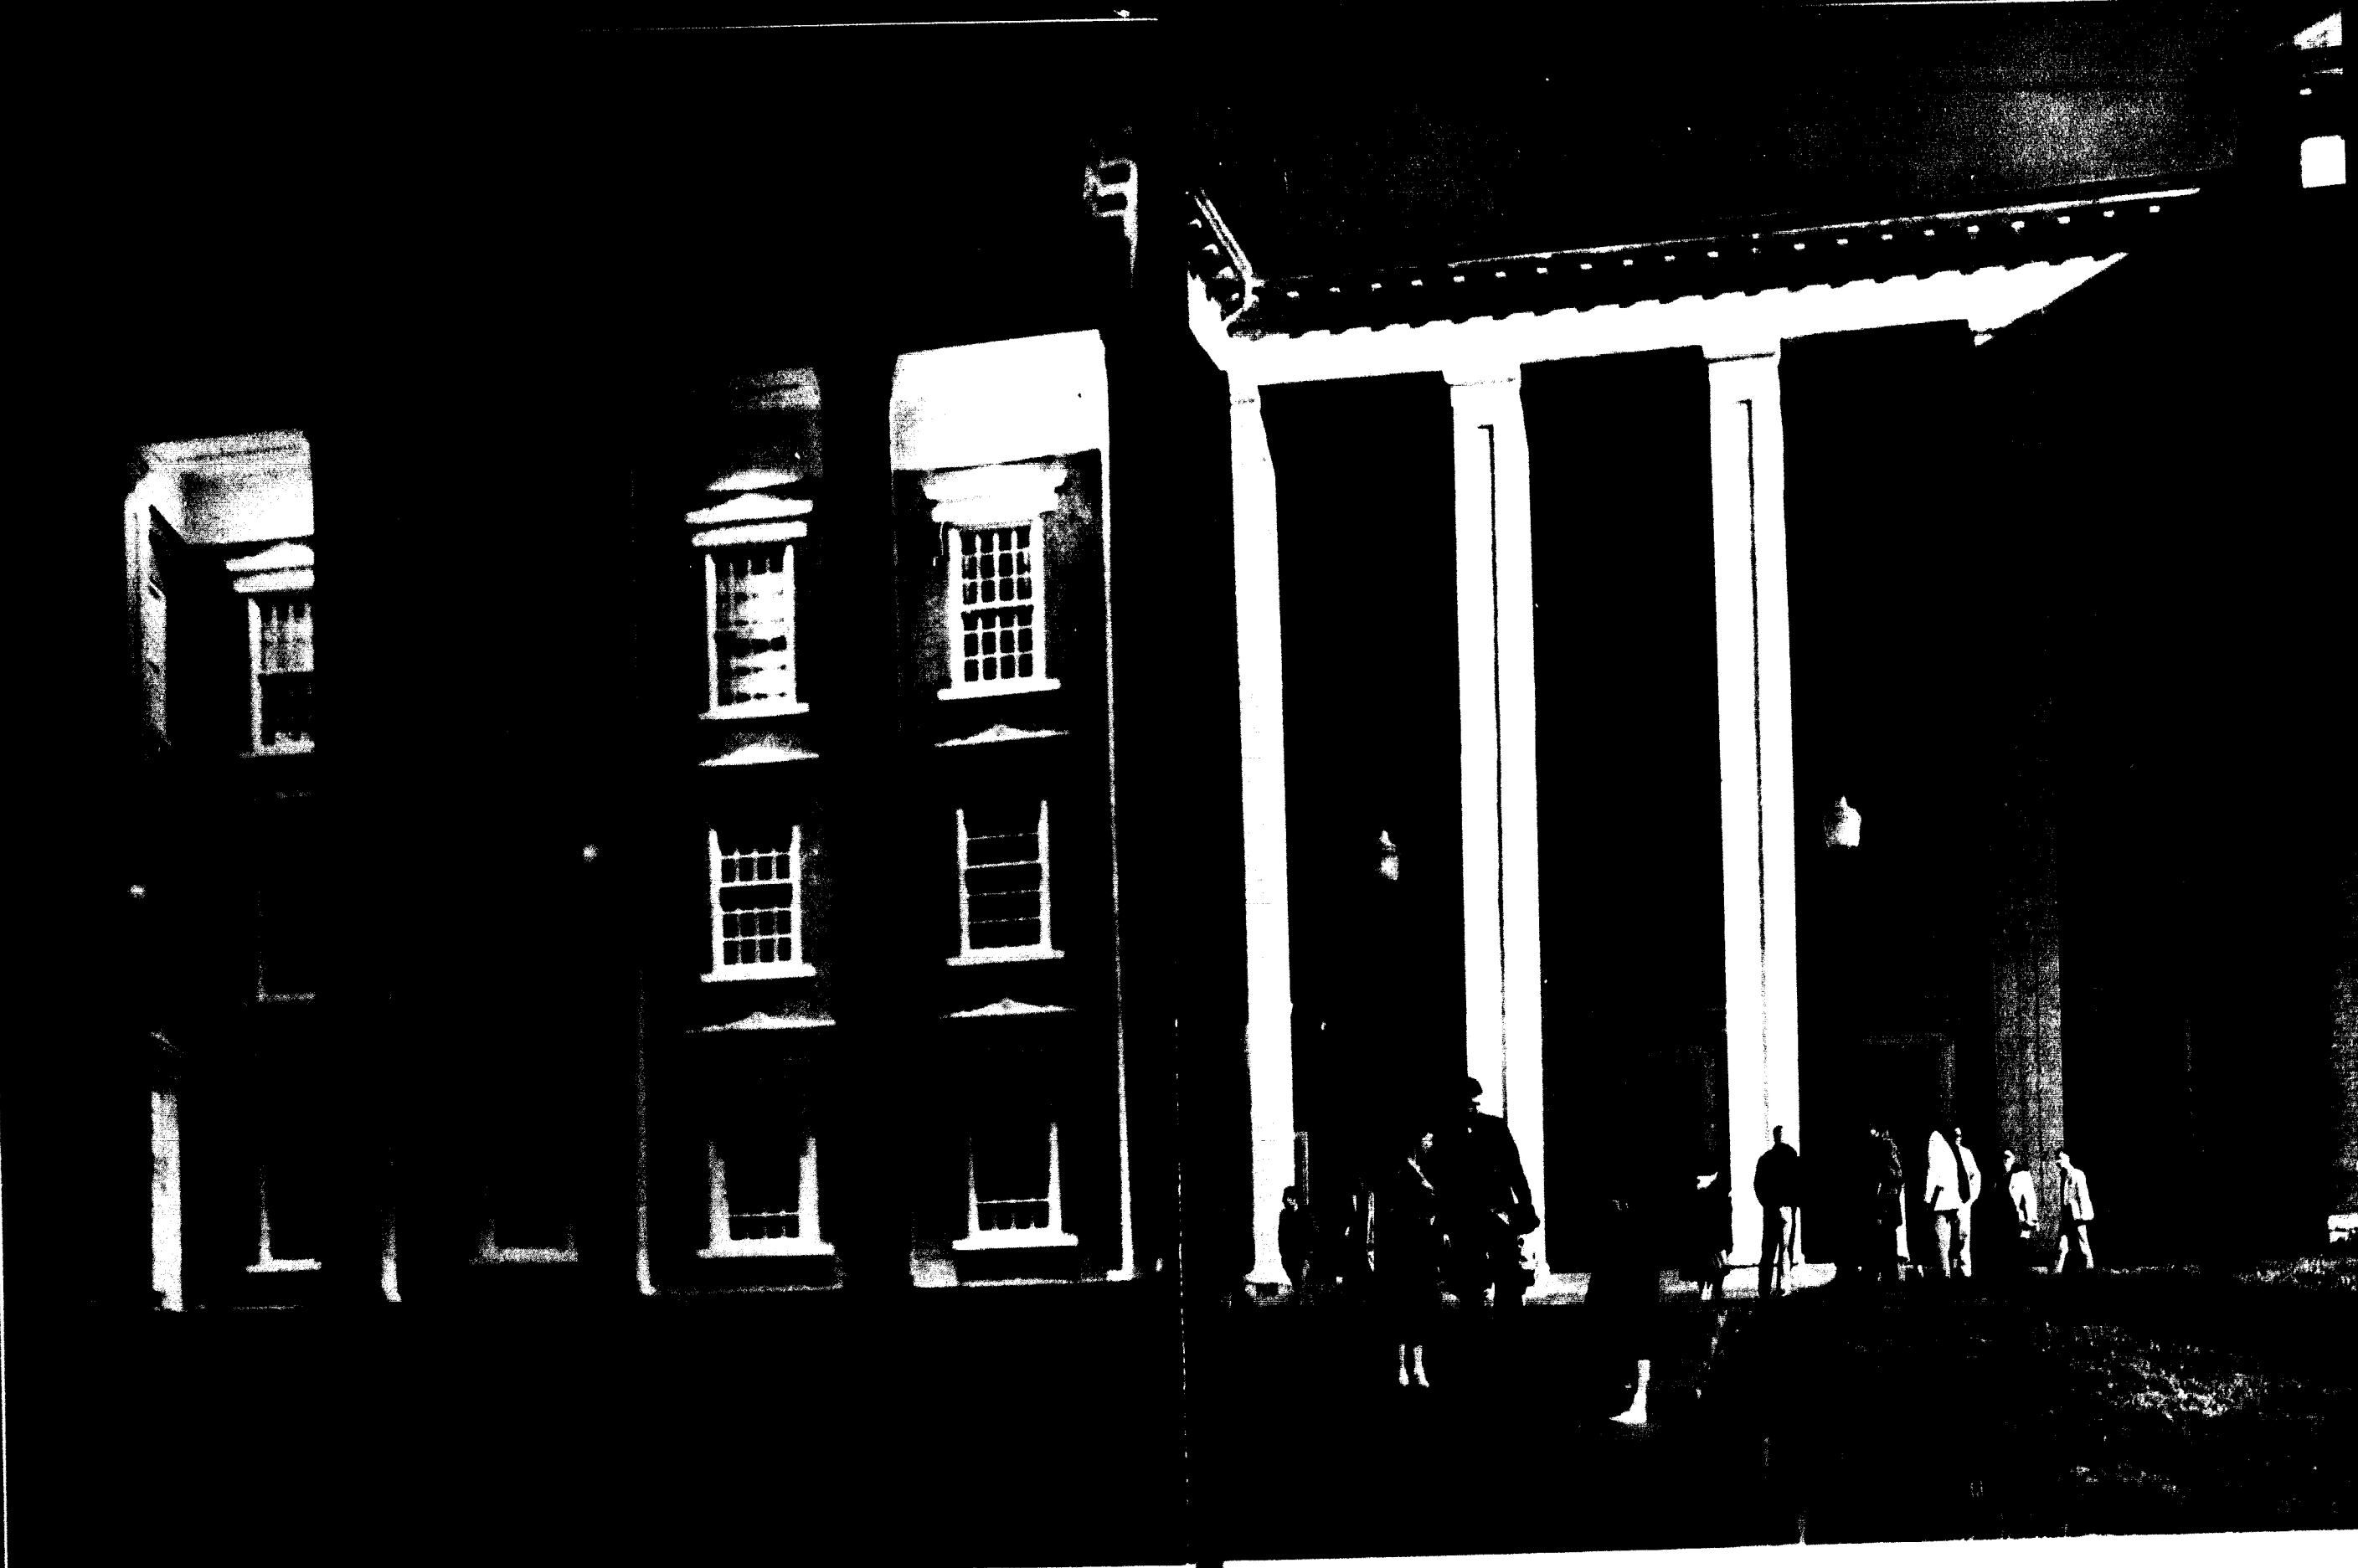

This jovial man has also contributed to the activities of the campus outside of the classroom. Professor LaFrenz is always agreeable and understanding concerning problems presented by the students. He serves as Chairman of the faculty committee for chapel attendance; and as a member of the committee relating to athletics, he can be seen busily helping out at various sports events. No matter where he goes or what he does, he is always cheerful and cooperative.

It is to Professor D. Vern LaFrenz that the staff of the 1961 Tatler proudly dedicates this book.

"Whatever mankind does shall be the motley substance of my book."—Juvenal

THE PRINCIPAL OBJECT, END, AND PURPOSE of a yearbook is to present adequately a true picture of the people and events of the passing year. It is just such a picture that we shall endeavor to furnish the reader, in the pages following, that he may be able to review at leisure and take contemplative pleasure in examining unhurriedly those tumultuous happenings and myriad faces that comprised his existence during 1960-1961.

For the past fades slowly into the night of time—and it is only in the bright pages of memory that it lives once more.

Vice Presidents

DR. C. SYLVESTER GREEN

Dr. C. Sylvester Green came to Jewell in the summer of 1958 and served as Vice President in charge of Public Relations until December, 1960. During his stay he directed the admissions program, edited the college publications, and produced the material for newspaper publicity. He also directed the summer seminars for ministers held during the past two summers.

