Because of these...

"This nation, under God, shall have a new birth of freedom"

In this, the star spangled issue of the Tatler, it is fitting that first place should be given to those men who so lately walked this campus . . . who fought so valiantly on their teams. . . those fellows we all knew, who laughed . . . and loved . . . and above all . . . learned. This was — is — their school . . . theirs . . . those men who now are so far from this place . . . over there fighting . . . dying . . . so that we who are still here in the shadow of Jewell's columns may rest secure in the knowledge that this hill and its ideals — the ideals of all America — are forever guaranteed.

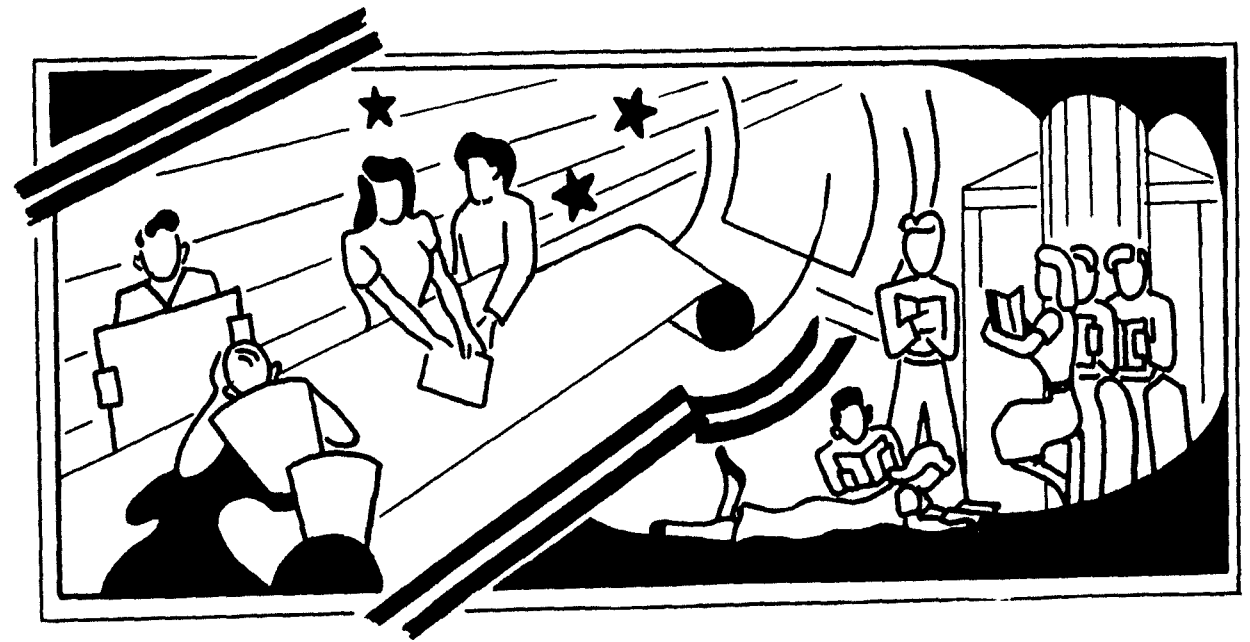

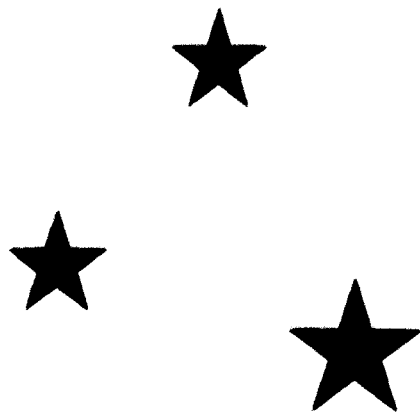

To them . . . to those of Jewell who now serve in the armed forces of the United States of America . . . to those who have died most valiantly in that service . . . the 1943 Tatler is humbly dedicated.

"Long may our land be bright with freedom's holy light"

Salute to the colors!

This is the star spangled issue of the Tatler . . . Within the following pages you'll find a red, white, and blue account of another year at Jewell . . . another year of football games . . . plays . . . long nights of cramming . . . midyear exams . . . bull sessions . . . parties . . . friends . . . cokes in a booth in a drugstore downtown . . . and a little learning here and there, too . . . This was a year filled with the stir of martial music . . . and the thunder of guns just over the horizon . . . and this year brought a greater sense of Americanism to us than ever before . . .

In remembrance of this past year . . . this year when love of country meant so much to all . . . as Jewell means so much to all of us . . . we present the three books of the 1943 Tatler . . . the red, the white, and the blue . . .

America... Star Spangled

Three thousand miles from Maine
Across a continent to Oregon.
Mountains and plains . . . .
Rivers and lakes . . . .
Forty-eight states . . . .
Two thousand miles from the Gulf Coast
Through the heart of America to the Great Lakes.
Desert and orchard . . . .

Sleep in Los Angeles, sleep in Miami.

Four hundred of these came to Jewell
With an ache for learning in their hearts
And a love of America too . . . .
Up from the hills of Missouri,
Down across the prairies from Colorado
Up from sprawling Texas
And down from cosmopolitan New York

DR. HUBERT INMAN HESTER

Dr. Hubert Inman Hester . . . Patriot

This year, the president of William Jewell College has faced a very difficult task. His has been a job of combining the interests of a nation at war and a college of liberal arts into a successful partnership in which the students' interests are foremost. Dr. Hubert Inman Hester, the interim president of William Jewell College, has in this year guided the college in that direction with wisdom and understanding.

Wars are perplexing, troublesome things to young people, demanding that their lives and their dreams be surrendered in order that future generations of young people may enjoy the liberty for which our nation stands. Dr. Hester has devoted his time to helping the students of William Jewell to find their places in the world of war today and in the world of peace which will come tomorrow. In the planning for war with the reserve programs on the campus and the Navy Flight Preparatory School, Dr. Hester has never overlooked the importance of the liberal arts education, traditional at William Jewell, in the long-view planning for tomorrow. In this short year he has encouraged and understandingly advised all students who have brought their problems to him, has maintained the high liberal arts standing of the college, and has identified the school with the war program of the nation.

When Dr. Walter Pope Binns assumes his new duties as president of William Jewell College in July of 1943, Dr. Hester will return to his position as head of the department of Religion and Philosophy which he has held for the past seventeen years.

The President's Message

"This is the fourth war in which William Jewell College has lived. In all of these William Jewell men have played a worthy part. In the present world conflict both men and women who once studied in the historic halls on the "Old Hill" are engaged in many forms of service.

"On the home front in every form of voluntary work they are serving unselfishly. On the campus itself both students and faculty are engaged in study and preparation for actual work. In practically all of the Reserve plans we have a substantial number of men who are actually enlisted but who are continuing their studies, pending their call to special forms of service. Of course, there are many of our former students in actual war service. These are scattered over the whole world. We have a Victory Roll listing the names of those we know to be actually enlisted. Of course, we cannot have a complete list. But the number has now reached nearly 500. It is a remarkable fact that almost exactly half of these are commissioned officers.

"The establishing of the Naval Flight Preparatory School on the campus is a very direct service to the war effort—and one in which the Trustees and Faculty and all those employed by the college have a part. It represents the desire of all of us to do our part for our country in this crisis, since the college was founded for the purpose of perpetuating the ideals for which the Allied Nations are fighting."—Dr. H. I. Hester.

Wings for Victory

To the end, he yearned to give his fledgling thoughts word-wings. He wanted to get well so that he could write something about flying. Perhaps these embryo fliers on our campus had excited his imagination. It may be that the frustrated desire to enjoy his annual airplane flight to Texas sought an explosion. The victory note in this Tatler, then in the making, so exhilarated him that he must needs add his own "whoopie." Certainly the sprouting aspirations of the student mind were always to him a deep concern.

The cud of his contemplation held together in free association these other considerations: eagle trading stamps stimulating dull business; the government's use of wings on its stamps and posters to suggest victory, freedom, and widened horizons; the mother eagle of the Bible pushing the young out of the circumscribed comfort and security of a nest that their wings might be developed.

Now his spirit has outsped his thoughts. While stirring up the nest of his brooding, before thoughts could acquire words, he was borne up as on eagle's wings. That we do not now hear the faintest flutter of his thoughts betokens thought perfected. That he has flown beyond our vision indicates only the imperfection of our earth-encrusted sight.

We do not doubt that if he faltered in this flight toward the great freedom, the eternal wings of Divine concern swooped beneath to catch and uphold him.

Death has again been swallowed up in the everlasting victory of spirit over form.

DR. ALLEN J. MOON . . . Dean of the College

Dean of the college and Head of the Department of Ancient Languages since 1928, Dr. Moon is one of the most beloved professors on the Hill. Tall, dignified Dr. Moon has endeared himself to his students by his quiet manner, his excellent sense of humor, and his philosophical outlook on life. It is Dr. Moon to whom William Jewell students go for advice when planning their college curricula; and it is Dr. Moon to whom each of these will ever be grateful for his guidance to a happy and successful career.

MISS RUTH LINDSEY . . . Dean of Women

Our regret at losing Miss Lindsey was tempered by the thought of what a charming wife she would make. Those qualities of industry, cheerfulness, unselfishness, and good judgment which made her a successful Dean of Women will endear her also to a family circle.

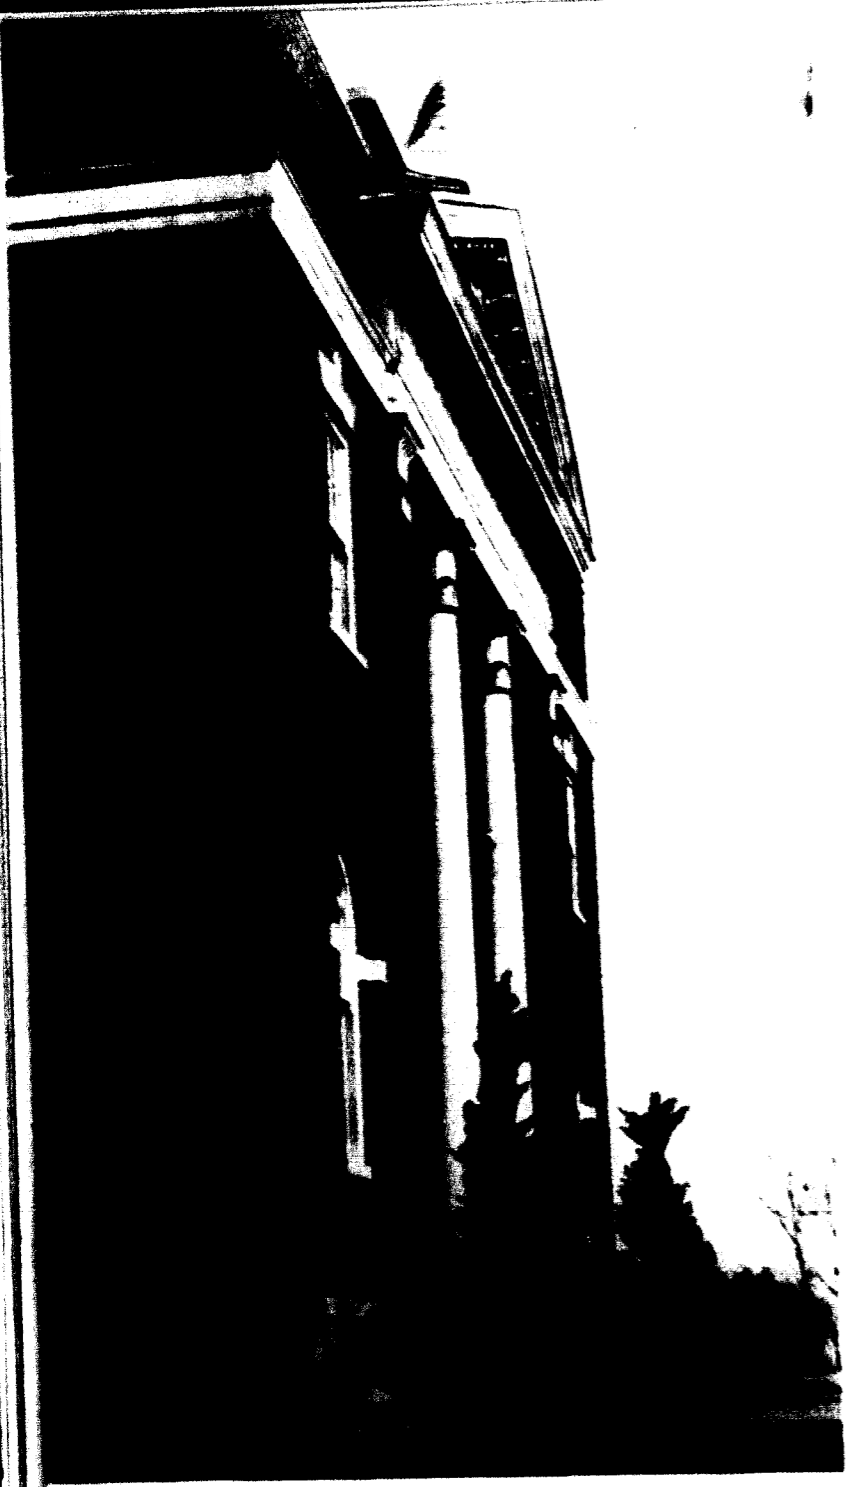

She is missed by her associates and students who were not surprised that she could win other hearts. She was an inspiring and competent teacher and a gentle leader in social and religious affairs. We wish her as much happiness in California in her new role of Mrs. Ralph M. Waltz as she brought to the campus of William Jewell.

MISS RUTH McDANIEL . . . Dean of Women

At a time when the exodus of scores of young men from William Jewell College had given the place of women students more than the usual prominence on the campus, Miss McDaniel came to succeed Miss Lindsey as Dean of Women. Naturally, her work has been attended by more problems than if these were times of peace. Now when women are entering defense industries, business, and military auxiliaries to release men for the armed forces, their education has become more vital to the country than ever before. Already Miss McDaniel has created a place for herself on the Hill as counselor, guide, and friend.

For Study

Freedom of speech and of the press are two of the great heritages of America . . . here in the library these two are combined so that always American students may have the knowledge of the great writings of the world . . . here is a source of freedom . . . and these books shall never be burned.

Because books are hated and feared by the destructive forces in our world today, the privilege belonging to the American student of reading all books and of giving to them his own interpretation is an outstanding freedom not to be lightly surrendered. In the Carnegie Library on the William Jewell campus, the student finds magnificent opportunities for reading and research. Miss Carlin, the librarian, and Miss Reynolds, her assistant, are maintaining on this campus the facilities that will always enable the student to take advantage of this freedom which we are fighting to preserve.

Writers representing both sides of questions help the student to make his own decisions, to find his place in the world, whether at peace or war. With its Spurgeon library, its government deposits, and its other noteworthy collections, the library offers a fund of knowledge by which each student should be challenged and of which Jewell can be justly proud.

Colonial House

Melrose Hall

Officers at Melrose Hall: Margaret Burton, Charlotte Applewhite, Opal Hofer, Betty Brockhouse, Carolyn Bealle.

Officers at Colonial House: Miss Mitchell, supervisor; Mary Jane North, Charlotte Nelson, Jane Humphries, Penny Paynter, Betty Gill Bruggeman; Miss Landsey.

Assistants to Mrs. Keller: Treva Glancy, Wanda Ponder, Marjorie Jones, Dorothy Hunt, Iola McClellan, Mrs. Keller, Lorena Savacool, Irene Payne, Mary Eleanor Botts, Martha McGinty, Margaret Botts.

Melrose Hall and Colonial House

In Melrose Hall, the older dormitory for girls, Charlotte Applewhite ruled as president this year. Her council was made up of Betty Brockhouse, vice president; Carolyn Bealle, secretary; Opal Hofer, study chairman; and Margaret Burton, social chairman. Mrs. H. I. Hester, with the aid of Mrs. Byrns, Mrs. Klepper, and Mrs. Keller, acted in a supervisory capacity. Through almost two terms of this year the girls lived in Melrose as they have since 1926. However, near the end of the second term there occurred the greatest "Exodus" yet seen in Liberty when all the girls moved out of Melrose and into the Phi Gamma Delta, Kappa Alpha, and Sigma Nu fraternity houses after the boys had found homes elsewhere. All room decorations, so cleverly arranged, were transported to the new walls. The same spirit of friendliness and fun has been divided up equally, without being diminished, among the three houses.

Colonial House, a new dormitory for girls, started out this year with Virginia Graves as president; Jane Humphries, secretary; Mary Jane North, study chairman; and Charlotte Nelson, social chairman. Miss Mary Mitchell is the supervisor. At the end of the first term when Virginia Graves left school, Betty Gill Bruggeman was selected to fill the presidency. At first, it seemed strange to see the former president's mansion full of girls but as weeks passed, it ceased to be the president's home but belonged to the girls for sure . . . pervaded with their gay atmosphere of laughter and comradeship.

Women from both dormitories had their meals in the dining hall at Melrose over which Mrs. Keller presided as dietician and supervisor. The kitchen force included Mary Eleanor and Margaret Botts, Treva Glancy, Dorothy Hunt, Marjorie Jones, Martha McGinty, Iola McClellan, Irene Payne, Wanda Ponder, and Lorene Savacool.

Not they . . . these people only seek in the muck . . .

MELROSE HOUSE

ARLINGTON HALL

New Dorms

Feminine voices echo strangely in the rooms of the Kappa Alpha, Sigma Nu, and Phi Gamma Delta fraternity houses where the girls from Melrose Hall have lived since March; and the deep voices of Naval cadets now call down the corridors of the "girls" dormitory . . . their barracks!

The Sigma Nu house has become Hilltop House and the girls there are under supervision of Mrs. Klepper. Their president is Charlotte Applewhite; the study chairman, Opal Hofer; and the social chairman, Penny Paynter. The Phi Gamma Delta house is now Harmony House with Mrs. Fristoe as house mother. The girls there are presided over by Sybil Harris, Dorothy Sill, study chairman, and Elizabeth Moreland, social chairman. The Kappa Alpha house, now Arlington Hall, provides dormitory and study rooms for nineteen girls with Mrs. Davidson acting in a supervisory capacity. The president there is Carolyn Bealle; study chairman, Doris B. Albertson; and social chairman, Vervia Probst.

No matter whether they be occupied by boy or girl, by Greek or Independent, the William Jewell spirit lives in each of those rooms; and all the upsets of war necessitating great exoduses of boys from our campus and girls from their dormitory can never destroy nor even diminish it. The new occupants of Melrose Hall can never make it completely their own, for echoes of the laughter and songs of many girls cannot so easily be removed from a building that has been their college home. Some day Jewell girls will return to Melrose Hall and the boys will be back in their fraternity houses; and few will remember that once . . . for a little while . . . it was not so.

New Ely Dormitory

From Dorm to Barracks . . .

For many years New Ely Hall has been more than just a building on the campus, more than just a place for Jewell men to study, eat, and sleep. Under the able supervision of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Davidson, New Ely Hall, in its own way, has played an important part in the educational program at William Jewell.

At the beginning of the 1942-43 school year, New Ely Hall resumed its place in Jewell life. The arrangement of corridors again made it possible for small congenial groups to be formed; again, for the second year, a football corridor was established; the spacious lobby suggesting hospitality—maybe because of its two large fire-places—again became a popular place for New Ely boys and their friends to congregate. Jim Stertz, Wendell Kirk, and Jim Meade helped maintain telephone and mail service for the other occupants.

Miss Irbie Utz and Mrs. Grace Stanley again, as before, managed and supervised the kitchen and dining hall. The appointing of hosts and assistant hosts at each table added to the efficiency and pleasantness of eating in the dining hall. All college banquets were held here.

At noon, Tuesday, December 8, the boys were notified that they must leave New Ely Hall to make room for Navy cadets; by four o'clock Friday, all were settled in new lodgings in town. The spirit of cooperativeness and cheerfulness shown during this period of moving is to be commended.

An era has just been completed at New Ely. Perhaps a new one is beginning as this building stands ready to be "home" to these cadets in whose hands lies the destiny of our nation.

Student Assistants

Outstanding students of the year are the student assistants. Each working in a department in which lies his greatest interest, perhaps only in college, perhaps for life, is laying a strong foundation for the future. The experience gained here is possibly the most important part of their school year.

Various futures face them; some will be in the armed forces of their country, some have already gone, some will build and manage homes, and others will enter business or professional work. The training they have received in co-operating, in directing, in supervising, in working for established goals, will be an important factor which will enable them to fit themselves more easily into the systems of living of the future.

The William Jewell Press

One of the more important business enterprises of William Jewell is the Press. Mr. George Beamer and Mr. John Nowell with the able assistance of Miss Doris June Lewis as secretary, supply printing facilities for the various college departments. Here the Student and the Tatler are produced, along with other college publications and office supplies. In former years as many as twenty students partially financed their college course by working at diverse jobs. This year the shortage of help forced a heavy responsibility on both the manager and the few student employees but the untiring efforts of Mr. Nowell and Mr. Beamer have reaped and will continue to reap rich rewards.

However, now when freedom of the press is being bought at such a great price on the battlefields of the world, the greatest importance of independent, as well as other, publishers is in their right to set forth for the American people all the views of any question. The publications of the William Jewell Press are a small but very real example of this freedom so precious to the American way of life.

In its contributions to the college, the William Jewell Press is also offering itself to the nation as a definite proof of the will that this priceless freedom be not lost.

. I know . . . . . I'm an American youth,

FRANCES CHURCH, LULA HANNAH, DAVID BEEBE, PENNY PAYNTER, NELSON REAGAN

The Co-Op

To a student body eagerly pursuing knowledge, as well as to a nation's people busily engaged in a war, relaxation is an essential. In the midst of shelves lined with textbooks to purchase for more serious moments, opportunities for such relaxation have always been afforded the students of William Jewell College in the Co-op, "Jool's Own Jelly Joint."

When the Co-op was founded, Mr. Henri Godfriaux operated it as a cooperative. Since that time it has been a student organization, the profits at the end of the fiscal year being used to benefit the students in some way. The white ribbon of concrete paths leading from one campus building to another have been donated for the most part by the Co-op. Using student employees altogether, the Co-op has aided in the financing of many a college career. This year Bud Cantwell, Frances Church, Penny Paynter, Lula Hanna, Nelson Reagan and Russell Newport aided the students in their purchase of books, school supplies, jewelry, cokes, candy, and what-have you.

