Foreword

*Behold the 'TATLER'.
Let him guide you through this book and may the trip enable you to live once again the life you enjoyed during the past year
at William Jewell College*

Dedication

To the modern alchemist of William Jewell who with the loadstone of his wonderful personality has labored with infinite patience through long years to change the dross in us, his students to metal of a finer grade; to that man, scholar, teacher and gentleman

DR. HARRY G. PARKER

*do we,
the Class of 1923
most lovingly and respectfully dedicate this, the TATLER of '22.*

Clouds

Clouds always seem such helpless things
When slapped by winds across the skies,
Or torn to feathery flecks and strings
If winds blow counterwise.

And anyone, observing, sees
With something that is almost pain,
Their reaching down at roofs and trees
With fragile hands of rain.

—Otto James Bowles

The President's Home

As kindly, big and open as is the heart of him who in it dwells.

The Main Entrance

The steps which lead to a new experience in a uniquely friendly atmosphere, are steps which linger pleasantly in the future memories; and if these steps be the instrument of later climbs to more eminent positions, doubly actuated is he who blesses them.

Jewell Hall

The aged servant is often the most serviceable, assuredly the most kindly remembered of them all.

Old Ely

Though once it housed a turbulent brood, its aspect is now so staid it verges desolation. From memories of the past, do not wake it.

The Library

The richest measures of all ages priceless store,
The living noble of the distant dead are there,
Saving unto untold ages, fair
And perfect knowledge of thy matchless lore.

Marston Science Hall

The throne of thriving science which maintains a vehement disputation for empire on the Hill.

New Ely

A large home, well built to hold a large family.

The "Old Hill"

The cool, inviting shade and lazy spring breezes make overpoweringly painful the imprisoned moments of the indolence-smitten student.

Jewell Steps

A portal opening to a big adventure in a land of adventurous spirits, where youth is a child and a man in the fitful turns of his indecision.

The Cliff Drive

A beckoning temptation to quit the tedious task and go forth into the unknown reaches which lie beyond.

Street Scene

'Twere well to call it all a paradise
Where, spreading wide their mantled arms to meet
In endless arching nature's fair device,
Allure these monarchs of the shaded street.

New Ely Dining Hall

Ah! Here at least is found no sluggard.

The William Jewell Press

With its galleys, sticks, stones, presses and pied type, it has a language and an atmosphere which is all its own.

A Laboratory

What! Would you lay inquisitive hands on old earth's secrets and drag her frailties and inmost charms into the cognizance of men?

Chapel and Lecture Room

The scene of some debates and cause of others; it is not loved from reasons of compulsion; nor hated from reasons of respect; nor condemned, for it is not wise; nor ignored too often, for it is not safe.

The Famous Spurgeon Collection

Books are the heart and center of the whole; the garnered essence of the wealth produced in the toil of innumerable ages, the priceless legacy of past to future time and the actuating force of progress.

This Is What Caused the "Big War," Fellows

DR. GREENE, Members of the Faculty, and Student Body:
As we return for the last time to our research in the assembly of the educated, we are conscious of a deep responsibility—the responsibility of leadership. "There is a principle," says Herbert Spencer, "which is a bar against all information which will keep a man in ignorance. That principle is a contempt prior to investigation." Therefore hear us!

Though autumn's shroud is slowly enfolding the creations of nature, we find in our midst an appalling anamorphosis, and

WHEREAS, We have spent untiring hours searching the annals of Biology in an endeavor to classify this conglomerate mass of the protoplasmic, and

WHEREAS, Although unable to classify it, we find these characteristics of the specie, i. e., an over-abundance of egotism, a total irresponsibility and infinite ignorance, and

WHEREAS, These characteristics are detrimental to the welfare of humanity and especially to the future happiness and peace of mind of the students of William Jewell College, and

WHEREAS, Nature has provided no means of identification for this singular monstrosity, therefore

BE IT RESOLVED, That henceforth this eccentricity shall be called Freshman, and

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED, That for his own protection, he shall from one p. m. this day and every week day hereafter, between the hours of seven a. m. and twelve p. m., wear upon that part of his anatomy adapted for its use a green cap, to be procured at the co-op.

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED, That Freshman girls shall refrain from wearing hats while in the library, the classroom and chapel.

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED, That any infraction of these rules before twelve p. m., Thanksgiving Day, will be summarily dealt with in time-honored fashion.

Done by order of the class of 1922 on September 27th, 1922.

A Fable

SOLOMON WISE was a business man, and like all business men, he had a stenographer. And being a typical business man, he took all the liberties with his stenographer that business men as a class are reputed to take with their stenographers.

But it must not be supposed that his attentions were altogether repulsive to her, for they were not. In fact, quite the opposite was true. He had the privilege of holding her dainty hands, or otherwise flirting with her at will. She frequently sat on his lap with her soft cheek resting on his manly lapel, and an exchange of kisses was more a habit than an event.

After office hours they would often occupy a secluded table in a fashionable hotel and follow this with a box at the theatre. But they did not always care to dine uptown or take in a theatre, and when they felt in this mood, they would go to his suburban home to dine instead. Later in the evening the scenes at the office, with no omissions, were often re-enacted.

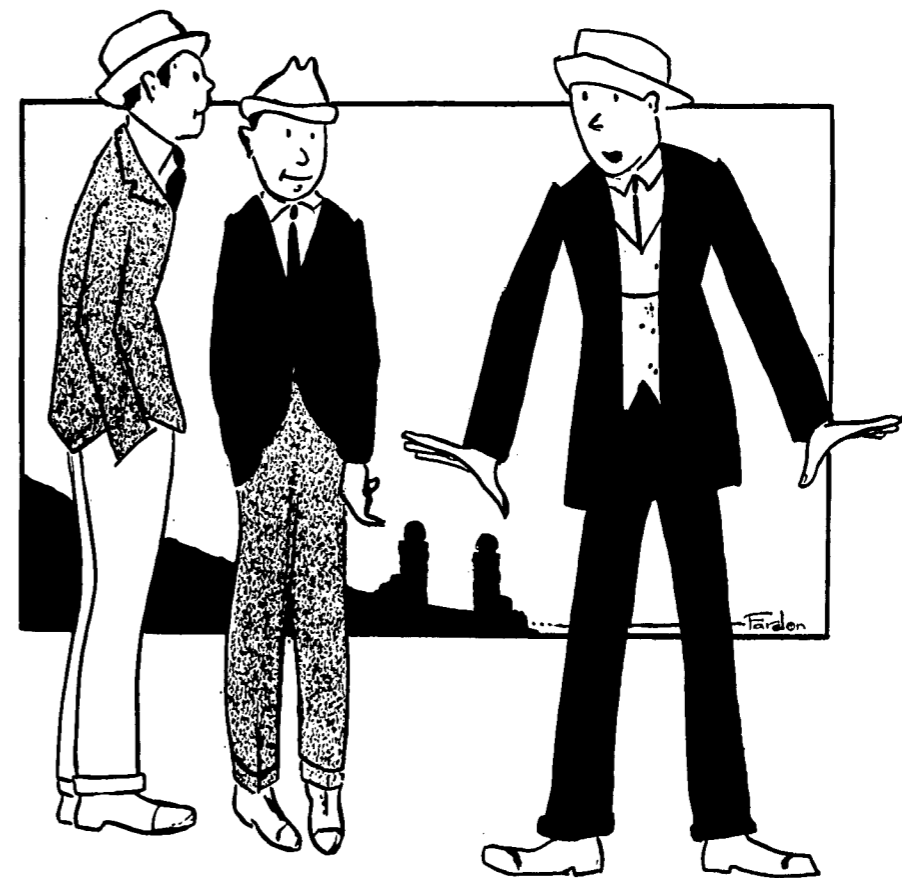

The intimate affection of Solomon Wise for Mildred, his stenographer, and her reciprocity of feeling was undeniable and not at all unlikely to cause scandalous comment, since Solomon was known to be the husband of another woman.

Solomon's wife was aware of this intimacy between her husband and Mildred, yet she raised no objection. You may think that strange.

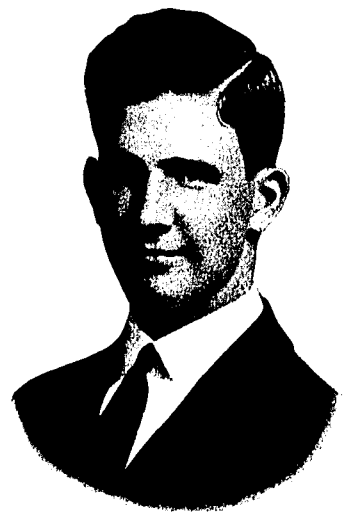

But you see, Mildred was their daughter.

Moral: Roll your own.

THE FRESHMAN GROUP

The Class War

A MUCH rumored Freshman subordination came to a head early in the Fall when a number of the co-eds relieved themselves of the green chokers, contrary to the stipulation of the Senior Proclamation.

A number of the upper-class co-eds were in the Library when informed of the course of events. These instantly took action by advancing upon the offending students with buckets of water in front of the Library. The fray was watery, but undecisive, each side suffering heavy repulses. Green ink was brought in for ammunition and things began to resemble Spring instead of Autumn.

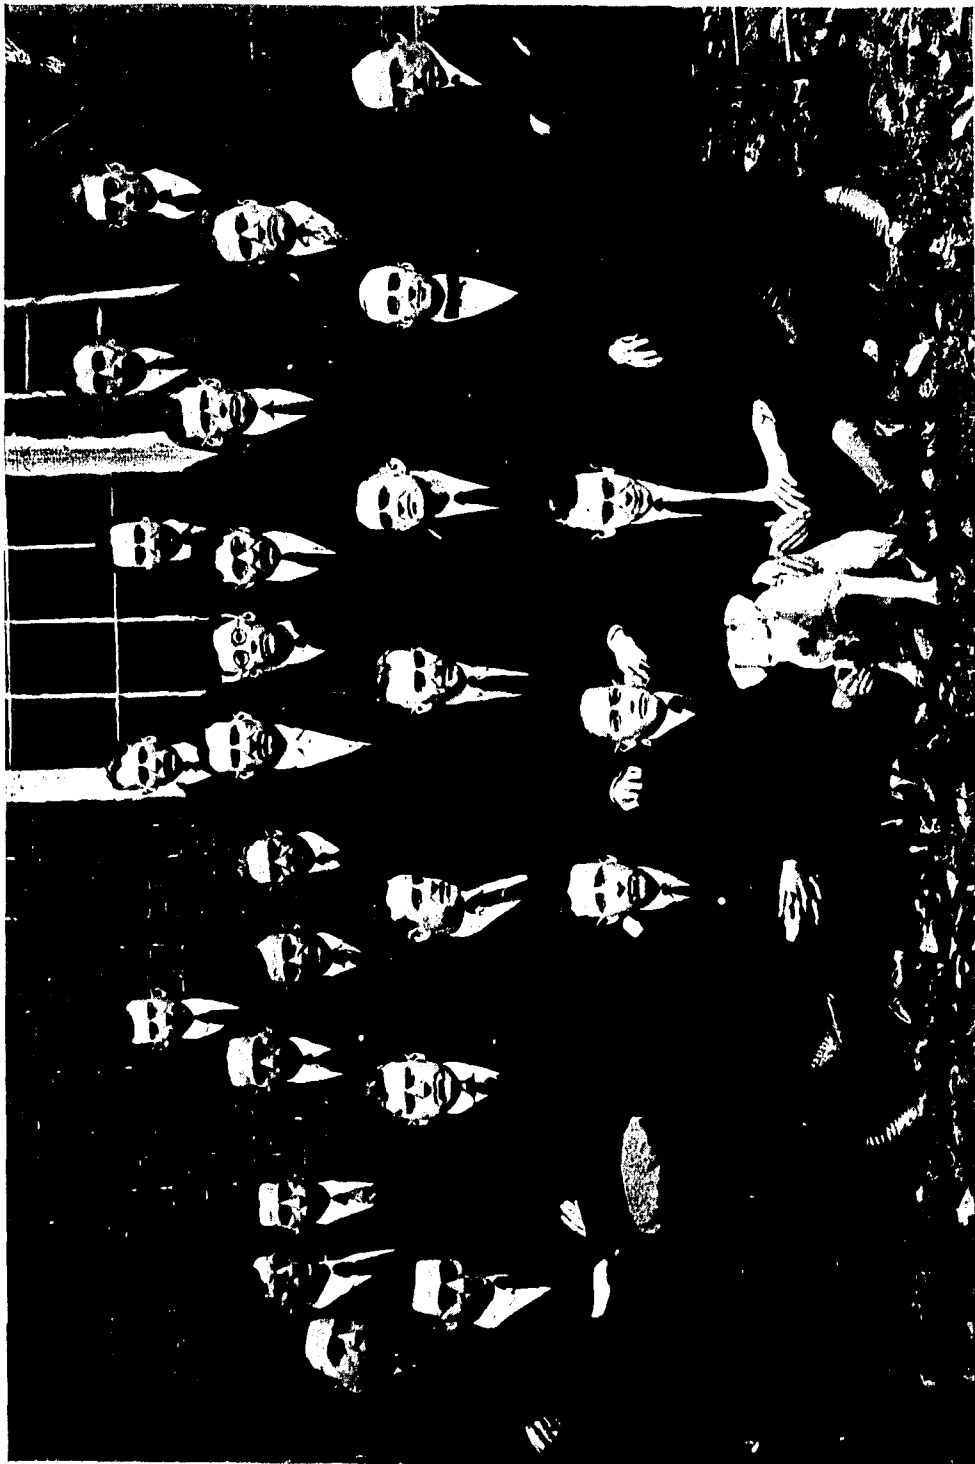

A "break" by one of the Freshmen brought down the instant wrath of the upper-classmen and he was forthwith started toward the ponds, followed by the entire Freshman Class. The president of the Freshmen demanded an explanation. Facts were given but did not meet with approval. The upper-classmen were given to understand that if one Freshman was thrown in, all would have to suffer the same treatment.