DR. H. I. HESTER

Vice President of the College, Dr. H. I. Hester, has also served as head of the Department of Religion for thirty five years. During this time he has written many noted books. In addition to his positions at Jewell, Dr. Hester is President of the Board of Trustees of the Midwestern Baptist Theological Seminary and President of the Missouri Baptist Historical Society.

MINETY L. JONES

The services performed by Vice President Minety L. Jones are important to the progress of the college. His primary concern is that of the future building plans. Much of his time is spent in working out the details of the new four-story library building and the housing project for married students which are soon to be constructed. Minety L. Jones is in charge of all major financial transactions.

JOHN A. POND

Mr. John A. Pond, Vice President in charge of Business Administration, has completed his first full year of service to the college. He has had much experience in college business management for he served for six years as the director of purchasing at the University of Colorado. He has also been treasurer of the National Association of Educational Buyers, and a director of the National Federation of College Business Officers Association.

President Walter Pope Binns

Dr. Walter Pope Binns has been serving William Jewell as president for eighteen years. Since that time he has contributed to the achievement of the campus in many assorted endeavors.

Before becoming the ninth president of William Jewell College, he served as pastor of the First Baptist Church in Roanoke, Virginia. Previous to that he earned his A.B. degree from Mercer University, his Th.M. degree from the Southern Baptist Theological Seminary, and his D.D. degree from Mercer University. After coming to Jewell he received several honorary degrees from such institutions as Occidental College and Tulane University.

During his years of service, Dr. Binns has always been a wise counselor and an understanding friend to the students of the college. He is willing to lend his assistance to any project which he feels will further the development of the college.

As part of his many services, Dr. Binns travels many hundreds of miles each year making personal appearances. For instance, last fall he travelled to Washington, D.C., for a meeting of the Alumni Association and later he acted as toastmaster at a meeting of the Missouri Baptist Convention held in St. Louis.

This past year has been marked by the publication of Dr. Walter Pope Binns' book, "Behold The Man!" For many years it has been traditional that the President of the College deliver the baccalaureate sermon on the Sunday morning of commencement week. Since Dr. Binns assumed this responsibility he has repeatedly delivered clear and concise messages showing his understanding of the needs of young people. In his book, Dr. Binns has selected about a dozen of his sermons for publication and these messages provide very interesting and worthwhile reading material.

Besides his work in campus affairs, President Binns holds many positions in the community and the nation. He is also Chairman of the Southern Baptist Convention Public Affairs and World Peace Committees.

CATHERINE W. BATES

The campus is proud to have Miss Catherine W. Bates returning to her position as Dean of Women. Miss Bates completed her undergraduate work at the Agnes Scott College in Georgia and then attended the Women's Missionary Union Training School at Louisville, Kentucky. She took a leave of absence last year to do further graduate work at Columbia University in New York City.

Some of her duties include serving as advisor to student groups such as House President's Council and Panhellenic Council, scheduling all social events, supervising the handbooks, and counseling all women students.

E. W. HOLZAPPEL

Dean E. W. Holzappel came to William Jewell College in 1948 and since that time he has ably served the campus. He studied at and graduated from Westmar College and Iowa State College.

At Jewell he has many duties. These include counseling, advising students concerning their vocational choices, testing all new transfer students, and speaking at various alumni functions. He also serves as chairman of the athletic committee and the scholarship and loan committee, while he is a member of the committees pertaining to admissions, advertising, homecoming, student activities, and the selection of "Who's Who" members.

He received his B.A. and M.A. degrees from Tulane University and his Ph.D. degree from Yale University. Before coming to Jewell Dean Taylor served as Director of University Libraries at Tulane University in New Orleans.

Dean Taylor has added much to the prestige of the college by increasing the academic standards. He further acts as chairman of the committees for admissions and curriculum.

House Directors Perform a Variety of Services

The services offered by the house directors to the members of their respective residences are extremely varied. This year a total of nine women serve the campus dormitories and fraternity houses in this capacity. Eight of these women have returned from previous years.

The house directors are on continuous duty for they are willing to help at any necessary time. They serve as counselors to the students, as managers overseeing the smooth functioning of their houses, as cheerful hostesses to many guests, and as valuable friends.

The dormitory directors, who have all returned from previous years are Mrs. Anna Absher, continuing to advise the girls at Melrose Hall; Mrs.

Fred T. Budge, managing the largest women's residence, Temple Hall; Mrs. Doris Freeman, directing the boys at Ely Hall; Mrs. Nellie Ruth Lincoln in the newest men's residence, Eaton Hall; and Mrs. Ruth Prince, serving the girls who live in Jones Hall.

The fraternity house mothers include Mrs. Homer Huff, who has for many years been serving the members of Sigma Nu; Mrs. Dola Hughes, new at the Kappa Alpha House this year; Mrs. Mary Malone, again advising the men of Phi Gamma Delta; and Mrs. Myrtle Shelton of Liberty, who is completing her third year as director at the Lambda Chi Alpha House.

Faculty Members Offer Wisdom and Advice to Students

One of the advantages a small college has over a larger one is the close relationship between the students and the faculty. This is especially true at Jewell where each faculty member seems to go out of his way to maintain the warm friendliness for which Jewell is known. Besides advising those majoring in their respective departments, most members of the faculty do all that they can to stimulate and satisfy the intellectual curiosity of the students, both in and out of the classrooms. It is not at all unusual to see students and professors finishing a discussion, which could not be completed in the class time, over coffee in the Cage. One feels at ease in a conference with one's professors whether it is to discuss scholastic achievement or merely a point of interest.

In addition to giving their time and opening their offices to conferences when the students feel a need, many members of the faculty open their homes to student groups for seminars, parties, workshops, or friendly talk and advice, and spend much of their spare time in student work.

Furthermore, many members of the faculty are distinguished scholars. They have received their degrees from all areas of the country and many of them have studied in Europe. Professors in the science departments are always occupied with research projects in their special fields, while teachers in other departments contribute articles to scholastic magazines. Still others find time to write and publish books. Many of the younger members of the faculty are also working on further graduate degrees, and each year several members are away studying at institutions of higher learning.

The desire of the faculty members to share their learning and help and cooperation which they always stand ready to give to the students, enables one to gather knowledge from many fields and to acquire a more balanced and varied and truly liberal arts education.

Students Convey Ideas Through English, Speech, and Languages

One of the foremost needs of a college student in his preparation for the future is to learn how to successfully convey his ideas to others. William Jewell is adequately qualified to meet this need through its department of English, Speech, and Foreign Languages.

It is the purpose of the English Department to teach each student the best and most literate methods in writing. He must learn to adapt his thoughts and ideas in a concise manner, present them interestingly, and express them in a grammatically correct way. In addition to these skills, the student must learn to understand and interpret the ideas of others. This is done basically, through the study of literature.

Another of the needs of expression is gained through the Department of Speech. Here, in the introductory courses, a freshman learns to speak publicly. Besides helping a student gain self-confidence, a speech course enables him to condense his thoughts and defend his own ideas. A more advanced student may learn the art of persuasive speech, oral interpretation, or proper dramatic techniques.

Besides the study of one's own language, it is important to be able to understand the language and literature of another country. This may vary from a study of the classics in the departments of Greek and Latin to the translation of modern novels in Spanish, French, and German. It is always beneficial to know how to understand the language and customs of another country.

Science and Mathematics Help Students Prepare for Careers

No fields of study are better able to prepare a student for a future career than those of science and mathematics. In this area the student may increase his knowledge in a specific type of curriculum while retaining his liberal arts background.

The mathematics department at Jewell has been designed to provide basic courses for all students as well as more difficult courses for those who are planning to enter a certain profession. High school students with a strong mathematical background can bypass introductory algebra and trigonometry and begin with a speeded-up course in calculus with analytical geometry.

A second helpful department is that of physics. The program has been planned to meet the needs of a mathematician, an engineer, a physician, or a layman. In addition to offering a full four year schedule of courses in physics, the department is well equipped and well staffed.

The study of chemistry can prepare one for the medical professions, engineering, teaching, and positions in industry and government work. Each year many chemistry students receive fellowship or assistantships for further graduate work.

Biology can also be considered a practical field for it acquaints a student with the history and philosophy of biological ideas and also relates them to the social sciences. The biology department has very modern laboratories in which a majority of Jewell students have spent some time.

Social Sciences Help Solve Current Problems

An area of utmost importance in the education of the college student is that of social sciences. It is through this study in such courses as economics, political science, history, sociology, and psychology that one gains the wisdom which is so very pertinent to his everyday existence.

It is the intent of the Economics Department to stimulate the interest of man in business and economics and acquaint him with those processes that yield the flow of goods and services important in life.

A course of importance and interest to the student is that of Political Science. It is through the study of political institutions that man is able to realize the effect government on all levels has on his social destiny.

Another large field of study at William Jewell is that of history. The History Department aims to assist the student in realizing what man has accomplished in the past and his progress, thus enabling the student to fit more readily into his environment.

The social relations of men are of great importance and are the object of study in the Sociology Department. People, objects, and relationships must be dealt with and consideration taken of the wills and purposes men pursue.

In the study of psychology the student must approach human behavior from a critical standpoint. The scientific method is employed in this study as much as is possible.

The Education Department aids students preparing for teaching careers, while bridging the material covered in all fields.

Humanities' Students Study Essential Values and Goals

The field of humanities is especially important in a liberal arts college which hopes to give its students not only the technical knowledge required for one's life work but also the wisdom required to find for oneself the meaning of life and its essential values and goals.

The Philosophy Department seeks to aid its students in their encounters with life's unavoidable and seemingly unanswerable questions through careful reading and through discussions of the writings of the great thinkers who have faced life's problems.

The Department of Religion helps all of the students gain an understanding of the historical facts of Christianity and assists the ministerial students in building a background for advanced study in divinity and theological schools.

The Music and Art Departments provide opportunities for improvement in the cultural aspects of life on the campus besides giving technical training to their students. They attempt to provide for the school a program which will give all the students a good foundation in the fine arts and produce graduates who have received the best possible education.

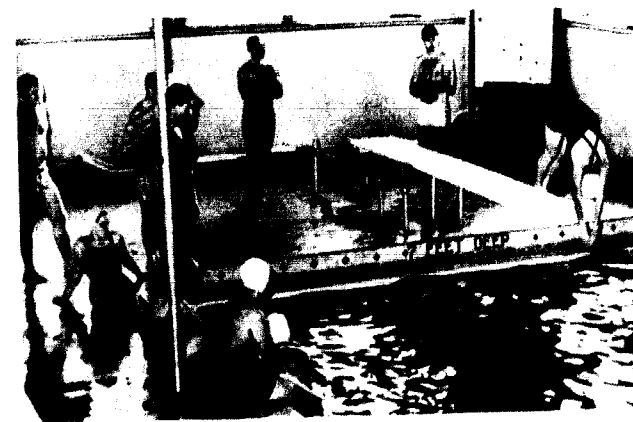

Although the Art Department is not extensive, interested students may learn the basic principles in a pleasurable atmosphere. There are various areas open to the student of music ranging from teaching, performance, and therapy, to music ministry. Those students who are not majors may enroll primarily for pleasure.

Physical Education Department Offers a Variety of Courses

Physical education is an important element in a liberal arts education. The student must learn to coordinate mental and physical activities. Courses are intended to acquaint each student with the history and fundamentals of all the sports.

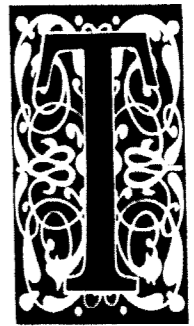

A physical education major will receive training and guidance in skills, knowledge of rules, strategy of games, coaching and officiating techniques, and a general knowledge of the field.

Each student in the school is required to take two semester hours of physical education. This is generally a pleasurable experience since there is a great variety of courses from which to choose. A student may participate in a minimum of four of the following: Badminton, Golf, Tennis, Volleyball, Boxing, Wrestling, Swimming — elementary, intermediate, and synchronized, Handball, Body Building, Square dancing, Bowling, Archery, Trampoline, and Tumbling. Many of the physical education majors assist the staff members in the elementary courses.

For the more advanced students, there are courses in first aid, officiating sports, teaching physical education, life saving, health education, coaching methods, and kinesiology. In addition to this they learn how to handle and care for equipment properly.

Physical education is a useful preparation for students who wish to participate in the intramural and varsity sports programs. Year around activities are provided to suit the interests of all students.

Student Senate Coordinates Student Affairs

The Student Senate had much activity and many innovations during the year 1960-61. The Senate, composed of representatives from all areas of the student body, began its year's activities by the annual meeting with the administration and faculty at a pre-school encampment in the Ozarks. This year a change in discipline was brought about by this group. A Student Conduct board was set up to discuss and recommend a plan of action to the College Discipline Committee. It was also decided to have a student serve on the College Discipline Committee.