This year David Beebe as manager has done double duty in supplying the needs of both students and cadets as he operated the "ship's store" "on board" New Ely. This year, of course, only occasionally can cokes or candy be found there but always there are the well-known laughter and music that are of even more value to the students.

Wars disrupt the lives of students drastically, but somehow they never succeed in destroying that priceless gift of laughter and gaiety which rightfully belongs to each American youth. The Library is for study, the classroom for recitation, the chapel for serious meditation and worship, and the Co-op for fun; each important in its own right, none quite complete without the other three, each embodying a freedom for which we are now fighting.

BOTTS

AUDREY ADAMS . . . Warrensburg . . .
Having talent and personality to spare, this Tatler Revue queen of '41 divided her time doing work in the Beta Sigma Omicron Sorority of which she was president, as an English assistant, and as an active member of the Players and Y.W.A. Audrey was active in forensics during her four years at Jewell being a member of Pi Kappa Delta and her writing merited her membership in Sigma Tau Delta. In '39 she was honored by being selected for Who's Who and in '42 she was elected to membership in Panaegis. She served on the Pan-Hellenic Council and was secretary-treasurer of her Junior Class.

BEVERLY AMERY . . . Excelsior Springs . . .
Before Bev became Mrs. "Bud" Anderson at Quantico, Virginia, this winter and went to Washington to be with that handsome Marine officer, she was one of the busiest girls on the campus. Serving as Prof Harvey's efficient secretary for four years, assuming her duties as Vice-President of TNT Sorority and serving on the Pan-Hellenic Council in this capacity, taking active part in Y.W.A. and W.A.A. besides the Players were just a few of her activities. After being elected president of her Freshman class she was elected Homecoming Queen that same year and Football Queen her Junior year.

CHARLOTTE APPLEWHITE . . . Kansas City . . .
Coming to the campus in her Junior year from Baylor U., this lovely southern belle readily found her place in the hearts of her fellow students. She was the Social Science assistant, a member of Panaegis, secretary-treasurer of Zeta Kappa Epsilon, active in Pi Gamma Mu, the International Relations Club and the Southern States Club. Charlotte was active in the religious activities on the Hill being a member of the B.S.U. Council and serving as program chairman of Y.W.A. in '43. Besides being vice-president of the Independent Society, she was a member of the Players, secretary-treasurer of her Senior Class and president of the Melrose Council.

BOB BAKER . . . Denver, Colorado . . .
Big Bob Baker . . . the epitome of "The Fighting Cardinals," an all-round athlete and all-round fellow. Bob lettered in football for three years, in basketball for two years and track for three years. His membership in Lambda Chi Alpha Fraternity, Kappa Asma Sigma and Alpha Zeta Pi, besides being active on the B.S.U. Council and in the Colorado Club indicates that he was a very busy man . . . and besides, he's a very swell person.

CAROLYN BEALLE . . . Russellville, Alabama . . .
Up from the deep south came this southern sweetheart to the campus of Jewell where she kept herself busy doing her part for TNT Sorority, Sigma Tau Delta . . . of which she was secretary . . . Y.W.A., W.A.A., Pep Club, Glee Club, Alpha Psi Omega, the International Relations Club and the William Jewell Players. As a member of the Melrose Council she kept the minutes of those meetings, and as a loyal Alabamian she took part in the activities of the Southern States Club.

CAMILLE BEDARD . . . Liberty . . .
As an outstanding student from the east coast, Camille was French assistant and was an active member of Lambda Chi Alpha fraternity. Besides serving as president of Alpha Psi Omega one year he was active in the Players productions, the Ministerial Association and the Northern and Eastern States Clubs. He was president of Alpha Zeta Pi and vice-president of the William Jewell Christian Association and served on the Tatler staff.

JAUNITA BEDARD . . . Liberty . . .
Not allowing her new husband to take up too much of her time, Juanita, in conjunction with her major in Sociology and History was the Sociology assistant and a member of Gamma Pi Epsilon. She was also a member of the Ministerial Association, Y.W.A., Epsilon Omega Pi, William Jewell Players, the Independent Society, Beta Lambda, and Gamma Beta Nu.

MARY BEEBE . . . Liberty . . .
Quiet and unassuming, Mary's smile and charming manner made her an asset to each organization of which she was a member. Though she spent many hours helping husband Dave in the Co-op, Mary found time for membership in Epsilon Omega Pi, Gamma Beta Nu, the W.J.C.A., Ministerial Association, and Y.W.A.

DAVID BIBENS . . . . . Kansas City . . . . .
Dave is a Kansas City product majoring in English and Latin. "Bib" was a member of Lambda Chi Alpha Fraternity taking active part on the football, basketball, and baseball teams of that organization. He belonged to Sigma Tau Delta having worked on the Student staff as editor in '41 and on the Tatler staff as sports editor. He also belonged to Pi Gamma Mu and the "J" Club.

MARY ELEANOR BOTTS . . . . . Grandview . . . . .
Dependable, capable, and a hard worker . . . . . that's "Botts." She came to Jewell to major in Psychology and Education but she also proved to be a leader in Y.W.A., Epsilon Omega Pi, the Independent Society, and the Players.

BETTY BROCKHOUSE . . . . . Kansas City . . . . .
Good sport, good girl, good athlete . . . . . that's "Brocky." During her stay at Jewell, Betty has made many friends as she took part in Y.W.A., W.A.A. of which she was president, Glee Club, the International Relations Club, and as P.E.P. assistant. A member of Beta Sigma Omicron Sorority, Betty served on the Pan-Hellenic Council.

WILLIAM BURKEY . . . . . Liberty . . . . .
Bill, hailing from Iowa, was a stalwart and staunch member of the Ministerial Alliance, serving as secretary for one term, a member of the Independent Society, the Glee Club, and majored in English and Greek.

WILLELLEN CAPPS . . . . . Liberty . . . . .
"Cappie" returned to the Hill after an absence of a year and resumed her place as a friend to all. Editing the Tatler her Junior year was a big job well done, but "Cappie" found time to participate in Zeta Kappa Epsilon, Pi Gamma Mu, International Relations Club, Y.W.A., W.A.A., and at the end of her third year at Jewell she was honored by membership in Panaegis.

SAM CHAPMAN . . . . . Kearney . . . . .
A loyal Fiji boy, Sam majored in Chemistry and Math at Jewell. He took time out from his studies, however, to be an active member in Alpha Phi Omega and the International Relations Club as well as a leader in Phi Gamma Delta.

FRANCES CHURCH . . . . . Kansas City . . . . .

ica, never tired of singing for us . . . . . nor did we ever tire of asking her. She was soloist for the Glee Club and belonged to the Players, Y.W.A., and the Independent Society. A major in Biology and Chemistry kept her busy.

JOAN CLARK . . . . . Liberty . . . . .
A major in History and Political Science, Joan was Dr. Sullivan's faithful secretary during her four years at Jewell. Her job occupying most of her time, she nevertheless found time to take active part in the Players, International Relations Club, and her sorority, Beta Sigma Omicron.

ALLEN COLFREY . . . . . Kansas City . . . . .
With his bride, the former Ann Perry whom he courted here at Jewell, A. B. moved to Liberty to pursue his studies. Although he left for military service during the winter term, he was an active member of Phi Gamma Delta fraternity.

JEAN CONRAD . . . . . Polo . . . . .

This lovely lady from the great little city of Polo was one of the ablest and most capable leaders on the campus. Besides leading her TNT Sorority as its president, Jean was Psychology assistant, majoring in Education and English. Her activities included the presidency of Pi Gamma Mu, the presidency of Alpha Psi Omega, and vice-presidency of Sigma Tau Delta. She was secretary-treasurer for the International Relations Club, secretary of W.A. A., and belonged to Y.W.A., the Players, Gamma Pi Epsilon, and the Glee Club. Her many activities merited her membership in Panaegis and her writing ability aided in her work on the Tatler Staff. Besides being president of the Pan-Hellenic Council this year she was a member of the Church Relations Committee of the William Jewell Christian Association.

ELEANOR CREASON . . . . . Independence . . . . .
A leader in TNT Sorority, Eleanor majored in Education and Spanish. Quiet and lovable, she served faithfully as corresponding secretary of her sorority, secretary of the Melrose Council in '41 and as an active member in Y.W.A., W.A.A., and the International Relations Club.

LYN CROWLEY . . . . . Excelsior Springs . . . . .

little time for play for Lyn, but he found outlet in membership in Lambda Chi Alpha Fraternity. He was also a member of Sigma Pi Sigma and participated in intramural sports on his frat's teams.

BRUCE CURRIER . . . Molina, Colorado
Our "Colorado Caruso" was a loyal member of the Glee Club and the Band majoring in Bible and Greek. As a member of Lambda Chi Alpha Fraternity, the Ministerial Alliance, and his home-state club, Bruce showed varied interests during his college career.

KERMIT ECKLEBARGER . . . Middleton, Idaho
Hailing from way out west, Kermit pursued his studies for the ministry as a member of the Ministerial Alliance. An active member of the Independent Society, he participated in intramural sports events in both football and baseball.

MATHEW ELICK . . . Northfield, New Jersey
Coming all the way from the east coast because he knew a fine school when he heard of it, this ministerial student took an active part in the Independent Society.

VERNON ELMORE . . . Cabool
Tall, dark, and married, Vernon took his rightful place as a leader by serving his second term as president of the State Baptist Student union. He was also honored by election to Who's Who and to the Acons. He was president of the Ministerial Alliance belonging to the Independent Society and to the Grandsons of Rest. His major was in Greek and Latin.

ROBERT FARRAR . . . Braymer
This is the Braymer brainstorm and president of the Kappa Alpha Fraternity who won many a friend on our campus because of his willingness to work hard and because of his friendly smile. With a major in Economics and Political Science, Bob was the Economics assistant and was selected to Who's Who and to the Acons because of his outstanding work in campus activities. These included his service as president of Zeta Kappa Epsilon, secretary-treasurer of Pi Gamma Mu, president of Alpha Phi Omega, a member of the International Relations Club, the Student Senate and the Interfraternity Council. Although his time was filled during his Junior year with his duties as business manager of the Tatler, he found time to be chairman of the Homecoming Parade in '41 and participated in track one year as well as playing on the K.A. football, basketball, and baseball teams.

E. C. GATES . . . Hopkins
With a major in History and Sociology, this ministerial student was a loyal member of Zeta Kappa Epsilon, the Independent Society and the Ministerial Alliance.

RICHARD GIESSE . . . Cincinnati, Ohio
Here is a fightin' preacher from back east who found a very special place of his own on the campus. A member of the Big Red Team, Dick lettered in both Football and Track for three years. Thus he was qualified to serve as president of the "J"-Club. He was a member of Phi Gamma Delta fraternity, the William Jewell Christian Association, and the Baptist Student Union Council. He was treasurer of Alpha Zeta Pi in '42 and was a member of Kappa Asma Sigma, The Eastern States Club and the Tatler staff serving on the advertising staff for three years. Dick acted as

N.Y.A. Supervisor in '41-'42 and majored in Sociology and Economics.

WILLIAM GOLDSBERRY . . . St. Joseph
The mad scientist of Marston heeded Uncle Sam's call to the Meteorology Corps of the Army Air Corps at Christmas but while he was in school he was a member of the Kappa Alpha Fraternity and Theta Chi Delta. Bill majored in Chemistry and Math and acted as Chemistry assistant in that department.

HARRY GRASSICK . . . Topeka, Kansas
"Handsome Harry" has made the campus a better place on which to work and play by the outstanding work that he did while participating in the activities of the Student Senate as president of the Junior Class, a member of Zeta Kappa Epsilon, Pi Gamma Mu, and the International Relations Club. His outstanding work in forensics qualified him for Debate assistant and merited a place for him in Pi Kappa Delta. He was listed in Who's Who and became an Aeon. In '42 he was assistant editor of the Student and in '40 he was assistant business manager of the Tatler. Harry was commander of Sigma Nu and served on the Interfraternity Council and was Homecoming Chairman in '41. His major was in History and Economics.

BARBARA HAGGARD . . . West Hartford, Connecticut . . . Barbara brought her eastern charm to the campus in the heart of America in her sophomore year. Although she spent a great deal of her time studying toward those A's which seemed to be second nature with her, she found time to be active in TNT Sorority, Pi Gamma Mu, Zeta Kappa Epsilon, the International Relations Club, the Eastern States Club and Y.W.A. Her major was in Sociology and German.

BRYANT HALL . . . Kansas City . . . Not to be outdone by the Baptist preachers, Bryant Hall came to Jewell as a Presbyterian Ministerial student. He is active in the Ministerial Association and in Lambda Chi Alpha fraternity.

SYBIL HARRIS . . . Peru, Indiana . . . One of a family of several who have come to Jewell for their higher learning, Sybil has lived up to the family name taking a leading part in campus life.

She is a member of Beta Sigma Omicron Sorority, the Glee Club, Beta Lambda, Eastern States Club, Melrose Council '41. She has been active in religious organizations during her four years here being a member of the Ministerial Association, Y.W.A., the B.S.U. Council and president of Epsilon Omega Pi in '40-'41.

DAVID HAUSE . . . Independence . . . Independent from Independence, Dave served as vice-president of the Ministerial Association and as an active member of "The only co-educational social organization on the campus."

GEORGE HAYES . . . Kaboka . . . A ministerial student, George was a major in Greek and Latin. His duties as Library assistant still left time to serve faithfully for a term as president of the Ministerial Association, on the B.S.U. Council, and as an active member of the Independent Society.

GEORGE HINK . . . Hamburg, Iowa . . . A member of the Ministerial Association and Independent Society, his grades in history merited him membership in Zeta Kappa Epsilon.

WILBUR HOLMAN . . . Excelsior Springs . . . This ministerial student commuted from his home town to pursue his studies in Bible and Sociology. He was a member of Pi Gamma Mu, the Ministerial Association, and the Independent Society.

LAWRENCE HOLZSCHUH . . . Owensville . . . A ministerial student, he was active in the Independent Society and in the Ministerial Association.

RUTH ELIZABETH HUGHES . . . Amboy, Illinois . . . From way back in Lincoln's home state came "Liz" or "Dibby" to follow in her father's footsteps at Jewell. She was active in Y.W.A., the Players, W.A.A., and served TNT Sorority faithfully as its vice-president. Ruth assured herself of the lady's prerogative for the last word by taking both French and Spanish as her majors.

DOROTHY HUNT . . . Glendale, Arizona . . . Coming all the way from Arizona to pursue her interests in religious education, Dottie quickly became a leader. Because she was a good student, she was elected to membership in Beta Lambda and later became president of Epsilon Omega Pi. She was also a member of the Ministerial Association, Y.W.A., and the B.S.U. Council.

RUTH JAEGER . . . Arvada, Colorado . . . From Arvada comes one of the Colorado Club's leading members. Specializing in Sociology and Biology she was Biology assistant one year and president of the women's biology club, Beta Lambda, this year. She was also secretary of Pi Gamma Mu, a member of Epsilon Omega Pi, the Ministerial Association, Y.W.A., and the Independent Society. Because she is so very capable and such a hard worker, her fellow students saw that she had not a free moment.

BARBARA JONES . . . Macon . . . Although it was said of her that she studied entirely too much for those A's that came rolling in at the end of each term, Bobby was well rewarded by being elected to Pi Gamma Mu, Beta Lambda, Zeta Kappa Epsilon, and Panaegis honor organizations. She also had membership in W.A.A. and Y.W.A., the International Relations Club and the Pan-American Society. She served faithfully and well as an English assistant and as treasurer of TNT Sorority.

CHARLES JONES . . . Kansas City . . . A loyal member of Phi Gamma Delta, Charlie participated in intramural sports for the Fijis. He was a member of the tennis team for two years as well as energy's antithesis . . . the Grandsons of Rest. Charlie was on this year's Tattler staff serving on the advertising staff. One of the many students from Calvary Baptist Church in Kansas City, he was in the Calvary Club, vice-president of the B.S.U. Council, treasurer of Alpha Zeta Pi, the William Jewell Christian Association, and Student Fund secretary.

EARL LORE . . . St. Joseph . . . Studying toward a major in History and Sociology and courtin' that little gal from Texas left little time for play; but Earl was a member of Zeta Kappa Epsilon, sang in the Glee Club and was a member of Lambda Chi Alpha Fraternity.

THOMAS LUGENBYHL . . . Stennet, Texas . . . Another Texan, Tom got that "touch of Texas" walk in his hometown "way down deep in." He was president of his home state club, Physics assistant, secretary of Theta Chi Delta, vice-president of the International Relations Club. Until he was called for military service in the second term of this school year, he was the business manager of the Student. Sigma Nu was his fraternity and for that organization he participated in intra-mural sports.

JEFF LYPE . . . East St. Louis, Illinois . . . We all hated to see Jeff leave for the Army Air Corps before the end of the second term for during his four years at Jewell he found a place of his own on the campus and in our hearts. He had served as president of the International Relations Club was a member of the Student Staff, the B.S.U. Council, an officer in Alpha Zeta Pi, a member of the William Jewell Christian Association and a Sigma Nu. Jeff was out for track for one year and served ably as cheerleader for two years besides taking part in all intramural sports for the boys down at the "Temple of Purity." His major was in Economics and History.

MARTHA MCGINTY . . . Cape Girardeau . . . Her selection to Who's Who this year indicates that Martha was an outstanding leader on the campus. Her interests lying mainly in religious activities, Martha was a member of B.S.U., Epsilon Omega Pi, and was president of Y.W.A.

this year. She was a debater winning election to Pi Kappa Delta and her southern drawl indicates that she is a member of the Southern States Club. Outstanding work in Social Sciences merited her membership in Pi Gamma Mu. Having a major in English and Greek, Martha climaxed her college career by being selected for membership to Panagis. Besides these many activities, she was a leader in the Independent Society.

MARY LOU MANRING . . . McFall . . .
Mary Lou, lovable and fun, majored in History and Psychology. Serving faithfully as secretary of TNT was only one of her many duties. She was a member of the International Relations Club, the Y.W.A., played in intramural sports competitions through the Women's Athletic Association, was a member of the Players and sang in the Glee Club.

MURIEL MAYSE . . . St. Joseph . . .
Corresponding secretary for one year and vice-president for two years of Epsilon Omega Pi was Muriel. She became music chairman for Y.W.A. in '41 and sang in the Glee Club. She worked in the library serving us faithfully in that capacity and was a member of Beta Lambda and the Independent Society.

JEWELL MINOR . . . St. Joseph . . .
Following in her brother's footsteps, Jewell came to Jewell to major in English and Latin and to be an active member in Beta Sigma Omicron Sorority. She was also a member of Y.W.A., the International Relations Club, and the Players.

PAUL MURRELL . . . Henrietta . . .
Paul came here his Junior year from Bolivar as a ministerial student. His major was in History and Political Science and he was a member of the Independent Society and the Ministerial Association.

OMER MUCHMORE . . . Parsons, Kansas . . .
Here is one of the busiest men on the Hill having the job as business manager of the Student as well as associate editor. Before he left for military service during the second term he was Lieutenant-Commander of Sigma Nu. With a major in History and Social Science, Omer found time to be active in work of the William Jewell Christian Association, B.S.U. Council and Alpha Zeta Pi.

RUSSELL NEWPORT . . . Springfield . . .
As Bible assistant for four years, Russell graded all of Dr. Hester's difficult Bible tests. His election to Aeons at the end of his Junior year climaxed one of the most successful college careers on the Hill. With a major in Economics and History he was a member of Zeta Kappa Epsilon, Pi Gamma Mu, and the International Relations Club. He was the winner of the Junior competitive scholarship. A leader in church work, he served as B.S.U. president for two years, state B.S.U. officer in '40, and student editor of the new publication "Church and College." A soloist in the Glee Club, he also played in the band and was Dr. Grosch's assistant in the Music department. He was president of the Senior Class, president of the Board of Control, and a member of the Student Senate. In addition to captaining the Independent basketball winning team of '42, he was a member of the Players, Alpha Psi Omega, Grandsons of Rest and was vice-president of Alpha Zeta Pi, treasurer of Alpha Phi Omega, and president of New Ely Dorm in '41. In recognition of his many achievements, he was listed in Who's Who for two consecutive years.

CLIFFORD NUSS . . . Hastings, Nebraska . . .
A ministerial student, Clifford majored in Sociology and Bible. He was active in the activities of the Northern States Club, the Independent Society, and the Ministerial Association.

LA VONNE NUSS . . . Hastings, Nebraska . . .
Clifford's "better half" belonged to the same organizations as her husband . . . the Northern States Club, the Independent Society, and the Ministerial Association.

HELEN OBERHELMAN . . . Wellington . . .
One of TNT's loveliest, Helen came to Jewell to lead in Y.W.A. work as well as to sing in the Glee Club. As assistant to the treasurer of the college, she made our assessments and accepted our fees. Her majors were Sociology and History. Graduating at the end of the first term, Helen went to Washington, D.C. as the bride of Ensign Jim Hair.

JEAN OSBORNE . . . Pattonburg . . .
After Jean brought his bride, Nellie Mae, back with him, he settled down to win his degree in Sociology and History. He was a member of the Independent Society and the Ministerial Association.

JOHN PAYNE . . . Gilliam . . . Johnny will always be remembered by the boys of New Ely dorm as the "speediest waiter" in the dining room. But the entire student body will remember Johnny as one of a pair of A-1 brothers. During his four years at Jewell, he was a football letterman and a member consequently of the "J"-Club. He participated in Track in '41 and in intramural sports each year. John was a member of Kappa Asma Sigma and the Independent Society and majored in Chemistry and Math.

GORDON PSALMONDS . . . Memphis, Tennessee . . .
Since he majored in Greek and Latin, Gordon apparently came to Jewell to study. In addition to doing fine work in these classes, he found time for active participation in the Ministerial Association, the Independent Society, and the Southern States Club.

MARJORIE PSALMONDS . . . Memphis, Tennessee . . .
Mrs. Gordon Psalmonds followed in her husband's footsteps making Greek her minor and English her major. She was assistant to Dr. Grosch for two years, President of Epsilon Omega Pi, a member of the Ministerial Association, the Southern States Club, and the Independent Society. She was in B.S.U. for two years, Y.W.A., Glee Club, and was captain of the Independent Society's basketball team.

ANTHONY RADYWONUK . . . Liberty . . .
Coming to us from Poland, "Tony," as he was affectionately known by his classmates, majored in History and Political Science. He was a member of the International Relations Club, sang in the Glee Club, and was in the Ministerial Association.