The distance between the athletic field and Jewell Hall resembled a mob scene in motion super-serials. A dead-line on the 440 track was drawn by the upper-classmen and the Freshmen also halted. A conference was held while the offending Freshman was ducked. The Freshmen did not like this and for a minute or so things looked dubious. Everyone shed their clothes and got ready for a wholesale ducking. The appearance of a faculty member caused the upper-classmen to go into conference in the chapel.

Here resolutions were discussed and many speeches made, all of which boded ill for the Freshmen. It was finally decided that the three leaders of the Freshman Class would have to be accorded the time-honored custom. With a wild yell the assembly burst out of chapel in search of the victims. They did not have to look far. There, lined up in front of the Science Hall, was the whole Freshman Class. A hot interchange of words ensued, followed by the seizure of the Freshman Class President, who requested that a Freshman conference be allowed. This was granted and as a result the three members gave themselves up as representatives of their class.

The victims were led to the ponds followed by a procession of the two factions, each side now somewhat pacified. On reaching the last fence, the main body halted while the Seniors led their prisoners to the pond, where they were stripped and given the big drink. A friendly feeling immediately evidenced itself and both factions, according to the leaders of both sides, left the field in perfect harmony. Thus the "war" ended.

"Dad" Bowles

"Dad" Bowles took the position of Head Coach in 1913. Since that time the position of William Jewell in the M. I. A. A. has been one of pre-eminence. At least one championship has been won every year and usually two or three. "Dad" is now in his tenth year as coach and in that time has won a total of twenty-five championships, and when the "Big Red Team" is not on top, it is close to it.

"Dad's" ability as a football coach was brought out very plainly in the football season of 1921. Starting with a team that seemed to be the weakest in the conference, "Dad" built up one of the greatest teams he has ever coached and won the State Championship. Wesleyan was defeated for the first time in five years by any team. All together, it turned out to be one of the most successful of seasons, after getting away to a bad start.

"Dad" believes that all forms of athletic sports are great builders of character and the men he coaches are taught to play the game cleanly and squarely for the game's sake. We believe that if, in addition to the All-State team that is chosen each year, coaches were chosen, "Dad" Bowles would, without a doubt, be given the position of the First-team Coach.

THE M. I. A. A.

JEWELL'S CHAMPIONSHIP RECORD
SINCE 1913

William Jewell	'12-'13—Championship in track; Second—football, basket ball and baseball.
Drury
Rolla	'13-'14—Championships, football, baseball, track; Second—basket ball.
Kirksville
Central	'14-'15—Championships, track, basket ball; Second—baseball, football.
Springfield
Westminster	'15-'16—Championships, football and baseball.
Wesleyan	'16-'17—Championships, track, tennis; Second—football.
Warrensburg	'17-'18—Championships, baseball, tennis. (Not entered in state track meet.)
Tarkio
Missouri Valley	'18-'19—Championships, basket ball, baseball, track and tennis.
Maryville
Central Wesleyan	'19-'20—Championships, baseball, tennis; Second, football.
Cape Girardeau
Culver-Stockton	'20-'21—Championships, tennis, tied for football. '21-'22—Championship, three-corner tie in football.

By the law of averages, each team in the conference should not win more than one championship in three years. Yet William Jewell won twenty in nine years and has always finished near the top when a Championship was lost. This is a record which no other team has ever approached. Jewell does not confine herself to teams in the Conference. Everyone remembers when Jewell defeated Kansas University in baseball with Mac McKinney in the box. This was the year Mac won the world's strike-out record by downing 25 out of 27 men who faced him, and also the year John McGraw of the New York Giants tried to get him. Jewell has also won and lost to Missouri University in the past, in football. Haskell comes over every once in a while for a tilt in track.

THE SECOND TEAM

The much-abused second team in football had quite a time this year. Several trips were taken, all of which proved very interesting and showed that Jewell has a fighting second team. The Excelsior Springs A. A. team was defeated while a loss was registered with Palmer College's first team. Better games are looked forward to for next season.

Jewell's first game was non-conference and was with Baker University. Jewell came out with the small end of the score, due largely to the fact that the men had not been in training but a short while and the season was just beginning. However, this skirmish only made the Big Red Team get on its feet and walk to the Championship.

The Letter Men

SHOEMAKER—Captain, Quarterback, Weight 160, Height 5 ft., 9 in., Age 21, 3rd year on team.

Shoemaker was a going concern this season in every way. His work formed the backbone of the Cardinal defense and his runs the dependable feature of attack. "Shoe" was equally good on both line plunges and end runs and rarely failed to make a substantial gain. He was picked by the Kansas City Star as Halfback and Captain of the All-State Team, the highest honor obtainable in the Conference. Shoemaker has one more year in Jewell.

DOW—Halfback, Weight 150, Height 5 ft., 10 in., Age 23, 2nd year on team.

Dow shakes a wicked hip when in action. He ran so fast this season that the enemy didn't have time to see him. John was a dangerous man at all times to his opponents. At any moment he was liable to slip away for a thirty or forty-yard jaunt down the field. John also swings a wicked toe and averaged ten yards over his opponents. Dow was placed on the second All-Missouri eleven, and would have made the first team, but for injuries sustained in the beginning of the season. Dow graduates this year.

ISBELL—Center, Weight 175, Height 6 ft., 3 in., Age 20, 2nd year on team.

"Hank" has played a number of positions and showed some real stuff each time. He is a tower of strength on the defense and his passing was faultless which is the main concern of the center of offense. He placed the ball where it could be handled to the best advantage. With "Hank" at Center, a plunge through the center of the line was Jewell's favorite form of attack when a yard was badly needed. Isbell was given honorable mention on the All-State Team.

JONES—Tackle, Weight 210, Height 6 ft., Age 22, 2nd year on team.

"Beef" was a tackling demon. When 210 lbs. is hurled into a tackle, somebody gets hurt and "Beef" never took time out all season. "Beef" rushed through the opposing line as if it were paper. In the Wesleyan game he broke up three straight passes before they had gotten six feet from the passer's hands. "Beef" was placed on the second All-State Team.

BARTON—Tackle, Weight 157, Height 5 ft., 9 in., Age 21, 2nd year on team.

Barton has played every position on the team, and because of his strength and knowledge of the game, he is a hard man to handle. Barton was not quite up to his normal weight this season, but this was adequately compensated for by his utter disregard for precaution. When Barton tackled, the goal posts quivered. You could hear the bones pop all over the field. Barton goes into every play with all the punch he packs. He was given honorable mention on the All-State Team.

WOOD—End, Weight 170, Height, 5 ft., 10 in., Age 20, one year at Drury, one year at Jewell.

Wood worked in the backfield on offense and as end on defense. He was a dependable line plunger and was one of the hardest men to tackle in the Conference. His educated toe won the Championship game with Wesleyan this season and his ability to snag forward passes as well as throw them, was a great factor in the team's success. He received the position of End on the All-State Team.

PHILLIPS—Guard, Weight 180, Height 5 ft., 10 in., Age 23.

Phillip's fight and snap were a great asset to the team. He was injured at the start of the season but upon his recovery he was back in the line-up, fighting hard and keeping up the pep of his team-mates. He plays the game because he loves it and works his best every minute. He was given honorable mention by the Star.

BAGBY—Guard, Weight 170, Height 6 ft., 1 in., Age 18.

"Cal" showed 'em they couldn't keep him off the first team by the way he tackled in the Westminster game. His fierce war-cry of "All right, gang, let's go" is remembered by all. "Bazz" had a great faculty of recovering the ball when the other side fumbled. He played his best game against Wesleyan, and the fact that he held his part of the line down is shown by the amount of yardage gained by Wesleyan.

NEWMAN—Halfback, Weight 147, Height 5 ft., 6 in., Age 22.

"Toddy" played the position of safety man on the team and attained the distinction of never fumbling a punt the whole season. Not only that, but he usually made some gain and in the Tarkio game, his returns averaged 20 yards. On the offense Toddy played End and always opened a hole, keeping his tackle off his feet and out of the play.

JUSTUS—End, Weight 160, Height 5 ft., 11 in., Age 18.

The end runs of both teams around Justus' end were in general a good investment for Jewell. A cool, heady player, breaking interference and tackling his man hard and sure. Justus made the third All-State team, and would have made the second, but for the fact that it was his first year on the team.

JOYCE—Halfback, Weight 145, Height 5 ft., 7 in., Age 20.

"Creed" displayed real ability at both Center and in the backfield. Last year Joyce was forced to quit because of an injured shoulder and this year an operation for appendicitis stopped him. Joyce has speed, endurance and grit in abundance and with a little more weight, would be hard to beat.

TOALSON—Fullback, Weight 178, Height 5 ft., 11 in., Age 18.

This big boy from Clark played the first football game in his life against Baker University. He took to football like a duck to water. His line plunging was wonderful to watch. An injury to his hip in mid-season, kept him out of most of the remaining games, but he should show up well next season.

ELLIOTT—Halfback, Weight 170, Height 5 ft., 9 in., Age 18.

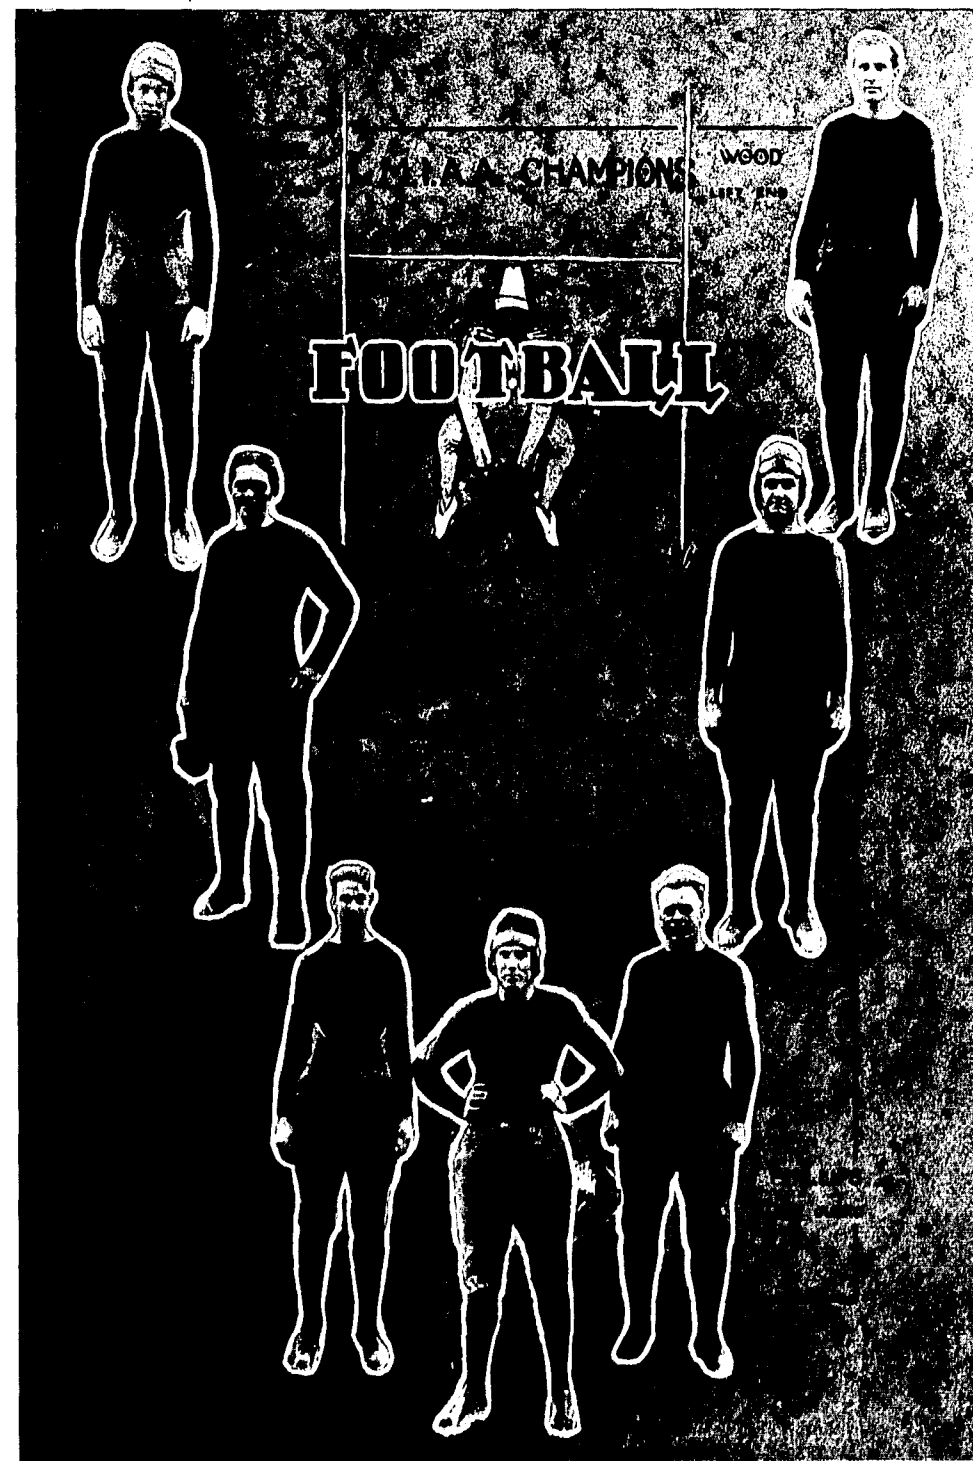

Another boy who played his first football. Elliott displayed the characteristics of a football player from the first but didn't hit his stride until mid-season. He is a fighter from whistle to whistle and gives all he has, never loafing on the job. He is a great man to "clean house" for the other fellow.