Another innovation undertaken by the Senate is the consideration of an honor system for Jewell. A questionnaire was given to determine the attitude of the student body, a panel was held in chapel, and research on the question is being continued.

The Student Senate is the coordinator of many of the campus activities, such as the All School Picnic, Homecoming, Cardinal Capers, class officer and cheerleader elections, and the publication of the school handbook.

The Student Body President serves as chairman of the Student Senate. He is elected each year by the Student Body. The Secretary-Treasurer of the Senate is elected by the Senate from its membership. Other members of the Senate include the president, vice president, secretary, and treasurer of each class; the President of the College Union Board; and one representative from each of the sororities and fraternities, one off campus and one on campus non-affiliated student.

The Senate meets every week on Thursday evenings. Every other week, committees composed of both Senate and non-Senate members meet. Much of the work of the Senate is done through these committees. These committees cover areas such as academic affairs, campus grounds, chapel, orientation, school spirit, senate organization, and student affairs.

The Senate and the committees are coordinated by the executive committee. This committee consists of the Student Body President, Secretary-Treasurer, public relations director of the Senate, and the National Student Association Coordinator.

The Senate keeps in contact with the faculty by a representative from the faculty who attends the Senate meetings and keeps the faculty in touch with the plans and happenings of the Student Senate.

All ideas, complaints, or problems are sent or brought to Senate. Here they are discussed, and whatever happens, the Senate strives to keep the good of the student body as their goal.

UNION BOARD: Seated: Bontie Porter, Marian Board, Jo Ellen Hawkins, Linda Hill, John Brunner. Standing: Wayne Rudloff, Frank Edson, Al Dunbar.

Union Board Sponsors Varied Activities

The College Union is the activities center of the students and faculty, and its program is planned to provide cultural, social, educational, and recreational opportunities to meet the needs of the entire campus family. This program is planned and administered by the Union Board, and is executed by the various Committee Chairmen which make up the Activities Council. The Board is composed of the Union Director, the Area Directors, the officers of the Board, the President of the Student Body, and two faculty members. The Activities Council is composed of the Board and the various Committee Chairmen. The Union program is broken down into areas organizationally and the committees that fall into these areas are supervised by the Area Directors, who are upperclass students that have served as Committee Chairmen. These areas are: Administrative—publicity, personnel, scrapbook, and business manager; Recreation—tournaments, tours, game of the week, and married students programs; Social—receptions and parties; Special Programming—art shows, movies, talent, and concert lecture series; Communications—forums, campus radio station, and music committees.

The activities planned by the Union Organization this year varied from the concert lecture series which presented the Cleveland Playhouse, Ivan Davis, and Vance Packard to the daily pleasures furnished by the new radio station.

The Union has been fortunate to have the leadership of Bill Dunbar from its beginning. On March 1 of this year, however, he resigned in order to assume a better position, and was succeeded by Rod Swearingen, President of the Board in 1959.

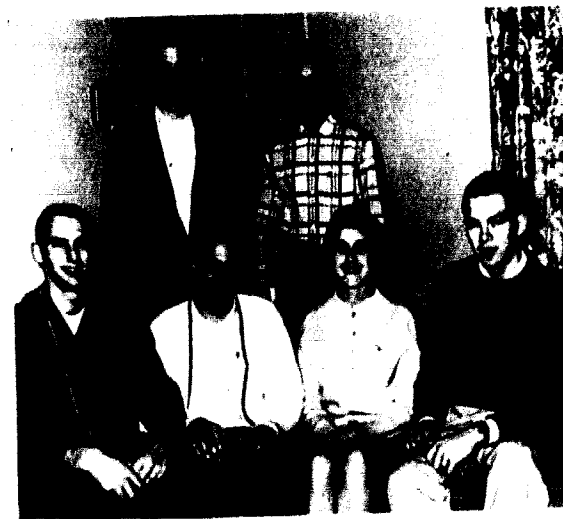

ADMINISTRATIVE AND FACULTY MEMBERS OF THE UNION BOARD: Rod Swearingen, new Union Director, Dr. Frank Edson, Dr. David Moore, and Bill Dunbar, previous Union Director.

Sixteen Outstanding Seniors Listed in "Who's Who"

In the fall of the year, six women and ten men were selected by a faculty committee for election to "Who's Who in American Colleges and Universities."

"Who's Who" is a national publication which honors students in over 700 colleges and universities across the country. After the faculty committee meets and makes their selections according to the qualifications set by the publication board, the individuals are then recommended for membership.

Announcement of those students chosen is made in the "Student" in late fall and certificates are presented to them in Chapel later in the year.

The students who have been selected are campus leaders and they show promise of success in a variety of fields. John Brunner of North Kansas

City and Ron Mathis of Liberty majored in chemistry. Dave Burhans of Louisville, Kentucky and Rita Rae Wilke of Belleville, Illinois were English majors. Both Gary Carter of St. Joseph and Dick Stillwagon of Kansas City were political science majors. Speech was represented by Jo Hawkins of St. Joseph and Martha Johnson of Agency. Other students listed and their majors include Marian Board of Kansas City, a sociology major; Don Boling from Harrisonville, a history major; Kaye Cokely of Liberty majoring in physical education; Bill Foster of Hannibal, a biology major; William Rethford from St. Louis, a philosophy major; Gene Voigts of North Kansas City, an economics major; and Linda Hill of St. Joseph and Dave Williams from Liberty, both music majors.

Colonel Alexander Doniphan and First Lady of the Campus

Each year the student body traditionally elects one senior man and one senior woman whom they feel possess the qualities of leadership which were evident in Colonel Alexander Doniphan. Colonel Doniphan is regarded as the most celebrated and famous name connected with William Jewell College. The entire campus is familiar with the account of this famed hero, Colonel Doniphan, and the struggles he encountered while leading his men in the longest march of the Mexican War in 1846.

David D. Burhans of Louisville, Kentucky was voted as the senior man to receive the honor of being Colonel Alexander Doniphan, the student most likely to "march the farthest in life." Dave's activities include Student Body President, Pledge Trainer of Lambda Chi Alpha, Acons, "Who's Who," Sophomore Class President, Pi Kappa Delta, Ministerial Association, and the BSU Executive Council. In addition to his academic work and extra-curricular activities, Dave is employed as the assistant admissions counselor for the College. After graduation he plans to attend the seminary in Louisville, Kentucky.

The student body gives the title of First Lady to the most outstanding senior woman. This year Kaye Cokely of Liberty was selected as the senior woman possessing the high qualities of leadership displayed by Colonel Doniphan. Kaye has had many campus activities and honors including being Homecoming Queen, Junior and Senior Class Secretary, Cheerleader, Vice-President and Rush Chairman of Alpha Delta Pi, and Co-chairman of Religious Focus Week. She is also a member of Panagis, "Who's Who," the Senate Discipline Board, and the Panhellenic Council. When Kaye completes her work at William Jewell, she plans to continue her education at the University of Kansas and study to be a physical therapist.

HOUSE PRESIDENTS' COUNCIL: Sharon Magee, Diane Toma, Sue Sims, Judy Rosenow, Pat Butler, Jane Cunningham.

SEMPLER HALL HOUSE COUNCIL: Sharon Magee, Judy Rosenow, Linda Hill, Diane Toma, Jane Cunningham.

MELROSE HALL HOUSE COUNCIL: Carol Moore, Ruth Anne Williams, Sue Sims, Shirley Nouchin, Marje Williams, SESSING - Sandra Harvey, Susie Koch, Mary Wright, Mary Alice Boucman.

JONES HALL HOUSE COUNCIL: Ruth Stone, Joyce Emerick, Pat Butler, Ronilue Berry.

House Councils

The House Councils from top to bottom are the House Presidents' Council, Semple Hall, Melrose Hall, and Jones Hall. House Councils of the individual dorms are composed of representatives from each wing of the dorm, the dormitory president, a social chairman, and the house director. They meet "after hours" weekly to discuss problems that arise in the wings and are responsible for giving demerits and seeing that quiet hours are enforced, order is maintained, and the kitchen facilities are kept clean. Problems of a more general or serious nature or suggestions for better dormitory living are taken to the House Presidents' Council made up of the president of each dorm, the wing president from each sorority, and the Dean of Women. The dormitory presidents this year are Linda Hill of Semple Hall, Pat Butler of Jones Hall, and Sue Sims of Melrose. During their weekly meetings they also discuss matters affecting all women students and hear appeals of "late minutes."

Parties and get-togethers were held in each dorm for the residents throughout the year. Semple Hall girls celebrated Halloween with a party in the main lounge at which each girl wore an original mask. Prizes were awarded for the best masks in various categories. During the Christmas season Semple Hall again held open house for the faculty members, parents, and friends. Each wing of the dorm was decorated with an appropriate theme and the individual occupants of the rooms all decorated their rooms accordingly. Other parties were held throughout the year including the party in May honoring the seniors and brides.

The girls of Jones Hall began the year with a lively Halloween party. Several other parties were held through the year including a Christmas party at which carols were sung and gifts were exchanged, a Valentine party, and a going away party in the spring.

At Melrose, no one's birthday is forgotten for each month the girls get together in the recreation room for a party honoring everyone who has had a birthday during that month. Similar to the other dormitories, their parties were often in line with the holiday of the season.

In March, Miss Catherine Bates, the Dean of Women, with the assistance of the House Presidents' Council gave a Shamrock Coffee in the College Union. Guests at this coffee were the commuting students and new students.

Ministerial Association Continues Varied Activities

The ministerial students of William Jewell College reorganized in accordance with the provisions of a formal constitution on April 30, 1953 and adopted the name of the H. I. Hester Ministerial Association in recognition of Dr. Hester and his years of leadership, wise counselling, and personal interest in students preparing for Christian service.

Though not always identified by its present name, the Association is the oldest organization on the Hill, having been in existence since the beginning of Jewell history.

During the year the approximately 150 members hold meetings at chapel time on Mondays at which they hear speakers from seminaries and nearby churches. On Fridays Rev. Tom Bray, director of the religious activities, conducts a practical workshop.

American Baptists Participate in BSM

To provide an opportunity for students who belong to the American Baptist Assembly to meet, the organization called BSM has been formed. BSM stands for the Baptist Student Movement and is comparable to the BSU, or Baptist Student Union, of the Southern Baptist students.

On a Christian campus it is essential that the students are able to discuss together their spiritual needs and to share the solutions to their problems. It is in this respect that the Baptist Student Movement plays an active role. Members of the American Baptist Assembly meet for their BSM meetings in the recreation room of Melrose Hall on Sunday evenings. At that time they conduct their business meetings, hold song fests, gather for prayer, or have a party. On many occasions the BSM group has refreshments at their weekly meetings. On other occasions the members of BSM invite guest speakers to their meetings and participate in lively discussions in which they seek guidance from their guests.

Sometimes the group ventures beyond the recreation room of Melrose Hall. On special occasions the members may have outdoor picnics or take part in special studies. At other times the members may attend church together either in Liberty or in Kansas City.

The Baptist Student Movement is not just a local group organized on the campus of William Jewell College. Churches and colleges throughout the country have similar groups. The BSM groups in the state of Missouri meet every year and hold a convention. Each year delegates from the Jewell Baptist Student Movement attend the convention and many times they hold important posts in the state organization.

Thus through a wide range of activities, members of the American Baptist Organization at William Jewell can meet, discuss, and work together in fulfilling their religious needs.

BSU Offers Many Opportunities to Students

The Baptist Student Union helps to provide for the spiritual side of college life. It is the connecting link between the college and the local church. The BSU seeks to popularize and keep vital in the life of a student the various organizations within the church.

When a student becomes a member of the local Baptist Church or a religious campus organization, he is automatically a member of BSU.

An Executive Council is selected each year to lead the students in planning and directing the campus religious activities. This council serves primarily as a unifier of religious activities on the campus.

The BSU sponsors many activities on the Jewell campus. Activities in which the group has participated this year include revival teams, mission projects and work days, retreats, Morning Watch devotionals, social programs at the church for new students on campus, and planning and presenting of seasonal religious programs in the Chapel.

This year the BSU also sponsored Noon Day devotionals five days a week. In addition to the other activities, several BSU members attended a Missions' Conference in New Orleans.

Gamma Beta Nu

Gamma Beta Nu is a group of wives of ministerial students who meet each month to discuss common problems, situations, and goals. The group was organized in 1931, and these women have tried to help carry out the motto of Gamma Beta Nu which is "Wives Help to Win."

Most of the members are rarely seen on the campus because most of their activity is behind the classroom scene.

The women of Gamma Beta Nu face one of the most difficult challenges of life. The role of minister's wife requires patience, understanding, honor, and dignity.

Epsilon Omega Pi

"Into Service Prepared" is the motto of Epsilon Omega Pi. The group consists of members who plan to enter fulltime Christian vocations.

One of the main projects of the girls this year has been to bring cheer to those who are ill in Kansas City Hospitals.

The young women meet monthly and at that time various speakers, usually women, come and discuss the many aspects of missionary work.