JIM TOM REID . . . Kansas City . . .
The boy with a "touch of Texas" from Kansas City went into his country's service during the second term of his senior year.

HUGH B. ROBINSON . . . Norborne . . .
Although "Matey" left school for the service during the second term, he was a member of Sigma Nu Fraternity and played in the band.

LORENA SAVACOO . . . Gallatin . . .
Coming to us from Bolivar, Lorena took an active part in the leadership in religious activities on the B.S.U. Council and the Independent Society. She also played on the Independent volleyball team.

DICK SCOTT . . . Orrick . . .
The oracle from Orrick was a member of Kappa Alpha Order, as well as Kappa Esma Sigma, Alpha Phi Omega, the International Relations Club, and the Midwest Sociology Society. For good old K.A. Dick played football in intramural competition.

HELEN SHERER . . . Liberty . . .
In addition to taking care of her husband, Helen, a Library assistant, found time to be active in Epsilon Omega Pi, the Ministerial Association, Y.W.A., and the Independent Society. She majored in Sociology and Psychology.

BOB SHORNICK . . . Kansas City . . .
During the spring term last year Bob was unanimously elected president of the Student Body. "Jewell's Favorite Son" served as a member of the Student Senate and Board of Control for three years when he was president of his Sophomore Class, president of his Junior Class and president of the Student Body. As head cheerleader for three years his spirit inspired the entire student body. In recognition of that spirit he was the first student to be given honorary membership in the "J" Club. In Phi Gamma Delta he was president in '42 and '43; corresponding secretary '41-'42; rush chairman and pledge trainer, '40-'41. He represented his frat for three years on the Interfraternity Council and competed in intramural sports. He was "Dad" Bowles' able and busy assistant. In '40-'41 he was Associate Editor of the Tattler and the following year edited one of Jewell's best annuals. He was a member of W.J.C.A., and the Players and in his Sophomore year served on the Religious Assemblies Committee of the former and as vice-president of the latter. For two years he was listed in Who's Who. He was an Aeon, belonged to Kappa Asma Sigma and the Grandsons of Rest. His major was Economics thus giving him membership in Zeta Kappa Epsilon and the Midwest Sociology Society.

CARL SHORT . . . Liberty . . .
In addition to being an enormous advertisement for the clothing store where he worked, Carl was a member of the International Relations Club, Student Staff, and the Pan-American League. He belonged to Phi Gamma Delta and represented his fraternity on the Interfraternity Council and in intramural sports. Track claimed his interest and activity in '39-'40. Also, he is the son of the Fijis' very lovely house mother.

. . . or Benny Goodman . . . or Sammy Kaye . . .

ARMAND SPIZZIRRI . . . . Kansas City . . . .
His home town's leading boy scout, "Spitz" was a member of Phi Gamma Delta fraternity. He was listed in Who's Who, was president of Alpha Phi Omega in '41-'42. His ability to speak gained him a place in Forensics, membership in Pi Kappa Delta, and the Players. His ability to write gained him membership on the Student staff and the Tatler staff. His ability to loaf gained him membership in the Grandsons of Rest. "Spitz" assisted Dr. Gier in the Biology department in his animal experiments and grass campaigns. His major was Biology and his minor History.

HOMER STOCKWELL . . . . Jameson . . . .
This year's president of Jewell's chapter of Lambda Chi Alpha majored in Mathematics and Physics. He was Math assistant under Prof. Stark. In his Senior year he represented his fraternity on the Interfraternity Council and Intramural sports.

MARIE SUMMERS . . . . Texarkana, Texas . . . .
This charming little Beta Sig with the winning smile was a member of Sigma Pi Sigma, the B.S.U. Council, and Y.W.A.

VIRGIL VAUGHN . . . . Hannibal . . . .
Hailing from Mark Twain's home town, Virgil was a member of the Lambda Chi Alpha Fraternity and the Ministerial Association.

WHITE

signifies JUSTICE

White is for justice . . .

Fair-dealing at Jewell . . .

It means giving one the benefit of the doubt when one point in a grade might mean the difference between flunking and passing . . .

It means no pecking on a test . . .

It means giving and receiving, share and share alike . . .

It means the Freshmen going through the same initiation the Seniors went through four years ago . . .

It means the honor of Jewell, and the upholding of that honor always . . .

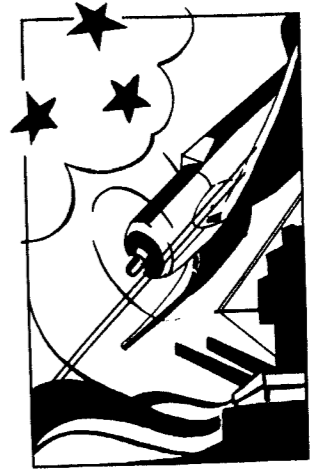

It means keeping the slate clean . . .

So the white of the justice of Jewell shall be stainless.

For Fighters . . .

Fighters for freedom . . .

These are the members of the student body of William Jewell who have joined the reserves of the Armed Forces of the United States so that they might be able to continue the education so necessary to the men of a post-war world, and yet be ready and willing to fight for the doctrines that will make that post-war world a good world in which to live.

Army Air Corps Reserve

Every American youth has one aim in life now that surpasses all previous desires or ambitions; that is to help secure for all time to come the right for free peoples everywhere to live in peace. Of course, every one of these boys has had his own dreams for his future—they have been growing since he was a small boy and they didn't include a war or an army camp. Nevertheless, these same boys gladly lay down their dreams for their love of country, of home, of freedom. Some of them will take up those dreams again and fulfill them; some have laid them aside forever; all have America in their hearts and souls so that they can never be satisfied to do any less.

For those students in William Jewell who have laid down their dreams to fight for their nation in the air, there are two reserves open. To qualify in the Army Air Corps a boy must have a high school education and be physically and mentally fit. His eyesight and hearing especially need to be keen. He must be between the ages of 18 and 26. These boys will be deferred until June, 1943, unless the conditions of war make it advisable to call them into active service prior to that date.

We are fighting a war today in land, sea, and air. Each is equally important, each needs well-trained men, prepared for their duties. Opportunities are presented to young college men to complete or at least continue their education and at the same time prepare themselves to fight for all the freedom and liberty that America stands for. Every student enlisted in a reserve is training to take his part in our war, willing, eager, to put forth his best that the world's best may be preserved.

Juniors and Seniors who want to fight for their country on the sea and who are qualified may enlist in V-7, the midshipmen reserve. The boys in this reserve will continue their school work until they receive their degree and then will be sent into active service. Those boys in the V-1 reserve who qualify may transfer to V-7 at the end of their sophomore year and remain in school until the end of their senior year. The boys in V-7 must be between 19 and 28.

V-5

There has always seemed to be something magic about flying that intrigues youth more than anything else. Maybe it's the freedom it gives one, maybe the sensation of speed, maybe the excitement of doing the impossible; whatever the magic is, youth and flying go together hand in hand. This war will grant the secret wishes of many boys who have dreamed of encompassing the globe in a plane by giving them opportunities to learn to fly and at the same time to fight for all the things they hold dear.

V-5 is the Navy Aviation Corps reserve. Those boys who qualify for it must be high school graduates over 18 years of age and under 27. Rigid physical examinations are given the candidates as well as psychological aptitude tests. In nine months, these boys may expect to be commissioned officers. Boys in the V-1 reserve who meet the required specifications may transfer to V-5 when they finish their sophomore year.

The Enlisted Reserve Corps reserve is an Army reserve in which the enlistees are subject to call to active duty at any time deemed necessary by the Secretary of War, considering the emergency conditions of this war. These boys must be between the ages of 18 and 45 and must be certified by an authority of the school which they attend. They must pass strenuous physical tests and must also rate high scholastically on the records of the institution where they are receiving their schooling. Both positions in the land forces and in the air are offered these reservists when they are called into service. They are considered for their capabilities as officer candidates and are afforded an opportunity to become one. In this reserve, especially, those students with a high scholastic standing are given the chance to use that ability as a weapon to preserve the freedoms of the world.

V-1

For those students interested in and qualified for naval training, the Navy offers three reserves at William Jewell College. The first and elementary one is called V-1. The boys enrolled in this reserve are freshmen and sophomores between the ages of 17 and 20. From V-1 the boys may be transferred at the end of their sophomore year into either V-5, the naval aviation reserve, or V-7, the midshipmen reserve. If the enrollees do not meet the requirements for transfer, they will be subject to call to active duty at the end of their sophomore year. This reserve has offered opportunities to boys half-way through their senior year in high school to enter a reserve and also college in the middle of the year and thereby to continue their education for a slightly longer period than might otherwise be afforded them. The enlistees in the V-1 reserve must pass a rigid physical and mental examination.

J-Club

This year when so many of William Jewell's boys are on greater battlefields fighting for home, for alma mater, and for country, the contests of strength and athletic ability on the campus have taken on a new importance. The members of the J-Club who have won athletic letters for themselves and honor for their college on the football field, or basketball court, symbolize our armed men who are earning personal distinction and national victory on the fields of battle. As the boys in jungle fox-holes fight on with no thought of giving up, so those on the William Jewell playing fields never admit defeat from the beginning to the end, keeping the spirit, which is characteristic of all Jewell students, throughout every contest.

Under Dick Giesse, president, the J-Club presented this year, as they did last, a dramatic production during the winter term. The William Jewell Players joined forces with the J-Club to stage the musical revue, "Curtain at Eight-Fifteen."

The other officers of the club this year were vice-president, Dick Hyder; secretary-treasurer, Bob Baker; and historian, Bill Cunningham. Eleven new men have received letters, have sacrificed their hair to the cause of athletics in the traditional initiation of this organization, and been admitted to the membership since last September.

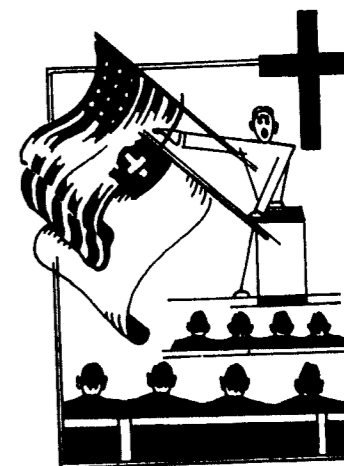

Eleven old names remained on the roll from last year. The members are:

- |                  |                 |
|------------------|-----------------|
| Jim Agee         | Harold Heagerty |
| Bob Baker        | Ray Henry       |
| David Bibens     | Estil Hubbard   |
| Marion Boswell   | Dick Hyder      |
| Joe Brandom      | Jack Newport    |
| Howard Brazelton | John Payne      |
| Carl Burkhardt   | Bob Shornick    |
| Bill Cunningham  | Howard Skeen    |
| Jim Dowd         | Stanley Thomas  |
| Tony Gargotta    | Jim Trachsel    |
| Dick Giesse      | J. W. Yates     |

During the year several of the J-Club boys have transferred from the college team to the team of the United States where the fighting spirit of Jewell will bring a greater triumph than before perhaps in the history of the world. Because of the need for great numbers of trained men, new significance has been attached to the physical preparation of the youth of America this year. The J-Club represents the highest attainment in that field at William Jewell. However, not only have they made excellent preparation physically but also they have gained a mental attitude that will see them triumphantly through greater battles. The spirit of the William Jewell teams will characterize the American team and the glorious victory which is so vitally important to each individual.

For Faith . . .

It is said that college students are irreligious . . . that they never sit in church . . . But the Christian associations of William Jewell are the proof that modern American students have faith . . . faith in their ideals, their nation, and their God.

Gamma Beta Nu

Priorities have been placed on many things but religion is the one essential commodity available to all, without exception. The religious program on our campus this past year was one especially planned to meet the war-time needs of all the students. The morning prayer meetings were moments of jeweled inspiration. The Christmas vesper service by the music department made one aware of the true Christmas spirit that pervaded the campus those days before the holiday. As the religious organizations on the Hill have been challenged to "Go ye therefore into all the world and preach the gospel to every creature," the thoughts of each student on this Christian campus have been turned to the greater task that is set before them.

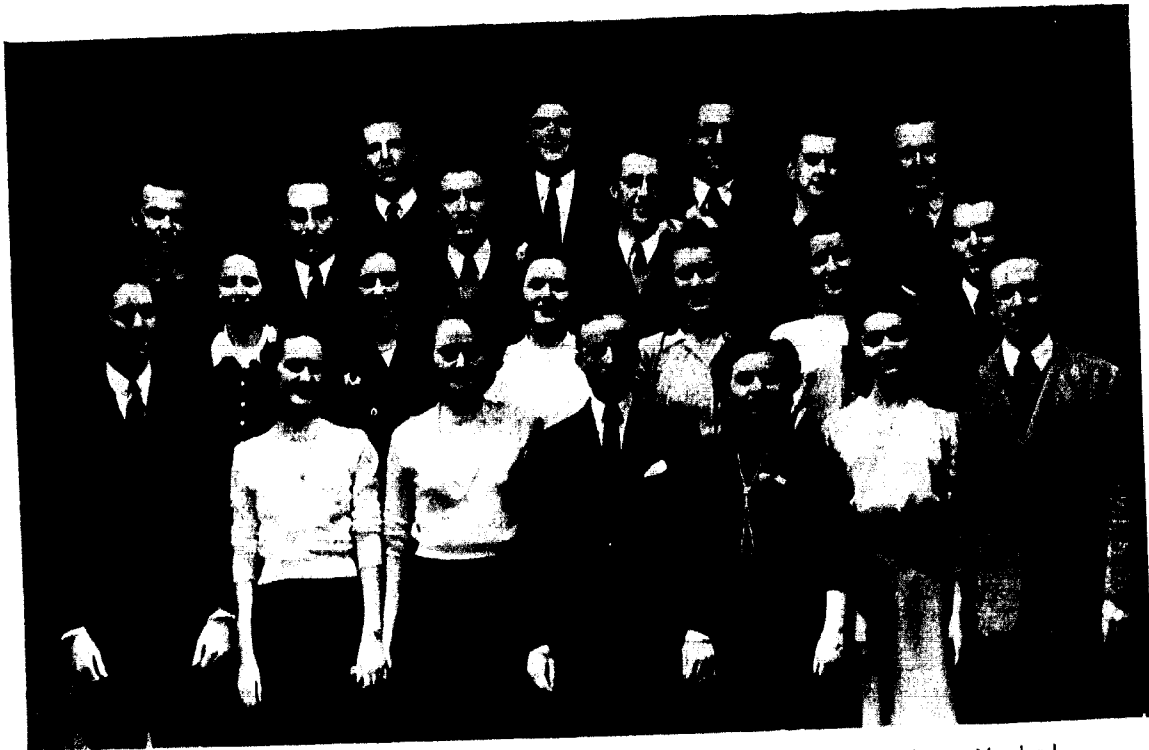

In 1931 there came the realization that the wives of the ministerial students had much in common and that a social organization in which they could develop their friendships and promote their common interests would be valuable. So Elsie Whitwer organized Gamma Beta Nu. Since that time members of Gamma Beta Nu have met regularly to discuss topics of interest to the group. They function first as a religious organization and then as a social group. They are the women behind many of the leaders of our campus, and Jewell is proud of them.

Mrs. F. M. Derwacter is sponsor of the group; Mrs. Allen S. Cutts is an honorary member, and Mrs. Lawrence Cleland is an alumni member. Officers are: President, Mrs. Kermit Ecklebarger, vice-president, Mrs. Clifford Nuss, secretary-treasurer, Mrs. William Burkey, historian, Mrs. Lawrence Holzschuh.

Baptist Student Union

Thousands of college students have left their classrooms, some of them never to return, to form the leadership which is so necessary in the present emergency. America is calling for men who can stand the test when the going is rough. It is the belief of the Baptist Student Union that a most vital step in the development of such a character is the establishment of a firm connecting link between the student and his local church.

America was founded by men who had the ideals which we are fighting to preserve at the present time. The freedom to worship and serve God as we wish is a privilege that we take for granted. We are made to realize just how important this freedom is when we are faced with such a crisis as the present one. We are forced to conclude that spiritual stability in times of conflict is an essential factor in an integrated, controlled personality.

The William Jewell B.S.U. functions through an executive council and has as its aim the fostering of a wholesome and full Christian life. The student is vitally interested in the development of this phase of his life and through B.S.U.'s varied program he can find an opportunity for spiritual growth. A few of the activities promoted by the local B.S.U. are as follows: daily morning prayer meetings; the prayer-mate movement in which over fifty students participate; the state B.S.U. Convention for inspiration and instruction; join-the-church-Sunday; student evangelistic week; co-operative mission week; B.S.U. spring banquet; Ridgecrest assembly in North Carolina at which this campus is always well represented; a program of enlistment for Sunday School, Training Union, and Y.W.A.

B.S.U. Council members are: president, Russell Newport; first vice-president, J. C. Sanders; second vice-president, Charles A. Jones; assistant, Vervia Probst; third vice-president, Betty Joe Horn; secretary, Jack Disharoon; treasurer, Jack W. ### William Jewell Christian Association

One of the oldest organizations on the campus, the William Jewell Christian Association, functioned this year as a Christian militant group on a cadet-studded campus.

William Jewell's Naval cadets were entertained twice under the auspices of the William Jewell Christian Association at a prodigious "Grimmore" Circus during the winter term and at an even more successful Spring party. W.J.C.A. is not just a social organization, however. It also ministers to the I.O.O.F. Home of Missouri, the Clay County Jail in Liberty, and to several missions in Kansas City and Liberty.

The annual World Student Service Fund Drive this year was promoted with unusual vigor and the results were the most gratifying in the history of the organization. Jewell's students responded in a gracious manner, immediately recognizing the importance of educating worthy students in this critical period.

At the outset the William Jewell Christian Association was formed to coordinate the existing religious activities on the campus, to promote co-operation and prevent overlapping, and to foster the religious life of the student body.

The Association has lived up to every expectation this year. It has been an active organization and its many endeavors have made a Christian impression that will never be obliterated from the minds of the entire student body.

Officers for the past year have been: president, Kermit Whiteaker; secretary-treasurer, Jean Conrad; Church Relations chairman, Camille Bedard; Deputations chairman, Clay Landers; Student Assemblies chairman, Richard Giesse; Devotional chairman, Carl Burkhardt; Student Service Fund chairman, Charles A. Jones; News Letter reporter, Charles Smith; reporter, Romalee Hofer; faculty advisors, Dr. H. I. Hester, Dr. M. F. Derwacter, Prof. C. O. Van Dyke, Miss Ruth McDaniels.

Young Women's Auxiliary

One of the largest and most active organizations on the campus in recent years has been the Young Women's Auxiliary, a Christian organization of the highest order.

The aim of Y.W.A. is to instill in every girl compassion for mankind and an active desire to serve the needs of the missionary fields, not only now and here, but throughout her life and wherever her influence may be. With each activity we have attempted stronger realization of conditions as they are and our potential value. Cultivating knowledge and love of Christ as our impetus in accomplishing our part, we are seeking to train for maximum Christianity.

Every girl at William Jewell is a potential member of Y.W.A. and the enrollment this year was one hundred and two. Highlights of the year were the mission study course and various outstanding services with inspiring speakers from this and other cities. Under the able leadership of Martha McGinty as president and Charlotte Applewhite as program chairman, the women of William Jewell were privileged to take part in an inspirational program which led the way toward a fuller Christian spirit on our campus.

Perhaps one of the outstanding social events of the year was the Sweetheart Banquet at the Baptist church where the life of Ann Hasseltine Judson was dramatized. The Valentine theme was attractively carried out in the decorations as well as in the menu and the program.

The Young Women's Auxiliary meets twice a month, once on a Thursday evening, and again on a Sunday afternoon. Throughout the year there has been a warm response to these meetings which encouraged the members to believe that they will have been a Standard Y.W.A. before the year's end.

Officers are: president, Martha McGinty; vice-president, Everly Hayes; secretary, Opal Hofer; treasurer, Sybil Harris; program chairman, Charlotte Applewhite; devotional chairman, Betty Jo Horn; music chairman, Elizabeth Moreland; social chairman, Shirley Rae Myers; personal service chairman, Vervia Probst; mission study chairman, Lenore Waltz; literature chairman, Iola McClellan.

In 1938 sixteen girls, each of whom was doing Christian work, banded together with a fourfold purpose — spiritual, mental, physical, and social development. There are now thirty-four members of this society.

Bi-monthly programs are presented which will inspire the girls and help each in her particular field. Prominent speakers representing the various fields of Christian work are heard during the year, and several meetings are of entirely social nature.

Mrs. George McWilliams is sponsor for the group which has as its colors blue for loyalty and white for purity, and their flower is the white rose. The motto is, "If a man purge himself from these, he shall be a vessel unto honour, sanctified, and meet for the master's use, and prepared unto every good work."

Calvary Club

In January, 1943, a group of students from Calvary Baptist Church, 39th and Baltimore, Kansas City, decided that a chartered organization was necessary to promulgate effectively the aims and desires of those students from Calvary Church. Accordingly a meeting was instigated and a list of aims drawn up, chief of which was to inspire all prospective college students in Calvary Church to matriculate in William Jewell. It was decided that while the Calvary Club was to be a social organization, this phase of its activities was to be secondary, and primary importance was to be given to service for William Jewell . . . exerting all possible influence upon any pre-college age person who is endeavoring to select an adequate college. The motto: Verbum Sapienti Satis Est. (A word to the wise is sufficient.)

The officers are: president, Kenneth Duncan; vice-president, Lorraine Welden; treasurer, Kermit Whiteaker; secretary, Elizabeth Casebolt; historian, Charles Jones.

The Ministerial Association

The Ministerial Association consists of those students who have dedicated their lives to definite Christian service. This organization meets each Tuesday afternoon in the Philomathic Hall where programs of both inspiration and information are presented by the members and by guest speakers.

Approximately thirty-five of the students are pastors of churches. Some travel as many as 400 miles each week-end. Other students serve as Directors of Religious Education, teachers in Mission Sunday Schools, and in various other capacities.

For Fame

Membership to honorary organizations symbolizes that first step up the ladder to fame. Fame is not all in headlines . . . Fame must be found in acts and deeds and sincerity . . . not in mere words . . . In Jewell there are men and women who not only make hilltop headlines but also make real the standards and the beliefs which are the true characteristics of fame . . . at Jewell . . . at home . . . and in the world.