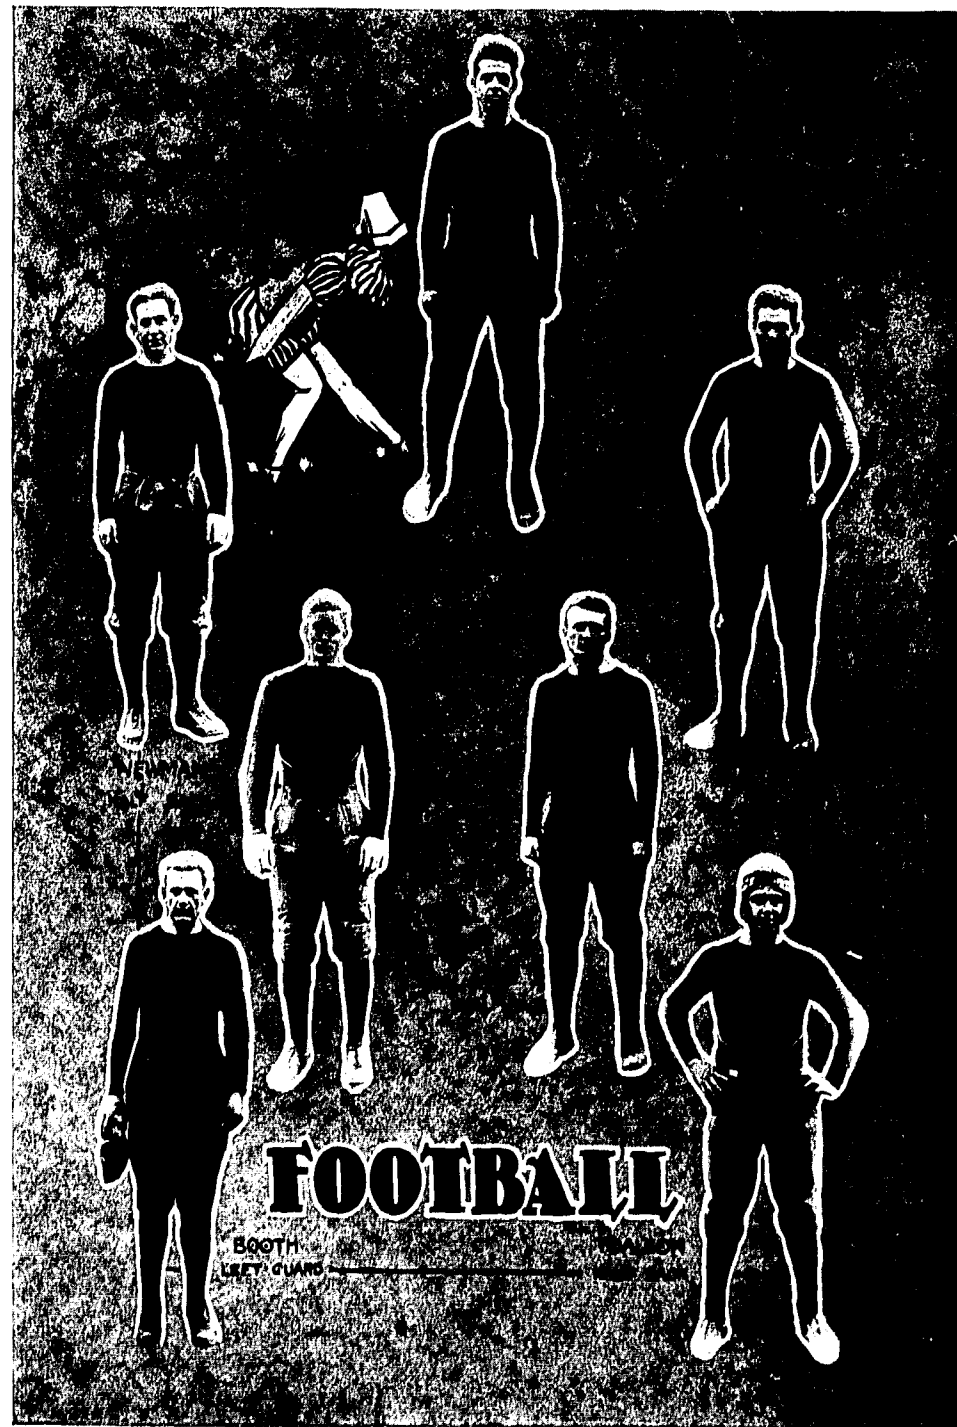

COGSWELL—Fullback, Weight 140, Height 5 ft., 9 in., Age 19.

A man with worlds of speed and fight. John also showed exceptional ability in messing up and intercepting our opponents' passes. His only fault was that he wanted to keep on playing after the whistle blew. John was the lightest man on the team but his ability in fight and passing the ball made up for this.

BOOTH—Tackle, Weight 178, Height 5 ft., 11 in., Age 22.

He could always be depended on to hold up his side of the line. Booth was playing a great game at tackle in the Warrensburg game when his shoulder was thrown out of place. He played the rest of the game with one arm useless. This kept him out for most of the season, but when in there, he showed a drive that could not be stopped.

WARRENSBURG STATE NORMAL, 0. JEWELL, 19.

Burning with a desire to register a counter as soon as possible, the Jewell team took the ball and made an uninterrupted march up the field to a touchdown. Time, five minutes. The rest of the first and second quarters were on almost even terms. In the third quarter, both teams tried the passing game. Jewell's was the most effective, as a pass from Cogswell to Wood and a fifteen-yard run by the latter, gave us our second touchdown. In the fourth quarter, the Jewell backs made constant gains through the line, but were held on Warrensburg's one-foot line. However, a fluke punt of only ten yards placed Jewell in scoring position and the third touchdown was made in the last minute of play, thus ending Jewell's first conference game.

WESTMINSTER 0. JEWELL 7.

For the ninth consecutive time the Blue Jays went down to defeat against the Cardinals. Since 1914, Westminster has scored only once on Jewell. In the third quarter, Wood scooped up a Blue Jay fumble and ran forty yards to score Jewell's only counter. The rest of the game was played on fairly even terms. Jewell played a defensive game and after the first quarter, there was never any danger of Westminster scoring.

DRURY 0. JEWELL 17.

In their last game of the season on the home field, the Big Red Team displayed a great brand of football and knocked down the third barrier in the race for the Championship. In the third quarter, the Panthers lost their only chance to score when Isbell broke through and blocked a place kick which Wood recovered and made twenty yards before he was tackled. In the fourth quarter, the Jewell machine was hitting on all eleven, and after failing at one attempt, ran two touchdowns over Drury and was prevented from gaining a third by the whistle.

CENTRAL 7. JEWELL 0.

For the first time in seven years, Jewell lost to Central. Jewell was expecting a fair day and forgot to take their rubbers to Fayette and were not able to stand up on the slick field. In the second quarter, after making a pretty catch of a pass from Wood, Newman was unable to hold the wet pigskin and fumbled after crossing Central's goal-line. Central's touchdown came in the same quarter, as the result of a long pass. The whole game was played in a downpour of rain and lightning. Jewell made five first downs to Central's one.

SPRINGFIELD STATE NORMAL 0. JEWELL 10.

With grim determination, the Jewellites bearded the Bears within their den and brought home their stakes with a little extra. Jewell scored in the first quarter with a dropkick by Wood. In the fourth quarter, after three passes from Wood to Newman, Justus and Dow had netted thirty-six yards and placed the ball on the two-yard line, Shoemaker went over for a touchdown. Newman made a spectacular return of a punt and Phillips played a great game, keeping the team's pep at high pitch.

TARKIO COLLEGE 7. JEWELL 41.

The Cardinal machine gave an exhibition of its power against Tarkio at St. Joseph on Armistice Day. The only break in the attack came in the second period, when Williams picked up a ball fumbled by Dow and ran fifty yards for Tarkio's lone touchdown. This roused Jewell's wrath and after that it was simply one touchdown after another for Jewell.

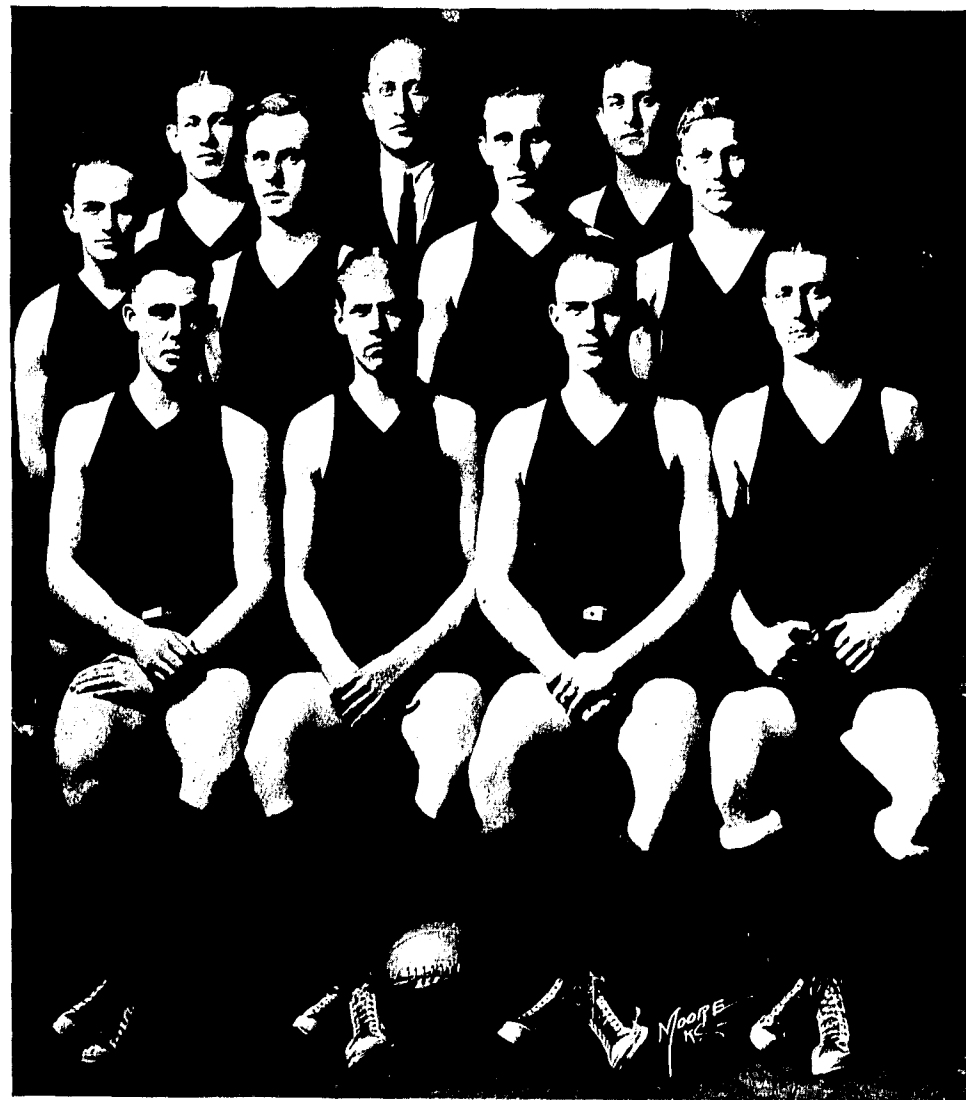

WESLEYAN 0. JEWELL 3.

On the top of the Wesleyan power plant is a huge steam whistle which is slowly rusting away. It was placed there in November and was to be blown immediately after the Wesleyan-Jewell game, to announce the victory of Wesleyan. Downtown, the shop-windows were full of pictures of Wesleyan stars in various poses and walks of life. The theatre had a section of seats roped off in Wesleyan colors for the conquering heroes-to-be. But you can't celebrate with a goose-egg.