The purpose of Epsilon Omega Pi is to help the members develop every phase of their lives so that each girl may learn more about Christian work.

YWA Members Study Missions

The main project of the Young Women's Auxiliary is the study of missions and the promotion of missionary work.

The girls of YWA began the year in the traditional manner of having a tea for new women students at the home of Dr. and Mrs. Walter Pope Binns. Following that, meetings were held twice monthly. One of the meetings is a mass meeting and the other is a group of individual "circle" meetings. Each "circle" consists of about eight or ten girls.

Throughout the season many programs are planned at the Liberty Baptist Church and each week, trips are made to Hilltop House for guidance and recreation with the girls there. In the spring, one Saturday is devoted to the study of mission work in some particular area. The year closes with a banquet in which girls who are leaving because of graduation or marriage are honored.

The program of the YWA is attractive and this is verified by the popularity of the group and its large membership.

Alpha Phi Omega engages in any project which will in any way benefit the college, the faculty, or the student body. One important undertaking is this group's aid to the bloodmobile by encouraging donors. An annual project is the "Ugly Man on Campus" contest which is a fund drive for Care and the United Fund.

Pi Kappa Delta Members Receive Many Honors

Pi Kappa Delta, the national honorary forensic fraternity, has an extremely active chapter each year on the William Jewell campus. The organization consists of students who have actively participated in the areas of debate, extemporaneous speaking, discussion, and oratory.

Besides participating in tournaments at other colleges and universities in the nation, the William Jewell chapter is the host school for the annual Blizzard Tournament. This group has gained recognition through achieving many special group and individual awards. Outstanding group awards included second place in sweepstakes at the University of Nebraska and superior rating in men's sweepstakes with excellent rating in women's sweepstakes in the Pi Kappa Delta Nationals. The following recognition was given Jewell's debate teams: superior rating in senior debate at the Blizzard Tournament, Pi Kappa Delta Nationals, and Missouri State Speech Tournament; excellent rating in championship debate at Illinois State Normal. The senior team advanced to the quarterfinals at St. Thomas College, to the semifinals at Baylor University, and were the top team at the University of Nebraska.

In the junior division John Clizbe and Norman Dalton were in the quarterfinals at Baylor University; Raymond Gordon and Norman Dalton were undefeated in junior men's debate at Illinois State Normal.

An outstanding climax for this season was a tie for first place in the West Point district elimination tournament, which entitled Gene Voigts and Ron Walstrom to go to the West Point Tournament.

Individual awards were presented to the following members of Pi Kappa Delta for extemporaneous speaking: Gene Voigts, first place in extemporaneous speaking at the University of Wichita, superior rating at Pi Kappa Delta Nationals and at the Missouri State Speech Tournament; Linda Ehsam, superior rating at Pi Kappa Delta Nationals. For discussion Audrey Vought received a superior rating at Pi Kappa Delta Nationals. Every year the members of Pi Kappa Delta endeavor to promote "The art of persuasion, beautiful and just."

Political Science Club

Students majoring in political science and others interested in the field are eligible to join the Political Science Club. The Club did not fully organize until second semester because of the activities of the Young Republicans' and Young Democrats' Clubs during the fall.

With the return of Mr. Will Adams, the action in political science was back in full swing. In the spring, some of the students travelled to Jefferson City, Missouri, for a meeting of the mock legislature.

Psychology Club

Due to the renewed interest in psychology on the campus, the Psychology Club was revived and reorganized. Membership was extended to all psychology majors and to other students having completed six hours in psychology.

Activities were soon underway with the appearance of several guests at the monthly meetings. All of the speakers were very outstanding.

Late in the spring, the club journeyed to Topoka to observe the operation of the Menninger Clinic and the Topoka State Hospital.

Players Study All Aspects of Play Production

The William Jewell Players is one of the most active groups on the campus. The presentation of three plays was the major contribution of the organization.

Membership in the Players is not limited to those who perform on the stage. All students who are willing to work diligently in lesser capacities are gladly accepted. Pledges may earn points toward their initiation by selling tickets for the plays, working on publicity, designing and making costumes, finding properties, and painting scenery.

At the Players' annual banquet each spring the pledges are granted membership.

At their regular meetings the Players strive to improve their ability, both in stage dramatics and backstage work. They do this by inviting guest speakers, by having discussions, or by travelling to various parts of the community or Kansas City to attend plays.

The three dramatic presentations of the William Jewell Players were "The Girls in 509," "The Glass Menagerie," and "The Sign of Jonah."

The first of these plays, "The Girls in 509," was a delightful play depicting the antics of two women, Aunt Hetty and Mimsy, who have been shut up for twenty years because they objected to the political party in power. Their discovery by the press and their peculiarities provide the basis for some extremely unusual situations. Jeanne Pratt was seen in the role of Aunt Hetty, while Connie Mattox portrayed Mimsy. It was the first leading role on the Jewell stage for both of the girls.

Near the end of February, The Players presented "The Glass Menagerie," the play by Tennessee Williams. The plot depicts a young girl who has been sheltered because she is crippled. Her withdrawal makes her appear as fragile as one of the pieces of her glass collection. The play was given on four evenings with two different casts. Many of the members of the audience attended two performances in order to compare the variety in interpretation by the change in cast.

The final play was "The Sign of Jonah." The cast did an excellent job on this play which was presented late in April.

Miss Virginia D. Rice, sponsor of the Players, directed all three of the plays.

Choir Provides Music for Chapel Services

Students who are interested in music and in singing may become members of the William Jewell College Chapel Choir. The members do not have to be music majors, nor be taking voice lessons. The main requirement is that they be willing to practice long hours until they achieve that quality for which the Chapel Choir is known.

Under the direction of Professor Henry Cady who has returned to us this year, the choir meets on Tuesdays and Thursdays at 4 p.m. Students receive one hour credit for this enjoyable participation.

The members of the choir sing at many occasions during the year. They participate as a robed choir at the regular chapel services. They presented special anthems for Achievement Day and the programs of Religious Focus Week.

Two productions were the highlight of the choir season. One was the Christmas program and the other was the Easter Vespers at which they sang the "Seven Last Words of Christ."

Both of these performances were highly attended by members of the student body. They were given an opportunity, both to enjoy music appropriate to the season, and to witness the choir in action.

MEMBERS OF THE CHAPEL CHOIR follow the capable advice of Mr. Cady.

Excellent Voices Compose A Cappella Choir

The A Cappella Choir is the most outstanding music group on the campus. It is composed of twenty-five voices selected on the basis of tone quality, general musical adaptability, and volume. Mr. Cady, Head of the Department of Music, is in charge of the selection of members.

In the early part of March, the A Cappella Choir again made a spring tour. They travelled by bus through Oklahoma and Kansas stopping at Oklahoma City and Wichita, Kansas among the major cities.

The spring tour is always good experience for the choir members. The program presented is one of both sacred and secular music. The sacred numbers included "No Man Is an Island," "Gloria Patri," "I Wonder as I Wander," "Sleepers Wake," "O Jesus Grant Me Hope and Comfort," "Ehre Sei Dio," "Once More My Soul," "Jesus Walked This Lonesome Valley," "Mary Had a Baby," "Calvary," and "If I Got a Ticket."

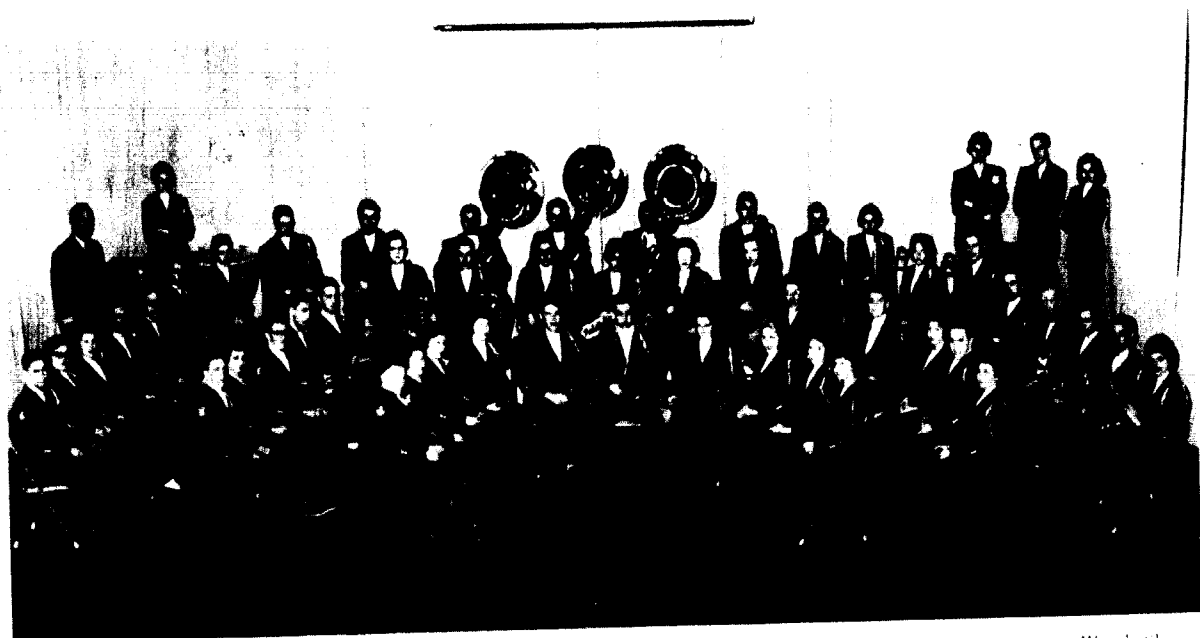

The secular music included the "Echo Song," "The Silver Swan," "Liebeslieden Waltzes," "Songs Mein Grossmama Sang," "Black, Black Black," and "Oh! Lemuel."

When they returned to the campus after the spring tour, the A Cappella Choir presented the sacred numbers at the Easter Vespers program. Later on they presented the secular numbers at a chapel program.

Practices of the A Cappella Choir are held many hours each week. At their practice sessions the choir members work together, with the assistance of Mr. Cady, in order to perfect the musical selections which they present.

Band Members Participate in Variety of Programs

Under the direction of Mr. Edward Lakin, the William Jewell College Band has acquired a prominent position in school life and functions. It was active during every season of the school year. The marching band started off the year by their enthusiastic appearances at the football games.

Another important appearance came on Achievement Day. The band entertained on the lawn shortly before the formal chapel program. As usual, the marching band was the first attraction of the colorful Homecoming Parade.

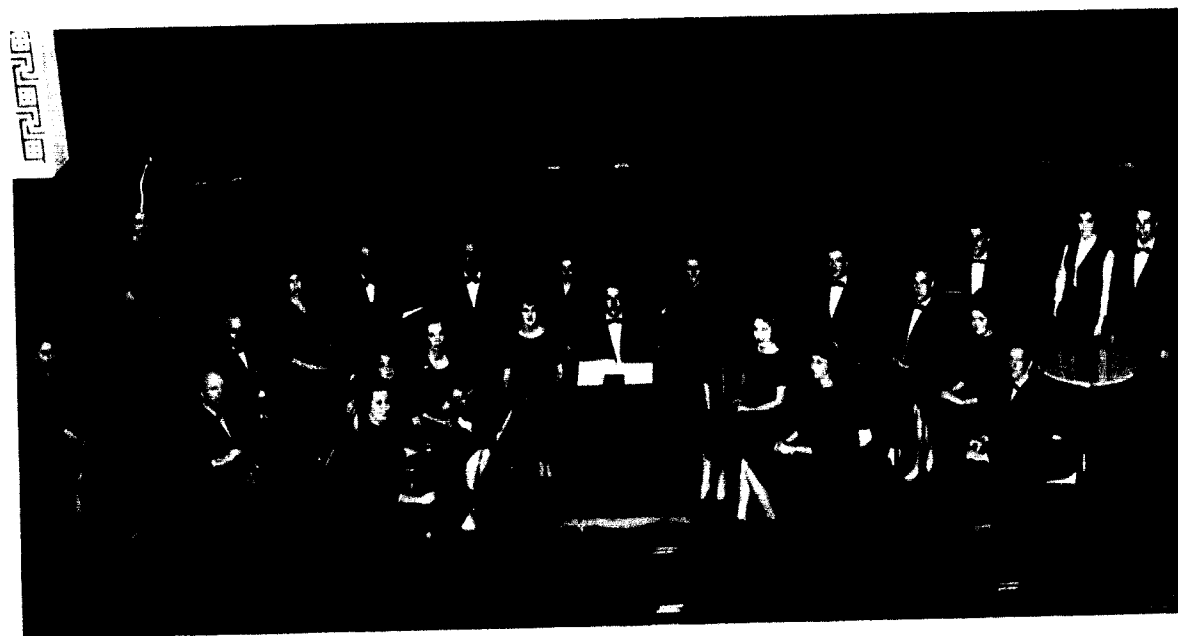

During the second semester, the concert band became as active as the marching band had been. On several occasions the student body was entertained at chapel programs. In addition to this, the band went on several tours and a clinic was held for high school bands.

