WILLIAM JEWELL COLLEGE Tatler

MARCIA LEE BROWN, EDITOR

LAVELLE TUCKER, BUSINESS MANAGER

DR. ROBERT C. JONES, ADVISOR

1960

The year 1960 at William Jewell College will be remembered as the year of lines. They covered the campus like a web — a network of humanity connecting all areas of college life — as more than 900 students spent the year learning the shortest distance between two points.

But there were lines other than for registration, and the cafeteria, and getting in and out of chapel; and though less tangible, perhaps they will remain far longer in the mind and the heart. The golden line of the horizon in the early morning quiet, the familiar pattern of red brick and white columns; the bold outlines of lengthening shadows across the campus, the invisible, but ever-present, lines of past and future, the legacies of yesterday, the hopes of tomorrow, inextricably bound to here and now.

Leadership

Dr. Binns Enhances William Jewell's Reputation

Dr. Walter Pope Binns, the ninth president of William Jewell College, was inaugurated November 11, 1943. During his seventeen years on the campus, he has proven himself a capable leader, achieving a successful reputation for the college.

Dr. Binns received his A.B. and D.D. degrees from Mercer University in Macon, Georgia. Before coming to William Jewell, he was pastor of the First Baptist Church of Roanoke, Virginia. During his many years of service, he has learned to understand young people and their problems; and because of his wise guidance, many students have achieved success.

While on our campus, Dr. Binns has encouraged all building programs. His views on the needs and problems of expansion have been greatly appreciated by the students.

In addition to his customary administrative duties, Dr. Binns travels thousands of miles each year for special conferences and speaking engagements. He is also Chairman of the Southern Baptist Convention Public Affairs and World Peace Committees which meet twice a year in Washington.

Vice-Presidents

DR. H. I. HESTER

Dr. H. I. Hester, Vice-President of the College, also serves as head of the Department of Religion, a position he has held for thirty-four years. A popular preacher and lecturer, Dr. Hester is also the author of numerous volumes. His latest book is entitled The Book of Books. In addition, he finds time to be President of the Board of Trustees of Midwestern Baptist Theological Seminary, President of the Missouri Baptist Historical Society, and to hold other offices in denominational organizations.

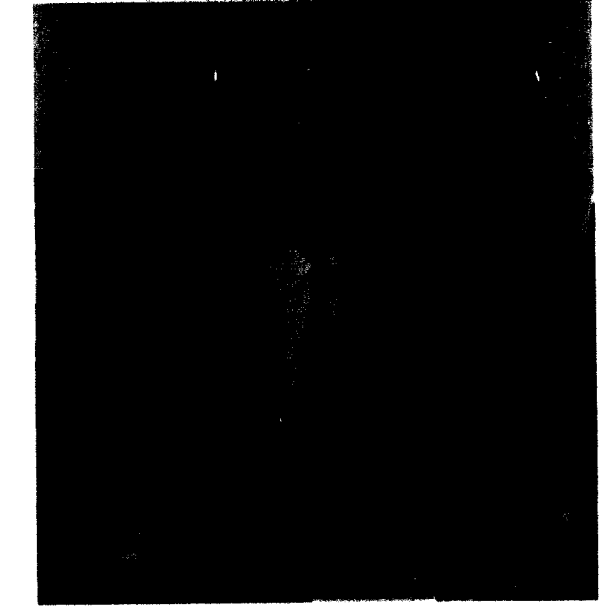

MINETRY L. JONES

The duties of Mr. Minetry L. Jones as Vice President in charge of Business Administration are many and varied. In this position he is responsible for all business affairs of the college. These include the supervision of buildings and grounds; the operation of auxiliary enterprises; the food services and book store; the business office and central purchasing office; and assistance to the Trustees in handling the investments of the college. In addition to these activities, he spends much time planning for future building projects.

DR. C. SYLVESTER GREEN

As Vice President in charge of Public Relations, Dr. C. Sylvester Green is responsible for many of the vital activities of the college. These areas of responsibility include admissions, alumni activities, publications, publicity, church-college relations, and public events. Dr. Green came to William Jewell last year from a similar position at Wake Forest College. He is author of two published books and a regular contributor to numerous secular and church periodicals, as well as active in civic affairs locally and throughout the state.