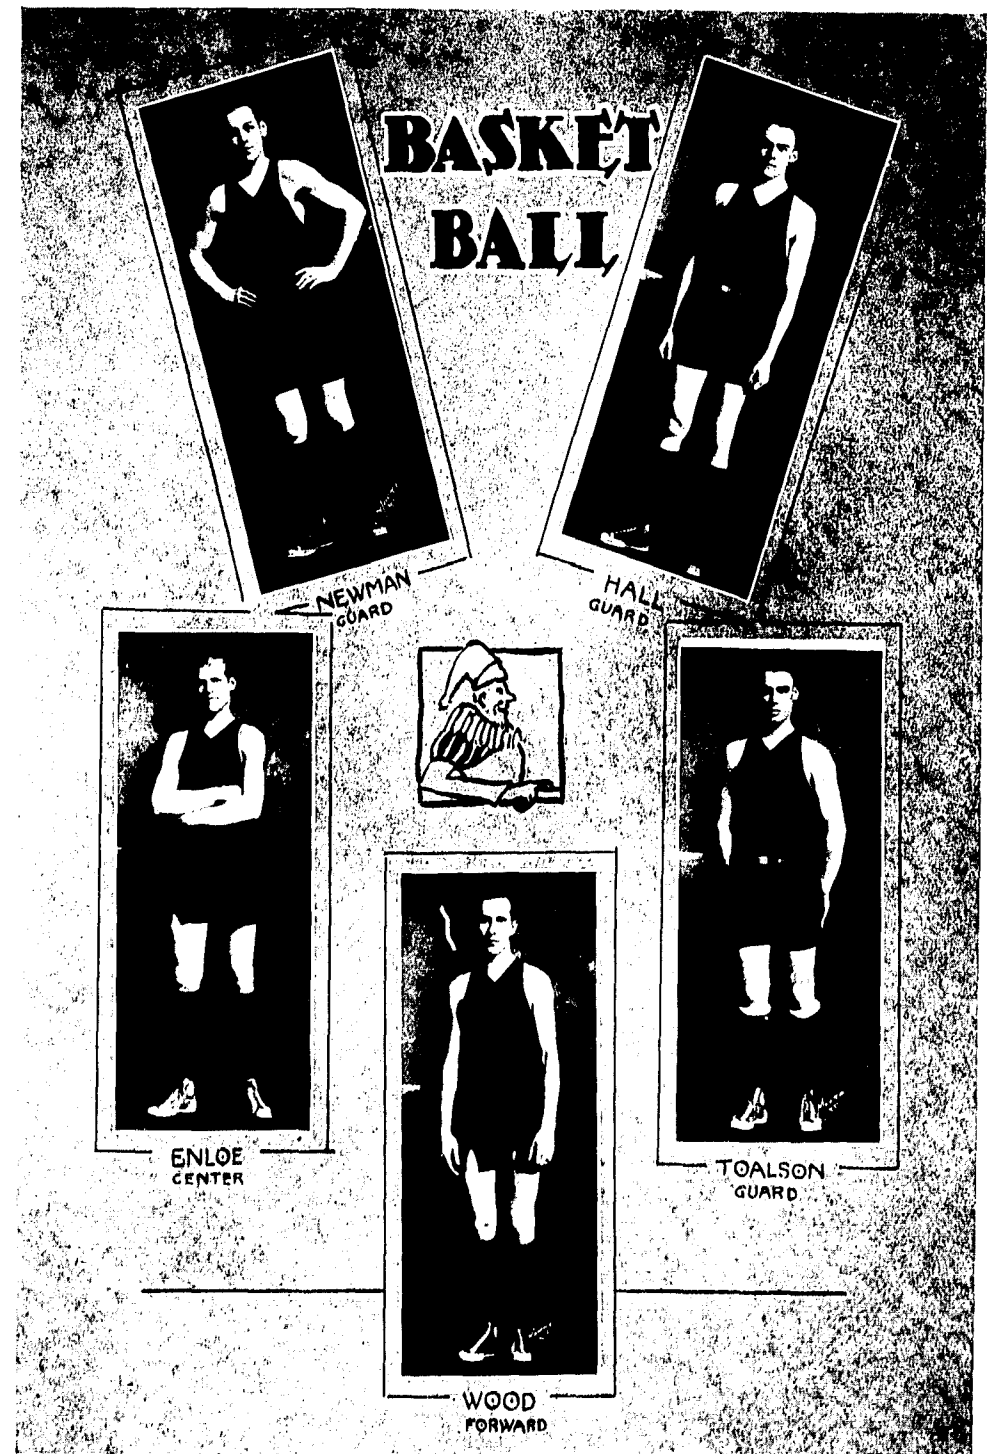

Although victor by only three points, Jewell demonstrated her superiority by the number of first downs and yards gained. Jewell made eleven first downs and gained a total of 230 yards from scrimmage; Wesleyan made three first downs and gained 38 yards. The first quarter was played on fairly even terms but in the second quarter Holder, Wesleyan tackle, broke through and blocked a Cardinal punt and retrieved it on Jewell's 17-yard line. With Wesleyan it was score now or never. On the first down, Jewell presented an impenetrable wall and on the next play, Barton tackled Filley for a 5-yard loss. A dropkick failed utterly and Jewell recovered the ball. Jewell tried a dropkick in both the second and third quarters, but was unsuccessful until the final period. 3 to 0. With five minutes to play, Jewell started a great offense which was stopped by the whistle with the ball on Wesleyan's three-foot line and three downs to make it in. This was the only defeat Wesleyan had suffered in five years and seven Seniors were on the team when this happened.

The Basketball Season

THE first call for practice was answered by twenty men and within a few days, from twenty-five to thirty were reporting regularly. Although this was only half as many as reported for football, it is nevertheless a good indication of the way a student loves athletics. Only two letter men were returned namely, Dow and Joyce. Joyce's past record with the K. C. A. C. made Jewell look forward to the season with great interest. Newman and Grace were the only others who had ever played in a college game. When Joyce was forced to leave school on account of illness, Dow was chosen Captain in his place. The season started with the squad made-up of a few of the older men, but the majority were Freshmen.

In a hard-fought, closely-contested game, the team defeated Junior College of Kansas City by a 32 to 30 score. The score at the end of the first half was 20-20. The Cardinal aggregation worked brilliantly throughout the game, although handicapped by inaccuracy at passing and shooting at the goal. During a part of the first half, the defense was weak but in the second period, Tolson and Newman kept the K. C. cagers well in hand and prevented close shots.

The next week, Jewell took a trip around the southern division of the conference and lost all four of the games. The first was with Springfield where the short end of a 51-22 score was Jewell's lot. The sojourn in Rolla at the State School of Mines was the occasion for two more defeats, 35-11 and 12-11, the latter being the Cardinals best exhibition of basketball on the trip, and which incidentally did not count in the conference standing. The final game of the trip was lost to Drury, 25-14.

At times the play of the team was very poor and at other times it was exceptionally good. This erratic playing simply showed inexperience and the occasional flashes showed the real ability of the men. The outstanding fault displayed throughout the trip was the complete inability to hit the basket. In the Springfield game, the Cardinals worked the ball down the field easily, but repeatedly missed shots in the open. The same difficulties were evinced in the first game with Rolla, but the second game was of a different nature. The first half ended with two free throws having been rendered by each team. A furious battle ensued and Jewell was ahead until the last moment of play when Singer registered a free throw just as the gun announced the end of the contest.

The Drury game was rough and replete with everything except basketball. Drury showed themselves to be the more purely Irish. Jewell came out at the small end of a 25-14 score. Dow missed only one of the free-throw chances in this game.

Just to show what College Spirit and Pep would do, the entire college came down to the gym and watched the Cardinals defeat Warrensburg State Normal, who enjoyed the State Championship last year. Unheard-of shots were made and the final score stood 30-26 in Jewell's favor. A 24-all tie at the end of the game followed by a 12-11 lead by Warrensburg at the half. In the playoff, Grace broke the ice by a long shot followed by Dow with two under the basket, thus making the game safe.

Wesleyan was next to fall in a hotly waged contest by a score of 24-22. Both teams put up a strong defense and at no time was the game slow.

The Drury Panthers came to Jewell for the next game and took the long end of a 21-17 score back to Springfield with them. Jewell showed a slightly better guard than did Drury but this was more than compensated for by the inaccuracy of goal shots.

Westminster, who had the extreme satisfaction of registering a defeat over Jewell last year, had the extreme dissatisfaction of seeing Jewell take the gross end of a 40-20 score. The game was played on William Wood court and the Cardinals couldn't help but make good due to the cheers of the lassies of that institution.

Two more games with Warrensburg, the first of which was conference, gave the big end of the score to Jewell again, 17-15. The score shows how closely the game was fought. The next night, Jewell again made 17 points but Warrensburg had to go and make 35. However, this game was non-conference. Dow was again high-point man.

Rolla came to Jewell next and showed that length has something to do with winning games. It was hard to tell which man on the team was center. Many pretty shots were made as the score of 32-16 would indicate. "Funny" Singer was quite hot that night and made most of the counters for Rolla.

Junior College retaliated a lost game to Jewell at the beginning of the season by winning a rather loose contest by the score of 27-18. At times the game showed real fight and it was in these periods that Jewell made her counters.

Tarkio dropped down for an easy win but had more on their hands than they had counted on. The game started with Jewell determined to shoot at the basket whenever the chance presented itself. Many shots were made from the middle of the floor and for a while it seemed that Tarkio would have all she could do to make the score come out even. But along toward the middle, she began to pick up and by the end of the game the score stood 32-19 in Tarkio's favor.

The Inter-Class Basketball Season

Under the leadership of Coach Toalson, a Freshman himself, the Freshman Class Team ended the season with their escutcheon untarnished by defeat. The game with the Juniors was the only one in which the Freshmen were at all pushed to win. Their first game was with the Sophomores and they let their hereditary enemies down with a 19-8 defeat.

The game with the Seniors was scandalous. No respect at all was accorded the aged by the youngsters. The final score was 88-8. This marked the first and last appearance of the Senior team.

The next win of the Freshmen was registered over the William Jewell High School. The first half was vigorously contested but in the second half the accuracy of the Freshmen forwards widened the gap and the game ended with the latter leading 37-11.

Not contented with playing other classes, they took on the Liberty High School team and snowed them under with a score of 23-7. The High School was allowed only one field goal and that was made from the center of the court.

Having demonstrated their ability against the Liberty High School Team, the Freshmen secured a game with the Excelsior Springs High School, which had defeated the Liberty aggregation. Excelsior Springs had even less luck than Liberty, being allowed the same number of points, seven, while the Freshmen piled up a total of forty-one points.

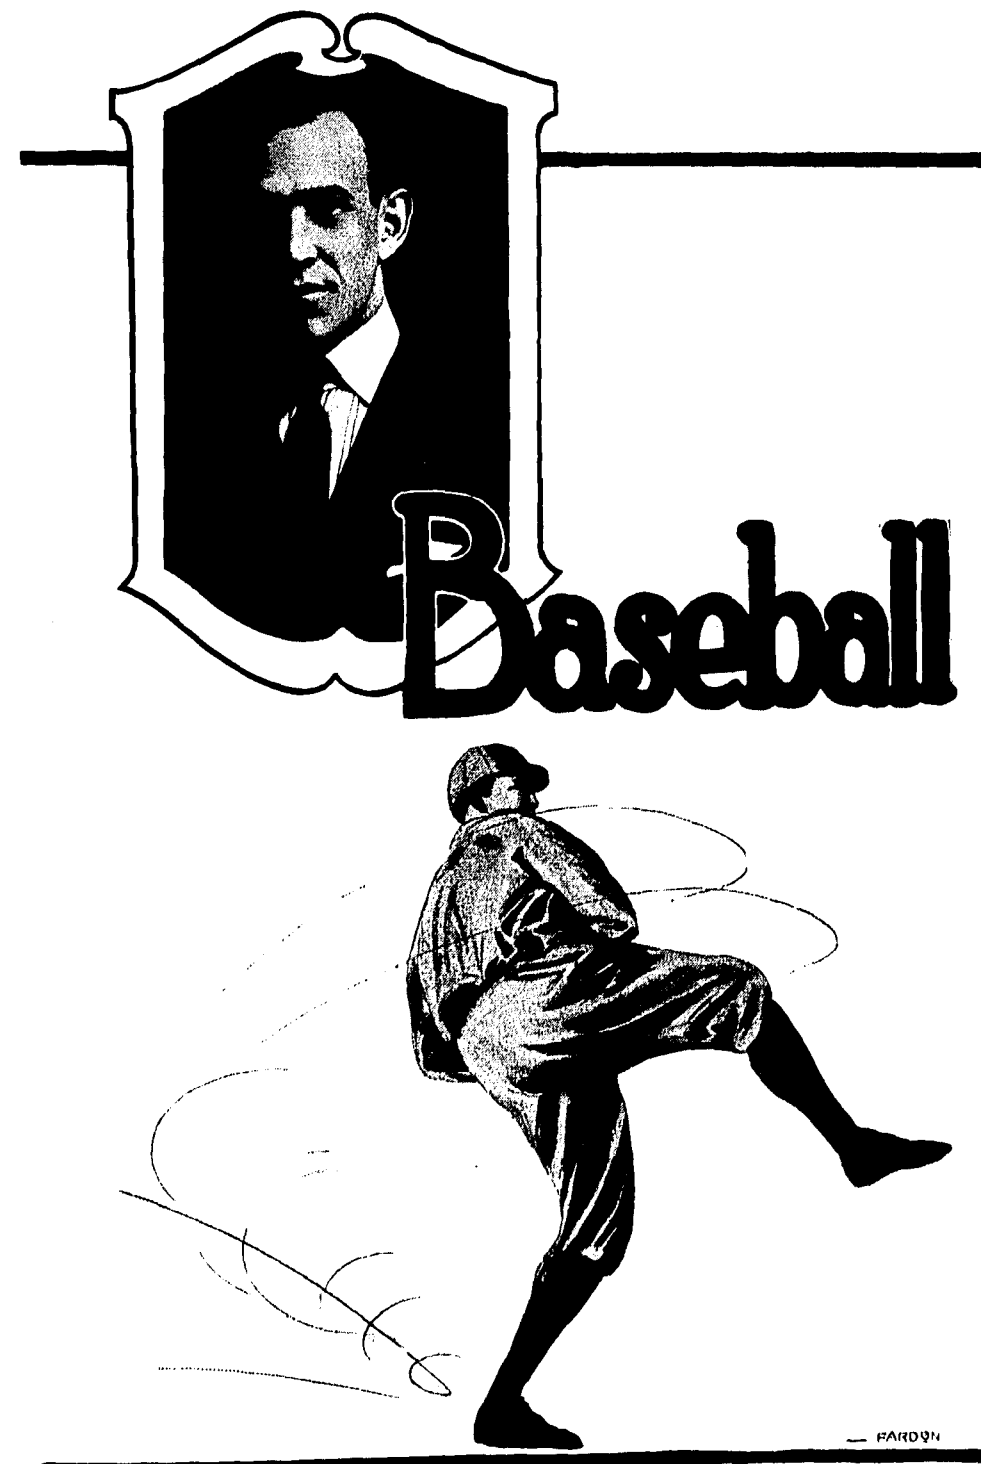

The following Friday, the Freshmen met the Juniors in their hardest game of the season. The Juniors started with a rush but lost their lead near the end of the first half and were never able to regain it, the game ending with the score 25-19 in favor of the Freshmen.

As a preliminary to the William Jewell-Rolla game, the first year men played an "All-Star" aggregation, whose members had been picked from the other class teams. However, even this combination was unable to stop the speedy youngsters and they ended the season with a glorious victory.

The record of the Freshman team is truly remarkable and without a doubt it is the best class team that has played on a Jewell court in many years. At least one or two of the members should make the varsity next year if they return.

The Baseball Season

THE first games of the season were with Kirksville, who came here on April 19th for two games. Jewell walked away with the first game by defeating the Normal team 7-1. "Pug" Wood did the hurling for the home team. Despite a broken jaw which he had suffered the first of the season, he pitched a great game, allowing only three hits. The Jewell nine seemed to have their eye on the ball throughout the game. Hon displayed a wonderful knack of throwing out men who strayed too far from the base.