Anyone who can play a band instrument is invited to play in the band. High school seniors are usually qualified to participate. Last year the band members received new navy blue uniforms with red trim. When the entire band is assembled in their formal attire, they make a very impressive picture.

THE MARGARETTES POSSE FOR THE LITTLE THEATRE. They are Mary, Josephine, Sharon, Smith, Bea Boyce, Jan Williams, Peggy Wilson, Abert, Sue, Joan, Cindy Tucker.

Orchestra Provides Music for College Productions

Also under the direction of Mr. Edward Lakin is the William Jewell College Orchestra. This group has established itself as an integral part of the campus' musical activities.

The orchestra was first organized in 1955 and it grew out of the interest of some music-loving students who were interested in keeping up their music and being in an orchestra for music enjoyment and for practice.

Members of the orchestra broaden their experiences and are given an opportunity to study almost every kind of music for their selections include both classical and popular music. The members have become more proficient in the mechanics of playing instruments and they have also become more aware of the interpretation and thought behind a musical selection. Participation in the orchestra is a valuable working experience in learning while playing with other members of a group.

Student interest in the orchestra is always high, but at William Jewell the orchestra is also a community project. Several interested persons from Liberty and the surrounding areas are members of the group.

Student Reports and Pictures Weekly Events

The William Jewell Student is a weekly four-page paper published for and by the students of William Jewell College. The Student staff is directed by the co-editors, Betty Meier and Linda Wills; the business manager, George Olendorf; and the faculty advisor, Dr. Georgia B. Bowman.

The purpose of the Student is to communicate the news of the campus to the students, faculty, townspeople, alumnae, and prospective students, and to provide a means of expression for student opinion.

The editors take an active concern in perfecting the paper. They attended a conference of editors from other colleges held at Warrensburg. There, they compared ideas and brought back new approaches to make-up, features, and columns.

Along with the editors, the staff of the paper includes the members of the journalism class. This class is a two hour credit course. The students enrolled in this class serve as reporters in order to gain actual newspaper experience. This experience is amplified by working on headlines and other tasks as the editors rework the incoming copy on Monday mornings in the Student office, Room 308 of the Union.

After the class is finished, the editors and associates meet two afternoons, Monday and Tuesday, to do further copy reading and to make up the paper.

The dummy of the paper goes to Mr. Nowell, the printer. Mr. Nowell prints the paper in his print shop in the basement of Gano Chapel.

The business manager, George Olendorf, gets ads from the merchants of Liberty to help pay for this printing.

After going through a busy schedule of deadlines, the paper is distributed to the students following Thursday chapel.

Tatler Provides Record of Year's Events

The purpose of a yearbook is to provide a record of the events of the year. It is through this account that the memories of the passing year become more vivid. However the publication of the Tatler is more complex than one might imagine. The work usually continues for a full twelve months.

Late in the spring the editorial and business staff members are selected by the Board of Control for the coming school year. During the summer the editor must select the theme for the book and plan the general layout scheme. At this same time the business manager must contact the business firms with which the staff will work. During the school semesters the editorial staff keeps busy by contacting organizations, scheduling group pictures, sorting pictures, writing copy and captions, and planning the art work. The business staff is responsible for selling all the advertisements, making the collections from advertisers and organizations, and finally is responsible for distributing the book.

At this time, the Editor would like to express appreciation to all those individuals who have contributed to the production of the Tatler. Special recognition should go to Dr. Jones, faculty advisor; Mr. Truex, business advisor; Mr. Nowell, for his suggestions and color photography; Mr. Glassen of Becktold Company; Gary Miller, who spent much time taking and developing pictures; Dwight Cobb for his cover design; and to the staff as a whole for their excellent cooperation.

1960-1961 has been a memorable year. Everyone will readily remember the football record, Homecoming, the Cleveland Players, Tatler Revue, and the fine basketball team, as well as the daily experiences of classes, meetings, and more meetings.

The Staff hopes that you, the reader, will find in the pages of this book many pleasant remembrances, and that you will forgive the book of its imperfections.

Five Alumni Awarded Citations on Achievement Day

The seventeenth annual Achievement Day, November 19, 1969, was enjoyed by students, faculty, and alumni. The day began with student forums in the morning headed by the five alumni who were to receive Certificates of Achievement and by five alumni previously honored who returned to conduct supplementary forums. Dr. Millard Berquist conducted the forum on "The Minister in Today's World," Dr. Georgia Bowman on "Writing for the Mass Media," Mr. William Crouch on "Our Stake in Agriculture," Miss Wanda Ponder on "Your Place in This World Today," Mr. Weldon Rhoades on "Objectivity as a Requirement in Industry," Dr. Paul Sharron on "The Challenge in Science," Dr. Dorothy Truex on "Career Possibilities in the Education Profession," Mr. William Watson on "Opportunities and Qualifications for Success in Corporate Business," and Mr. Conn Withers on "Your Life and the Law."

Following the forums came the formal convocation with Dr. Binns presiding. At that time five outstanding alumni and two distinguished guests received awards. The five alumni who received citations were Mr. William A. Crouch who is a farmer and stockman. He graduated with the class of 1961.

Miss Wanda Ponder of Asuncion, Paraguay is Director of the School of Nursing at the Hospital Batista. She was graduated in 1946.

Mr. Weldon E. Rhoades, '26, is from San Francisco, California. He is employed as a manager and flight engineer for United Airlines.

The fifth alumnus is Mr. William A. Watson of Media, Pennsylvania. He was graduated in 1933 and now holds an administrative position with Insurance by North America.

Millard John Berquist, the President of the Midwestern Theological Seminary in Kansas City was presented for the conferring of the honorary degree of Doctor of Laws by Dr. H. E. Hester, Vice President of the College. Dr. Berquist is an exceptional New Testament scholar. After his graduation from William Jewell he held various Baptist pastorates in the South. He is serving as the first President of the Seminary and has served in this capacity since its establishment.

The principal speaker of the day, Joao Filson Soren of Rio de Janeiro was presented for the conferring of the honorary degree of Doctor of Laws by Dr. Garland F. Taylor, Dean. Dr. Soren, whose father was graduated from William Jewell in 1896, is the new President of the Baptist World Alliance, the tenth man to serve in that position. He graduated from the Rio Baptist College and then came to the United States to study. He received the Master of Theology Degree from the Southern Baptist Seminary in Louisville, Kentucky, and the Master of Arts Degree from the University of Louisville. Georgetown College in Kentucky conferred on him the honorary degree of Doctor of Divinity. Dr. Soren has been the pastor of the First Baptist Church of Rio de Janeiro for almost twenty six years. He succeeded his father, Dr. Francisco E. Soren, in that position. Dr. Soren has served as president of the Brazilian Baptist Convention five times and he has held many prominent positions in Baptist Affairs in South America. He was Vice President and a member of the Executive Committee of the Baptist World Alliance. Dr. Soren spoke in convocation on "Political Affinity and Cultural Dissimilarity Between the United States and Brazil."

In the afternoon after the convocation a coffee hour was held in the lounge of the Yates College Union for the students who wanted to take the opportunity to talk to the different forum leaders at greater length.

The day was closed with the annual Achievement Day Dinner in the Grand Ballroom of the Muchlebach Hotel. Dr. Binns presided and the A Cappella Chorus provided the music. The Certificate of Distinction was presented to Mr. Eugene Earle Amick for serving for forty years as a trustee of William Jewell College. This Certificate was awarded by Charles E. Curry, President of the Board of Trustees.

Dr. Soren gave the Achievement Day Address. It was entitled "Toward a Better Understanding Between Sister Nations - An Evaluation of the New Nationalism in Brazil." This speech offered an enlightened view of the situation in Brazil.

One of the most memorable events of the year was Tatler Revue. Given on two nights again, the Revue proved to be an entertainment as well as a financial success.

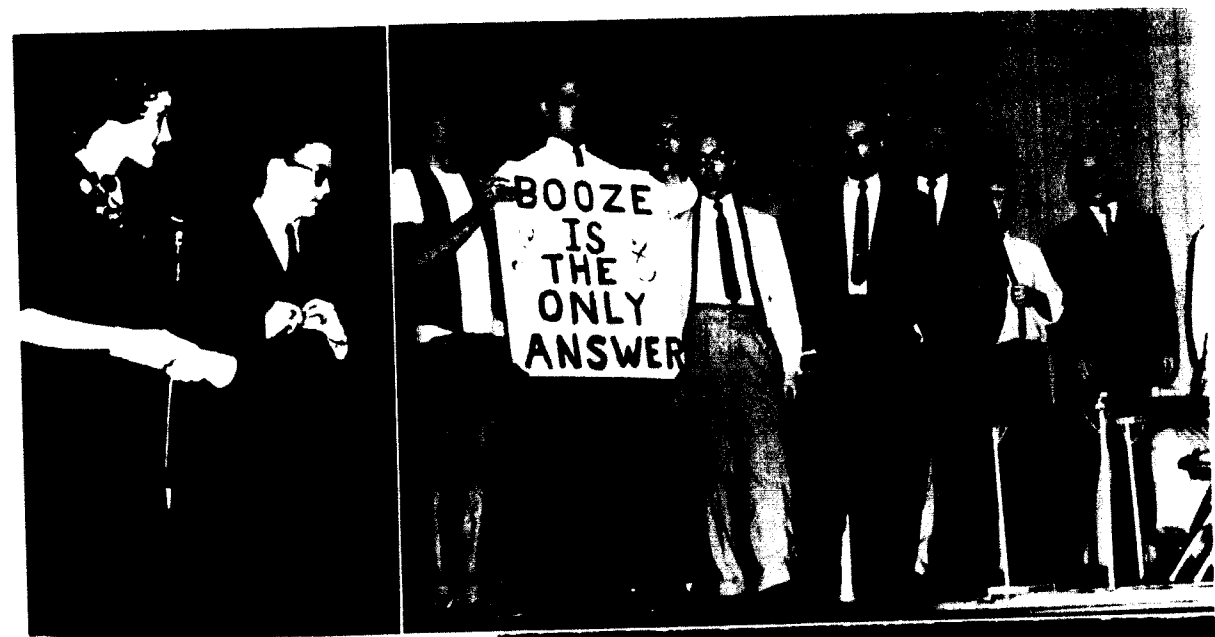

On Friday evening eight skits were presented, one by each of the Greek organizations and one by the non-affiliated students. Between the skits eight girls "walked" and were judged on the basis of beauty, poise, and appropriateness of dress. Clare

Taylor, representing Beta Sigma Omicron, was selected as the Queen.

On Saturday evening the awards were given for the best skits. The men of Phi Gamma Delta continued their tradition of capturing the first place trophy with "The 12 Knaves of King Arthur's Square Kitchen Table."

The Revue was ably directed by Co Chairmen Judy Baker and Steve Turner. Due to their efforts, several innovations resulted, including the trophies given for the Best Actor and Actress.

Union Activities . . .

The Union Council sponsors many activities in an attempt to appeal to and satisfy the needs of all the students. To interest the students in more cultural activities the Concert-Lecture Committee presents a series of outstanding performances including the Cleveland Playhouse in their presentation of Dr. Faustus; Ivan Davis, the noted pianist who won the Franz Liszt award; Vance Packard, author of such best sellers as the "Status Seekers," "The Hidden Persuaders," and "The Waste Makers;" and still other guests.

The Art Show Committee presents student and professional art shows, and the Tours Committee plans tours to the Nelson Art Gallery, the Hallmark Card Company, and the Truman Library.

Other committees are in charge of the movies, the social forums in the boys' and girls' dormitories, and forums of a political, religious, and cultural nature.

The new radio station serves the students with musical, conversational, and news programs which are broadcast to the dormitories. In addition to this, special broadcasts of the important athletic events are also heard. This year the Union Council brought the reports of the Culver Stockton and Missouri Valley basketball games as well as the NAIA play-offs.

The Social Area gives parties for all occasions—after games, after movies, special events, and special seasonal parties like the Winterfest. They also plan receptions for the Concert-Lecture artists, the Achievement Day honorees, the new students, and Homecoming.

For those students who feel the need for more recreation, the Union has ping-pong and shuffleboard tournaments. For your idle moments, there is also a clever game-of-the-week.

Emphasis Is on Religion During Focus Week

Religious Focus Week was held from March 23 to March 24 and during this time outstanding leaders in all fields of endeavor came to Jewell's campus in order to offer their wisdom and guidance to students having spiritual problems or questions. During this week the team members conducted chapel programs, led in seminars, visited the classrooms, and participated in informal discussion groups each evening in the dormitories and fraternity houses.

The Co-Chairmen of the event this year were Linda Long and Gerald Richards. They were assisted by Tom Bray, director of religious activities.