Deans

DR. GARLAND TAYLOR

William Jewell welcomes to the administration this year, Dr. Garland Taylor as Dean of the College. Dr. Taylor comes to Jewell from a position as Director of University Libraries at Tulane University in New Orleans. He holds the B.A. and M.A. degrees from Tulane and the Ph.D. from Yale University. Dr. Taylor has attended seven or eight educational conferences this year in connection with his duties. With the cooperation of the faculty extensive revisions have been made in the registration process and attempts are being made to lift academic standards.

DR. GLADYS HICKS NEWMAN

Dr. Gladys Hicks Newman served in the capacity of Visiting Dean of Women while Miss Catherine Bates was on a leave of absence for a year. Dr. Newman was Dean of Women at Baylor University for a number of years. She holds degrees from Howard Payne College. Her many duties as Dean of Women included advising many student groups and planning the social calendar and handbooks. Through her cordial friendliness in these activities Dean Newman has become well-known and liked by the students.

E. W. HOLZAPFEL

The duties of Mr. E. W. Holzapfel as Dean of Students include counseling, testing all new and transfer students, advising students in vocational fields, enrollment, class attendance records, and speaking on behalf of students at faculty meetings and alumni gatherings. He is constantly on the lookout for services that will be of benefit to the student body and is a ready and willing counselor on any matter concerning student life.

Dean Holzapfel was graduated from Westmar College and Iowa State College and came to William Jewell in 1948.

DR. F. M. DERWATTER
Head of the Department of Ancient Languages and
Professor of Greek

The aim of the Modern Language Department is to enable the student to read, to write, and to converse in the foreign language studied with some degree of fluency after having completed the two year requirement for graduation. Language and literature are important criteria which often indicate and reflect the thought, philosophy, and ideology of a nation and its people. The study of foreign languages contributes much to a better understanding of other peoples and nations. The Modern Language Department at William Jewell hopes for this reason that the student will continue his study and use of the foreign language after graduation.

This department strives to integrate foreign language study with courses offered by other departments, particularly with English and the sciences. Foreign language study develops language consciousness.

The Department of Ancient Languages aims to give its students an acquaintance with Latin and Greek vocabulary which will enable them to recognize and appreciate cognate words in their English reading; such a knowledge of syntax as will help in their understanding of the structure of the English language; and some first hand acquaintance with the treasure which we have in ancient classical literature. It aims at stirring interest in further study in the classical field and at providing a background for appreciation of the Greek New Testament.

Emphasis in Greek is upon form and syntax as the students read simple Attic prose, and biblical and non-biblical material of the Old and New Testament periods. Students of Latin not only increase their grasp of English and other foreign languages, but also develop a sensitivity to exactness and precision of mental discipline.

Department of Music

The responsibilities of a music department in a small liberal arts college toward professional education are threefold. As in any other department, the departmental major is the backbone of standards and achievement for all activities that come from the department. The first responsibility is in the development of a total person available through a broad academic program and constantly available personal guidance. Second, each graduate must be a musician of quality. Since a person teaching a non-verbal communication ultimately cannot explain but must demonstrate, each musician must be a performer. Third, the professional intentions of the student must be guided and assisted. There are five areas open to music students—teaching, music ministry, performance, business and music therapy.

In the area of general education, it is the function of the music department to provide cultural opportunities through music organizations, private study toward the end of personal pleasure, and academic courses for the understanding of music's place historically and personally. Now we are entering an area of examination of music's influence on human behavior. This influence is best understood in terms of the non-verbal function of music in the physical and psychological aspects of man's nature. It is the responsibility of the music department to see that the liberal arts student is aware of this social and psychological function of music through the study of style and form as expressions of historical men.

The music department seeks to provide an academically sound element in the general education of the non-musician and to produce musicians who are skilled and prepared to accept their responsibilities as mature citizens in contrast to the limited citizenship of conservatory trained specialists.

The basic concerns of the English Department are the teaching of composition and the teaching of literature. In both of these areas the purpose is to aid the student in learning to think clearly and logically.

The primary goal of composition is the ability to write in an organized and effective manner, an ability which is acquired through writing, revising, and rewriting. To the extent that all students are required to express themselves intelligently and intelligibly, the English Department's concern with the teaching of composition is a concern which transcends departmental boundaries and becomes interrelated with the whole process of liberal education.