The Chess Club

Perhaps the war drums stirred up this new wide interest in the martial game of chess at William Jewell this year. "Animosity reduced to silence" filled many hours of attack and defense over the chess board. President Jerry Jones and Secretary Nicholas Housley developed a tournament which was climaxed by a replaying on the gym floor of the final game of the tournament on a twenty-four feet by twenty-four feet square board with human chess men. Ruth Sword in black formal and Martha McGinty in white formal were the respective queens. The defeated queen presented a chess book to the winner of the tournament, Mr. Housley, and also to the runner-up, Mr. Dick Heilbron.

The interest in chess has warranted the addition of a monthly chess magazine to the library racks.

Faculty members are Prof. Duce, Prof. Harvey, Miss Hansen, and Mr. Prince. Associate members are the Rev. McGee, Rev. Bemiss and Mr. Robert Turpin.

Upholding one of the highest ideals of our nation, these men and women leave our campus imbued with an appreciation of racial idealism. Pi Gamma Mu strives to introduce to the student a scientific outlook on the problems concerning the social fields. It has seriously promoted a desire to further the cause of sociology through advanced study in that field.

The Missouri Epsilon Chapter of Pi Gamma Mu, a national Social Science Society, was established on our campus in 1939. To meet the requirements for membership, a student must have completed five terms of social science with an average grade of B or better, and must be of good, moral standing. With the motto "Ye shall know the truth and the truth shall make you free" as a guide, Jean Conrad, president, Charlotte Applewhite, vice-president, Bob Farrar, secretary-treasurer, and Prof. C. O. Van Dyke, sponsor, led the group in their studies.

Zeta Kappa Epsilon

Zeta Kappa Epsilon is a honorary history society. It was established on the Jewell campus four years ago, being organized in April, 1939. It has been under the able sponsorship of Dr. U. R. Pugh, history professor.

Membership in this society requires a student to have a particular interest in the field of history. Also he must have twenty term hours of history with an average grade of B or above.

Meetings are held every month in which the students have discussions or enjoy hearing outside speakers. In this way many members have been able to obtain a better insight into and a better understanding of the importance of history in the study of world situations.

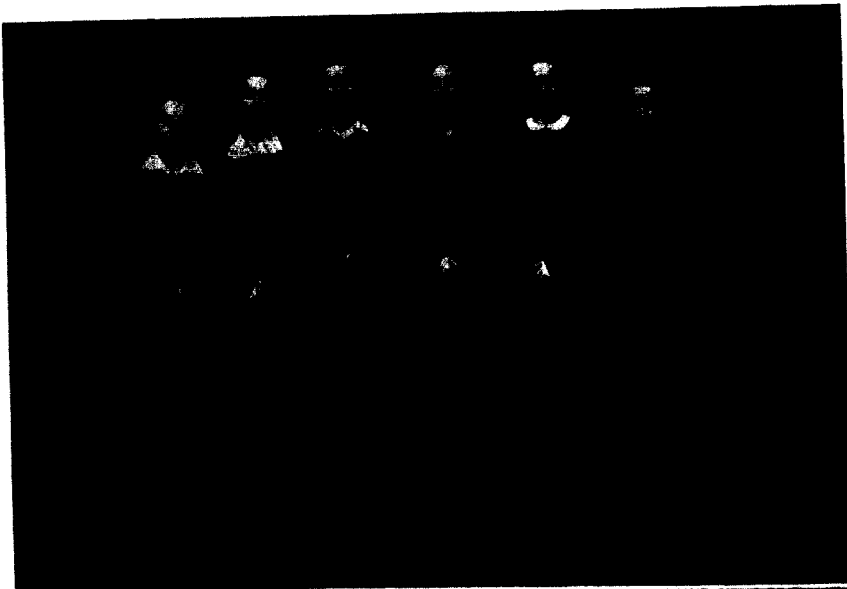

Officers for the year 1942-43 were: president, Robert Farrar; secretary, Charlotte Applewhite.

There are many who aspire to great heights of honor and glory, but few are chosen to wear the gold shield of Panaegis. This shield on which is engraved the image of a Grecian woman and on which is inscribed the word, Panaegis, signifies those qualities belonging to womanhood of the highest type. Audrey Adams, Beverly Amery, Charlotte Applewhite, Jean Conrad, Barbara Jones, and Martha McGinty were named by the faculty as those senior girls who best personify the characteristics of leadership, personality, scholarship, and character. Within the hearts of the members of Panaegis is found the true William Jewell spirit . . . the true American spirit.

Aeons

The gold crossed keys are the emblem of the Aeons, an order for those of the highest purpose, ideals, and aims. It is composed of six senior men who now serve the best interests of William Jewell and who show promises of giving to their country even greater service in the future. The men rewarded with membership in the Aeons are David Bibens, Vernon Elmore, Bob Farrar, Harry Grassick, Russell Newport, and Bob Shornick. These are men who are recognized for their true spirit, high ideals, and excellent scholarship. Individuals are remembered then forgotten, but the qualities of an Aeon remain forever in the eyes of posterity.

In a world at war as well as in a peace-time world, self-expression is fundamental in the building of human character. The members of Sigma Tau Delta, honorary writer's fraternity, find in creative writing an outlet for the thoughts of American youth.

Membership requirements are a year of English and a definite interest shown in writing. Each prospective member is asked to submit a manuscript of original prose or poetry. From these, selections are made on a basis of originality, sincerity, design, and truth.

Sigma Tau Delta has as its purpose, excellence in the art of using exclusive terms, and the promotion of the reading of the classics, both old and new. Besides the active members, Miss Hansen, Prof. and Mrs. Harvey, Miss Rice, and Prof. and Mrs. Walker are active.

The officers are: president, David Bibens; vice-president, Jean Conrad; secretary-treasurer, Carolyn Bealle.

Alpha Psi Omega

Just as self-expression through creative writing is fundamental, so also is self-expression through dramatic art, both in the portrayal and the building of character.

Because the student must have a B average in his studies as well as two hundred hours to his credit in the production of a play, Alpha Psi Omega is both a scholastic and a dramatic fraternity.

Beta Pi cast of this national organization has done much to train students in the art of acting and in stage technique. In keeping with the theatre, Alpha Psi has as its colors moonlight blue and amber.

. . . . . and in glass-brick mansions . . . . .

Sigma Pi Sigma is a national honorary physics fraternity. Its purpose is to further interest in the field of physics and to combine the talents of those who are particularly adept in this line of study.

Sigma Pi Sigma was founded at Davidson College, Davidson, North Carolina, in 1921. Many chapters have been rapidly promoted since that time. This chapter was chartered at William Jewell on May 20th, 1930. Students must have completed four terms of college physics with an average grade of B or better to be eligible. He must also have proved his desire for furthering the progress of physics through continued study. This organization has proved valuable in contributing to various science fairs during the past few years.

Officers for this year have been: president, Marie Summers; secretary-treasurer, Lyn Crowley.

Theta Chi Delta

Theta Chi Delta is a national honorary chemistry fraternity. To be admitted into this society, a student must have completed five terms of chemistry with an average of B or better. This organization was formerly known as the "Khem Club" and was only a local group. It affiliated with this national fraternity in the year 1931.

The main purpose of the society is to arouse interest in the study of chemistry and to stimulate enough interest in it to encourage graduate work in this field. Enthusiasm is aroused at meetings wherein students actively participate. Occasionally the members are privileged with outside speakers.

Jewell is proud that Coach Godfriaux has been elected the Grand Sec.-Treas. of Theta Chi Delta.

Officers for the year 1942-43 were: president, James Duncan; vice-president, Paul Curau; secretary, Carrie Sprague; treasurer, Donald Charles; reporter, Don Benjamin.

Pi Kappa Delta

Excellence in self-expression through debate, oratory, extemporaneous and after-dinner speaking is the basis for membership in Pi Kappa Delta.

All the forensic activities of William Jewell College since 1921 have emanated from the Delta Chapter of Pi Kappa Delta. Before that time forensic activities had centered around the two historic literary societies, the Senior Philomathic Literary Society founded in 1853 and the Senior Excelsior Literary Society founded in 1857.

Pi Kappa Delta is the largest forensic organization in America. It holds national tournaments biennially and nine provincial tournaments between each national tournament. It will be recalled that at the last national tournament held at Minneapolis in the spring of 1942 Charles J. Smith and James J. Jenkins together with men of debate teams from three other schools received the highest rating at the national tournaments. This year the provincial tournament for Iowa and Missouri which was to have been held at the Elms Hotel in Excelsior Springs was canceled by P. Caspar Harvey, provincial governor, after he had taken a vote from the colleges involved. Travel conditions precluded the tournament. Pi Kappa Delta has four degrees, each of which represents certain forensic attainments, the highest being the degree of special distinction entitling the member to wear the key of Pi Kappa Delta jeweled with a diamond. Three students in this year's student body have obtained this highest distinction, Charles J. Smith, James J. Jenkins, and Audrey Adams.

Forensics

The way of life for which the united nations are fighting is personified in no small way by the freedom of speech and thought which is cultivated in college forensic programs. For that reason it had been hoped by the forensic students at William Jewell and by the coach, Mr. Joe S. Amery, Jr., and director of forensics, Prof. P. Caspar Harvey, that at least a modified program could be carried on this year. The college was fortunate in that not only the national co-champion debate team of 1942 returned but also a most promising group of other former college debaters and high school forensic students. However, the rationing of travel and the loss of participating students at other institutions greatly curbed all forensic activities not only in this area but over all the country.

In November the William Jewell Forensic Group did hold their annual invitational pre-season tournament. Fifteen colleges and universities from Kansas, Nebraska, and Missouri participated. The tournament was non-elimination in character and each team participated in four debates. Of the more than thirty-five teams present only three were undefeated. Miss Pauline Ehlers and Miss Barbara Fry of William Jewell composed one of these.

Most of the annual tournaments which William Jewell has attended in the past were canceled this year. However, the speech department of Baylor University, Waco, Texas, did hold their annual tournament. It was attended by schools from seven states. Jim Jenkins, Charles Smith, and Richard Heilbron participated in both the debate division and the extemporaneous speaking and after-dinner speaking divisions. The three men composed a three-man-team and were not eliminated until the semi-finals. Charles Smith placed second in after-dinner speaking.

Participating on the debate squad this year were several new debaters who have had outstanding records in high school competition. Among these students were Fred Zeni of Du Quoin, Illinois, who has consistently placed at the top in Illinois forensics, and Miss Barbara Fry of Plattsburg, Missouri, and Miss Pauline Ehlers of Concordia, Missouri, both of whom have done outstanding work in high school competition. It is hoped that it will be possible next year for these and other forensic students who will be back in school to continue in the forensic field.

Alpha Phi Omega

Having as its aim the fulfillment of the highest ideals for which our nation stands, Alpha Phi Omega, the only national service fraternity in existence, has because of its many services to the college become a very vital organization on the campus. It was first organized in 1925 at Lafayette College for young men who have been affiliated with Boy Scouts of America. It was organized at William Jewell in 1934 and, because of its wide appeal to the youth of America, it has grown more swiftly than any other organization bearing a Greek letter name.

Alpha Phi Omega has for its purpose the assembling of college men in the fellowship of the scout oath and laws, to develop friendship, and to promote service to humanity. The fields of service include the student body and faculty, youth and the community, members of the fraternity, and the nation.

One of the active and more spirited organizations on the campus, one cannot claim Alpha Phi Omega to be a service fraternity in name only. It has rendered to the student body some of the most valuable services of the year. Early in the year A.P.O. provided an information desk to aid Jewell's new students in becoming orientated to their new surroundings. All buildings on the campus were inspected for fire hazards. On Homecoming Day, A.P.O. sponsored the election of the Homecoming Queen by the sale of war stamps. Then, taking an active part in the national campaign for the sale of war bonds and stamps, this fraternity organized stamp peddlers to aid in the furthering of this cause. When Jewell's first son was killed in action, a memorial service was conducted and a case built beneath the flagpole to contain a written memorial. Until the advent of the Naval Preflight Schools, members of A.P.O. raised and lowered the flag each day. A blood-typing campaign brought each member of the student body to the laboratory to be typed so that his blood type might be kept in permanent college records. During the last term A.P.O. provided the means whereby each student could be fingerprinted both for his own personal information and for the Federal Bureau of Investigation files. In connection with these various campaigns chapel programs were conducted to introduce the plans.

Armand Spizzirri served as president for the year 1942-43. J. C. Sanders and Jim Broadus were vice-presidents; Bob Farrar and Jack Newport were secretaries; and Russell Newport and Bob Rusk were treasurers.

William Jewell Players

One of the greatest demands of a people under stress, working harder, fighting more wholeheartedly, living more economically than this generation has ever done before, is the demand for entertainment. After long hours at strenuous tasks great crowds fill the movies and theaters of our country every evening seeking entertainment and relaxation.

On college campuses during war years special emphasis is placed on studying, on hurrying through school, on finishing as much work as possible in as little time. The provision of entertainment for the student body as well as for the community is a responsibility that rests with considerable force here on the William Jewell Players because other than it, there are few opportunities for relaxation except the movies. It is of great importance that the entertainment be of a morale building and trouble relieving nature when the minds and hearts of the audience are so heavily burdened.

This year the William Jewell Players began the season with a comedy with no other purpose than the complete relaxation of the spectators which purpose it accomplished splendidly. It was called "Dulcy" and written by Kaufman and Connelly. The cast included:

Audrey Adams	Dulcinea
Jim Meade	Tom Sterrett
Jack Barsness	Gordon Smith
Eleanore Sloan	Angela Forbes
Phil Jankus	Vincent Leach
Nelson Reagan	Schuyler Van Dyke
Charlotte Nelson	Mrs. Forbes
John Truex	C. Roger Forbes
Stanley Dinkins	Blair Patterson
Bert Connerly	Henry
Jim Stertz	William Parker

The technical staff: business manager, J. C. Sanders; ticket sales, Don Rusk; publicity, Vervia Probst; stage manager, Jim Miles; property manager, B. Jane Yancey; lighting, Everett Glenn; art, Jim Meade; programs, Jean Conrad; reader, Jane Boydston; make-up, Charlotte Applewhite, Mary E. Botts, Helen Prince; stage crew, Meredith Lainhart, Nona Tremain, Doris B. Albertson, Margaret Botts, Joyce Hughes, Opal Hofer, Barton Jewell.

In the winter term, the Players and the J-Club collaborated to present "Curtain at Eight-Fifteen," a hilarious musical with a large cast. The entire production was accompanied by Nelson Reagan on the piano and was a complete success as light, mind-relieving entertainment. Ray Barr and Miss Virginia D. Rice directed the performances; he the music and she the drama. It was the first presentation by this collaboration of J-Club and dramatic group.

The last play of the year put on by the Players themselves struck a different note. It was "Servant in the House" by Charles Rand Kennedy and was presented in April. The same purpose was achieved as in the first two productions but by a very different means. It is neither deep nor cynical, but a sincere, living story of something more real than anything else in the world. It is a lifting force and lends its audience much of the wonder and joy of Christianity from its stage until both spectators and cast feel bound together by something much higher and much better than they themselves.

The cast for this spring presentation was:

Nelson Reagan	Manson
Meridith Lainhart	Mary
Eleanore Sloan	Vicar's Wife
Jack Barsness	Rogers
Jim Stertz	Vicar
Willard Middleton	Robert
Fred Zeni	Bishop

The most unusual dramatic production this year was the one-act play given by the dramatics class late in April. It was named "John Doe" and was an expressionistic production with a musical background. The timeliness of the thought made it very impressive with John Humanity Doe representing all the indifferent people in the world who cause the wars and destroy the good things; the people with no spirit nor mind of their own who stood by and let Christ be crucified although they "found no fault in Him," that watched without feeling, without protest, the death of martyrs, that stand aside now as passive spectators viewing the ruin, the death, the hate, in the present theater of war.

The Players lost this year their founder in the death of Dr. J. P. Fruit, but his memory will always be cherished not only by the school, but especially in the hearts of the William Jewell Players who shared his intense interest in the theater and good drama.

When the Players were first organized they were called the "J. P. Fruit Dramatic Club" because it was through Dr. Fruit's efforts that the club was brought into being. The first productions were directed, staged, and performed by his students. At this time there was no dramatics course at William Jewell; but when Miss Ethel Marie Henderson came to start such a course, Dr. Fruit relinquished the club to her. Miss Virginia D. Rice succeeded Miss Henderson and a few years later the group became the William Jewell Players so as to become more representative of the school. Dr. Fruit continued to attend several rehearsals of each play as Miss Henderson or Miss Rice directed it until 1941. His encouragement and active interest were incentives to both director and actors to do their best, and the memory of them will always spur the future Players to even greater successes.

Honors are due Miss Virginia D. Rice in the superior work she has done this year and in the past years with the William Jewell Players. Hers is the difficult task of planning the year's productions to fit the needs of the community and college together, within the capabilities of the students. She must know what effect each play will produce on the audience; she must see the possibilities in the characters and in the abilities of the actors to play those parts truthfully and with conviction so that the actor becomes the character for a night, living his life, speaking his words, convincing the people that he is some other person. Difficulties beset the path of any dramatic director and this year with the war limiting her resources, Miss Rice has found it necessary to make selections in keeping with the times and the feeling of the people and at the same time select actors who would not find it necessary to leave the play in the midst of the rehearsals to play a bigger part in a much larger production that is being presented on thousands of miles of stage in every part of the globe. Nevertheless, with the problems that have faced her doubled this year, Miss Rice has succeeded superbly in bringing cheer and laughter as well as serious meditation to the William Jewell stage, and has lifted the morale of her audiences a remarkable degree.

The Kappa Asma Sigma is a fraternity whose membership is made up of the kitchen boys and waiters of New Ely. This society was formed in the year 1931. It seems that it was founded as the result of a disagreement between the head waiter and two of the dormitory boys over which one would be served first. The society has greatly prospered and grown during the past few years and has taken its place alongside of the other Greek letter organizations.

A spirit of friendliness and good will is promoted by the intermittent use of paddles and an occasional bread-and-gravy fight.

New waiters who work in the dining room automatically become members. Though students at New Ely were disbanded this year, the kitchen boys and waiters stayed on; and now they serve hungry cadets. Head-waiter, John Payne.

Ye Grandsons of Rest

This is perhaps one of the most unique and interesting organizations on the campus of William Jewell College. Originally, it was known as The Sons of Rest. For several years, the club was not heard from much to the regret of its chief backer, "Daddy" Fruit. Now it is restored with the name, "Grandsons of Rest," to fit the times.

Its motto is "Malum labor est." The members annually get up a stunt wherein they look and act as much like shiftless bums as they can. The purpose of this organization is to do nothing whatever. Membership requirements are high. It is very select. A worker simply cannot qualify.

Mr. Prince was one of the original "Sons of Rest." "Daddy" Fruit manifested interest in this, his favorite organization, till the very last.

The Pan-American Club was organized this year to further the Good Neighbor policy which is being so strongly supported throughout the states. Under the able and understanding direction of President Phyllis Lewars who has lived in Central America, the club has seen much progress. Much interest and enthusiasm are evidenced by its members. A number of prominent speakers who were well acquainted with the subject of Pan-Americanism have been guests of the club at its meetings.

Hoping to have a part in the furtherance of a worthy cause, this club has made definite plans for future progress.

Officers for this year have been: president, Phyllis Lewars; vice-president, Jerry Jones; secretary-treasurer, Elizabeth Casebolt.

Alpha Zeta Pi

Alpha Zeta Pi is an honorary fraternity for men who have excelled in campus activities and shown themselves outstanding in Christian character and scholarship. Membership includes men who can live up to these requirements. This fraternity was founded at William Jewell College in 1921 and has consistently lived up to its high ideals ever since that time.

The fraternity makes a practice of annually conferring an honorary membership upon a man of either the faculty or the administration.

Officers for this year have been: president, Camille Bedard; vice-president, Russell Newport; secretary, J. C. Sanders; treasurer-secretary, Charles Jones.

The International Relations Club

The International Relations Club on our campus is one of hundreds of such clubs located in all parts of the world. It seeks to impart to the student a better understanding of world conditions, to create an interest in international politics, and to stimulate a modern outlook toward world-wide peace.

This club is popular with students because of its appeal to youth's desire for self-expression as well as to youth's interest in current problems.

The club carries on a program of discussion throughout the year on such topics as the Far East, Hemispheric Solidarity, International Economics, World War II, Peace and Post-War Reconstruction.

Jeff Lype, president, and Tom Luginbyhl, vice-president, on entering the armed forces of our country were replaced by Barbara Jones and Betty Brockhouse. The secretary-treasurer of the organization is Jean Conrad.

The Importance of International Relations Clubs throughout the world is especially significant today for their members form the nucleus of a mighty movement toward the planning of a post-war world. Intelligent and practical application of the knowledge gathered during their years on a democratic college campus is the basis on which these potential leaders of our nation formulate a plan for the future.

Beta Lambda, an honorary biology club for women, was organized at William Jewell in 1927 for the purpose of stimulating interest in Biological research. Since that time, it has been the purpose of the organization to promote on the campus an appreciation of nature through scientific knowledge.

Under the leadership of Ruth Jaeger, president, meetings are held twice monthly at which time a program of interest to these biologically minded women is presented either by Miss Thomas, the sponsor, or by the members themselves. Not being a purely scholastic group, several field trips and picnics have added to the fun. Membership requirements state that one must have completed four terms of Biology with an average grade of B during that time.

The colors are chlorophyll green and coral pink and the officers are Ruth Jaeger, president, and Sybil Harris, secretary-treasurer.

W. A. A.

This has been the third progressive year for the Women's Athletic Association on the William Jewell campus. Besides planning many interesting vocational programs, this organization has conducted women's intramural sports, and has succeeded in developing an attitude of good sportsmanship among its members. Meetings have been held twice monthly when such programs as wartime allowances will permit have been enjoyed. The W.A.A. has developed favorably under the leadership of Betty Brockhouse, this year's president. Miss Wisler, popular and helpful, has kept the "ball rolling" and assisted in making this association prominent among the activities of the campus.

Officers for this year have been: president, Betty Brockhouse; vice-president, Mary Lou Manring; secretary, Lucy Herget; treasurer, Hope Scott; faculty sponsor, Miss Wisler.

Home States

Representatives from many states make up William Jewell's student body. Each student is on the hill for one purpose . . . to learn . . . and the purpose of the Home State Clubs is to bring together students from the same state . . . based on the principle that one from one's home is one's friend.