One of the outstanding leaders was Dr. William A. Mueller who came to the United States from Germany in 1923. He has taught church history, theology, and the philosophy of religion in various seminaries and he is presently at the New Orleans Baptist Theological Seminary. Dr. Mueller was in great demand as a guest in language classes because of his ability to speak six languages.

Dr. Orvel E. Hooker, pastor of the First Baptist Church in North Adams, Massachusetts, proved himself to be an excellent speaker. While in Ouachita College he was an outstanding debater and he gained his Ph.D. from Temple University.

From 1957 to 1959 he served as head of Speech departments of the American Foundation of Dramatic Arts and the Columbia Institute of Radio and Television.

Another guest, Chaplain Dwight Kinck, of Franklin College in Indiana, offered much advice to students with reference to counseling. Having spent much time working with juvenile delinquents, Chaplain Kinck related many interesting incidents pertaining to his work.

One of the women members of the team, Mrs. Conrad Willard, was extremely popular. There was considerably large attendance at her forums and seminars dealing with love and marriage. Mrs. Willard is Youth Counselor at the Calvary Baptist Church in Kansas City and she is an active member of the Baptist Convention.

Mr. George M. Tharel of Fayetteville, Arkansas has been a manager for the J. C. Penney Company since 1946. He was a graduate of the University of Oklahoma and is superintendent of the Young People's Department of his local church. Many of his discussions dealt with practical problems faced by college people.

Miss Laura Pitts Hughes, the second woman on the focus team, endeared herself to many students because of her vivacious personality. She is a graduate of Furman University and is presently associated with the Department of Student Work of the Tennessee Baptist Convention in Nashville.

Also on the team was Dr. Elmer O. Ramey who is now practicing medicine in Kansas City, Missouri. He did his medical work at the University of Missouri and Washington University School of Medicine. Dr. Ramey led several discussions and he was very helpful to the students for he answered questions concerning the physiological aspects of marriage.

Mr. James C. Frank has been an agent for the State Farm Insurance Companies for ten years. He is a deacon of the Swope Park Baptist Church in Kansas City and is a teacher in the Young Married People's Department.

The Reverend Robert G. Middleton is pastor of the First Baptist Church in Kansas City. He led in the evening vespers and is remembered for his vivid illustrations, many of which dealt with incidents concerning his four sons.

One of the team members, Mr. Ed Nolte is a graduate of William Jewell College and he is now Minister of Music at the Calvary Baptist Church in Kansas City.

An additional guest, Mr. Bob Stoddard, was on the campus on Tuesday and Wednesday. He is associated with the Fellowship of Christian Athletes.

The title of Dr. Binns' book, "Behold the Man," was selected as the theme for this inspiring Religious Focus Week.

DR. AND MRS. MUELLER BECAME ACQUAINTED with the student body at the fellowship on Monday evening. This happy couple was enjoyed by everyone during the week.

Panhellenic Council

The Panhellenic Council's purpose is to promote good will among the sororities as well as between the sororities and the college community in general. The job of the Council is to regulate rushing and to discuss the problems involved with rushing as well as other mutual problems.

The Council's main work this year was concerned with the formation of the fourth sorority which it is hoped will be able to take its place with the others next fall. The year was concluded with the annual Panhellenic Banquet and Workshop in the Spring.

The Panhellenic Council is composed of two members from each sorority, the Dean of Women, and a president and vice president of the organization.

Junior Panhellenic Council

The Junior Panhellenic Council is composed of representatives of the respective pledge classes of the three sororities. It is the job of the Junior Panhellenic Council to institute in the pledges a spirit of cooperation among the sororities. The Jr. Panhellenic Council evaluates rush week and the Panhellenic handbook.

The main project of the Council each year has been to work with the administration in entertaining prospective students. An additional job of the Council this year has been to attempt to work out a better method of orientation and counseling for the new freshman students. It is hoped that a plan can be devised which will alleviate many of the questions and problems of the new girls pertaining to rush week and sororities.

Interfraternity Council

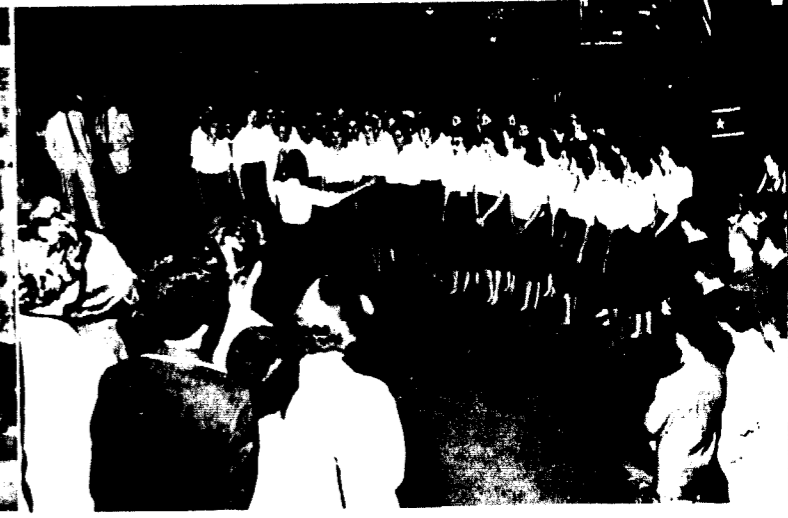

The Interfraternity Council is designed to develop and promote better understanding and closer relationships among the four fraternal groups on the campus and between the fraternities and the college administration.

This Council plays an important part in the orientation of new students each year. Through the common ground of discussion of mutual problems, the Council helps to promote the spirit of cooperation and friendliness, make and enforce the rushing rules, and decide the general policy in campus affairs.

The Interfraternity Council is composed of the presidents and one other representative from each organization. Mr. Murray Hunt is sponsor of the group.

THE START OF THE YEAR brings a new pledge class. Here the Alpha Gamma pledges prepare to attend church after their preferential breakfast.

GREEK RALLY finds the Beta Sigs singing before the other groups. Greek Rally is intended to foster cooperation among the fraternal groups.

INTRAMURAL SPORTS CONTINUE THROUGHOUT THE YEAR and include bowling, basketball, football for the men, volleyball for the girls, swimming, and track.

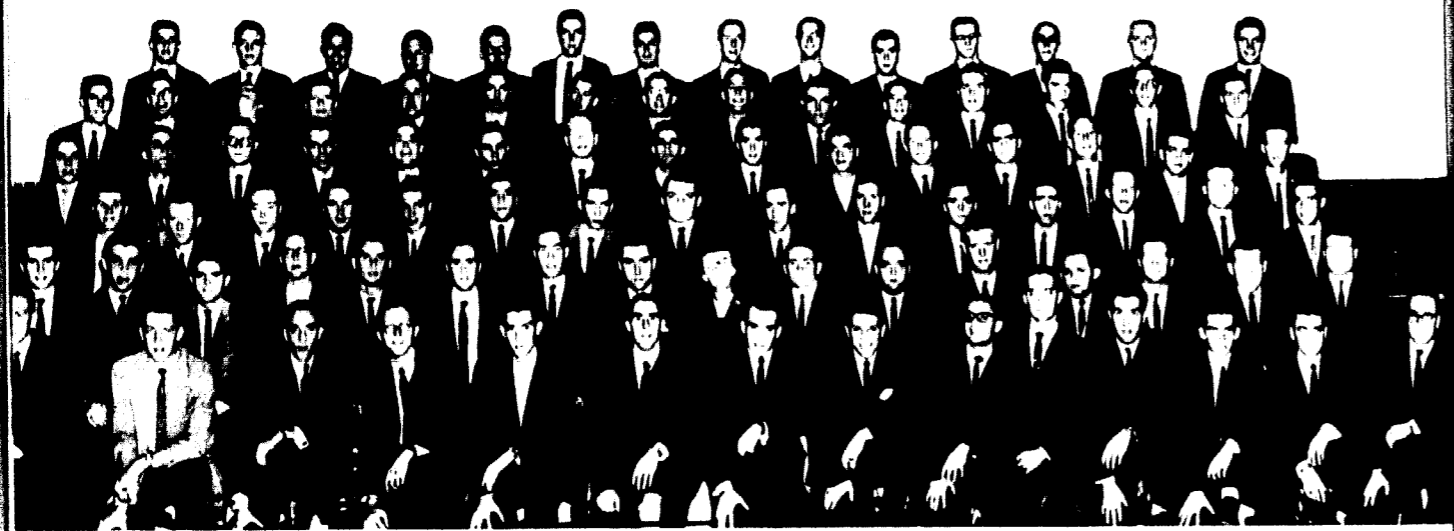

BRENDA TRAINER AND CLAIRE TAYLOR offer a contribution to the traditional idea of Santa Claus. The Beta Sigs have no objections, however, as they eagerly receive their gifts.

Kappa Alpha Membership Continues Increasing

Kappa Alpha had its origin in the heart of the Old South by being founded at Washington and Lee University in 1865. Alpha Delta Chapter at Jewell was initiated as the thirty second chapter in the Kappa Alpha Order.

The 1961 school year began with 17 South Jewell Street filled to capacity with thirty eight men. The outstanding rush efforts of the active chapter netted a class of thirty three new pledges. The Fall social program began with a hayride, and was followed out with after game parties, informal parties, and a good many fireside gatherings. In Homecoming float competition Kappa Alpha captured second place with its steamboat, "Steamin' to Victory." The winter season was highlighted by the annual tree trimming party at Christmas, and by the Winter Formal, Convivium, Kappa Alpha's yearly observance of the founding of the order and the birthday of Robert E. Lee, brought the active chapter and alumni together for a banquet at the Golden Ox. The year's social activity was climaxed by the Rebel Ball and picnic held in early May.

The men of Kappa Alpha received many honors this year. John Brunner, Gene Voigts, and Dave Williams were initiated into Acons. John Brunner served as Student Body President. Other positions of student government were held by Bob Moore as Sophomore Class President and by John Clayton as Freshman Class Vice President. In the area of student publications, Jim Zahnd was Associate Editor of the Student, and Dave Paulsmeyer was Associate Editor of the Tattler first semester. Many positions as committee chairmen were held by Kappa Alpha men - Ron Jenkins, Co Chairman of Homecoming; Gerald Richards, Religious Focus Week Co Chairman; and Bob Mann, Co Chairman of Cardinal Capers.

Kappa Alpha boasted several varsity lettermen for the year. Mike Moon entered "J" Club by earning a letter in Cross Country. Art Miller and Bob Hufft lettered in football. Clarence Schneider lettered in wrestling. Charlie Rutherford and Jim Dudley were regular starters on the basketball team and the former served as Co-Captain of the squad. The spring saw Rick Clark on the Tennis Court and Tom Jones, Bob Hufft, Glen McCoy, and John Barnhart on the track team.

New to the Kappa Alpha house this year was Mrs. Dola Hughes who served as housemother.

ADPis Participate in Numerous Campus Activities

The year 1960-61 was a busy and exciting one for Gamma Nu of Alpha Delta Pi and a year of particular national interest. During this year, additions to the sorority gave the group a total of 106 chapters. The girls of Gamma Nu were particularly proud of their newest chapter, Delta Rho, which was colonized at Gettysburg College by their own Judy Buckner.

This year had a busy beginning in Rush Week with the Formal Progressive tea, an uninhibited Indian Party, and the traditional "Plantation Party." The climax to the week came when twenty-seven smiling girls wore for the first time the small gold lion that is the Alpha Delta Pi pledge pin.

The pledge class started the year dancing by transforming the high school cafeteria into "My Blue Heaven." The Pis just couldn't keep away from the Indian theme either for their spring informal was a "Pow-wow Party." Shining brightest in the social season was the Black Diamond Ball with its anticipated charm and time-honored traditions.

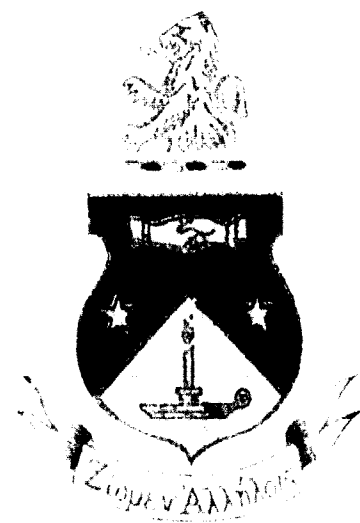

As the school year progressed, sports became a focal point of interest bringing Homecoming with it. The ADPis were thrilled to see Paula Young chosen as First Princess in the Homecoming Court and then as Football Queen while Marsha Firestone was Basketball Queen.

Leadership honors accompanied beauty honors, and it was a proud occasion when Kaye Cokely was selected as First Lady. Leadership honors were reflected in Rita Wilke's and Kaye Cokely's membership in Panacgis, Rita and Kaye along with Linda Hill were also selected for Who's Who. Lavelle Tucker was Homecoming Co-Chairman and Linda Hill was on the Union Board, as well as serving as President of Panhellenic and President of Semple Hall. Kaye Cokely was Secretary of the Senior Class and Peggy Wilson was Treasurer. Marsha Firestone was Freshman Class Treasurer.