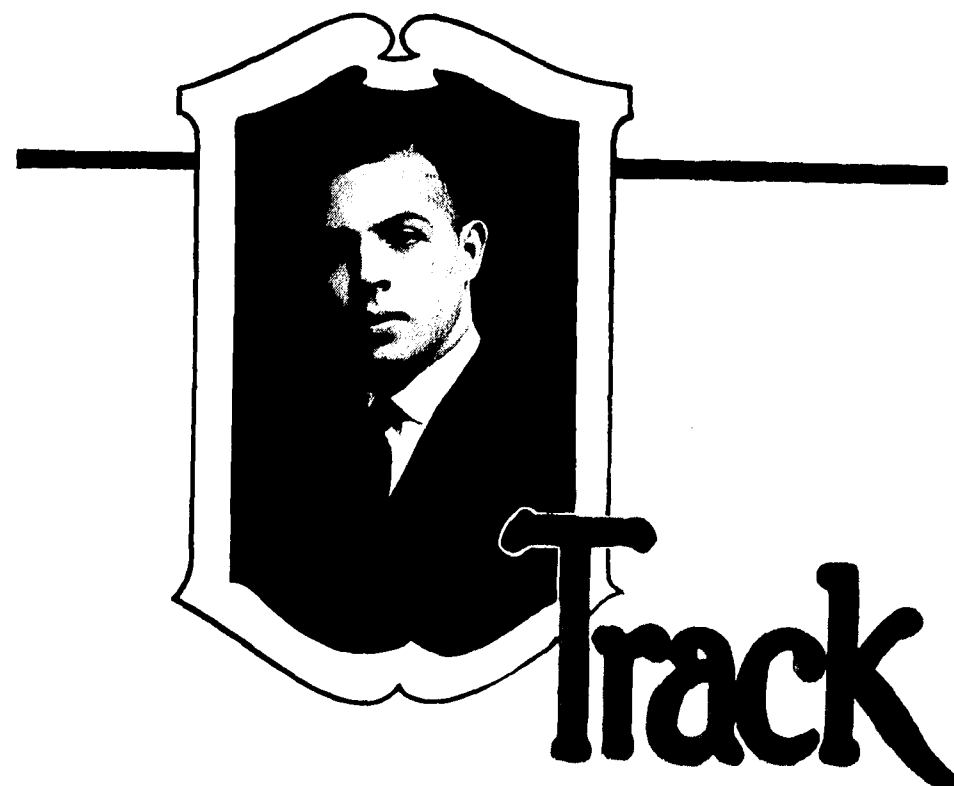

In the second game, the Jewell nine showed a complete reversal of form and Kirksville won 14-5. Wood started the game but soon had to give way to Street who was followed by Cogswell. The last two were not given proper support and Wood was not able to play the iron man and repeat his victory of the day before.

The next two games were played in Marshall with Missouri Valley College. Jewell lost both games. The first was a thriller from start to finish, but the second was too uneven to be interesting. In the first game, Jewell did all their scoring in one inning, the second. Morgan led off with a homer over the left field fence, Pollard slugged out a two-sacker, Hon got on base and he and Pollard came home on a single made by Gwyn. This ended the scoring for Jewell. Missouri Valley made one run in the first, one in the fifth, and a few hits and a number of errors gave them three more in the ninth. Jewell got ten hits to their opponents six, while Wood struck out nine men.

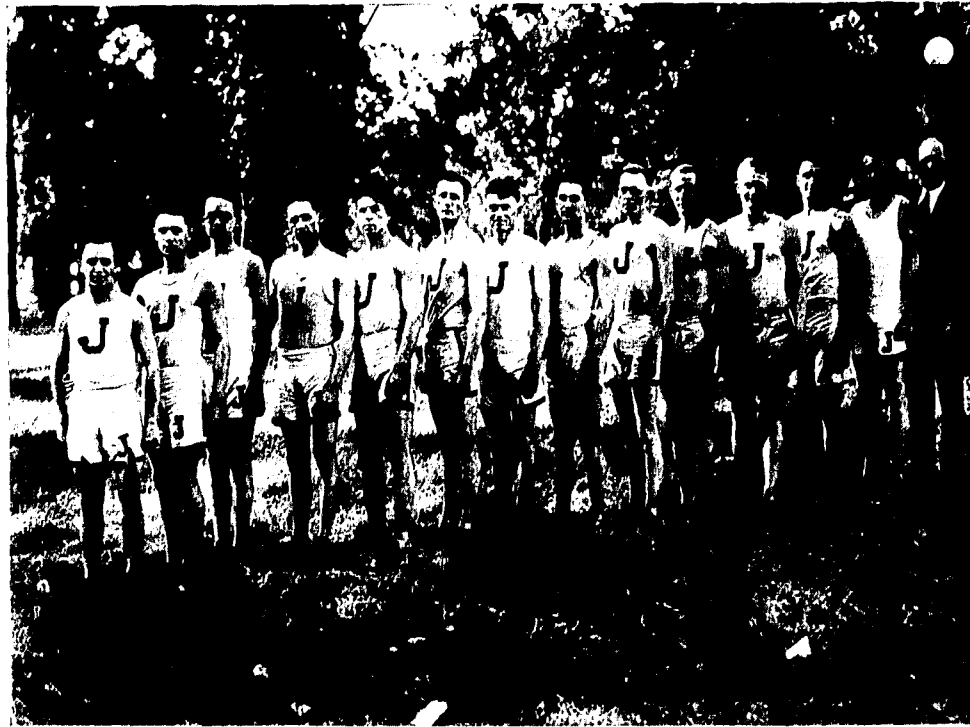

The second game was a farce, Missouri Valley winning by a score of 18-5.

The next trip was to Olathe when Jewell won a 9-5 victory over the Deaf team. Olathe got three runs in the 3rd and two in the 5th. Jewell was unable to score until the 7th inning, when Gwyn, Dow and Newman scored. The 9th inning was the big one, Jewell scoring seven runs. Guemple hit a home run with three on base, which started the big rally. Gwyn, Hon and Wood batted especially well. "Pug" Wood struck out fourteen men and held Olathe to eight hits while his team-mates accumulated eleven.

Missouri Valley came to Liberty a few days later and won two more victories over the Jewell team. These games marked the end of the season. With only one reliable pitcher, and he injured, Jewell could not hope to win many of their games, but it did seem as though Dame Fortune never smiled upon the team, although her daughter Miss Fortune was with us constantly.

The Track Squad

From "Shorty" to "Lengthy"—RETHSWICH, LOVE, FLEET, CALDWELL, SHOEMAKER, DOW, STAN-
NARD, CONWAY, RALSTON, WOOD, McADOO, JONES, FRANKLIN, and BOWLES (Coach)

The Jewell Track Season

JEWELL'S track season was a little more of a success than the baseball season, although the meets with Wesleyan and Baker University were lost. The scores were close and neither were decided until near the end. A dual meet was also held with Kansas City Junior College, which Jewell won. The meet with Haskell was called off on account of rain.

The first meet was held with Wesleyan. Jewell was unable to place in the hurdles and weights, and this cost us the meet. John Dow was high-point man, winning firsts in the hundred, two-twenty and four-forty-yard dashes and by passing his man on the straightaway of the last lap, he won the half-mile relay. "Slim" Ralston came within half an inch of the State Record when he cleared the bamboo at 5 ft. 10 ins. Four other men earned their letters. C. C. Wood won first in the broad jump and seconds in the high jump and pole vault. Franklin took second in the half mile and two mile runs. Rethswisch won the two-mile run and Caldwell won the pole vault. The final score was 60½ to 53½.

The next meet was with Baker, which we lost 49½ to 59½. The meet was decided by the last event of the afternoon, the half-mile relay, which Baker took by a narrow margin. The meet was held in a cold, drizzling rain which made the time in each event necessarily slow. Porter of Baker was high-point man with 16 points. Dow and Cheezam tied for second with 13 each. The two-mile run was the thriller of the afternoon. Rethswisch won the race easily, but Ryland Fleet, 16-year-old Jewell two-miler ran a neck-and-neck race down the straightaway with the Baker entry and won by a few inches. McAdoo won his letter in this meet by taking seconds in the shot and discus.

Due to the heavy rain of the night before, it was impossible to hold the annual meet with Haskell.

The next Friday, Kansas City Junior College came over to lose a track meet to us. Captain Shoemaker won the right to receive a bar, signifying a year of service. He won seconds on the hundred and four-forty-yard dashes. Conway won his letter by taking first place in the hurdles.

The State meet was held at Kirksville. John Dow took first in the four-forty-yard dash and third in the hundred. "Beef" Jones took second in the shot-put. For the second time in its history, Jewell had failed to win the State meet. However, prospects are much brighter this year and here's hoping we can gain our old-time supremacy.

The Inter-Class Track Meet

THE SOPHOMORES repeated their performance when they were Freshmen and won the annual Inter-Class Trophy Cup offered by the College. The Freshmen won second place by scoring 43 points to the Sophs' 65½. John Dow and Tommy Gwyn scored 22½ points for third place and the Juniors. The Seniors ranked fourth with 9 points, and the High School scored 3.

John Dow of the Juniors was high-point man with 22 points. C. C. Wood was second with 18½ points to his credit. The meet was a success in every way and several "dark horses" were trotted forth. The meet is summarized as follows:

100-yard dash—1st, Dow; 2nd, Wood; Time, 10:4 seconds.
120-yard high hurdles—1st, Conway; 2nd, Wood; Time, 18:2 seconds.
Mile run—1st, Franklin; 2nd, Stannard; Time, 5:11 seconds.
440-yard dash—1st, Dow; 2nd, Shoemaker; Time, 55:1 seconds.
880-yard run—1st, Franklin; 2nd, Whitesell; Time, 2:19:0 seconds.
220-yard dash—1st, Dow; 2nd, Wood; Time, 24:2 seconds.
2-mile run—1st, Rethswisch; 2nd, Fleet; Time, 11-33:0 seconds.
220 low hurdles—1st, Dow; 2nd, Cogswell; Time, 29:4 seconds.
Pole vault—Tie; Wood and Caldwell; 9 feet, 1 inch.
Discus—1st, Jones; 2nd, McAdoo; 113.5 feet.
High jump—1st, Ralston; 2nd, Wood; 5 feet, 8 inches.
Broad jump—1st, Wood; 2nd, Conway; 19 feet, 7.5 inches.
Shot-put—1st, Jones; 2nd, McAdoo; 37 feet, 11 inches.

The High School Track Meet

THE fifth Inter-scholastic field and track meet held on Jewell field was won by Bosworth. Although there were but six men from this place, a total of 31 points was garnered. Simpson, brother of the famous Bob Simpson, was high-point man with 13 points. Wagy, his team-mate, was runner-up with 12. These two men made enough points to win the meet for Bosworth. Carrollton took second place with 19 points.

The number of contestants, 270, was the greatest in the history of the meet, although only 26 schools were represented, compared with 29 the year before. In two events, the four-forty-yard dash and the half-mile relay, two sets of points were awarded because of the large number entered.

Four new records were made but due to the high wind which was blowing up the straightaway, materially aiding the dash men, no records were allowed to count in this meet. Wagy of Bosworth lowered the 120-high hurdles mark from 18 seconds to 16 3-5, which is 2 3-5 seconds less than the record time. In the hundred, Simpson lowered the time by 3-5 of a second, running it in 10 1-5 seconds. In the 220-yard dash, Taubman lowered the mark of 23-2 by a second.

The schools beside Bosworth and Carrollton to place in the meet, were:

Maryville.....	15	Smithville.....	3
Harrisonville.....	12	Slater.....	3
Marceline.....	11	Independence.....	2
Liberty.....	10	Brookfield.....	1
Trenton.....	9	Braymer.....	1
Lexington.....	6	Hamilton.....	1
Pleasant Hill.....	3

SUMMARY OF EVENTS

 Half-mile relay—Marceline; Time, 1:40:2 (B).

Tennis, '21

TOO much credit cannot be given Fisher and Davis for their excellent work last year. They won for Jewell a clear title to the State Championship. Jewell has not failed to win this championship for several years and they kept our record clear for another year. Davis is back this year but Fisher was lost by graduation.

The first tennis match of the year was with Baker University. Neither Fisher nor Davis were in form and both the singles and doubles were lost. The next match was with Junior College of Kansas City. Fisher lost in the singles but Davis won his match, while the Jewell team composed of the two, won the doubles, giving us the match. Junior College came over here to play us on our own court and won, taking both the singles and doubles.

In the State Meet, Fisher and Davis were in great form. Fisher won the singles championship, beating the representative from Drury in the finals.

Central Wesleyan was beaten in the finals for the doubles championship.

If only another man like Fisher can be found to play with Davis this spring, Jewell would probably clean up again at the State Meet.

The Path

Just off the long, black road a green lawn lies;
Its grasses curling o'er a hidden path,
Which, slowly winding, carefully slips beneath a fence and thru a hedge to where dark shadows hang
'Neath lofty, vine-festooned monarchs huge,
Whose heavy sides, thick hung with aged moss,
The woodland's brambly thickets thrust and wound.
While there a spider's web or serpent's back
A straying sunbeam all resplendent makes.

The Pan-Hellenic Council

THE PAN-HELLENIC COUNCIL of William Jewell was founded to govern and to promote the best interests of fraternities in William Jewell. Not only does it at the present time accomplish the above functions, but it also serves to bring the men of the fraternities in the Pan-Hellenic together in meetings of good-fellowship and thereby cements a bond of brotherhood between them. Through the efforts of the council the selfish interests of each respective fraternity are subordinated for the good of the whole; and co-operation, loyalty to each other and good sportsmanship are developed and are demanded of the fraternities holding membership in the Pan-Hellenic.

The year 1921-22 has been one of growth and achievement in the Philomathic Literary Society. With an increase in numbers, much of the old-time Philomathic enthusiasm has returned. One of the many accomplishments of the year was the revision of the Constitution and By-Laws. Also, upon the suggestion of Professor McKinney, the society decided to devote one meeting each month to the studying of international politics with a view to creating a better understanding of those problems.