Texas Club

Just such a club is the Texas Club. Composed of five students with that "touch of Texas in their walk," it is the purpose of the organization to spread the fame of William Jewell throughout Texas. At the same time it is a social organization, meeting at various times during the year to reminisce of home.

One of the most faithful members and last year's faculty sponsor was "Daddy" Fruit. He was a helpful friend and loyal "Texan" though he was born in the "Pennyrile" regions of Kentucky. (He "went fishing" in Texas!)

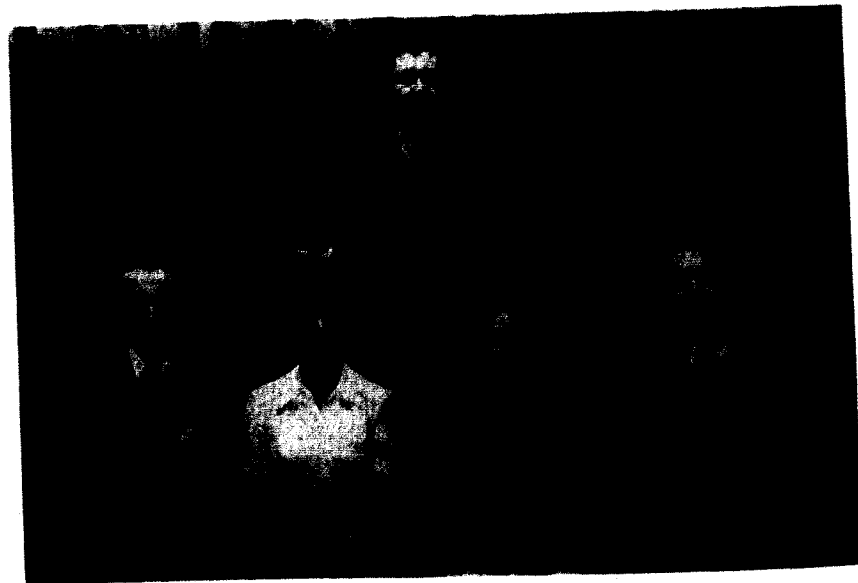

Membership requires only that a person has, at some time or other, lived within the borderline of Texas. The honorary sponsor of this club is Mr. Walter David, a graduate of William Jewell, a lawyer of Borger, Texas, and a trustee of the college. Mr. David has been influential in sending many Texas students to our campus.

Although Marie Summers is not a native, she has become a loyal Texan since her family moved to Texarkana a year ago. Bill Riggs of Webster Groves, Missouri, claims membership because he spent the very first year of his senatorial life there. Staunch and loyal natives of that great state are Marion Herbst, David Eddings, and Tom Luginbyhl.

Tom is president of the Texas Club and Marion is secretary-treasurer.

Eddings, Herbst, Luginbyhl, Summers, Riggs

The Colorado Club is a social organization which fosters friendships and acquaintances among the students from Colorado. Alumni members of this organization have been influential in bringing others of this group to Jewell.

The only membership requirement is that the student come from Colorado. Prof. and Mrs. John E. Davis are the sponsors of this club.

Picnics, parties, and the spreading of the fame of Jewell have been the order of the year. Highlight of the club's social events this year was the outdoor steak fry at the home of Mrs. Otis Hanna, honorary member.

This year's officers were: Bruce Carrier, president; Don Rusk, secretary-treasurer; Lula and Lola Hanna, co-social chairmen; and Ella Mae Parrot, corresponding secretary.

Eastern States Club

The Eastern States Club is a social organization.

Through its faithful efforts, the "Campus of Achievement" has been made and shall be made more famous throughout the East. Besides promoting social activities within the group, the club strives to foster new acquaintances among fellow-students. The Eastern States Club lost many of its members this year, including the former president of William Jewell College, Dr. John F. Herget. Members of this club take pride in making themselves worthy of their alma mater by doing their best to bring other students from their home states to the college In the Heart of America.

Officers chosen for this year are: president, Richard Giesse; secretary-treasurer, Barbara Haggard.

Students at William Jewell from the various states of the south have banded together to form the Southern States Club. It is primarily a social organization having as its purpose the fostering of a spirit of friendship among those students who live in the southland or had their beginnings there.

Besides the student members, several members of the faculty are active members. These include

Dr. Sullivan, Professor Walker, Dr. and Mrs. Hester, Dr. Moon and Dr. Pugh. Mrs. Prince is an honorary member of the club and Professor Denton, Professor Bruner, and "Daddy" Fruit were active until this year.

The officers for the year 1942-43 have been: Margaret Burton, president, and Charlotte Applewhite, vice-president.

Northern States Club

From the mountains, plains, and plateaus north of the Mason-Dixon line have come twelve students to Jewell. Just this year these men and women banded together for the singular purpose of having fun together because they have a common interest . . . a home or a background in the northern states. The states represented are Nebraska, North Dakota, South Dakota, Montana, Michigan, and Oregon. It is hoped that next year these students will bring back with them more future Jewellites from their home states. Thus they will have fulfilled their aim to spread the fame of Jewell throughout the north.

John McBain as president is assisted by Roma Lee Hofer, secretary-treasurer.

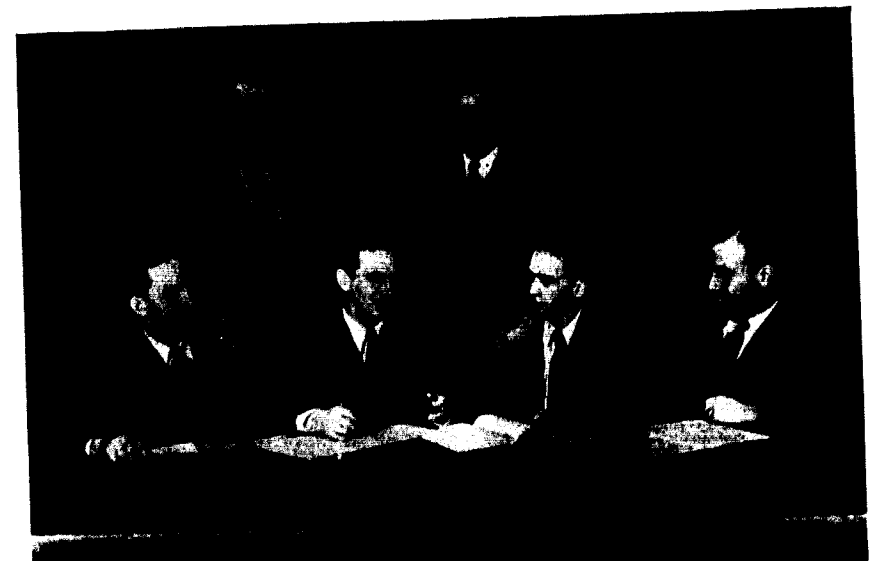

Professor Duce, native Canadian, and lately of New Haven, Connecticut, is sponsor of the organization.

Unity is a necessary factor in every relationship; between employer and employee, between president and member, between professor and student. An organization set up to maintain this feeling on the William Jewell College campus is the Student Senate. It is an intermediary between the faculty and administration and the student body. Just as unity and understanding are indispensable between the leaders and the people of a nation, especially when that nation is at war, so are they the foundation of the relationship between the faculty and students, especially when the college life is upset by war. The aim of this organization is to draw students and faculty into closer understanding of each other and it accomplishes its purpose by the presentation of two sides to each question considered. The president of the Student Senate is the president of the student body, Bob Shornick.

Who's Who

In a year when America needs her youth prepared, a new significance is added to any program intended to spur them on to greater achievements. The qualifications which today admit a student to "Who's Who" may some day select him for a much higher honor on the field of battle or in the reconstruction period after the victory is won. These qualities of character, leadership, scholarship, and service, must not be found wanting in the candidate for each is equally important and to lack one means to forfeit the others.

Who's Who is not an organization. Each year outstanding students are selected from the student bodies of colleges and universities all over the nation to be listed in "Who's Who Among College Students in America." Jewell is proud that the names of some of her students have been listed in each year's publication.

For Fugue . . . . .

Music hath charms . . . to cheer the Big Red team on to victory in a game . . . charms to make Christmas seem like Christmas or the J-Club show more rhythmic . . . and the music organizations at Jewell are doing their part to make a warlike hilltop and a fighting America seem more cheerful and more like the places we knew in time of peace . . .

Music is one of the most powerful influences that man has known. From time immemorial he has turned to music for relief in every crisis through which he has passed. It gives to the sorrowful heart, consolation; to the despairing soul, hope; to the troubled mind, peace; and to the angry spirit, love. Because music plays such a vitally significant part in the daily life of man, the geniuses of the music world are perhaps more widely known over the earth than the leaders in any other field of man's endeavor.

It has often been said that music is a universal language. Every listener reads into it his own interpretation and yet each one also experiences, at least vaguely, what the composer felt as he wrote it. Men of every nation, every creed, every walk of life, speaking in the myriad tongues of the world can listen to music together and, without the aid of an interpreter, understand. It speaks to a city-dweller of open fields, sunlight, and wide expanses of sky; to country-bred of tall buildings, milling throngs, and bright lights. It weaves the thread of youth's dreams into a beautiful pattern for him to set for himself as a goal. It helps to close wounds that seemed impossible to heal and leaves the mind and heart at ease. It brings the indifferent apathetic mind to life again with new ambition to make of itself a thing of pride. It inspires the artist to new endeavor painting before his mind's eye a panorama of beauty that he keeps forever within his soul as the perfect work of art, striving always toward its flawlessness.

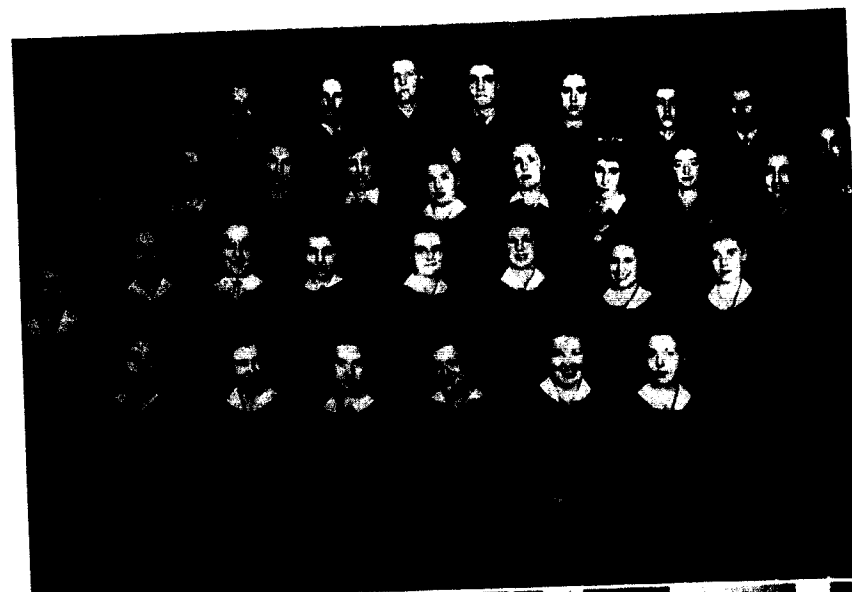

Now our country is at war. The people have on their minds greater burdens, in their hearts deeper sorrows than this generation has ever known. Men and women are working long hours at war machinery manufacturing the ammunition and implements of death to be used by our armed forces; homes are being divided, some never again to be reunited; valiant men are leaving everything behind them and going to distant fronts to defend all those cherished things at home; sacrificing women are writing bright, cheerful letters to sons, husbands, sweethearts overseas.

All these who represent the American people at war need some lifting force greater than themselves. That force is music. It may be a hymn that will lighten the burdens that weigh so heavily on their hearts; it may be contemporary "swing" that will brighten their spirits. Whichever it is, music is the force that can speak these messages of hope to all men.

On college campuses youth prepares for battle. Young men leave their colleges, homes, friends, and personal interests to fight for freedom. Young women enlist in the armed forces' auxiliaries or perhaps remain in school to maintain the educational standards of the nation while the boys are away and to prepare themselves for peace time service when victory is ours. To youth, music is a living part of life. The impulsive, alert minds of young men often grasp more quickly the meaning in music than do the minds of older people with the keen edge of perception dulled by cares and worries. Young dreams are set to music; young lives are regulated by it, their very souls responding to the hope and joy and peace that music expresses.

The Glee Club and Band

In William Jewell College the glee club and band, under the direction of Dr. David Grosch, furnish opportunities for students to express themselves in music as well as to entertain and uplift others. At the Christmas season this year the glee club presented an evening of music in the Moravian style with hot chocolate and rolls served during the performance.

The band under student direction of Russell Newport and Al Lee has kept the spirit of our team as well as of the spectators undefeated although the actual victory might go to Jewell's opponent. It is definitely an important factor in the building of morale on the campus.

So the music department of William Jewell College makes its contribution to the limitless force which music is—in this time of crisis.

The Student

One of the freedoms so essential to our way of life and that for which our forefathers died, is freedom of speech and of the press.

On the William Jewell College campus that freedom is embodied in the Student, a weekly publication. In its columns, events of the year are anticipated and publicized and the march of time is recorded for future reference. On its editorial page the Student expresses the opinions of modern youth; it challenges the thinking of the youth of a nation at war. The Student grants the members of the student body opportunities for creative thought, administrative experience, and journalistic preparation. The paper belongs to the students. It is written by students, edited by students, and enjoyed by students. This year it has formed a link uniting those individuals in the several dormitories and rooming houses in town who would otherwise not be informed of the many activities on the Hill. It has kept alive the William Jewell spirit, so vital to our way of life.

As the war progresses, the realization of the importance of free speech and free press will come more strongly to each of us. It symbolizes independence of mind; it allows individual interpretation; it prevents dictatorial censorship of thought. Each student who has had a part in making this paper has a more definite and clear-cut view of that for which he is fighting.

Just so long as the Student is published, so long as minds and thoughts are free and uncensored, so long as each individual is at liberty to speak and write as he desires, the victory is ours.

The editor of the Student is selected by a faculty committee from one of three associate editors elected by the student body. The business manager is elected by student vote. The staff headed by Omer Muchmore was replaced at the end of the first half of the school year by another staff headed by Bob Hobbs.

For Fun . . . . .

. . . . "For fun" . . . . that takes in many things . . . . Hay rides . . . . and dances . . . . any kind of get-together . . . . All this is a part of a college education . . . . just as much a part of it as four-hour study-courses and library learning . . . . and the students in these "fun" organizations are in them not only for the good times but also for the incentives, the fellowships, and the many lasting friendships they will make and hold . . . .

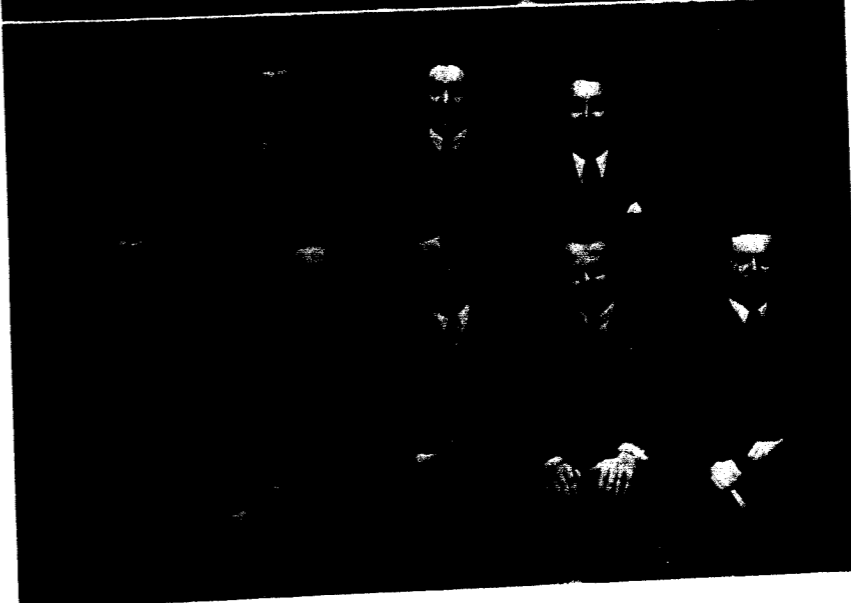

Among the fraternities and sororities on the campus of William Jewell there is a bond of friendship. The contests among the students naturally make for rivalry but is a friendly rivalry. In an effort to preserve such a feeling among the Greek organizations the Panhellenic and Interfraternity Councils were set up. This year the disagreements and differences of the American people have been united in the common cause of freedom. In the same way students have buried their dislikes, at least for the duration, and the spirit among all students has been unusually friendly. It is in keeping with the spirit of the entire school that students be tolerant and understanding with each other and toward this aim these two councils have strived.

Beta Sigma Omicron Sorority

Beta Sigma Omicron . . . founded in 1888 at the University of Missouri in Columbia. It was the first national sorority on the Hill when in 1931 ten young women became the charter members of Alpha Psi chapter. This year B.S.O.'s have starred in many activities as in former years.

Colors . . . ruby and pink.
Flower . . . Richmond and Killarney roses.

Fall . . . and the pledges entertained the actives with a "Hickman" radio party. Other radio parties were held at the home of Mrs. Chester Miles, an alum of Beta Sigma Omicron. Homecoming came . . . and with it the queenship went to charming Betty Welker of Kansas City. December 4th brought the wonderful winter formal . . . a la Christmas.

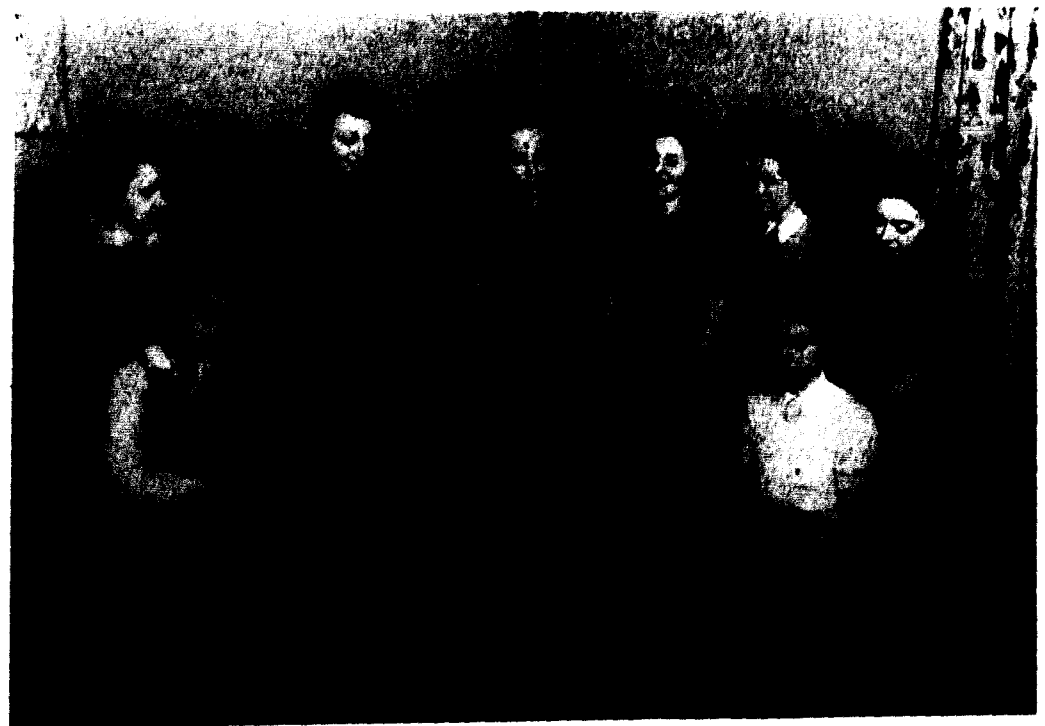

Patriotism . . . willingly the B.S.O. chapter room was turned over to the naval cadets and Monday night meetings were scheduled for the attic in the Phi Gamma Delta fraternity house. More patriotism . . . Beta Sigs fully equipped a Red Cross station wagon by selling tickets to a benefit show, "Pittsburgh."

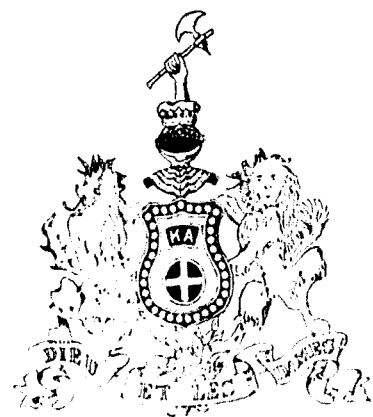

Honors . . . Audrey Adams, second year president of Alpha Psi, was chosen for the third consecutive year to be listed in Who's Who . . . Joan Clarke had one of the leads in the senior play and Audrey Adams played the leading role in "Dulcy" . . . Betty Brockhouse served as president of W.A.A. . . . Vervia Probst was chosen as a member of Alpha Psi Omega . . . Two chosen for Pi Kappa Delta, one in Sigma Tau Delta, two in Pi Gamma Mu, two in Beta Lambda . . . Pat Crenshaw wearing red and white was selected as an attendant to the queen at the Star-Spangled Tatler Revue . . . "Prexy" Adams won the Denfense Bond queenship, the B.S.O.'s having sold the largest amount of defense stamps and bonds during the four weeks of the contest . . . And Beta Sigs received many more honors too numerous to mention here.

Activities?? . . . "Capturing" of two beautiful diamonds and two fraternity pins, one K.A., one Lambda Chi Alpha.

Kappa Alpha Fraternity

Southern gentlemen . . . organized in 1865 at Washington and Lee University and brought to William Jewell in 1887 to become the chapter having the distinction of being the farthest north of all Kappa Alpha chapters in the nation.

Alpha Delta . . . led all fraternities scholastically and led in many other fields. Sporting stars . . . K.A. has held a high place in intramural sports competition tying for first place in football and for first in the basketball tournament (at the time of this writing) . . . "Dub" Yates starred for K.A. being a member of both Big Red Teams . . . during football and basketball seasons. Four men . . . Bob Farrar, Charles Smith, Jim Jenkins, Dick Heilbron . . . won distinction for their fraternity by being listed in Who's Who. Two men . . . elected members of the Student Senate. Many men . . . office holders in Theta Chi Delta, William Jewell Players, Sigma Tau Delta, and Zeta Kappa Epsilon. Both the first and second debate teams are K.A. winning teams . . . Jim Jenkins and Dick Heilbron, Charles Smith and Jack Ousley. Capable President Farrar represents the order in the Acons. Bob Hobbs served as editor of the Student for the last half of the year.