The study of literature, generally, is the study of those writings which heighten one's awareness of life and the values which give life meaning. More specifically, however, the instructors, in their approach to literature, emphasize the technical aspects of literature, the fundamentals of literary criticism, and principles of analysis and interpretation.

In the Speech Department the aim is to train students to communicate valid ideas effectively. The ideas they must draw from their own experiences, their readings and studies in other areas. However, in certain areas of speech, such as interpretation and drama, the student may be expressing the ideas of others. Since the listener's viewpoint must also be considered, some emphasis is given to critical listening.

Outgrowths of the Speech Department are the dramatics and forensics activities.

Man plays two roles. In his economic role he wrests from the world his living and gives in return his productive services. His other role is as a free human being responsible for preserving his heritage of liberal institutions and ideas and for making them better year by year. The Economics Department prefers to believe that he is likely to play both roles better if he is familiar with economics and business. It is our aim to stimulate his interest in business and economics and to help him become familiar with the institutions and processes that yield the flow of goods and services that are essential to our living.

Political Science is the study of the abstract nature of the state and other political institutions, of man's efforts to govern himself, to create governments and states, and to control his social destiny. Students survey not only present-day state systems but those the past in the light of contributions which they make to modern political philosophy.

Another large area of the social sciences is covered by the History Department. The aims of this department are to assist the student to know what has been accomplished by man in the past, to understand how man has been able to progress, to see the things that have hindered man in his upward climb and thereby aid the student to fit himself more fully into the society of his own day. Students are urged to acquire historical facts but, more than that, to properly relate them to the unfolding picture of man from generation to generation.

The History Department is particularly interested in emphasizing to its students the importance and value of research. This is done through the writing of term papers, and reports on special topics, which require of the student the gathering of facts, the interpretation of them, the organization of them and the use of the best techniques in the writing of the papers.

MISS LUTHE CHILDS

MR. RODNEY H. COFRAN
Instructor in Art

Departments of Education and Art

The Department of Education seeks to accomplish four goals in its teaching program: (1) to introduce to the student the place of Education in the society of today; (2) to prepare students for the teaching profession by helping them acquire a knowledge and understanding of the psychology of growth and the principles of learning; (3) to give to students a working knowledge of the materials of the profession; (4) to help students to acquire knowledge, special information and skills which are necessary for effective study.

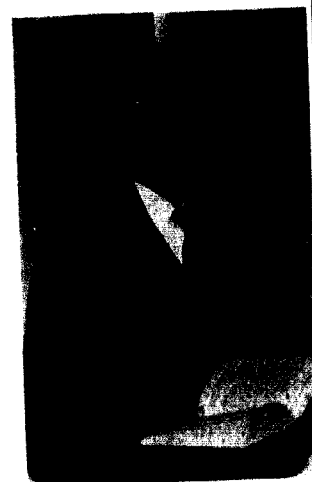

Education students participate in a variety of activities during the school year. Annually an Education Workshop is held on the Jewell campus; students prepare exhibits and help to conduct the workshop. Other activities which provide practical experience for students include visiting regular and special classrooms in schools in Liberty and the surrounding Kansas City area, interviewing parents and talking and working with children, directing playgrounds, and attending professional meetings.

Students in elementary and secondary education undergo a semester of practice teaching during their senior years, under the supervision of a regular classroom teacher. Such practical experience complements the academic requirements of the Education Department and gives the student a preview of the profession which they are preparing to enter.

The Education Department expects its students to think critically and independently and to compare, evaluate, and intelligently express their ideas; to demonstrate social competence with adults, children, and co-workers; and to develop a genuine appreciation for learning.

Students interested in art are afforded the opportunity to work closely with instructor, Rod Cofran, in the areas of their particular interest. In art classes students learn and develop such skills as drawing, water-coloring, oil painting, working with pastels, crayon, charcoal, and other media.

In addition, instruction is given in developing perspective, in the use of brush and palette knife, and in other areas of technique and skill.

MR. W. MURRAY HUNT, JR.

Departments of Religion and Philosophy

The aims of the Religion Department are several in nature. It intends to impart to the student an understanding of the historical fact of Christianity. Further the department aids the student in interpreting the facts and ideas of the Christian faith. Finally, the department aims at giving the student a foundation for further professional study in theological and divinity schools.