Other activities worthy of mention consisted of interesting programs and social affairs. One December afternoon a dozen energetic Philomathians thoroughly cleaned and re-decorated the Society Hall after which they enjoyed a substantial picnic lunch. The first Thursday after the Christmas holidays a "Crank Meeting" imparted fresh impetus to the literary machine which has ever since been running smoothly.

THE KHEM CLUB

Object

Since the science of chemistry is very interesting - and - as in the club room it is impossible to continue the discussion beyond a few facts - this club was organized to pursue - to our own satisfaction - the study and discussion of this subject.

The Fle Club

Requirements—Members must be a pledge or active man from one of the four national fraternities of William Jewell.

In the days of Noah and even of Cain,
 The crook of the finger was emblem of shame;
 So here we see them again as of yore,
 The pledge, or goats, whose ambitions yet soar.
 Now the other boys with the upright prong,
 Are supposedly active, but not very strong,
 And altho some are only mama's joys,
 All in all, they're pretty good boys.

 And always, my boy, just keep in sight,
 That a dern good run beats a losing fight.

Flower—Ragweed.

Emblem—Red Bull.

The Five-Minute Eggs

By mistake, the Kansas City Post printed a picture purporting to be "The Five-Minute Eggs" of William Jewell College. The true and original picture appears above. The Kansas City Post had the following to say:

"Liberty, Mo., Feb. 20.—War on "cake eaters" with their flaring trousers has been declared in William Jewell College by a group of students who have organized a local branch of the nation-wide Five-Minute Eggs.

The first two words of the title refer to the length of time an egg is boiled. In other words, the members of the organization consider themselves "hard-boiled eggs" in comparison with the "cake eaters."

The first chapter of Five-Minute Eggs recently was organized at Northwestern University of Chicago.

The movement is spreading throughout the country.

The announced purpose of the Eggs is to do away with sissyism in colleges.

Appearance of half a dozen students on the college campus with bell-bottomed trousers started the "Egg" movement.

Soon the "eggs" outnumbered the "cake eaters."

Victory will be determined, many believe, by the young women of Liberty and their preference for the young men of one of the two types. So the war is on."

November

The summer's gone—
Those smiling days
In which the corn 'neath piercing rays
Brot fort its golden fruit
Have turned more gray.
The stream flows on,
The mill—
Whose grinding work is done lies still.
The squirrels seek for winter holes
In trees, whose shedding leaves,
Rich and filled
With reddened glow,
Precursive warmth before the snow,
Lie there in solemn awe,
A sheet of wondrous carpetry.
The birds have met—
And flown away
To lands where warmth and joy hold sway.
They know not days of cold,
Of bleak and misty air.
The skies in dullness
Seem more vast
And vague; yet t'will not always last.
For cold winter's bitter frost
Will overcome November's chill
And cutting winds
From colder climes
Will harden furrows many times.
Yet it will pass; the gentle soul
Of Spring will blossom into light.

The Jewell Calendar

"Something that happens every day, Told to you in this quaint way."

APRIL

4. Student Volunteer Band meets. Appleby extends a treat to those present by giving his views on Agriculture and Missionary Endeavor. Band also wonders what they will do for drummer, since Captain Kidd resigned.
5. Bill Love entertains those attending the Sophomore-Senior Banquet with some of his "rare ones."
9. Bob Byler hands in yearly report of the Y. M. C. A. along with financial statement. Statement is supposed to have been taken seriously.
10. C. P. Tshia writes that masterpiece about "An Unpleasant Pleasure."
13. Plans are nearing completion for the annual Inter-Class Track Meet.

Takahashi writes the following verse:

"Shining Stars are seven,
Golden beacons nine,
Though numb'less bivalves white
Grow in shades of rocks,
Yet my love is one—is one."

19. Jewell Baseball nine wallops Kirksville to the tune of 7-1.
20. Frank Morris heaves his hands over his head to the tune of "Stick 'em up" when two bold bandits hold him up. Loss 15c.
21. Dr. Lewis starts series of Chapel lectures which have not ended yet.
22. Basket ball letters awarded in Chapel.
23. Students vote to sell Co-op, but things have changed, it seems.
24. Prof. Rider celebrates his eighty-fourth birthday.
25. Five hundred athletes are entertained by Jewell and several State Records are broken. Sophomores also repeat performance of last year and walk away with the Inter-Class trophy.
27. Simon pleads guilty to killing Dr. Coon in Excelsior Hall meeting.
29. Kappa Sigma Alumni entertain with dinner dance.
30. Jewell drops game to Missouri Valley College.

MAY

1. Baker University defeats Jewell in close track meet 59½ to 49½. Russell throws discus 125 feet. Not so bad for the Champion of the World!
4. C. P. Tshia brings out another article entitled "How to Rejoice On Mother's Day."
6. Seniors decide to provide the college with two campus seats of concrete.
8. Prof. Edwards elected President of the Missouri Valley Library Club.
10. Philomathians elect officers for the following year.
11. Jewell nine cleans Olathe.
14. Quo Vadis meets in downpour of rain—somewhere in Missouri.
16. Glee Club elects its officers. Girls' Sextette renders "Lift Thine Eyes" at Christian Church.
18. C. P. Tshia writes third and last article: "A Student's Farewell for the Summer."
19. Baseball and Track Letters awarded.
21. School learns of marriage of Edna Campbell and Louis Davis, which took place July 24, 1920.
27. Tatler appears just in time to distribute among the students before they leave for home. Exams are all over.

SEPTEMBER

2. Fall Term begins with lots of pep. Dad Bowles loses no time in getting recruits out for football. Many old men return.
4. Freshmen and Sophomores stay up all night fighting it out.
5. Freshmen and Sophomores still at it.
6. Freshmen win class scrap.
10. Lots of sore muscles from football.
12. Students begin to realize that Professors want them to show evidence of work. Dr. Parker institutes the "Field Note" system.
15. Football squad thins down.
17. Fisher makes announcement showing his line-up with Alpha Nu. (Great applause).
23. Sigma Nu entertains with a line party at the Orpheum in Kansas City.
25. Keats Club organizes.
29. Baker University and Jewell meet. Baker wins.
30. The Senior Proclamation makes the Freshmen very careful—with the exception of a few.

OCTOBER

2. Nearly $2,000.00 are appropriated for books by the college for use in the various departments.
3. Freshmen and entire college (the other half) almost have a war, which is averted only by the fact that one side was scared and the other glad of it.
6. Alpha Ingle renders piano solo at Philomathian meeting. Meeting was as pleasant as the time Simon murdered Dr. Coons.
8. Big Red Team gets away to a good start by winning first Conference game 19-0 over Warrensburg. Newman pulls spectacular run.
10. Forensic prospects are discussed by the Missouri-Kansas Debating League, of which Jewell is a member.
14. College students put on a shirt-tail parade in which Captain Kidd is compelled to defend himself against the onslaughts of Will Carpenter (not Georges Carpentier).
16. Mary Lamkin reports as having seen the Leopard which escaped from the Horne Zoological Gardens at Independence. Wow!
17. Westminster is defeated for the ninth consecutive time in a close football game at Liberty. C. C. Wood scoops a fumble and runs to a touch-down.
19. Dr. Evans home is almost destroyed by fire. "Pewee" Loggins throws a vase out of the second story window and carries a mattress down the stairs.
21. The debate question is settled. The question, "Resolved that the Federal Government should enact legislation embodying the principles of the Kansas Court of Industrial Relations for the settlement of labor disputes in public utilities," is chosen.
22. Jewell Second Team defeats the Excelsior Athletic Association in football by the score of 21-10. Jewell attempted 34 passes and completed 18 of them. Excelsior attempted 11 and completed 2.
23. Jewell defeats Drury 17-0 in great game.
26. Bob Byler makes talk to the Philomathians on "Why I am a Phil" and "The greatest thing in William Jewell College." The usual violin solo by Raymond Judd and the accompaniment by Alpha Ingle is rendered.
28. Keats Club goes on wiener roast on the rocks at Rush Creek.
28. Iota Pi gives Hallow'een masquerade. Prof. Harvey appears in the costume of a bell hop.

NOVEMBER

2. Ex-Governor Brough of Arkansas speaks in Chapel.
4. Joe P. Jacobs leaves for a three weeks' trip to the East.
6. Jewell eleven trounces Springfield State Normal 10-0.
8. The Tatler Editors begin to think that they are up against some job.

21. Dr. Foster delivers excellent talk in Chapel.
24. Dr. Fruit calls the Crap-shooters Klan together for spring training.

The Walks of the Hill

THE steps of Old Jewell are deserted. No more do idling students congregate before its massive columns to await reluctantly the call to distasteful labor. Cold winter has robbed the Hill of this, its pleasantest scenes, and have driven the students to seek more sheltered haunts. Yet in the mind the picture remains in all the pleasantness of its details.

It is a day in early Autumn. The clock speaks forth the arrival of the hour of one. For some time the crowd had been congregating. Singly, whistling airily, or walking slowly in moody silence or in groups deep in the animated discussion of the fate of the latest inadvertent Freshman who had come to grief, the students from all directions come to their common stamping ground. As the time approaches nearer to the fatal hour when the record of constancy will be inscribed, the steps will become quicker; the strolling gait will change into a stride, for there are few who have not friend to meet, no gossip to purvey or topic of legitimate importance to discuss before the bell rings.

Already the number is large and all the choice seats have been taken. Those remaining are in the sun which at this time of the year is unpleasantly warm and bright. Yonder is a group where great interest is manifested in the conversation. It is led by some vivacious talker who holds the eager attention of those about him by the simple sprightliness of his speech. I observe this, and, contrasting my own dull, unimpressive manner, envy him his power. It is a rare gift, this glibness, which makes him a prince of good fellows, and I am not alone in my jealousy.

Curiosity is exhibited everywhere. Many are newly admitted to the fellowship of the Hill. They are still scrutinizing the buildings, the Professors, the older fellows and each other. Even among the older students this spirit is noticeable. They have made new friends and the months of separation have made old friends new again. The experiences of the summer have not been exhausted or are being retold to a politely bored and tolerant group.

Some general favorite approaches and receives a greeting, almost spontaneous in its enthusiasm, which comes from every side. A Professor runs the gauntlet of greetings from his admiring detestators and passes on, leaving, though perhaps but vaguely, a dread of that which all know must follow. Then comes the wish that the bell may not ring; wishes too that preparation had been a little more thorough. But on the surface there is not the ripple of a change, unless it be that the gayety is a little accentuated by the knowledge that the time of its enjoyment is limited.

All about are the signs of youthful fellowship and pleasure. Yet amid all this jollity and flow of talk, banter and occasional playful encounters, I have the feeling of loneliness, a sort of misfit sensation, and a desire for companionship. Others have their friends and share their pleasures in their company. I only of all am alone. Yet is this true? For there sits down beside me a fellow classman as lonely as myself. We discover each other. Remark upon the weather or some equally trivial or conventional topic, introduce ourselves and become now, for the first time, a properly fitting portion of the crowd. We have the same interests and the same dread of that which must sound their end, the accursed and much objurgated bell.

—William Dorsey Hill.

Announcement Day in Chapel

THE William Jewell spirit is quick to catch hold of any good clean fun. All who were present at Chapel on a certain never-to-be-forgotten day, will recall some of the following announcements. As usual, Dr. Lewis rapped on the desk for order and the announcements started. With the exception of a few minutes, the whole Chapel period was taken.

Bill Morgan: "As usual, there will be no meeting of the Junior Class. All members are, however, requested to pay their dues as soon as possible in order that the class may meet obligations incurred during the past year."

J. Floyd Morris: "The class in Art Impression will meet as soon as possible. Members will kindly see Daddy Fruit."

Stanley Smith: "The Buttinskies wish to extend their thanks to the student body for their kind response to a coin shower given here sometime ago. This was the means of having our picture put in the Tatler this year and is the reason you should all have a Tatler. If you have not purchased one, do so immediately."

Hank Isbell: "The Tatler has a very important announcement to make. All who have not handed in their Literary contributions, please do so at once."

Franklin Love: "Since the Tatler has made an announcement, the Student feels that it should make one too. Only one, and certainly not more than two, contributions outside of the Staff have been handed in to the Staff this year. — (five minutes later). So will you please try and make more and better contributions."

Byler: "Some pernicious per had the audacity to enter my room in New Ely Dormitory the other day and purloin my Police Gazette. If that person will return the same to me, the matter will be dropped."

Prairie Dog Ralston: "It gives me great pleasure (tremendous hand-clapping) to announce that the mystic clan will hold a meeting on the third East, New Ely Dormitory, tonight at 12:00 o'clock. The purpose of the meeting being to make a man out of a boy. All members are asked to be present."

Ross Ferris: "Since the Basket Ball season is now over and there is no need of holding together any longer, the Junior Class wishes to announce the disbandment of its team. Through no fault of its own, and due to the fact that our Secretary did not send a letter in on time, the Junior Class will not be represented at the National Basket Ball Tournament of the American Athletic Union which is being held in Kansas City this week."

A. C. Kruer: "The Young Men's Boarding Club will hold an important meeting in the basement of New Ely Dormitory at 12:00 o'clock today. It is assumed that most members will be present."

Hank Isbell: "Pardon me, but I have an announcement to make. Mr. Gore of Co-op fame has asked me to announce that nearly all books for courses in William Jewell College can be procured at the Co-op at the price marked on the fly-leaf."

Franklin Love (third time): "The Girls' Co-ed Club will not meet today in their rest room. Therefore, it will not be necessary to bring your lunches."

Settle: "The Hard-Boiled Eggs secret has been let out through a slip. (Maybe the egg cracked). Therefore, it is necessary that we hold a meeting immediately after chapel to decide how to treat this affair."

Dr. Fruit: All those who have not signed in my course of Practical Ethics, please do so at once so the roll will be complete. (Another series of solicitations). Also, when I call the roll, I always look to see if the fellow is there. I don't trust this harum-scarum answering all over the room. Why, someone might answer for someone else, you see. Yeah-uh-huh."