War . . . and it brought changes . . . Of the fifty-five members and pledges enrolled at the first of the year, thirty are now in the armed forces of the United States. Of those remaining, two are in the Naval Air Corps Reserve, five in the Army Air Corps reserve, nine in the Naval Reserve, three in the A.F.R.C., and one in the Marine Reserve.

In memoriam . . . Brothers in Kappa Alpha grieved to hear that Dick Sharp and Lee Johnson were killed in action and that Charles Shaw is missing in action.

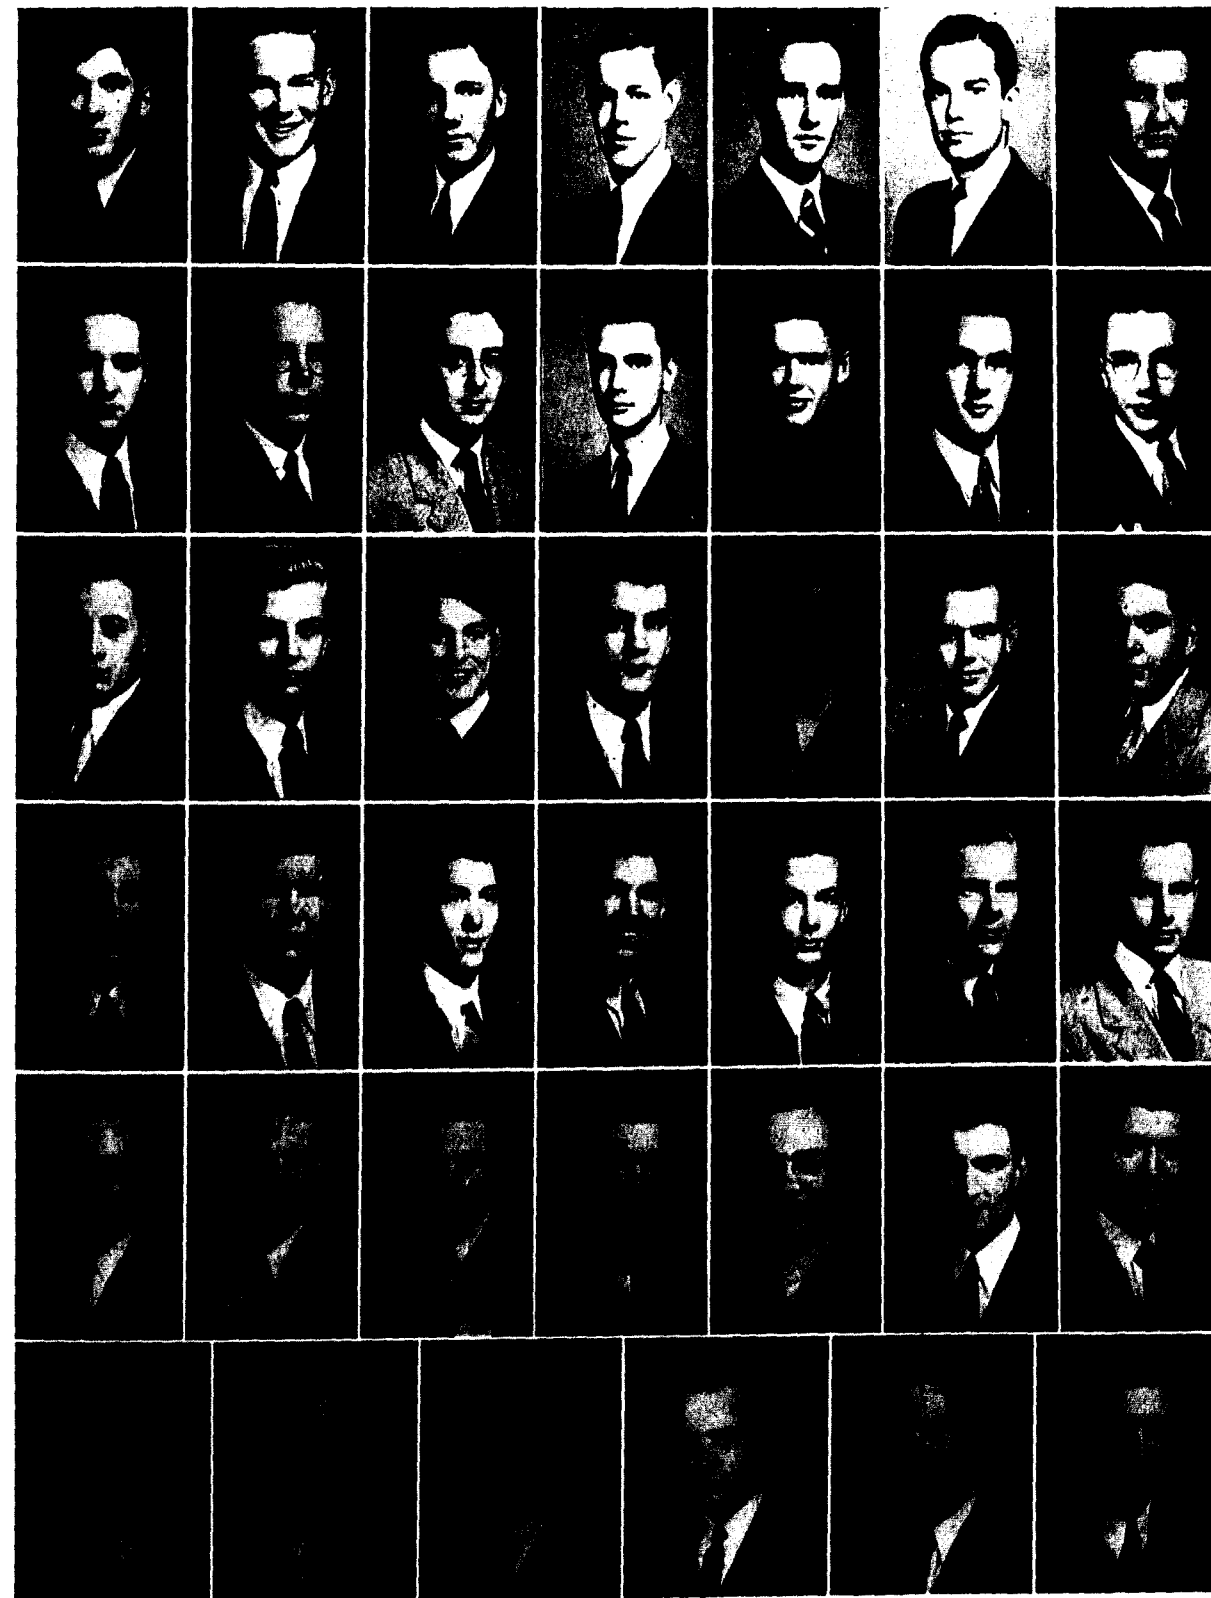

Kappa Alpha tradition and principles will forever be held high among its members and others on the Hill.

. . . Mrs. Vanlandingham . . . "Mother Van"—the house mother at the Southern mansion.

Lambda Chi Alpha Fraternity

On its twenty-fifth birthday the local Zeta Chi fraternity became Epsilon Mu Zeta chapter of Lambda Chi Alpha fraternity.

Its first year . . . a year of achievement . . . almost fifty per cent of the Lambda Chi men are student assistants . . . an achievement if which other chapters of this fraternity are justly proud.

Championship basketball team for the third consecutive year . . . winning the intra-mural title . . . Homecoming float, a replica of a battleship constructed wholly of scrap metal and portraying Uncle Sam carried away second place honors in the float contest.

Bob Baker, leading in sports, participating in three sports and captaining the football team through a successful season . . . plus office holders in many organizations on the Hill.

Lambda Chi Alpha men are well represented in Theta Chi Delta by two members, in Sigma Tau Delta by two, in Alpha Zeta Pi by five, and in Sigma Pi Sigma by one.

Proud of the preacher boys in the brotherhood, Lambda Chi has two active members on the Baptist Student Union Council, and two members are officers in the William Jewell Christian Association.

David Bibens represented his fraternity in Acons this year and as sports editor of the Tatler, as well as of the Student. Bill Overton as an associate editor of the Student helped to uphold the honor and glory of Lambda Chi.

Social life . . . unique and varied parties this year included a party at the fraternity house on Lightburne planned with the theme of a ship. A gangplank leading up to the house from the sidewalk and gay ship decorations added to the fun.

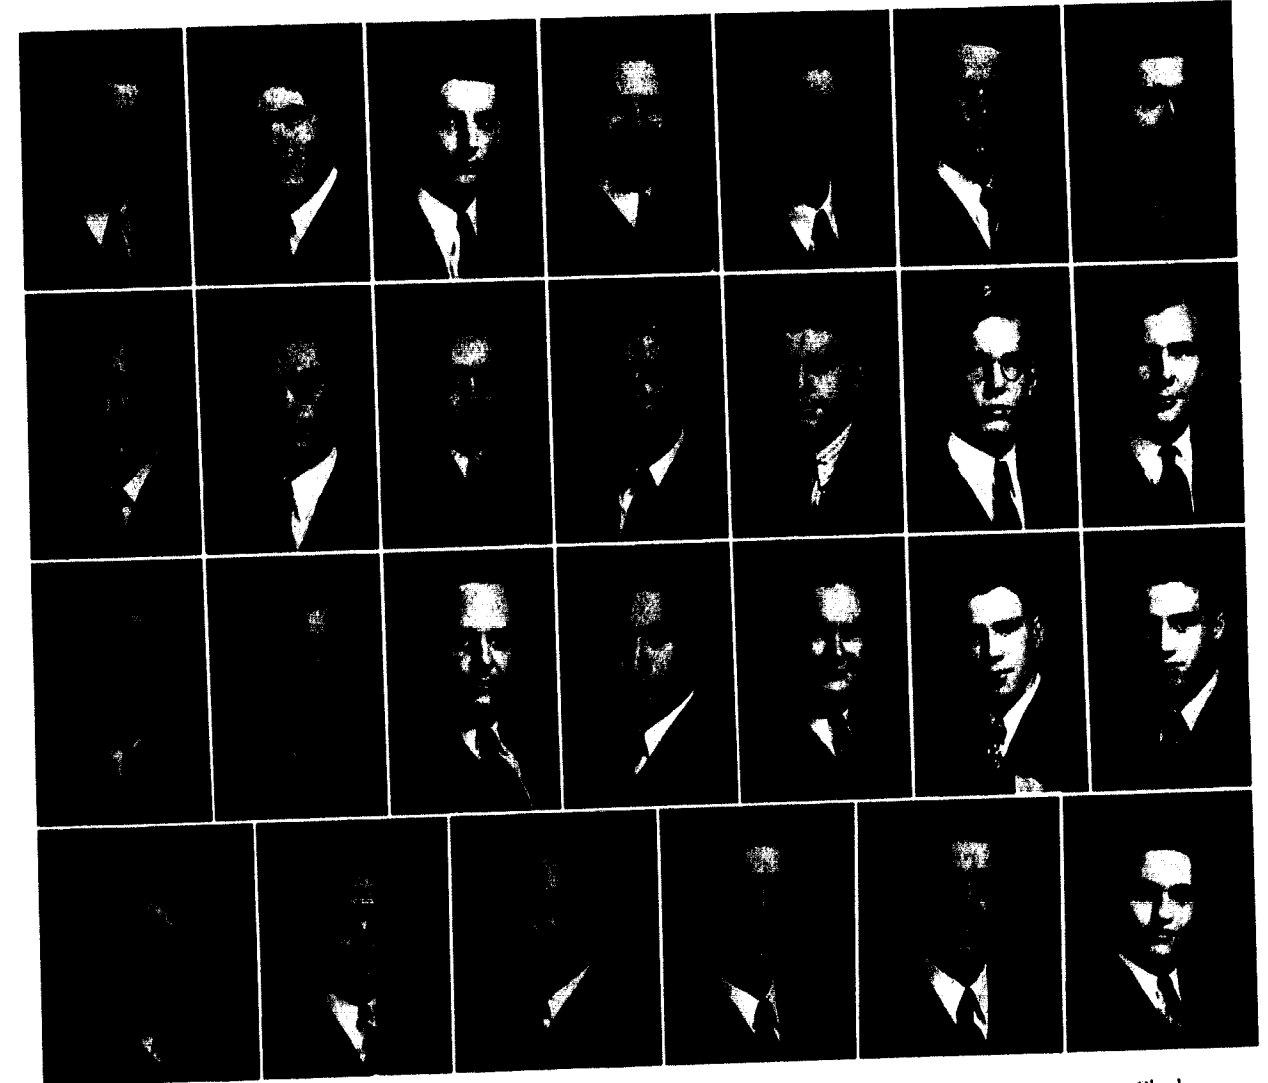

Highlights . . . jewelry from Clay Landers, Earl Loar, and A. W. Michaels . . . pins from "Mike" and Donald Charles.

Generous contributions of its alumni to the armed forces . . . with several underclassmen answering their country's call during the year.

Officers: president, Homer Stockwell; vice-president, Bob Baker; secretary, Dale Manness; treasurer, Clayborn Landers; historian, Bruce Currier; librarian, Lyn Crowley; chaplain, Clayborn Landers; social chairman, Don Charles.

Phi Gamma Delta Fraternity

"Royal Purple is her color" sing loyal Fijis beneath the great white star of Phi Gamma Delta. Installed . . . first fraternity on this campus seventy-two years ago . . . founded in 1848 at Jefferson College in Cannonsburg, Pennsylvania.

At the stern . . . capable Bob Shornick steered the chapter to victory in many phases of campus life in this epic year of '43. Homecoming . . . and third place honors to the Fijis for their float "Hop on the Bond Wagon with Uncle Sam and William Jewell." Tatler Revue . . . "It Happened in the Clouds" depicting "three little angels of peace" was the skit placing third.

Honors . . . Bob Shornick was elected again to be listed in Who's Who and Armand Spizzirri was also named. Fiji presidents reign over the I-Club and Alpha Phi Omega . . . and president of all presidents . . . Shornick as student body "high man" . . . Paul "Brain" Curau appointed instructor of mathematics for the Navy school . . . Don Benjamin did a bang-up job as business manager of the Tatler . . . Ye Grandsons of Rest claimed some of Jewell's Fijis as loyal "bums"; and Alpha Zeta Pi included in her membership five men of the royal purple.

Fight 'em, team, fight 'em! . . . yellers Conrad, Shornick, and Myall lead the student body in supporting the big red team. Phi Gamma Delta was well represented by ten boys on the varsity football squad and Dick Hyder captained the basketball team.

Service men . . . in the four corners of the world . . . thirteen of this year's chapter are now in the service, eighteen in the reserves. Brother "Skillet" Hall who had received the Distinguished Service Cross is reported missing in action. Another brother, Ensign Eugene Amick was killed in line of duty for his country.

Regardless of the chapter's losses this year and next, Phi Gamma Delta will ever be strong.

Capable and lovely Mrs. Short . . . age a charming hostess and "mother" to her boys.

Sigma Nu Fraternity

Founded . . . in 1869 at Virginia Military Institute, Lexington, Virginia . . . Beta Xi . . . installed at William Jewell in 1894 with eight charter members.

Great white star . . . radiated by 1943 achievements of Beta Xi. Rush week . . . and thirty-three boys were pledged. Pledge Atwood was elected president of the Freshman class and pledge Nelson, vice-president. Brooks Smith was elected president of the pledge class and "Doc" Wade was elected "Low Goat."

Activities of distinction . . . faithful coach Luginbyhl steered Sigma Nu to a tie with K.A. for first place in interfraternity football. On the varsity lineup, five Sigs held their own for fraternity and Jewell . . . Five members represented the chapter on the varsity basketball team. "Somewhere on Guadalcanal" was the title of the skit which took away top honors in the Tatler Revue contest.

Prominent on the Hill . . . Jeff Lype, president of the International Relations Club . . . Omer Muchmore, editor of the Student . . . Tom Luginbyhl, business manager of the Student . . . Ray Henry, president of the Sophomore class . . . "Senator" Riggs . . . just any old thing.

Parties . . . two formal dances, the last being an open dance for all fraternities. A military theme brought back sad memories of good-byes of last year and more to come . . . The annual hayride . . . as always a success . . . radio parties . . . Thanksgiving dinner party . . . final dinner party at the Sigma Nu House before it was turned over to the girls.

Adjustments . . . the exodus from the Temple of Purity occurred on February 15th to make way for the Navy.

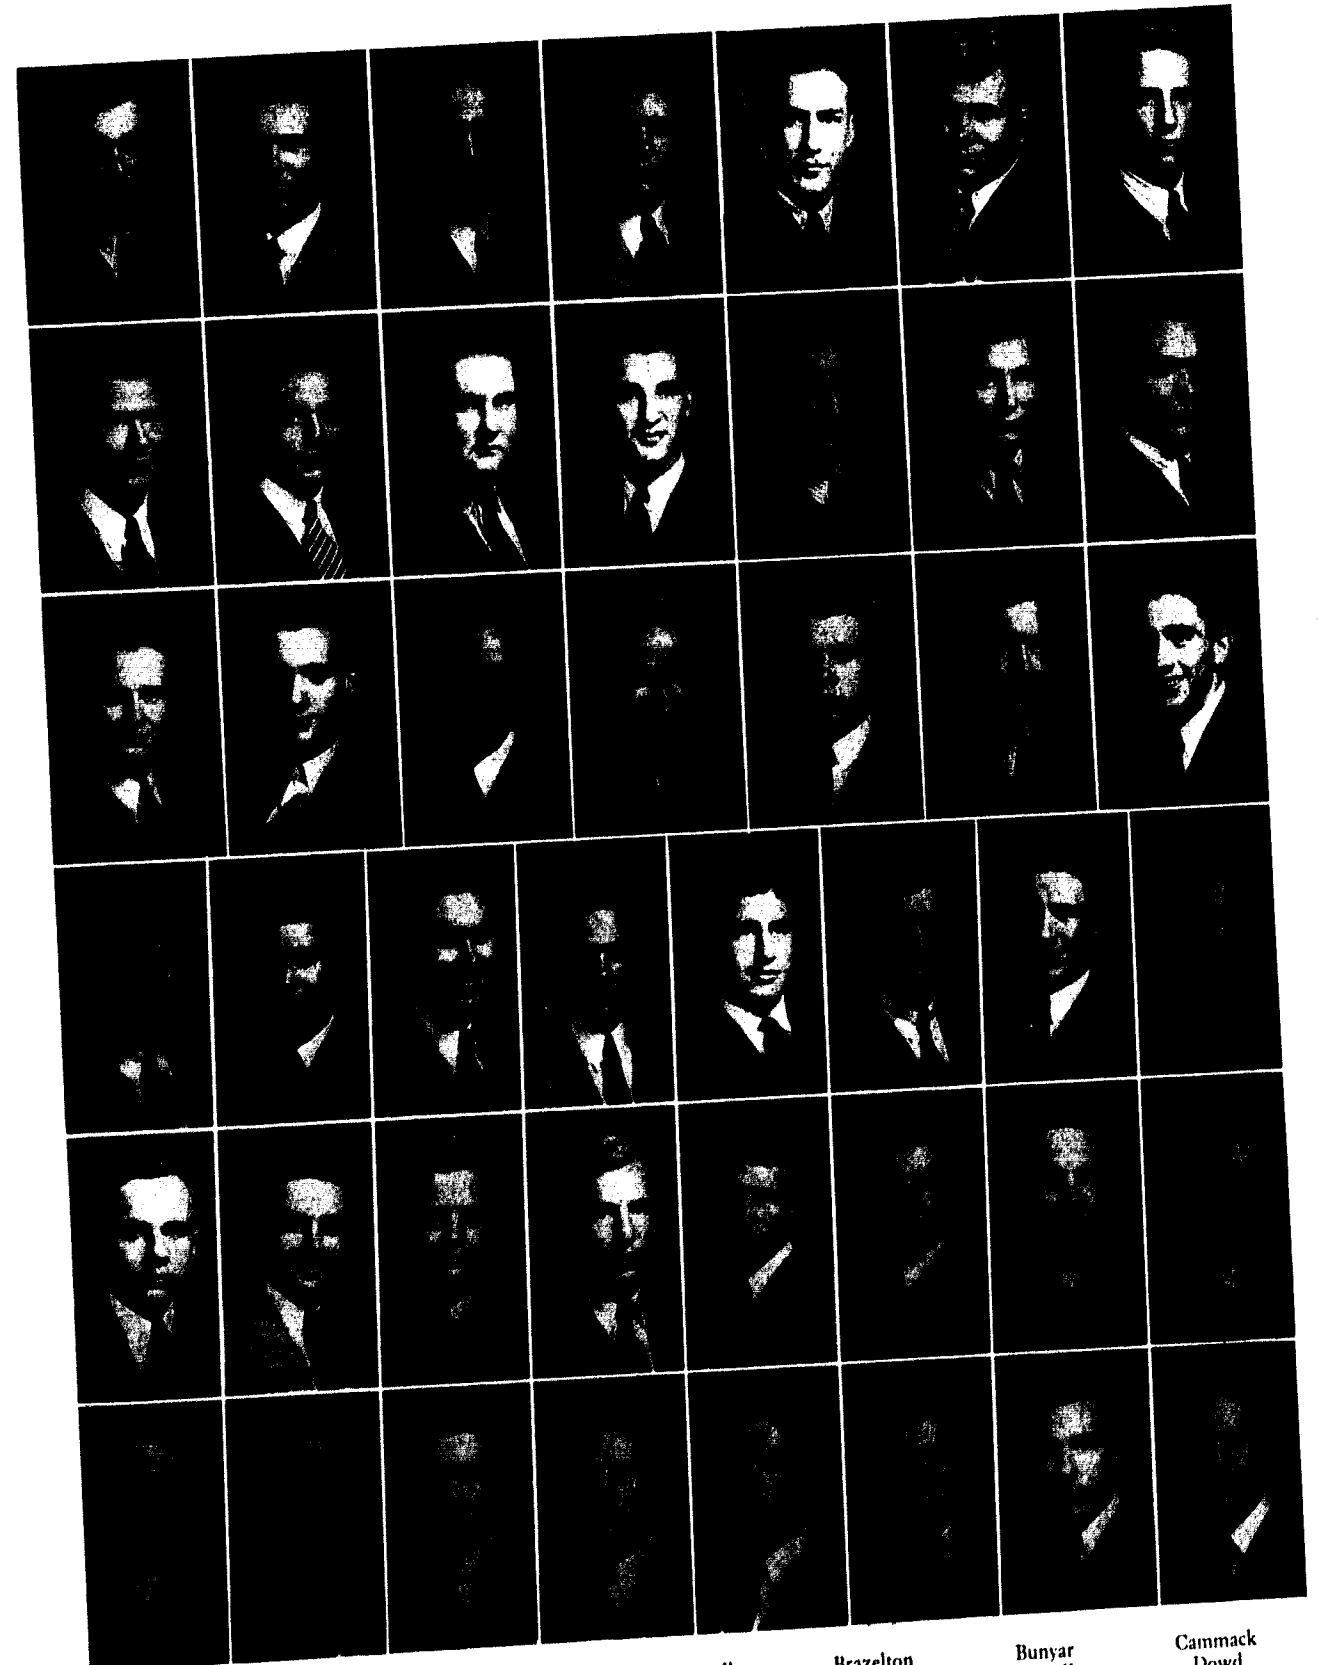

Twenty-three Sigma Nus have entered the armed forces of the country. More are making plans to leave the old Hill soon.