Each semester the Department of Religion enrolls an average of 400 students. About 100 of these are taking elective advanced courses. The department has contributed towards realizing a life of service in the ministry, in missions, in Christian education, and other vocational areas.

The goals for this department may be briefly stated as striving to achieve smaller classes in the required religion courses. A third professor, Dr. Barclay Newman, has been employed by the college which should help us to accomplish this goal. Further, it is a goal of the department to acquire and use more and better visual devices as an aid to teaching. Upgrading the holdings in religious books in the library is before us. The department hopes to make a worthy contribution to the development of education.

The philosophy classes are occasions for lively personal encounter with those thinkers who, whether they be professional philosophers or not, illuminate in any significant way the inescapable questions concerning the meaning and purpose of human existence. Continuous efforts are made to adapt texts, procedures, and tests to provide a natural and creative communion of mind unhindered by needless technicalities and artificialities. Consequently, persons preparing for a wide variety of careers find the courses valuable in unstiffening their minds, enlarging their horizons, enhancing their sensibilities and developing their capacity for independent judgment.

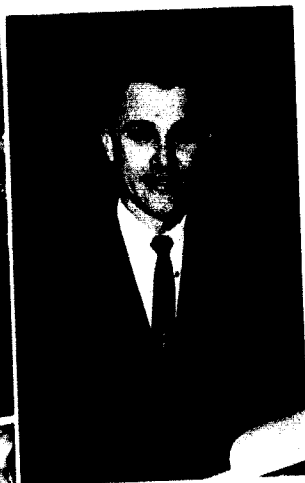

To implement these objectives, the Philosophy Department usually confronts the students with the great thinkers through their own works. In this way the students are forced to come to grips with a variety of standpoints in their most attractive and effective form. They are also more likely to enter into dialogue both with these great minds and with the students and instructors in the classes. Thus, students develop skill in independent and creative thinking.

Sociology is the scientific study of human relations. Like the other social sciences, sociology differs from the physical sciences in that it must reckon with the meanings which objects, people, and relationships have for the units under study — men in social relationships. Also unlike the physical sciences, sociology must consider men's wills and the purposes they pursue. Its subject matter is the behavior of individuals and groups of individuals, and its purpose is the development of social theory which is useful in prediction of social behavior and in understanding why social life changes over the years.

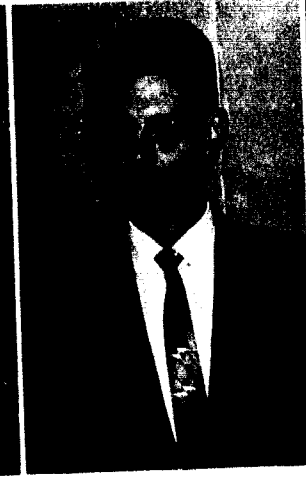

The application of sociological principles may be seen in many of the social institutions of the community. As much as possible, the students are encouraged to participate in some of these activities. Field trips are arranged, when possible, to provide an introduction to these applied aspects of sociology. The students are required to participate in ongoing projects designed to collect data and teach the methods of social research, and are encouraged, and whenever possible, assisted in attending professional meetings.

The aim of teaching in psychology is, in a nutshell, the inculcation in the students of a critical, objective attitude towards the study of human behavior. To achieve this aim, the instructors employ the scientific methodology in so far as it is applicable to the special problems of the field.

This is, writes Dr. J. H. Griffiths, "no mean task for two reasons: (1) the students for the most part come to the study of psychology with an impediment of a mass of misconceptions regarding the nature of human nature which reflect uncritically accepted viewpoints and which the student is often loathe to review because of emotional implications; (2) the student himself is the subject matter of the field of investigation. The teacher of psychology, especially in a small liberal arts college, has to be more than just a classroom guide to learning; he is necessarily involved in counseling procedures and must feel obligated to help the individual student who manifests emotional disturbance to attain a more mature and objective attitude towards himself as well as towards his fellows."

The aim of the E. S. Pillsbury Department of Physics is to present a program of studies that will meet the needs of the physicist, the chemist, the mathematician, the engineer, the doctor and the layman. This varies from a three semester hour course for the layman to four years of physics for the future physicist.