The spirit and pep of the Pis were represented in cheerleaders Kaye Cokely, Margaret Fields, and Joyce Poppenhagen. Four girls served as majorettes and Jewell was represented in debate tournaments by Linda Ehrsam and Pat Patterson.

A successful year it was with such products of group endeavor as the third place Tatler trophy matched only by the individual successes and achievements that mark Alpha Delta Pi.

Lambda Chis Foster Fraternity Spirit

In Lambda Chi Alpha, idealism centers around two symbols—the cross, and the crescent, symbolic of high Christian principles and aesthetic admiration. The Lambda Chi Alpha Fraternity sets as its supreme goal contribution in the largest measure possible to the pre-eminence of truth and justice and the well being of human kind. This year as in previous years, Epsilon Nu Zeta has striven to maintain its high standards, and efforts have been well rewarded.

Lambda Chi Alpha is the first name on the new interfraternity scholarship trophy, and has maintained its high scholastic average for many years in succession. Active participation can also be seen in varsity as well as intramural sports. In the last two years, the first and second place trophies for intramural football were won, respectively, and proudly adorn the Lambda Chi mantle. As in the past, Lambda Chi Alpha has had many of its members in the honorary and service organizations, dramatics, music, student government, and religious groups. Among the Lambda Chis in outstanding achievement was David Burhans who was elected Colonel Alexander Doniphan, the man who is expected to march the farthest in life. Dave is also a member of the Acons and past

Student Body President. Wayne Kuhlman was elected as Mr. School Spirit and also served as President of the Junior Class while Art Cunningham was Vice President.

At Homecoming the Lambda Chis captured third place with their attractive float "The Winning Card."

The Lambda Chis were very fortunate to have Mrs. Myrtle Shelton as housemother. She is always willing to help and has for three years made the house at 409 East Kansas a pleasant home away from home.

In the realm of social affairs Lambda Chi was also active. The fall formal was "Starway to the Stars." In the spring the annual White Rose Crescent Ball was celebrated. The year was filled in by open houses every weekend, four informals, the Homecoming Buffet dinner, the pledge buffet, the Mother's Day Tea, Family Day, the Christmas party, and several pinning serenades.

Epsilon Nu Zeta of Lambda Chi Alpha is proud to participate at William Jewell College and looks with anticipation toward the future, keeping in mind the motto beneath the coat of arms—VIR QUISQUE VIR, which translated means, "Every man a man."

Alpha Gams Place First With Homecoming Float

The members of Alpha Gamma Delta will remember with pleasure the year 1969-70 for it was filled with much success and joy. As one of the 88 chapters of the national sorority, Epsilon Epsilon chapter has continued to uphold the traditions and ideals established at the founding of the sorority in 1904.

Rush week began the year, and rushees were entertained at two parties, the "Showboat," and the Oriental "Teahouse of Alpha Gam." Shortly thereafter twenty two girls became pledges.

Homecoming was soon at hand and was very eventful. Judy Miler was elected Miss Peppy; and three cheerleaders, Carol Thursby, Karin Grosse, and Sandi Kaesser, joined in the excitement when the Alpha Gams captured first place with their float - "A Whale of a Blow from the Cards."

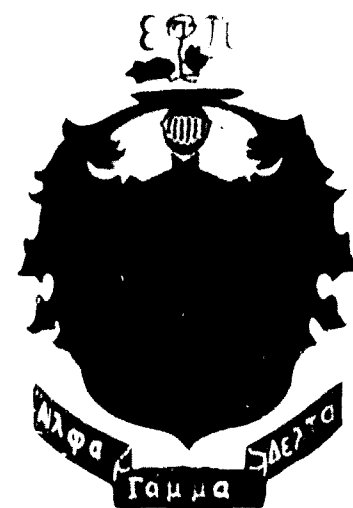

The social world was not neglected and the pledges started the season with their dance, "Autumn Leaves." The AGDs joined the other two sororities in cooperating on the Christmas dance, "Ice Palace." In March everyone enjoyed the "Fabulous Fifty" as they came dressed in accordance with the various states of the Union.

March also brought the thrill of initiation to sixteen girls and afterwards the chapter journeyed to Stephenson's Apple Orchard in Independence for the "Feast of Roses." At that time JoAnn Demark was selected as the best pledge of the year.

Many Alpha Gams participated in campus activities and received honors. In the dramatic field Connie Mattox had a lead role in "The Girls in 509," while Diane Gray and Linda Bennett played in the "Glass Menagerie." Positions of leadership were held by Judy Miler, Sophomore Class Secretary; Carol Thursby, Sophomore Class Treasurer; Judy Baker, Co-Chairman of Tatler Revue; Diane Gibson, secretary of the Big Sister Council; Bootsie Porter, secretary of the Union Board; and Judy Rosenow, president of House Presidents' Council. The field of publications attracted the interest of Jo Avery and Julie Scott, Associate Editors of the Student; Virginia Burrs, Editor of the Tatler; and Gay McGary, Associate Business Manager of the Tatler. Mary Alice Bowman, Alice Cunningham, Jean Harris, and Barb Thompson were members of the A Cappella Choir.

In all their activities, both formal and informal, the actives and pledges of Alpha Gamma Delta share always the feeling of sisterhood.

Zeta Phi of Phi Gamma Delta Celebrates Seventy-Fifth Year

Ninety years ago Oren Root, brother of Elihu Root, one of the founders of the World Court, arrived in Liberty by steamship from Columbia where he was a professor at the University of Missouri. The purpose of his visit was to establish the second chapter of Zeta Phi Society, a fraternity which he had founded at Missouri University the previous year.

In 1886 a petition was sent to the Grand Chapter of Phi Gamma Delta for admittance as a chapter of Phi Gamma Delta. The petition was granted on April 24, 1886 and on May 29, the chapter was installed as Zeta Phi of Phi Gamma Delta. Thus it became the first national fraternity at Jewell. Today the chapter holds not only the distinction of being the oldest fraternity on campus, but also the oldest existing organization on campus.

Looking for and finding those qualities of leadership which have been associated with Zeta Phi thru its years the chapter began its seventy-fifth year by adding nineteen new pledges to their fold. Shortly thereafter one of the members of the pledge class, Doug Gilpin, was elected President of the Freshman Class. The membership of Phi Gamma Delta also includes several other campus leaders. Bob Frazier has served as President of Kappa Mu Epsilon and on the College Union

Council. Wayne Rudloff and Al Diman have served as members of the College Union Board and Mike Fligg served as President of the IFC. Larry Hamilton was chosen for membership in Aeonis and Gary Carter was listed in "Who's Who."

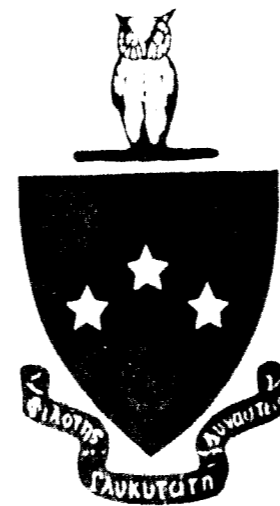

The Fijis have also been represented on the varsity football, cross country, basketball, baseball, track, and tennis teams.

The chapter is very proud of one of their new projects for the year. In September a Liberty boy suffering from a blood disease was "adopted" by the chapter and to date about forty pints of blood have been donated for his benefit.

In Tatler Revue the chapter repeated their first place finish of last year. The skit centered in the kitchen of King Arthur. Jack Jordan one of the knaves of the kitchen, who became a knight, received a trophy as Best Actor of the 1961 Revue.

The social world included the pledge dance "Heaven and Hell," as well as the highlight "Fiji Weekend." Other dances followed the seasons of the year.

Returning for the second year was Mrs. Mary Malone as housemother. "Mom" is loved and respected by all and adds much to the home-like atmosphere of the house.

Beta Sigs Win Honors in Tatler Revue

This has been a very successful year for the Alpha Psi chapter of Beta Sigma Omicron. Proud of their distinction of being the oldest sorority on the "Hill" since September, 1921, Beta Sigs have again participated in a wide variety of activities on campus.

Sorority life started in the fall with rush week. Betas entertained rushees with two parties, an "Election Party," and the traditional "Pink Lady Party." Twelve of the rushees filled the quota and became pledges.

The pledges started the social season by giving a dance for the active members. The theme of this dance was "Harvest Moon."

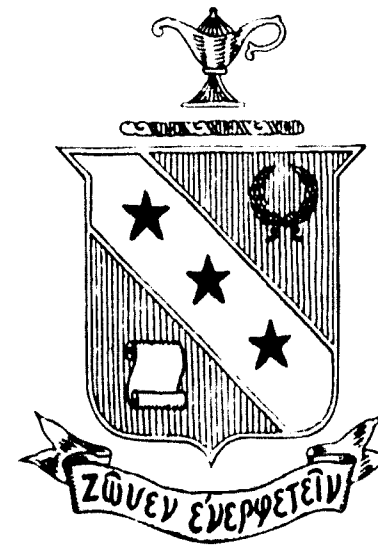

This year the Beta Sigs were especially proud to have four girls in the Homecoming Court. Claire Taylor was Queen; Linda Long was Second Princess; Marian Board was First Attendant; and Jane Ann Hunt was Second Attendant.

Upholding their tradition for high scholastic achievement the Beta Sigs won the Panhellenic scholarship trophy for the eleventh consecutive year.

One of the most exciting events of the year was Tatler Revue. The Beta's Tatler skit, "Mother Goose," "The Modern Psychiatrist" won the second place trophy. Claire Taylor was Tatler Queen, and Betty Long was Second Princess.

Beta Sigs were well represented in other activities on the Hill. Marian Board, Martha Johnson, and Jo Ellen Hawkins were listed in Who's Who and Panargis; Janet Neer, Betty Long, Julie Peoples, and Karen Currier were members of A Cappella choir; Marian Board served as President of the Union Board and Jo Ellen Hawkins was an area director. Linda Long was co-chairman of Religious Focus Week; Marian Board and Ronan Berry were cheerleaders. Betas working on the Student were Martha Johnson and Betty Meier co-editors first semester; Linda Wilks and Betty Meier co-editors second semester; Jo Bayse associate editor; and Judy Bellington associate business manager. Nancy Renfer and Karen Brunner were associate editors of the Tatler. Beta Sigs were active in student government with Martha Johnson, Secretary Treasurer of the Senate; Jane Ann Hunt, Junior Class Secretary; Linda Long, Junior Class Treasurer; Ruth Ann Williams, Freshman Class Secretary, and Phyllis Lanck was President of the Jr. Panhellenic.

Sigma Nus Are Active in Varsity Athletics

Beta Xi Chapter of Sigma Nu enjoyed another year full of activities and good times in 1960 and 1961. Rush week at the beginning of the first semester brought twenty-two new pledges to the big white house on Water Street.

Founded in 1869 at the Virginia Military Institute, Sigma Nu is now one of the largest members of the National Interfraternity Council. The wearers of the five armed star have made a valuable contribution to life at Jewell since they came on the campus in 1894.

Beta Xi was well represented in sports this year. The football team was tri-captained by Jim Millen, Ken Pollock, and Vance Morris. Beta Xi also proudly claimed twenty eight men from this year's championship football team. The wrestling team was led by four Sigma Nu lettermen and captained by Danny Lambert. In basketball Dick Cox and John Hickman, the latter a co-captain, led the Redbirds to the Conference Championship. In track Clem Buschman quickly established himself as a speedster as he led the Cardinal cindermen.

Beta Xi participated in the Homecoming float contest. Capitalizing on a theme of "Stomp Their Butts," they presented a very original float.

Early in the second semester, the Brothers of Sigma Nu feverishly began work on Tatler Revue. Their skit entitled "White House Confidential" was enjoyed by all. It was a satirical approach to world conditions, and it featured Jack, Bobby, and Joe Kennedy, Nickey Khrushchev, Fidel Castro, and a delegation from the Congo.

Beta Xi proudly boasted of the highest men's scholastic grade point average on the Hill. For this they may be awarded the scholarship trophy.

Social highlights of the year included the annual pledge hayride, a Christmas Party for underprivileged children, the Hi Rickety Informal, and the annual White Rose Formal which closed their social season. The most colorful informal of the year was the "Inferno" Party. Favors were given and everyone enjoyed the theme, "If You Can't Go to Heaven, Go to Hell."

The annual Alumni Reunion was held on April 15th and was very well attended. Alumni Day began with a business meeting in the afternoon, followed by a buffet dinner. After this buffet an informal discussion was held.

The Beta Xi chapter of Sigma Nu were privileged to have Mrs. Homer Huff serve as their house mother for the sixth consecutive year. They are also grateful to their Mothers' Club which performed many services to the fraternity.

Cardinals Tie for MCAU Championship

The Cardinal football team once again had a very successful season. The players remained undefeated until the final game and finished with a record of seven wins, one tie, and one loss.