Highlight of the year . . . Jack Bunyar brought Morton Cooper, pitcher for the St. Louis Cardinals, to dinner!

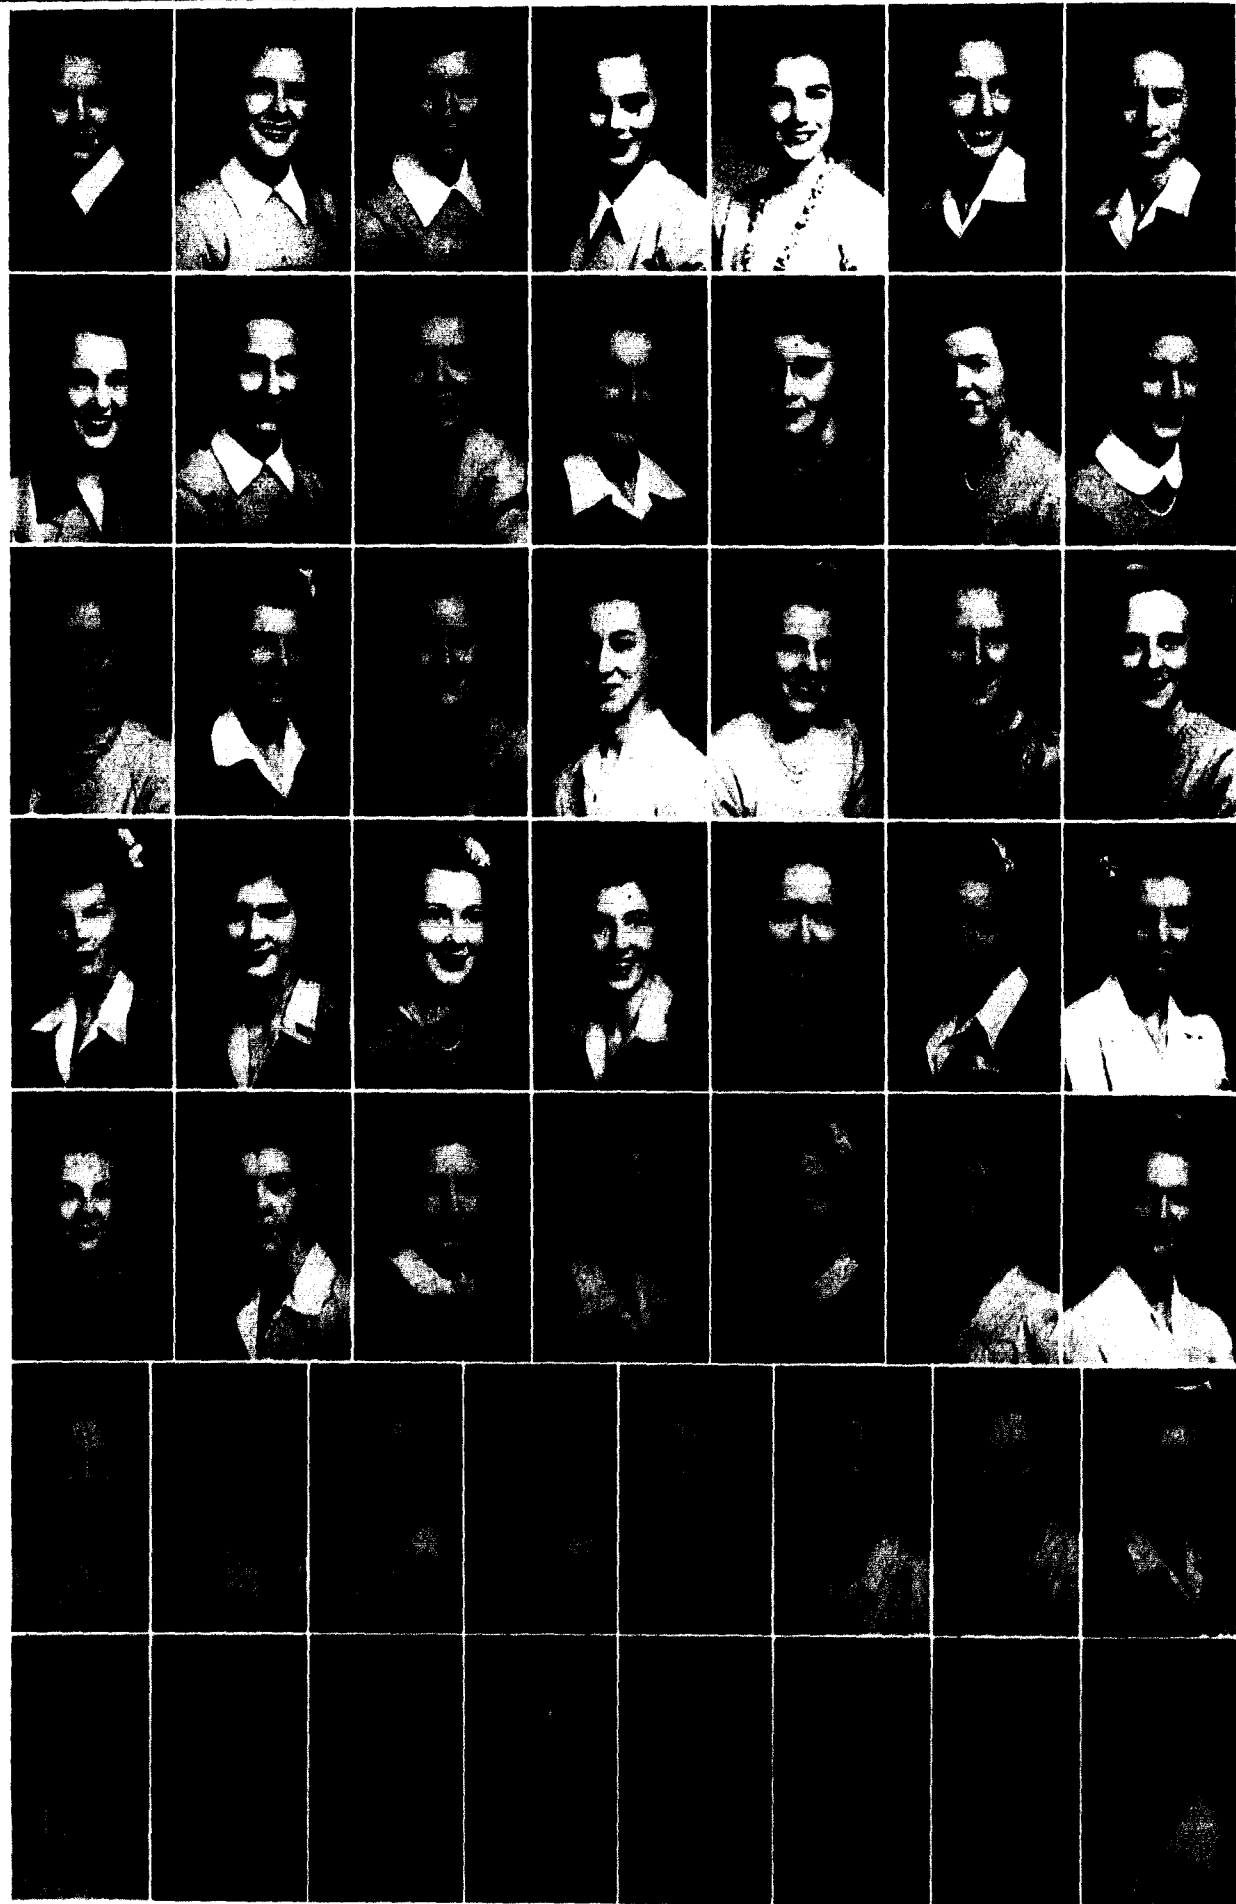

Goodby, for the duration, to Mother Fristoe who is now hostess for the girls of Harmony House.

TNT Sorority

1943 . . . marks the twenty-first year of TNT stardom on the campus of William Jewell. Football queen, Polly Ehlers, elected—the choice of the Big Red Team.

Homecoming . . . and TNT took first place trophy for her patriotic float of colored leaves making our nation's flag with the slogan "Two victories in '42."

Brains . . . and again this year TNT led all social organizations on the honor roll. Representatives in honorary organizations include Barbara Jones, Beverly Amery and Jean Conrad in Panaegis, Helen Prince listed in Who's Who and also editor of the Tatler, Jean Yates, Mary Louise Derwacter, Virginia Langston, Helen Prince, Barbara Jones, and Jean Conrad as student assistants. Other honorary distinctions . . . three of the sisterhood in Alpha Psi Omega, four in Sigma Tau Delta, five in Pi Gamma Mu, three in Zeta Kappa Epsilon, and two in Beta Lambda, with others prominent in William Jewell Player's productions.

Star-spangled Tatler Revue . . . Lovely Ruth Sword was chosen Beauty Queen with Martha Yates as one of her attendants. The skit, "Pledge to America," brought second place honors to TNT.

Social activities . . . pledge dance at the home of Jean Dougherty . . . Christmas formal . . . radio party for rushees . . . annual Mother's Day luncheon in the city . . . rush parties . . . spring dinner dance . . . bunking parties and coke sessions in the chapter room at Arlington Hall.

Stars in their eyes . . . Christmas, and Bev Amery became Mrs. Bud Anderson and Helen Oberhelman became Mrs. Jim Hair . . . five more sparklers for the third finger, left hand . . . one donned a Phi Gam pin and three southern sweethearts blossomed forth with K.A. pins.

More for Uncle Sam . . . rolled bandages at Red Cross Headquarters once a week, sold defense bonds . . . beloved chapter room in Melrose turned over to the Navy.

Happy memories . . . for many of which credit is due to the adored and charming sponsor, Mrs. J. E. Davis.

The Independent Society

Old, yet new . . . Although one of the oldest groups on the Hill, the Independents appear this year for the first time in the Tattler as an organization. Growing by leaps and bounds . . . its membership, activities and recognition.

Purpose . . . to promote congeniality and social development among those students . . . both men and women . . . who do not hold membership in any social fraternity or sorority.

Still, as in the past, the Society continues to be an important part of campus life . . . sponsoring not only activities for its own members but also all-school entertainments. In the Homecoming parade the Independents were represented by an attractive float. Athletic teams have made good records . . . both in men and women's intramural competition.

Especially proud of the members who have led the honor roll during the year is this organization. Three of its number were listed in Who's Who . . . Carl Burkhardt, Martha McGinty, and Russell Newport. Independents starring in dramatic productions . . . Marjorie and Gordon Psalmonds, Lorena Savacool, Juanita Bedard, George Hays, Nelson Reagan, and Philip Jankus.

Independent hearts lightly turn to thoughts of love . . . Charlotte Applewhite appeared with a jeweled Kappa Alpha pin, and Elizabeth Moreland and Muriel Mayse captured lovely diamond rings.

As in the case of other organizations, the Independents have sent many members during this year into the armed services of our nation. The thought of these also brings pride to the hearts of the Independent Society, for these are fighting for the free and independent way of life.

The Tatler

As the final pages of the 1943 Tatler go to press, the staff looks back over a red, white and blue year at William Jewell College. In our minds it is star-studded with memories of those long hours in the Tatler office . . . mounting pictures, typing copy, proof reading, and that last minute cramming to meet a deadline. Editors of college annuals all over the nation have had to face the difficulties brought on by war-created shortages; but to us here on our star spangled campus, it has presented a challenge not to be evaded. If we have brought to you a picture-and-word story of life as we have lived it together during this never-to-be-forgotten year, our purpose shall have been accomplished and we shall be proud.

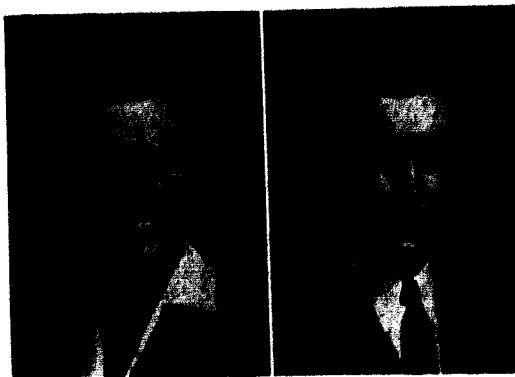

We acknowledge the invaluable aid of Mr. Ralph Kolb of Burger-Baird Engraving Company, Mr. Leo Stern of Stern Studios, Mr. John Nowell and Mr. George Beamer of the William Jewell Press. The editor also wishes to express her appreciation of the fine spirit of cooperation on the part of the N.F.P.S. staff without which a section for the Navy cadets would have been an impossibility. Lt. Stroup deserves and receives the sincerest gratitude of the staff for his efficient assistance in the preparation of the Navy section.

No definite list of activities could be compiled. For one thing, the calendar doesn't include everything. It doesn't even mention rushing, the hot box, and our pledge dates, and probably doesn't even say when the Navy first came to our campus. And that certainly is a part of the activity on the Hill. Nor does it mention the departure of Dr. Fruit or the arrival of Dr. Duce. To try to get a picture of the activities of the Hill by looking at the calendar would be like trying to understand the American Spirit by reading the Constitution.

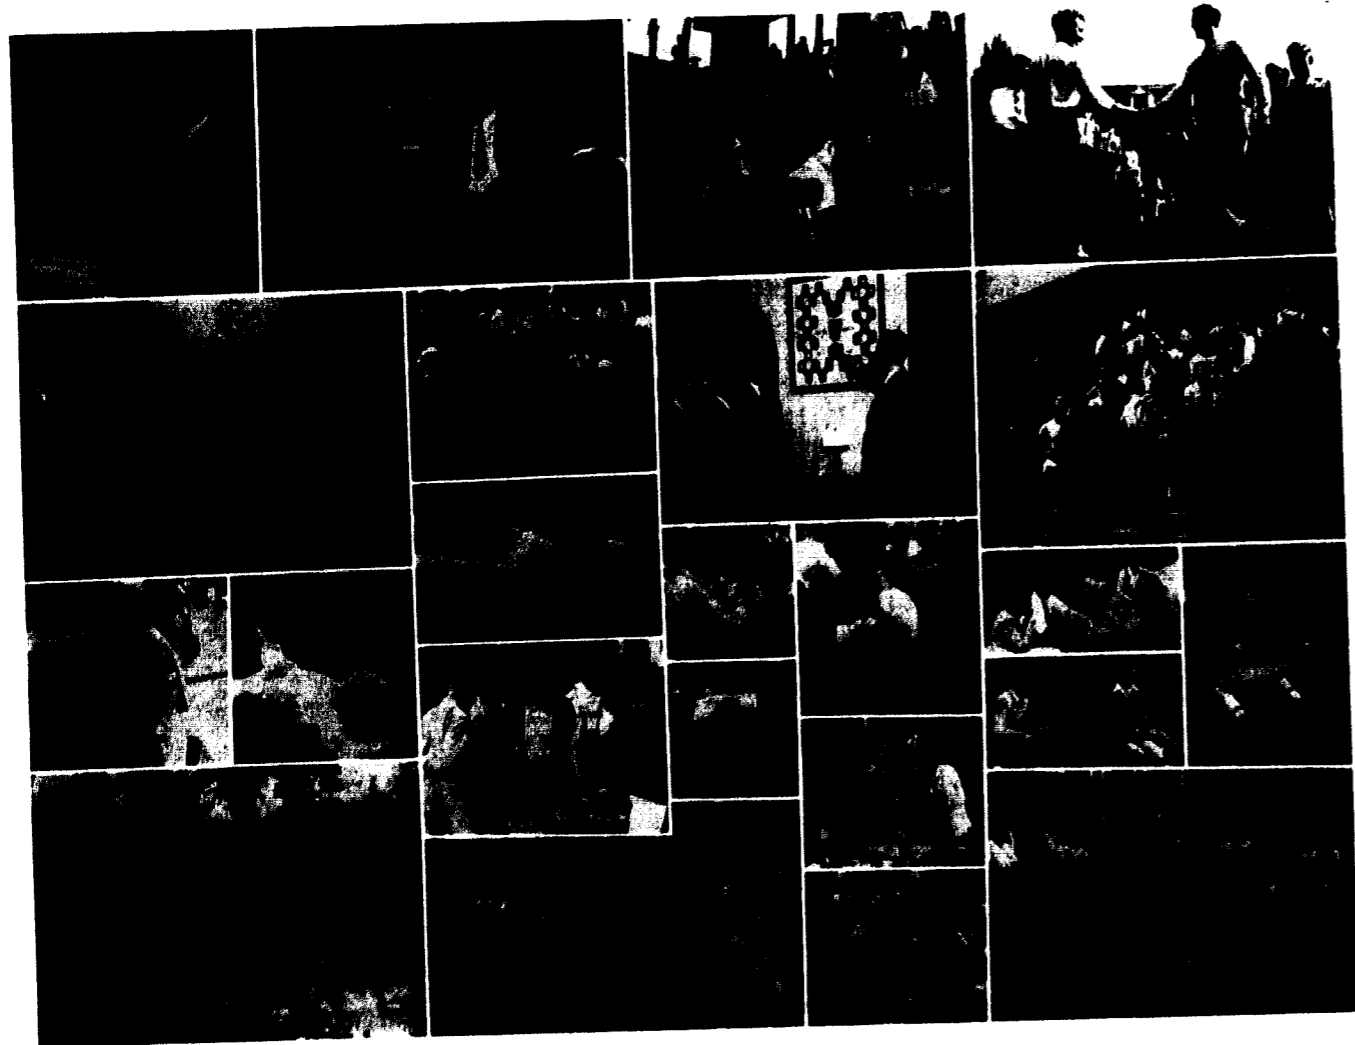

Every student participated in school activities. Only a few let their studies interfere with their college education. Of course the War succeeded in curtailing activities to a certain extent; but often it simply made the students find new pleasures and places. Besides, we have been forced to learn the art of entertaining ourselves without the benefit of too many shows or parties.

Now, we believe there must be something to this idea of thinking in pictures or images . . . for the date of an activity is not nearly so important as the occasion . . . and the occasion may not have been the same experience for you that it was for the person who sat next to you, or bumped into you on the dance floor. What we're trying to say is that the memory of this year is contained in pictures and images which pass quickly before the mind's eye. Different scenes and pictures push their way to the front; H. Roe Bartle making a speech to the students . . . Daddy Fruit walking painfully up the Hill with a leaf in his hand . . . Quiet walks on the Hill at eventide . . . Men in uniform . . . Rousing pep chapels. These are not all activities in the technical sense, but they are things in which we were active, movements we activated, and memories which we hold actively. For you, the word, "activities," means something different than it does to us, but at the base of it is the love for our Alma Mater that tugs at our hearts, an affection for our friends that makes us better men and women, and a courage to win the battle.