Emmons: "I have had the misfortune to find a cameo pin about the size of a dollar. It has a circle of brass around it, and seems to be a very valuable piece of jewelry. Anyone minutely describing it, can have same."

Fisher: "The Alpha Nu Fraternity wishes to announce that as yet there is not sufficient funds in the treasury to erect a building and that it would appreciate a coin shower in chapel to that effect some day." (Great applause and shouting).

Fraternity Life

THE motion picture in depicting fraternity life has led the individual not familiar with such life to form an exaggerated and if not repulsive attitude toward a fraternity. Too often the fraternity man is pictured seated in his room, lounging leisurely in a smoking jacket while puffing on a meerschaum pipe, reading something other than a textbook, and to make the gentleman the more comfortable his feet are pictured reclining gently upon a cushion. On the walls of his room hang the pictures of the popular movie stars, his dresser is bedecked with photographs of beautiful girls and altogether the room is utterly lacking in giving one the impression of a studious atmosphere.

This picture of fraternity life as portrayed by the motion picture does not give one a correct insight into true fraternity life. While it is true that fraternity men are banded together primarily for social purposes, they respect the scholastic standing of their members and take pride in seeing that scholarship is not neglected. They do not, however, believe that a student should go through college known as a "grind" and being graduated with bad eyesight and a poor digestive apparatus. The fraternity strives for an average scholarship so as to permit their members to have time for those things which make college life worth while. The fraternity believes that one should go through college to make friends, true sincere friends, and that the fraternity is the best method to establish such friendship.

The fraternity is of great benefit to the Freshman just starting in college. If it is possible for a Freshman to affiliate with a fraternity, it is to his distinct advantage. The fraternity supplies the paternal influence which the student has severed when he broke away from the home influence. This paternal influence is accomplished not by pampering or mollycoddling its members, but by appealing to the best that is within the members, by placing them upon their honor, and by making them realize their responsibilities, perhaps, even more, than is done in the average home. Fraternities stand for manhood of the highest type. Unfortunately the bad things which a fraternity man does is reported to the public; the good things go unnoticed.

Fraternity life is beneficial to the student in as much as the fraternity is the only student rooming house in which any attempt is made at government. All fraternities are required by national organizations to adopt house rules for the government of its members. The faculty also requires this and also that these rules be submitted to the committee on student interests for their approval.

Ross Ferris: "Since the Basket Ball season is now over and there is no need of holding together any longer, the Junior Class wishes to announce the disbandment of its team. Through no fault of its own, and due to the fact that our Secretary did not send a letter in on time, the Junior Class will not be represented at the National Basket Ball Tournament of the American Athletic Union which is being held in Kansas City this week."

A. C. Kruer: "The Young Men's Boarding Club will hold an important meeting in the basement of New Ely Dormitory at 12:00 o'clock today. It is assumed that most members will be present."

Hank Isbell: "Pardon me, but I have an announcement to make. Mr. Gore of Co-op fame has asked me to announce that nearly all books for courses in William Jewell College can be procured at the Co-op at the price marked on the fly-leaf."

Franklin Love (third time): "The Girls' Co-ed Club will not meet today in their rest room. Therefore, it will not be necessary to bring your lunches."

Settle: "The Hard-Boiled Eggs secret has been let out through a slip. (Maybe the egg cracked). Therefore, it is necessary that we hold a meeting immediately after chapel to decide how to treat this affair."

Dr. Fruit: All those who have not signed in my course of Practical Ethics, please do so at once so the roll will be complete. (Another series of solicitations). Also, when I call the roll, I always look to see if the fellow is there. I don't trust this harum-scarum answering all over the room. Why, someone might answer for someone else, you see. Yeah-uh-huh."

Emmons: "I have had the misfortune to find a cameo pin about the size of a dollar. It has a circle of brass around it, and seems to be a very valuable piece of jewelry. Anyone minutely describing it, can have same."

Fisher: "The Alpha Nu Fraternity wishes to announce that as yet there is not sufficient funds in the treasury to erect a building and that it would appreciate a coin shower in chapel to that effect some day." (Great applause and shouting).

Fraternity Life

THE motion picture in depicting fraternity life has led the individual not familiar with such life to form an exaggerated and if not repulsive attitude toward a fraternity. Too often the fraternity man is pictured seated in his room, lounging leisurely in a smoking jacket while puffing on a meerschaum pipe, reading something other than a textbook, and to make the gentleman the more comfortable his feet are pictured reclining gently upon a cushion. On the walls of his room hang the pictures of the popular movie stars, his dresser is bedecked with photographs of beautiful girls and altogether the room is utterly lacking in giving one the impression of a studious atmosphere.

This picture of fraternity life as portrayed by the motion picture does not give one a correct insight into true fraternity life. While it is true that fraternity men are banded together primarily for social purposes, they respect the scholastic standing of their members and take pride in seeing that scholarship is not neglected. They do not, however, believe that a student should go through college known as a "grind" and being graduated with bad eyesight and a poor digestive apparatus. The fraternity strives for an average scholarship so as to permit their members to have time for those things which make college life worth while. The fraternity believes that one should go through college to make friends, true sincere friends, and that the fraternity is the best method to establish such friendship.

The fraternity is of great benefit to the Freshman just starting in college. If it is possible for a Freshman to affiliate with a fraternity, it is to his distinct advantage. The fraternity supplies the paternal influence which the student has severed when he broke away from the home influence. This paternal influence is accomplished not by pampering or molycoddling its members, but by appealing to the best that is within the members, by placing them upon their honor, and by making them realize their responsibilities, perhaps, even more, than is done in the average home. Fraternities stand for manhood of the highest type. Unfortunately the bad things which a fraternity man does is reported to the public; the good things go unnoticed.

Fraternity life is beneficial to the student in as much as the fraternity is the only student rooming house in which any attempt is made at government. All fraternities are required by national organizations to adopt house rules for the government of its members. The faculty also requires this and also that these rules be submitted to the committee on student interests for their approval.

The fraternity is founded upon the highest ideals of manhood, and consciously aims to promote the best interest, in word or deed, of the institution in which they have chapters. The fraternities urge their members to take part in student activities, and although this may be done primarily for self-aggrandizement, the value of the work done is just as great to the college.

The place occupied in college life by the fraternity is recognized. The watchword of the fraternity is "forward." While it is true that fraternity men often fall short of ideals of his society, nevertheless, the ideals of the fraternity remain unimpaired and unimpeached.

THE UNHAPPY MAN

I revel in my studies
And my books and pen,
I go to all my classes
Every now and then.

I always get my lessons,
I stay up late at night;
I hardly ever go to bed
Before the morning's light.

I've worn out twenty pen points,
And one good fountain pen;
I borrow all my paper
From other Jewell men.

I always pass those hard exams,
My studies never shirk;
I cram the facts deep down my throat,
But oh! the work! the work!

—J. D. Brite, Ex-'19.

Green Caps

AS THE knight of old wore his casque, or the old-fashioned miss her engagement ring, so also does our modern Freshman wear superimposed upon the posterior portion of his cranium, a green cap. The function of said cap is obvious, not only is it an insurance against the savage onslaughts of marauding upper classmen, but also as a protection against the elements—especially water—is it "ne plus ultra?"

A green cap, too, has a certain unique and aesthetic value. For, on a cold, damp, drear day in late fall, when all the trees stand black and barren, shivering in the gloom, when the grass is dried up and Mother Earth herself seems downcast and resigned, when even the buildings seem bleak and foreboding as they stand outlined against a gray, low-hanging sky, what can be more inspiring and warming to a depressed heart than to see, here and there, over the gloomy landscape, bright patches of green from under which two cherry red cars peek bravely forth, signifying that all of the freshness and greenness of a season long passed is not yet dead? These are the fresh green buds from which, after four long years of careful nourishing, will burst into glorious bloom that stiff and haughty monarch of headwear—the Senior derby. So laugh not at them, but rather—stand in awe for "great oaks from little acorns grow."

Now, it is a sad truth that scoffers have likened a green cap to a one-cent stamp—a ridiculous comparison which should not be tolerated, for in the first place a stamp has glue on one side with which to hold it on, while secondly, stamps are never placed on empty packages.

—J. R. Haley.

Forensics in William Jewell

FORENSIC activity on "the old hill" this year has brought increased interest and renewed many of the Jewell traditions in debate. William Jewell had the longest intercollegiate debate schedule in the history of the college. Seven other schools met Jewell in debate contests.

The first debate was between the Freshman class of the University of Missouri and the Freshman class of William Jewell. The Jewell team was composed of F. S. Johnson, leader, U. S. Randall and C. A. Church. The University was represented by Daniel L. Brenner, Gerald Snyder and Miss Jean Ringier. Prof. M. M. Fogg, debate coach at the University of Nebraska, served as the single expert judge. The decision was for William Jewell. Prof. Arnold Perstein, debate coach at M. U., acted as chairman.

The eight men comprising the varsity debate squad elected Raymond W. Settle as captain of the debate squad for 1922. This was his second year as debate captain.

This year marked the establishment of a chapter at Jewell of a national honor forensic fraternity. Jewell now has the Missouri Delta Chapter of Pi Kappa Delta. This organization has chapters from Maine to California.

The first series of debates in the Kansas-Missouri Intercollegiate Debating League took place March 31. Jewell debated Baker University at Baldwin and won a unanimous decision. Jewell had the negative side of the Kansas Industrial Court question. Baker is the Alma Mater of Gov. H. J. Allen and this made the debate doubly interesting. The Jewell team was Joe Bailey Birkhead, Raymond W. Settle, Harry N. Howard. The Baker debaters were Valentine Nickel, Roland Stauffcher, James Chubb. The judges were Cornelius Roach, Shepherd Leffler and A. M. Swanson. This same night the Jewell affirmative team, composed of Earl J. Hamrick, K. C. Simon and F. S. Johnson, defeated the College of Emporia represented by Wilbur Nelson, Phillip Ferguson and Clifford Shankland. The vote was 2 to 1. The judges were H. J. Waters, W. A. Lewis and O. W. Weaver.

The second series took place April 11th. At home, Park College went down in a unanimous defeat before the Jewell negative team with H. A. Bundschu, E. D. Ellison and H. Wilbur Ross as judges. Park was represented by Syndy Porter, Darst Newhouse and Verril Findlay. The Jewell affirmative team lost 2 to 1 at Ottawa. As this is written the exact ranking of the schools in the league has not been determined because of the postponed Park-Baker contest. However, Jewell has won three times and has nine votes out of twelve. If Park's negative team wins one vote from Baker's affirmative team, Jewell will be the 1922 champions. The Jewell affirmative team has the best record of any affirmative team in the league. The Jewell negative team has been compared with the Jewell team that defeated Columbia University in 1916. The contest at Liberty with Park brought out a crowd that packed the chapel. The debate was of a very high order. The Park debaters said afterwards that they thought it an honor to have debated a team of this caliber.

Two more intercollegiate debates are on the schedule as this is written. The Bethany College contest takes place at Liberty May 1st and Jewell will be represented by Earl J. Hamrick, leader, Harry N. Howard and K. C. Simon.

The final debate of the season will take place at Des Moines May 19 with Birkhead, Settle and Howard making the trip. Because of the relation of each college to the Baptist work in Missouri and Iowa this debate will become in fact an interstate contest. In the Bethany and Des Moines University contests the judging will be done by the single expert judge system.

Lunch with the Girls

IF ONE would listen to the chatter of a group of girls upon their leaving Chapel, this question would often be heard: "Did you bring your lunch? O! let's hurry! I'm so hungry."

The girls fairly run from Marston Hall to the girls' rest room. They seem to think they can't wait another half minute for their lunch. Or at least that is the way it would seem to one who did not know.

As soon as a girl gets her bundle of lunch clutched in her hand, that ravenous desire for food speedily passes. Quite leisurely the chairs are placed; comments are made on some student passing on his way to the dormitory. There are dozens of little things to be done. Finally every one gets started on relieving that terrible empty feeling. Never mind about the food. That is usually the same old sandwich and fruit.

But now the thing of great importance is the conversation. There is no connection in topics discussed. Everyone tries to talk above everyone else. Such questions and answers as "What did you have in English this morning? Was it hard? Wonder if he'll give us one?" can be heard. Then "Oh shoot! Missed it!" (Meaning the paper basket). "Did you hear what she did last night?" "Oh she's silly." "No, and he's just as bad. Oh there goes C——. Just look at those crazy whatayucallums—I think they're about as silly as anything could be." (Meaning the new trousers.) "No, I didn't get that one."

Over in the corner on a cot "Say! how much would you folks take to keep still for about half a minute. I want to study." There is a silence for about two breaths—then—"Oh, I've just got to go to the Library." (That's always heard about 12:28.) "What's your hurry?—he has'nt finished lunch yet." "Oh, I'm going to study." "Yes, you are—going to talk to Juddy."

"Here Margaret, you haven't had your daily exercise of sitting in the paper basket."

One by one the girls leave for the Co-op Library, but venturing out each must stop for "Is it on straight? Do I look all right?"

—Martha Reel Barnes.

A Page from a Glee Clubman's Diary

PLEASANT HILL, Jan. 30.—Club puts up at Tucker Inn. Fed at the church by the Ladies' Aid Society. Professor Cooper, with more than normal interest, asks who baked the cake and wonders why the ladies smile. Finds out later that the cake came from Campbell's Baking Company, Kansas City.

Otterville, Jan. 31.—Population: one good-looking girl. Two of the clergymen retire to the wrong bedroom and discover their mistake upon perceiving a pink kimona (?) draped over the back of a chair. Clark elected Club yell leader and introduces new yell with startling results.

Tipton, Feb. 1.—Two members of the club miss the train at Otterville with telling effect—the telling came later in the evening.

En Route to Boonville, Feb. 2.—War between ministry and laymen narrowly averted when the clergy want to sing the "Church In the Wildwood" and are annoyed by the laymen who prefer to chant the praise of "Dan" the janitor.