There are numerous reasons for the impressive record achieved by Jewell's team. One of the foremost of these reasons is the excellent coaching staff. Head football coach Norris A. Patterson leads the team his knowledge and experience for he has coached over 115 victorious games. He is assisted by James Nelson coaching the line men and Darrell Gourley coaching the ends.

In addition to the excellent coaching staff, the success was due to the cooperation and skill of the individual players themselves. Twelve players were selected for the Missouri Collegiate Athletic Union All-Conference teams. Those chosen for the first team were two of the tri-captains, Vance Morris and Jim Millen; Jack Hanson, end; Jim Stephens; and Ron Haggard, tackle. Moreover, Art Davis, a senior guard, was notified that he had been named for the honorable mention list of the Associated Press Little All-American football team.

At the conclusion of the season thirty men were awarded letters for their fine participation. This list included nine seniors, ten juniors, eight sophomores, and three freshmen. Besides these lettermen, Coach Patterson also named fifteen men who received provisional letters and will receive an extra stripe if they letter next season.

Credit must also be given to the leadership ability of the tri-captains Ken Pollock, Jim Millen, and Vance Morris. The captains for next year have been elected and are expected to follow their predecessors. Those elected were Sam Childress, Art Miller, and Grundy Newton.

Although the football team will lose nine men, the prospects look favorable for the 1961 season. The Cardinals have never had an undefeated team, but in the last two years they have had remarkable near-perfect records.

The sports staff always schedules games with challenging opponents, and each year the opposition becomes tougher. The Cardinals are expecting a difficult but rewarding year in 1961 and are hoping to meet several new opponents on the gridiron.

Basketball Team M.C.A.U. Champions

The 1960-61 basketball season was one of much success and anticipation. The season began with a rough game in the Kansas City Municipal Auditorium against Kansas City University. Twenty-six games later the Cardinals found themselves with an overall record of 19 wins and seven losses. However, in conference play, they defeated thirteen of their fourteen opponents.

Part of the season's success was due to the experience of the team. Nine lettermen returned from previous years including two three year lettermen and five two year lettermen. John Hickman, a senior and a graduate of Kansas City Central, and Charles Ruthertford of Liberty, served as co-captains of the conference championship team. Other returning lettermen were Wayne Kuhlman, Dick Cox, Gary Carter, Bob Frazier, Jim Dudley and George Payne. The remainder of the squad consisted of sophomores Bob Ulrich and John Hammond and freshmen Ron Tiemeyer and Terry Scott.

In the course of the season, the Cardinals exhibited exceptional ability and were a very challenging opponent to any team in the conference. The most disappointing event of the season was the loss of the right to a place in the N.A.A.U. tournament in Kansas City. In competition with the second place conference team Missouri Valley, the Cards could capture only one of three games. They were not easily defeated for the third game of the series found them battling away in the overtime period.

During the year's play John Hickman led the Team in scoring with an average of eighteen points per game. At the annual basketball wrestling banquet, Coach James Nelson presented various awards to members of the team. John Hickman was named to the N.A.A.U. All American basketball team. The trophy for being the most valuable player of the season was awarded to Gary Carter, a senior from St. Joseph, Missouri.

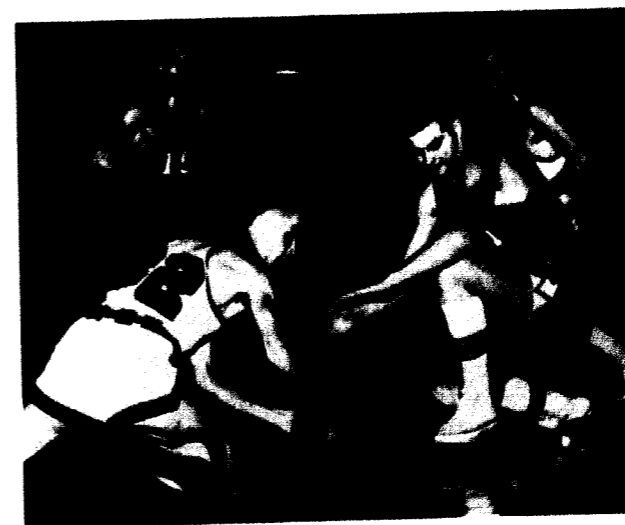

All of the members of the conference championship team contributed to the success of the season and were awarded letters. Thus the two co-captains, Ruthertford and Hickman, were both four-year lettermen. It was also announced by Coach Jim Nelson that Dick Cox, a graduate of Westport in Kansas City, was elected captain of the 1961-62 team. Hopes are high for another great season next year.

Cheerleaders Add Enthusiasm to Games

Encouraging enthusiasm among the audience and urging the football and basketball teams to action, is the primary function of the eight campus cheerleaders.

Six of the girls are upperclassmen and are elected by the student body in the spring. The other two cheerleaders represent the freshman class and are elected in the fall.

In addition to their appearances at the games, the girls participated at such events as the All-School Picnic and Greek Rally. They also led several chapel programs.

The cheerleaders practice regularly to develop uniformity in the school cheers and they meet before each game to discuss the yells.

Pep Band

Still a fairly new addition to sports contests, the pep band is often one of the main attractions at the basketball games. Their rhythmic music is adaptable not only to favorite school songs and cheers but also to familiar tunes which arouse enthusiasm.

The uniforms worn by the Pep Band are fitting to the type of organization. This year the group appeared at the games dressed in red sport coats and gay straw hats. In all their actions the pep band members typify the spirit exhibited by William Jewell crowds.

Members of the band this year include Merrick Mohler, Billy Grimes, Chal Beisenherz, Dave Spillers, Jim Pate, Dubby Hobbs and Bill Griesbach. They are led by Bill Fulkerson who has been a member of the band for three years.

Wrestling Team Faces Tough Opposition

The 1961 wrestling squad of William Jewell faced a difficult year due to the fact that many of the teams which they met were very experienced and that the Jewell squad has changed radically since last year and is composed of many new members, some of them freshmen. Danny Lambert served as captain of the team, and he along with Clarence Schneider were the only returning lettermen from the previous year. The squad narrowed down eventually to just eight men including newcomers, Jerry Green, Steve McComb, Mike McIntyre, Terry Straeter, Herb Willmarth, and Dan Zatz.

Once again Coach Darrel Gourley worked much with the men of the team in an attempt to build up the skill of the members and develop to a fuller extent the techniques of wrestling. Throughout the season a gradual improvement was evidenced in the matches of the team members.

The wrestling team competed in a total of nine matches. Their final record included two wins and seven losses. The teams offering the opposition include Graceland College of Lamoni, Iowa; Northwest Missouri State at Maryville; Westminster College in Fulton, Missouri; Missouri University in Columbia; and Iowa State University.

The wrestling squad hopes to have a much better and much improved season next year. There is the possibility that eight of the team's lettermen will return to the squad next year. This experience should greatly aid the success of the squad.

Clarence Schneider has been elected to serve as captain of the team next year.

Tennis

The William Jewell tennis team, under the capable leadership of Coach Jim Nelson got off to a good start this season. Up to press time they had taken part in four matches and were defeated in none of these.

Both Robin Pratt and Tom Hightower, who have added much to the strength of the team were on last year's squad.

Games were scheduled with such schools as Graceland in Lamoni, Iowa; Park College, Kansas City University, and Missouri Valley.

Golf

Dr. David O. Moore again coached the William Jewell golf team. Four of the five members, Bob Mann, Terry Borchardt, Art Cunningham, and Terry Whitnell, have played for the team in previous seasons. Ted Newell, the newest member, is a low scorer who has added much to the team's success.

The season opener was a 9-5¹/₂ victory over Ottawa University and the medalist for the match was Ted Newell with a score of 81. Matches were played with S.M.S. at Springfield, K.C.U., Rockhurst, and others.

Baseball Team Starts Season With Trip South

In anticipation of a full season, the Jewell baseball team began practicing on March 1st for their opening game against Cape Girardeau on March 25th.

The schedule for the season included twenty-three games including a seven game southern trip during the Easter vacation. Although they were not successful on the trip as far as wins and losses are concerned, they gained much valuable experience. Teams played, other than Cape Girardeau, were Southern College; Oglethorpe College; Jacksonville State College in Alabama; Union University at Jackson, Tennessee; and Washington University in St. Louis.

Eight lettermen returned to the season's team from previous years, including Pat White, captain of the team, and Elmer Yordt, a highly successful pitcher from last year. Freshman Dick Nixon looked promising as one of the new pitchers of the season.

The first victory of the season was against Central College with a score of 2 to 1 in the first half of a doubleheader. The second game of the twinbill found the Cards winning 28-4.

The home season began on April 13th when the baseball team played the first of seven or eight games on the new field. The use of the new field should enhance the practice as well as the actual games of the squad.

Mr. Norris A. Patterson coached the baseball squad and accompanied them on their trip south.

Track Team Starts Off Successful Season

The track team began the season with a fairly strong team balanced with experienced members and promising newcomers.

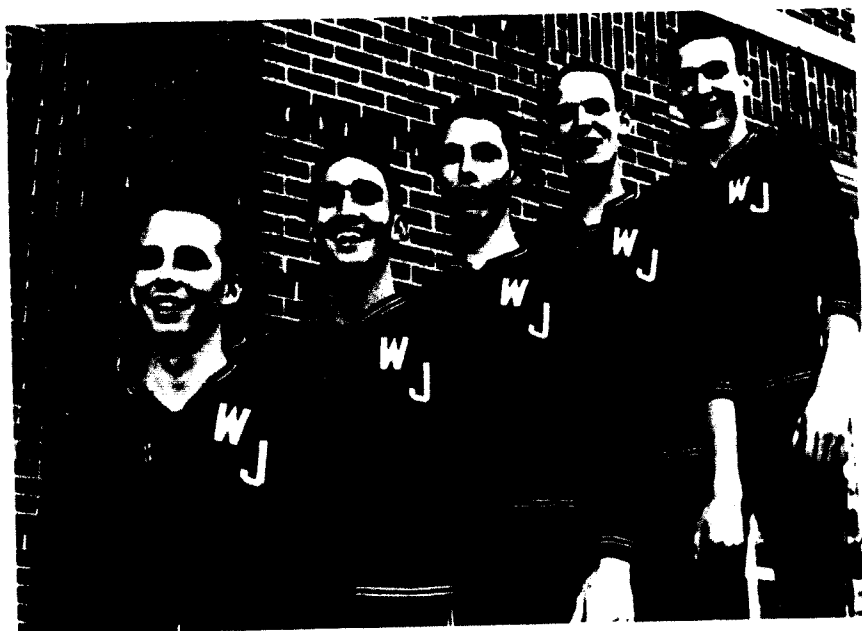

In the early part of March, the Jewell team had their first meet which was against Kansas City University. The cindermen were victorious at this indoor meet held at the American Royal Building in Kansas City. Freshman Clem Buschman was high man winning six events. He won first place in the low hurdles, broad jump, and he set a new track record for the 50 yard dash with a time of 5.5. Larry Hamilton captured first in the 440 yard run while Art Davis captured first in the shot put competition.

A total of six indoor meets were played before the outdoor season began. The Kansas State Relays ended the indoor matches and the outdoor season began with a meet against Ottawa University held in Liberty. Other outdoor meets were held with Southwest Missouri State, Graceland College, Missouri Valley, Maryville, and Westminster.

Those track men who consistently placed in the meets were Larry Hamilton in the 440 and 220 dashes; Clem Buschmann in the 100 yard dash, the 50 yard dash, and the broad jump; Art Davis in shot put, Tom Jones for pole vaulting; and the relay team composed of Bob Brewster, Mike Moon, Terry Crews, and Larry Hamilton.

Up until press time the Cards had won three meets, placed 2nd in a meet with Ottawa and Baker, and lost one.

Letters are awarded for participation in four major sports—football, basketball, track, and baseball; and in four minor sports—wrestling, cross country, tennis, and golf.

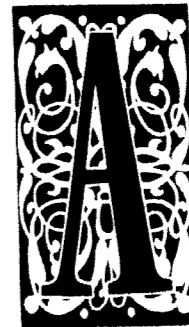

For membership into the "J" club an athlete must have earned a varsity letter and passed through the club's initiation.

welcomes to its long list of distinguished alumni the members of the Class of 1961

For one hundred twelve years, William Jewell College has kept faith with its founding fathers who wanted here a superior college of the liberal arts and sciences.

Its thousands of graduates have achieved success in many fields. The Class of 1961 join this honored rank, and will see to it that the past is but prologue to an even greater future for their Alma Mater.

Throughout the years this lioness and her twin have stood as symbols of strength and protection before the columned building that is the home office of the Kansas City Life Insurance Company.

Their bearing is strong and proud as though they knew how the funds entrusted to us are held to provide a security assured for our policyowners and their families.

A fountain, like a sundial, is a monument to time: a symbol of permanence in the midst of change. There is, of course, no real fountain of youth; but all of us look for one, and find it, in our remembrance of things past.