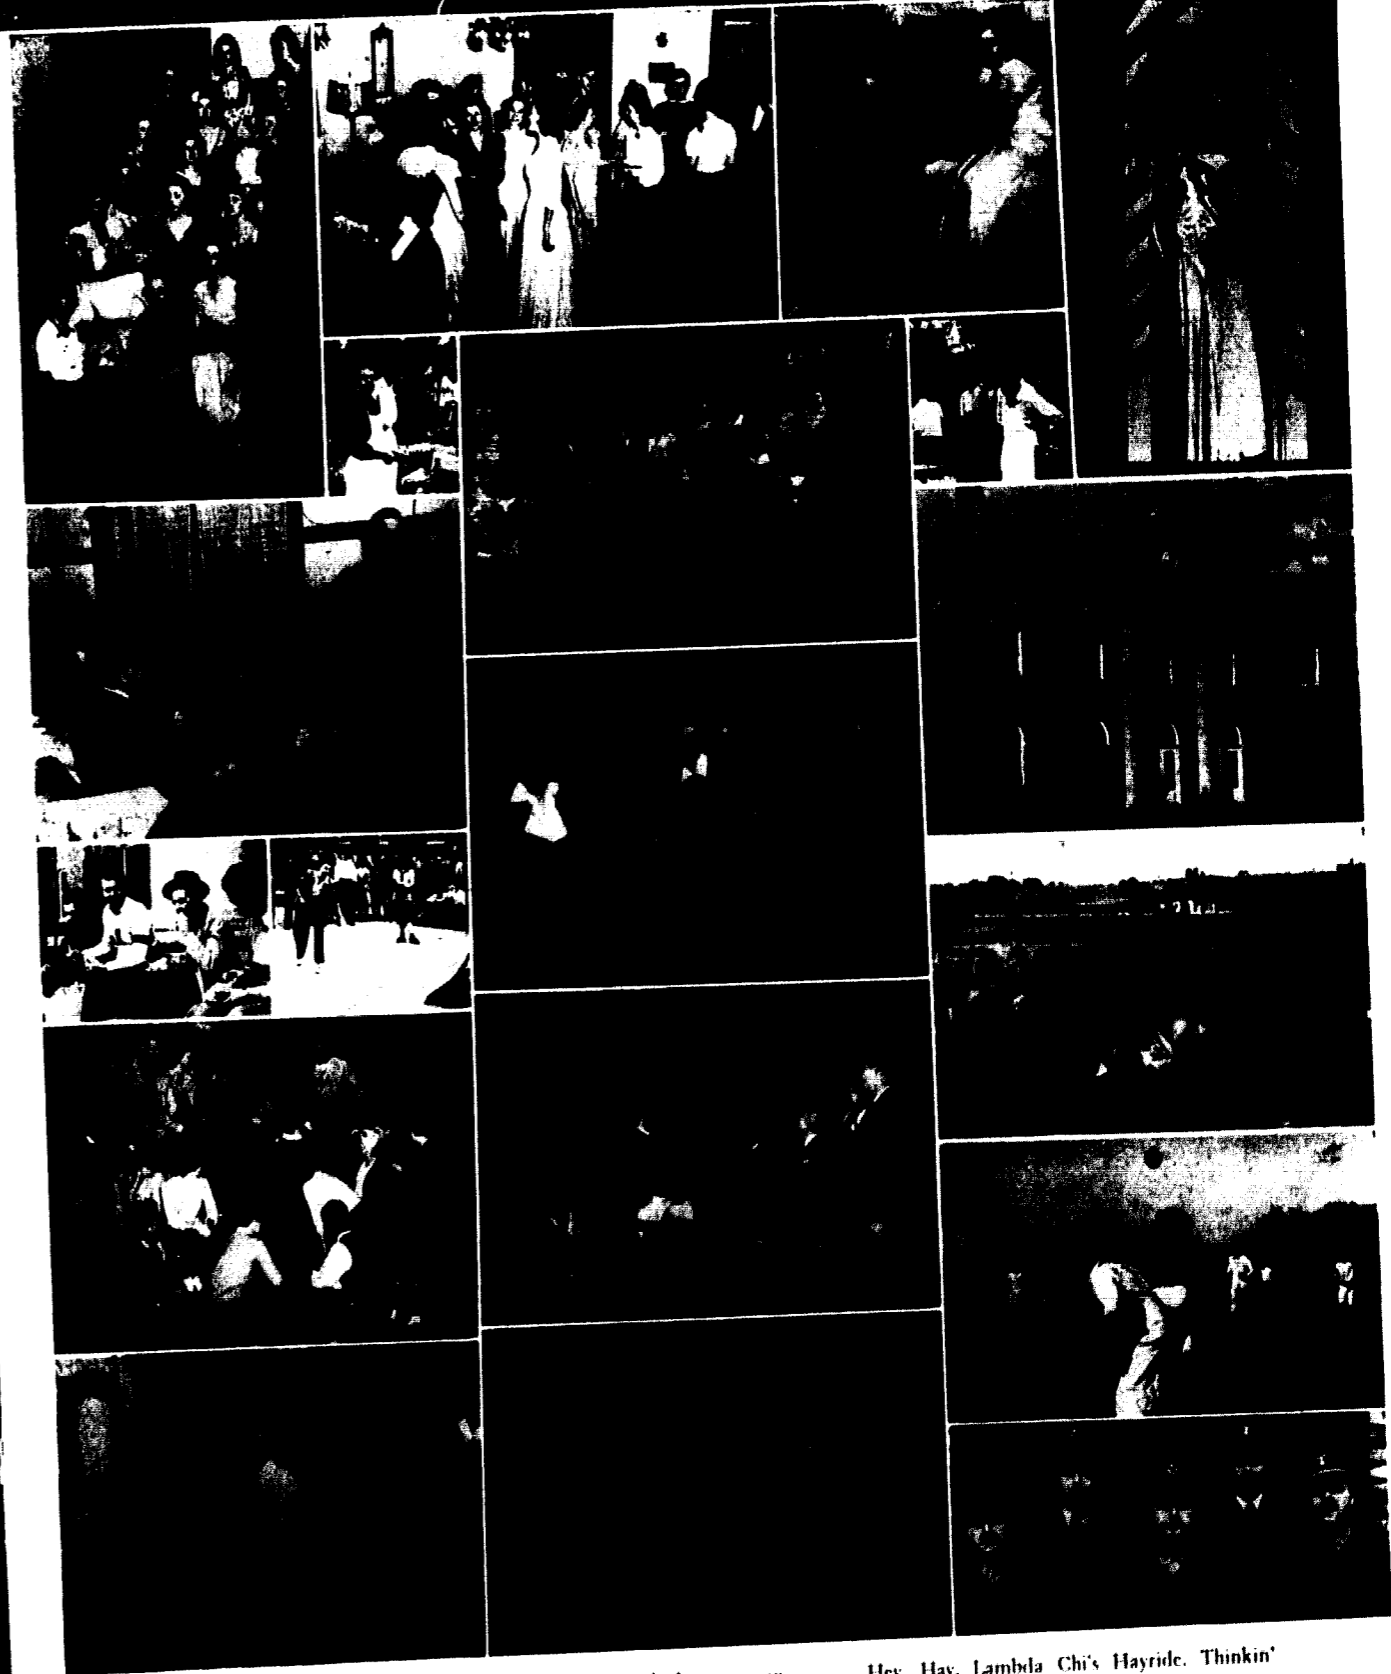

. . . "As this school year fast became a memory . . .

For just a few moments then, thumb through these feature pictures hurriedly, and get the memory of these activities on the Hill . . . your sobs, sniffles, and smiles . . . become once more, the living reality that once they were.

Before the sugar rationing, Dr. John F. Herget cuts the cake . . . Freshmen go through reception line, and at first think that they are welcome . . . Tests to see if the Freshmen can write . . . Bob Farrar greets new pledge, Allen J. Moon . . . Morton Cooper of the Cardinals visits Sigma Nus . . . Clarke from Park does a John Alden to Nancy Teel . . . . . . . . that in every man's life . . . . .

COACH HENRI GODFRIAUX

Friend, counselor, teacher and guide is Coach Godfriaux. Respected and admired by every Jewell fighter who has been privileged to play on one of his teams, Coach has played a tremendous part in giving to the sons of William Jewell that fighting spirit which characterizes her teams on the gridiron and on the battlefronts of the world. Not always the victor, Jewell is nevertheless proud of her team and of its coach, who, being a true sportsman, is the personification of the William Jewell spirit.

CAPTAIN BOB BAKER

The Big Red team chose well when they elected big Bob Baker to guide them through the 1942 gridiron season. Bob was one of the most popular students on the campus and because of this, Jewell was ready and willing to give its all in the backing of any project which he might undertake. He chose to make a fighting team of this year's squad. He did not fail in this undertaking nor did he fail to win the admiration and confidence of his teammates and classmates. Jewell is proud of big Bob Baker.

The prospects for the 1942 season were brightened with the return of nine lettermen and four other squadmen early in September.

The Cardinals began their regular season with a 13 to 6 victory over the Blue Devils from Kansas City, Kansas, Junior College. Yates and Burkhardt did the scoring as the Cardinals came from behind to down the visitors.

Wentworth Military Academy was the next team to suffer at the hands of the fighting Cards and went down to a 10 to 0 defeat. A pass from Baker to Yates brought the touchdown and Burkhardt and Hyder blocked two punts for the remaining four points. This victory was a costly one in that Captain Baker suffered a severe shoulder injury which kept him out of action for three weeks.

The next week-end brought the first defeat to the Cardinals. However, it can be said that Jewell was seriously handicapped with the loss of Captain Baker, Payne, Brazelton, and Heagerty due to injuries. Inability to stop Fraser, speedy halfback of the Braves from Ottawa, cost the game. Yates was on the receiving end of two scoring passes for William Jewell, but Ottawa proved too strong for the weakened Cardinals. The final score was 41 to 13, Ottawa.

The next week, Jewell suffered her worst defeat in conference history as she lost to Missouri Valley, 59 to 0.

At full strength for the first time in three weeks, the Cardinals took revenge out on the Owls from Tarkio. Jewell played exceptional ball and wound up on the best end of a 46 to 13 score. No one player was particularly outstanding in this game since the entire team played to the best of her abilities and the outcome was never in doubt once the Big Red Team started rolling.

Jewell again pitted her team against an undefeated team from Baker University, but went down to defeat 20-13. Led by "Sailor Boy" Hodges, the Wildcats took a lead early in the game and managed to protect it throughout the game. Hyder and Baker scored for Jewell and until the closing minute the score stood only 14 to 13 in favor of Baker. This game was characteristic of the fighting spirit of William Jewell and twice they were denied scores by the narrowest margins.

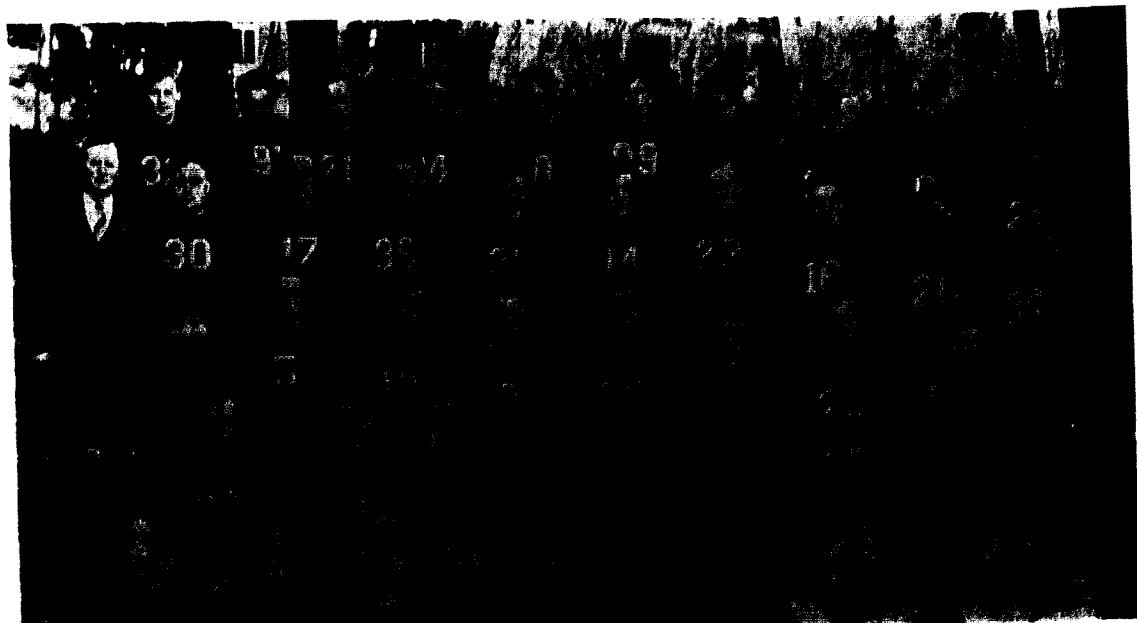

Homecoming day was made brighter by the victory over the Central Eagles to give William Jewell second place in the conference. Battling in the mud, the Cardinals turned in an excellent performance to trounce the Eagles, 22 to 6. Yates' long run, Baker's exceptional kicks, and the defense were highlights of the game.

The last game of the season was with our traditional rival, Rockhurst College of Kansas City. Played in a drizzling rain, the favorites from Rockhurst were outplayed but not outscored as the game ended in a tie, 12-12. Baker was the star of the game and Jewell was bound for scoring land when the gun ended the game.

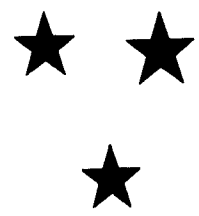

May this fighting spirit always be exemplified by the boys who wear the red and black into battle for the glory of their college.

Victorious*

Bring out the flag of William Jewell . . . .
Unfurl it, and raise it on high . . . .
These J-sweatered men of the big Red Team
Have won another victory for us.
Look up and watch it wave in pride . . . .
Look up . . . there is the proof of our will to fight
And our determination to win . . . .
We've raised the victory flag on high
For a game we've won on the playing fields at home . . . .
And someday we'll raise that flag again
For a tougher game we've won . . . .
We'll stand and look up at the flag and the sky
And a Jewell once more in peace.

. . . . . Now is their time and our time to fight!

CAPTAIN DICK HYDER

A leader on the court and on the campus, "Hypo" will find a place for himself in Jewell's Hall of Fame. He will be remembered as the outstanding player of the Cardinal quintet, ranking second in scoring and first in scrap. He set a modern scoring record for guards at William Jewell, averaging almost ten points a game. A fine player and a good sport, Dick led the fighting team as it blazed a path of glory in victory and fair play. Jewell is proud of Captain Dick Hyder.

An ammunition not made in Japan, or Germany, or Italy. . . . .

Bob Baker, rugged rebounder, led the Cardinals in scoring this season with 136 points in 14 games. Baker's red hair symbolized the flaming Cardinal spirit he brought out in the team and college for which he gave his best.

Howard Brazelton, diminutive Cardinal forward, turned in the best individual performance of the year in the second Tarkio game. Always dependable, "Braz" collected 22 points in the season finale.

Jack Newport, first year sophomore, was the surprise of the squad this year. He ranked third in scoring and was one of the important cogs in the Cardinal's defensive ball club.

Brook Smith, steady, sure-passing guard, was the least flashy of the Cardinal line-up. His consistent passing and superb defensive play made him one of the most valuable men on the squad.

J. W. Yates, one of the two freshmen lettering this year, was the best floor man on the team. An outstanding dribbler and passer, he set up many of the Cardinal scoring plays and was usually in the box score himself.

Estil Hubbard, reserve letterman his freshman year, moved into his own right this year. His experience helped balance the comparatively green replacements and his height helped in rebounding.

Jim Dowd, reserve center, used his height to full extent off the backboards and was one of the best defensive post men. Although he did not finish the season, he was valuable enough to be a letter man.

Ray Smith was the other freshman letterman. A rugged player with a short hook shot, Ray was one of the outstanding frosh prospects until his induction just before the season ended.

Ed Carrol and Harold Jahnke, freshmen, and Carl Burkhardt, sophomore, were squadmembers who played throughout the year. Jahnke joined Dowd, Hubbard, and Ray and Brook Smith in the country's armed forces as the Cardinal bench held out seven players at the season's close.

The William Jewell Cardinal basketball team was handicapped by a late start this year as the Christmas vacation caused cancellation of practice games. The Cardinals fought all season to catch their more experienced conference foes and succeeded in the final games of the schedule. This year the transportation problem resulted in both games of the double round-robin M.C.A.U. conference schedule being played on one court, cutting traveling in half.

The Cardinals opened the 1942-43 season against Westminster, the team that later provided the biggest upset in the National Intercollegiate Tournament. Both games were gallant, hard fought battles but the Cards lost the first one 33-39 and bowed after a desperate last half rally in the second game.

Drury was included in the itinerary of the first road trip and the Cardinals found the going a bit rougher—in more ways than one—as the games almost became free-for-all fights. The Red Birds lost on successive nights to Drury and returned to the "Hill" still seeking their first victory.

More appreciative audiences produced an immediate effect in the style of play the Cardinals used. The Kansas City, Kansas, Junior College Blue Devils trailed most of the game in the first home contest but eked out a two point victory in the final minutes. This game was strictly a defensive affair, as neither team could work loose for good shots.

Culver-Stockton, reputedly the best team in the M.C.A.U., brought their "giants" to Jewell and won the first of their two games handily. However the Cardinals almost reversed the decision in the second contest with Hyder collecting 17 points and Newport hitting three consecutive buckets for a typical fighting Cardinal finish.

The second road trip the boys took found them still searching for their first conference victory. At Marshall they found it, blasting the champions' hopes for another title by turning them back 43-37 in an overtime battle. The aroused Vikings administered a thorough 62-19 spanking on the second night to save their feelings.

The best games of the season from the spectators' standpoint were the games with Central and Tarkio. Central, ultimately the conference champion, forgot to tell the Cardinals of their importance and won in the final 20 seconds in a 32-31 defensive battle that had the spectators on their feet. The Cards led several times but could not stay ahead. The second game was more to the Eagles' liking as they won another defensive game, 32-22.

The second Blue Devil game was not the low scoring affair the first had been. It was race-horse basketball from start to finish—a finish that saw the Cards leading 48-47 with ten seconds remaining only to lose, 48-49.

The Cardinal team rang down the curtain on the 1934 cage season with a rousing finish, scoring 143 points in their last two games. This was the best two game scoring effort by an M.C.A.U. team this year. Tarkio's hapless Owls were the victims, succumbing to a revitalized Big Red team which scored 63 points in the first game and 80 in the second.

Bob Shornick

. . . General Alexander Doniphan

History records the imprint of the personality of General Alexander Doniphan upon Liberty and the formative years of William Jewell. From it we know that he was courteous and modest but dynamic and forceful; intelligent and sane but ardent and boiling; graceful and accurate in expression and bold and decisive in action. He was a leader among men and a moulder of history.

His mantle has been cast upon Bob Shornick by this year's student body because Bob possesses those same virtues and graces and in their opinion is entitled to be on the roster of the Doniphan expedition that still goes marching on.

Jean Conrad

. . . . First Lady of the Campus

To smiling and modest Jean Conrad goes the honor of being "First Lady" of our campus in 1943. She is among the first in scholarship, in social and religious activities, in loyalty to the tradition and ideals of William Jewell and by popular vote in the heart of her fellow students. Her culture, intelligence, and charm will nominate her for a First Lady in other areas of life in years to come.

"The softer charm that in her manner lies
 Is framed to captivate, yet not surprise.
 It justly suits the expression of her face
 'Tis less than dignity, and more than grace."

To spill their blood that our twin Victory flags . . . . .

To be a member of the student body of an American college or university is one of the highest privileges of a young man or woman . . . a privilege which now more than ever should be utilized to its fullest extent by American youth of that age group . . . for these boys and girls, some of whom are already fighting for their ideals and their right to attend the school of their choice, will be the men and women who will make the peace that follows . . . it is their right and their duty to prepare themselves to the fullest extent for their job—the leadership, the peace-keeping, and the teaching of brotherhood to a post-war world . . .

The pictures and the printed lists of names on the preceding pages would seem just that to most people. . . but, in truth, here is a slice cut from American humanity . . . a slice labeled "American college student, 1942-43." Here are future "doctors, lawyers, merchants, chiefs—rich men, poor men, beggarmen—and perhaps . . . thieves." There are many faces and many names . . . each one is a tag for an individual. Each individual has his own interests, his own ambitions, and his own personality . . . but each individual is a member of a conglomerate whole—a whole as sharply defined among American types as the Negro or the Chinese is sharply defined among world types . . .

Yes, these pictures and these names are the American college student—boys and girls just awakened to the fact that they can think—just now forming thoughts and ideals and philosophies . . . wearing sports coats and slacks or sweaters and skirts . . . enjoying dancing or coke dates or practical jokes . . . yet spending more time than any other youths in airing and arguing and forming their own opinions. They are just now feeling their wings . . . gaining their first measure of independence. Their need is the proper guidance to the right use of their unformed ideals. That is the reason for their presence at college . . . and through the actions of the institutions of higher learning of the United States of America will these, the American college students, come to their proper places as American citizens . . . as fighters for freedom and builders of a world founded on the four concepts for which they and their nation stand—freedom of speech, freedom of religion, freedom from want . . . and freedom from fear . . . forever.

LIEUTENANT W. O. BIEL, Officer in-Charge of Naval Flight Preparatory School, William Jewell, Liberty, Missouri.

The Navy on the Hill

The war has literally crossed the threshold of William Jewell. Since January 7, when the first battalion reported, the "Hut, two, three, four" of Naval Aviation Cadets marching to and from classes in Marston Hall has mingled with the echoing greetings and laughter of the older residents on the Campus of Achievement.

New Ely, Melrose, and reconditioned Old Ely each houses its quota of the fledglings and Brown Gymnasium serves as headquarters for the staff of seventeen officers who, assisted by civilian instructors mobilized from the faculty and from the outside, direct the Cadets on the first leg of the journey toward their Navy Wings.

From the Flight Preparatory School they continue on to War Training School, Pre-flight School, the three steps of intensive flying instructions and eventually to service with the fleet.

Already two battalions have completed their course at William Jewell. Each month fresh units will enter and additional graduating units will join with the others to swell William Jewell's contribution to the war effort. Eventually, as the American forces shift into high gear the skies over distant battle grounds may well be spangled with aircraft manned by these adopted sons of the college.

Instructors in NFPS

The civilian instructors in the Naval Flight Preparatory School consists of thirty-one men and four women. Thirteen of these are alumni of William Jewell College. The qualifications of these men and women compare very favorably with those teaching in the regular college program. The degrees held by these individuals are:

- Five—Doctor of Philosophy.
- Twelve—Master of Arts.
- Seventeen—Bachelor of Arts or Science.

Many have done graduate work beyond the degree held.

The subject matter fields in which the instructors did the major part of their study for the degrees held are summarized as follows: twenty-four have a college major in mathematics or science; three in social studies; two in languages; and one each in philosophy, English psychology, physical education.

Before coming to this school the instructors were engaged in various occupations; sixteen were college teachers, nine were high school teachers; and three were engineers. Other occupations represented are printing, salespromotion, instruction in aviation ground schools and homemaking.

In addition to the above experiences, five have had military experience and two have had more than sixty hours of actual flying. The average age of the instructors is thirty-nine years—which is above the draft age—but the age range is from 21 to 59.

PHYSICAL TRAINING

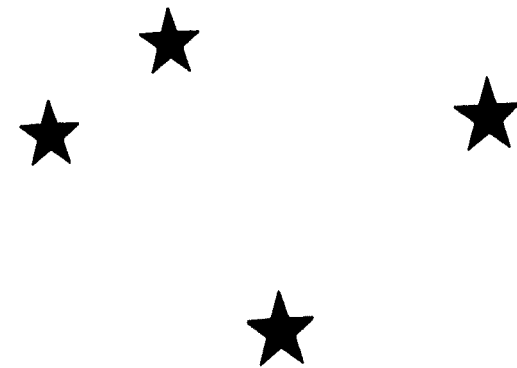

Physical fitness is more than a by-word in Naval Aviation. The Flight Preparatory School lays the instructional and competitive ground work in physical training activities, which are expanded to the utmost in variety and strenuousness in the Pre-Flight Program which follows later. The world's toughest fighting pilots are the product of the most progressive athletic plan ever instituted.

Not Too Young to Begin

Our advice to young men and women is to start now to provide for the future. The younger you are the smaller the premium you have to pay on your life insurance.
Compare our rates for your age with those that older men have to pay and figure out the financial advantage on your side.

TEAMWORK!

As more and more of America's people become directly engaged in the war effort, the value of teamwork becomes increasingly apparent. It's a value that this organization has always recognized. The smooth operation of a power system that adequately serves industry, business and the home depends upon it. Now, with our war industries dependent upon a constant, unwavering flow of electric power, each of our 2,000 workers know they are working with the army and navy, with farmers and industrial workers, on the greatest All-American team of all time.