Boonville.—100% attendance at the Reformatory. The hotel stationery mysteriously disappears with the departure of the Glee Club.

Mt. Leonard.—Population overlooked this town. "Heavy" Canaday falls off the platform and brought down the house—at least he gave it quite a jar. "Heavy," you remember, weighs over 200 pounds.

Marshall, Feb. 3.—Feeble-minded Institute visited. When the keepers start to lock up their charges for the night, a mistake is made and some of the club members narrowly miss solitary confinement. After much efficient maneuvering, everyone is identified in time to prevent any serious disaster.

Atchison, Feb. 10.—We are introduced to the original slow train. When one tires of riding in the coach, wishes a breath of fresh air, or feels the need of companionship, it is no trouble at all to hop off and run along beside the engine, the while chatting with the engineer.

Time: Night, same day.

Scene: Banquet Hall.

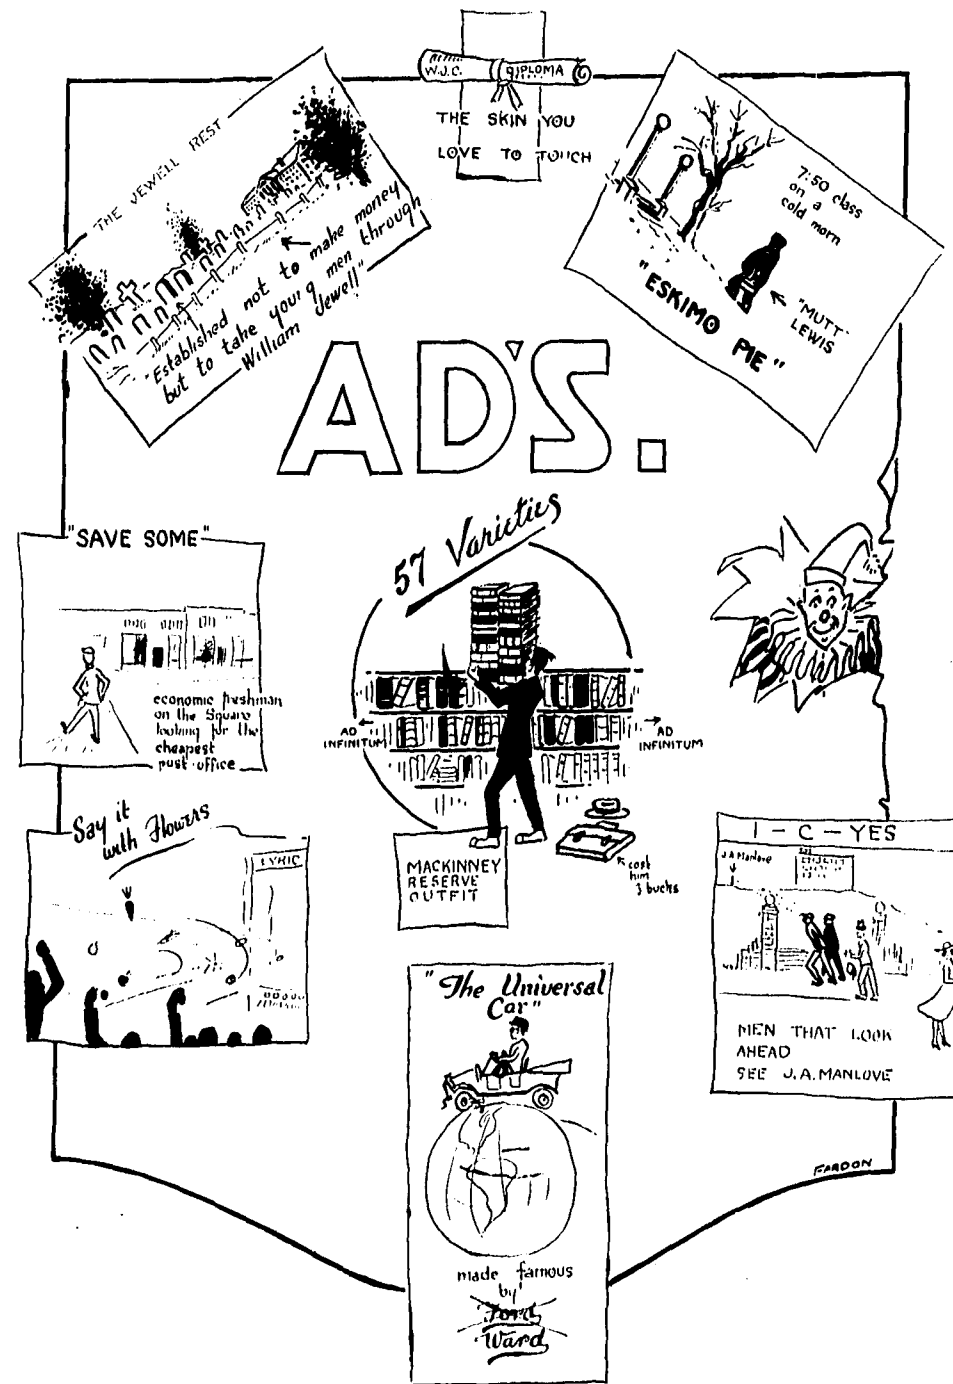

While talking with a prominent citizen of Atchison, Harry "Santa" Clause's shirt stud pops loose and the mishap goes unnoticed (by Clause) for some fifteen minutes, giving everyone present ample opportunity to learn why Clause is called Harry.

Marlborough Church, Kansas City, Feb. 16.—"Buck" Hunt chased across lawn by angry watch dog. Further details of incident censored.

—F. H. Love.

Do You Remember How

1. Hogan used to hold up the entire class by asking some nutty question?
2. You cursed this book when you first got it, and now you wouldn't take a thousand for it?
3. Prof. Ives would answer your questions promptly when you asked them of him?
4. Nice and clean you kept your desk in organic chemistry?
5. Shoemaker and Simon and Barton and Andrews would make the Physics Lab. more interesting by their demonstrations in "the manly art?"
6. They would pull that old gag about "Don't dance boys, you raise the dust" in the dorm?
7. Prof. McKinney would say "Now, Miss Spencer, you tell us about this; you've been in Washington."
8. Somebody set your alarm ahead, and you went down to breakfast at 3 A. M.
9. "Yaller Dawg!!!-*?!@&?!!" use to sound?
10. Dr. Basket could make you feel like you didn't know a thing about languages?
11. Dr. Parker would say "Now, gentlemen" (successive blinking of the eyes at this point), "We'll have an easy question this morning. How do you prepare diaminodihydroxyarsenobenzohydrochloride? We'll take only a minute on this one, because its so easy."
12. Someone put shoe-polish on the door-knob?
13. Dudley King went to the dance as a woman and fooled everybody present?
14. How some fellows were so strong they could lift three men?
15. Dr. Lewis used to pull those bones in Chapel? Also sing solos.
16. Dr. Fleet used to explain "bob-tailed quadratics?"
17. The times were B. V. D. (Before Volstead's Days).
18. Dad Bowles used to act during tense moments of a football game?
19. Your back hurt after clean-up day?
20. The Tatler said no orders would be taken for books after October 17th?
21. Dr. Fleet would listen to your excuse about being absent and write you a slip for it? You knew he didn't believe you and he knew you knew it.
22. The Co-eds came out for track?

WHEN you decide to continue your education, be sure you choose a college which is recognized by the Association of American Universities. All noted European institutions of learning accept this highest authority in America. The Jewell method has withstood all tests.

Out of nearly 500 schools in America which give the bachelor's degree, only 150 are recognized by the Association of American Universities. Of the 14 colleges in Missouri, only two are on this list—one of which is William Jewell. Be sure you investigate before you choose.

For the Work of the Ministry

The demand for pastors who are "thoroughly furnished" for the work of the ministry was never greater than today, the opportunity for service never more inviting.

The Rochester Theological Seminary seeks to prepare men for the practical work of the ministry by a comprehensive training in both scholarship and methods of service.

The Seminary has a faculty of ten members and a library of 50,000 volumes, including the famous Neander Collection. It offers a wide choice of electives and grants the degree of D. D. and M. Th. All courses in the University of Rochester are open to Seminary students.

The City of Rochester furnishes a remarkable laboratory for observation and for participation in church and charitable work.

AN article printed in THE FLORIST'S REVIEW, February 23, 1922, had the following to say in regard to the 1922 catalogue of the Liberty Dahlia Gardens, printed by the William Jewell Press in January of this year:

"A catalogue of the products of the Liberty Dahlia Gardens, including Gladioli and Cannas, illustrated. This book might be called a catalogue de luxe. It is printed with brown ink on cream tinted, artistically bordered paper, and is bound in unusually tasteful tan colored cover, with brown and dark green lettering."

Dormitory Life

IT WAS in bleak December and each dying ember wrought its ghost upon the floor. Suddenly there came a rapping, came a tapping at my chamber door. Two boys said "there will be a Kangaroo Court held on a certain floor"—they said nothing more.

Behold! Upon my arrival, I found the whole dormitory present. (That is, every occupant of the dormitory.) The court was called to session. The keen-eyed prosecuting attorney was in his seat. An exceedingly intelligent jury was reclining upon the bed as in the days of yore. The mouths of the spell-bound audience dropped with awe, wonder, and amazement when the Hon. Judge, who was thrice worthy of his dignified position, stepped to his seat of judgment. As he surveyed the house with an air that can only befall a dignified Junior, the humble prisoner, blindfolded and handcuffed was led to his seat of humility.

The court was called to order. Amid breathless silence, the judge called the first witness to the stand. When the jury rendered its verdict, everyone saw all was lost, for the penalty imposed was exceedingly harsh. Red and black ink, paddles, cold showers, etc.

This is dormitory life, and the fellow who misses it, loses out on some of the best times he would ever have. Here's to the dorm.

Southwestern Baptist Theological Seminary and Missionary Training School

A theological and missionary institution for preachers and women preparing themselves for mission, church, Sunday School, B. Y. P. U., W. M. U., and evangelistic work, in the home and foreign fields.

We have a great faculty of 40 consecrated men and women; a student body in the middle of the term 1921-22 of nearly 700; a great spiritual, evangelistic atmosphere; abundant opportunity in all branches of theological and practical work in the Kingdom of God; departments of religious education, Missions, Gospel Music, Correspondence, Women's Missionary Training, and in all theological studies—strong, virile and far-reaching.

Conversation between a boy and a girl in Chapel:

Boy: "I wish I sat by that door, so I could get out after the roll is taken."

Girl: "You wouldn't sit by me then."

Boy: "That's right and that's all I come to Chapel for anyway. I wonder if I could get a job in Liberty for the summer instead of going home."

Girl: "Sure, it would be easy for you."

Boy: "Do you think I could make enough for two?"

Girl: "Sure, let's try anyway."

She: "Help! Police! Stop him! He tried to flirt with me!"

Cop: "Calm yourself, lady, there's plenty more."—Ex.

Prof.: "Did you enjoy 'The Passing of Arthur?'"

Fresh: "Yes, but I liked his punting much better."—Ex.

Deep gloom and difficulty was spread over the young student's face; the experiment required steel wool. He scratched his head and muttered, "Now, what the h—l is steel wool?"

Then the idea dawned. He set out to shear a hydraulic ram.—Ex.

Prof. (after a long-winded proof). And so we find that x equals O.

Sleepy Student: "Hell, all that work for nothing."—Ex.

Class in Chemistry 6. The more than usual lack of intelligence among the students had got under the professor's skin.

"Class is dismissed," he said. "Please don't flap your ears as you go out."

Minister (to sick student): I take a friendly interest in you, my boy, because I have two sons in college myself; one taking Political Science and the other Chemistry. Is there anything I can do?

Sick Student: You might pray for the one taking Political Science.—Ex.

Professor X: "Who's there?"

Burglar: "Lie still and keep quiet. I'm looking for money."

Professor X: "Wait and I'll get up and look with you."—Ex.

Mother: "I think it's wonderful to have a limousine lighted inside like that one of George's."

Innocent Daughter: "That's funny, I never saw any lights."—Ex.

Father: "How is it sir, that I find you kissing my daughter? How is it, sir?"

Freshie: "Great! Great!"—Ex.

Judge: "So you were formerly a college professor?"

Suspect: "Yes, but for the past five years I have been earning my living."—Ex.

"Hey, get out of bed, you're going to class this morning, aren't you?"

Sleepy Soph: "Not going this morning. Answer for me, will you?"—Ex.

Co-ed watching pole vault: "Just think how much higher he could go if he didn't have to carry that stick."—Ex.

Minister: "So you are coming from Sunday School, my lad. And did you profit by going there?"

Little Willie: "Yes, sir; I won three cents matching pennies."—Ex.

OHM I

Physics Professor's Wife: "Watt's the meter? Wire you insulate?"

Prof: "Sh! Couple'a vamperes, m'dear."—Ex.

"Bill's lost his hat again."

"How do you know?"

"I can't find mine."—Ex.

Steward on Steamship: "Your lunch will soon be up, sir."

Seasick Student: "Yea, and so will my breakfast."—Ex.

"How do you like Cuba?"
"Its a rum country."—Ex.

Mother: "Shame on you, Dorothy! The idea of letting a boy whom you've known only a week, kiss you! Why, when I was your age, a girl was considered vulgar who would let a boy even hold her hand until he'd known her several months."

Daughter (innocently): "And didn't you say once, mother, that it used to take you two weeks to go from New York to Chicago?"—Ex.

Prof. (to student entering ten minutes late): "When were you born?"

Stude: "The second of April, sir."

Prof.: "Late again."—Ex.

The professor was engaged on a knotty problem when his study door was opened by a servant who announced:

"A little stranger has arrived, sir."

"Eh?"

"It's a little boy."

"Little boy? Well ask him what he wants."—Ex.

Robbie ran into the sewing-room and cried: "Oh, mama! There's a man in the nursery kissing the nurse."

Mama dropped her sewing and rushed for the stairway. "April fool!" said Robbie gleefully. "It's only papa."—Ex.