The Physics Department occupies eighteen rooms including 7600 square feet of floor space in Marston Hall. Physics equipment and laboratory supplies are valued at about $90,000. An adequate budget makes it possible to purchase needed new equipment each year.

The graduates of the Department of Physics have a record of achievement that has received national recognition. William Jewell ranks 18th among colleges and universities in the United States in percent of its physics graduates in American Men of Science.

The Department of Mathematics has two basic purposes. The first is to provide those courses in mathematics which are considered a part of liberal arts training. In addition to the purely liberal arts courses, the department offers courses or topics within courses of training which will be of service to the science and professional student.

Among the changes in curriculum, 1958-1960, is a speed-up course in first year mathematics entitled "Calculus with Analytical Geometry" and a course in "Abstract Algebra" for advanced students.

A student who comes to William Jewell College with a very strong background in mathematics can build on his good foundation with twenty-eight semester hours of mathematics and qualify for a major. The student with a good background of high school mathematics can do the work for a major in thirty-two semester hours.

The James Andrew Yates Department of Chemistry is one of the endowed departments of the college. Mr. William F. Yates of Richmond, Missouri, has given over $275,000 for the endowment of the department in memory of his son, James Andrew Yates.

Chemistry is one of the basic, fundamental sciences. The courses in chemistry prepare one for graduate study in chemistry, the study of medicine, engineering, teaching, and for positions in industry and government work. Each year a number of students receive awards in the form of fellowships or teaching assistantships for graduate study in chemistry or in the study of medicine.

At the present time, there are eleven former students studying medicine and three are doing graduate work in chemistry. This year five students have received awards for graduate study in chemistry.

Today, a knowledge of biology is essential for the proper solution of many of our social problems. The Biology Department of William Jewell College is well equipped with modern laboratories to aid in the development of a liberal arts education for those who wish only a minimum requirement in science and at the same time to prepare students of biology for graduate study or for specialization. Among biology majors who have gone on for advanced degrees are doctors, lawyers, ministers, journalists, teachers, and businessmen of whom we are justly proud.

The basic aims of the Biology Department in short are to acquaint the student with the philosophy and history of ideas of biology and their relation to sociological and economical problems as well as their relation to other sciences, create a sense of awareness of surroundings, and produce scientific literacy.

MR. JAMES NELSON
Assistant Director of Physical Education and Head Basketball Coach

The Physical Education Department regards physical education as a part of the general education program for all students. The courses are designed to provide instruction in skills, knowledge of rules, strategy of games, and appreciation of leisure time activities for present and future use.

The student majoring in physical education receives, in addition to a liberal arts background, a broad professional basis in education. Specifically, the physical education major will receive training and guidance on skills, knowledge of rules, strategy of games, and coaching and officiating techniques exceeding those competencies expected of a non-major. Each major student must have a working knowledge of several activities in each of the main categories of aquatics, team sports, individual sports, gymnastics, combatives, and self-testing activities.

However, it is the aim of the department to serve every student by providing a variety of experiences for all levels of ability and interest. Under the basic program each student receives instruction in a minimum of four of the following activities: Tennis, Swimming, Golf, Handball, Weight-Training, Trampoline, Tumbling, Wrestling, Boxing, Soccer, Speedball, Archery, Bowling, Badminton, Volleyball, Modern Dance, Square Dance, and Gymnastics.

The men's intramural program provides competition in touch football, golf, handball, table tennis, horseshoes, basketball, volleyball, softball, track and field, swimming, cross-country and badminton. Women's intramural activity includes basketball, volleyball, swimming, softball, tennis, table tennis, and badminton.

The Board of Trustees of William Jewell College is composed of men—ministers and laymen—who devote great amounts of time to consideration of the affairs of the College. The Board meets as a whole twice a year: on Achievement Day in November, and at Commencement. The Executive Committee of the Board holds monthly meetings at the office of the chairman.

These trustees are charged by charter with full responsibility for setting policies and administering control of the College. Throughout the years the Trustees have been generous with both their time and their money in the advancements of the institution. They have committees at work continuously planning for the development and expansion of the college; and individually and as a whole are always cooperative with the administration in meeting day-to-day problems in the life of the College.

Student Senate Organizes Student Affairs

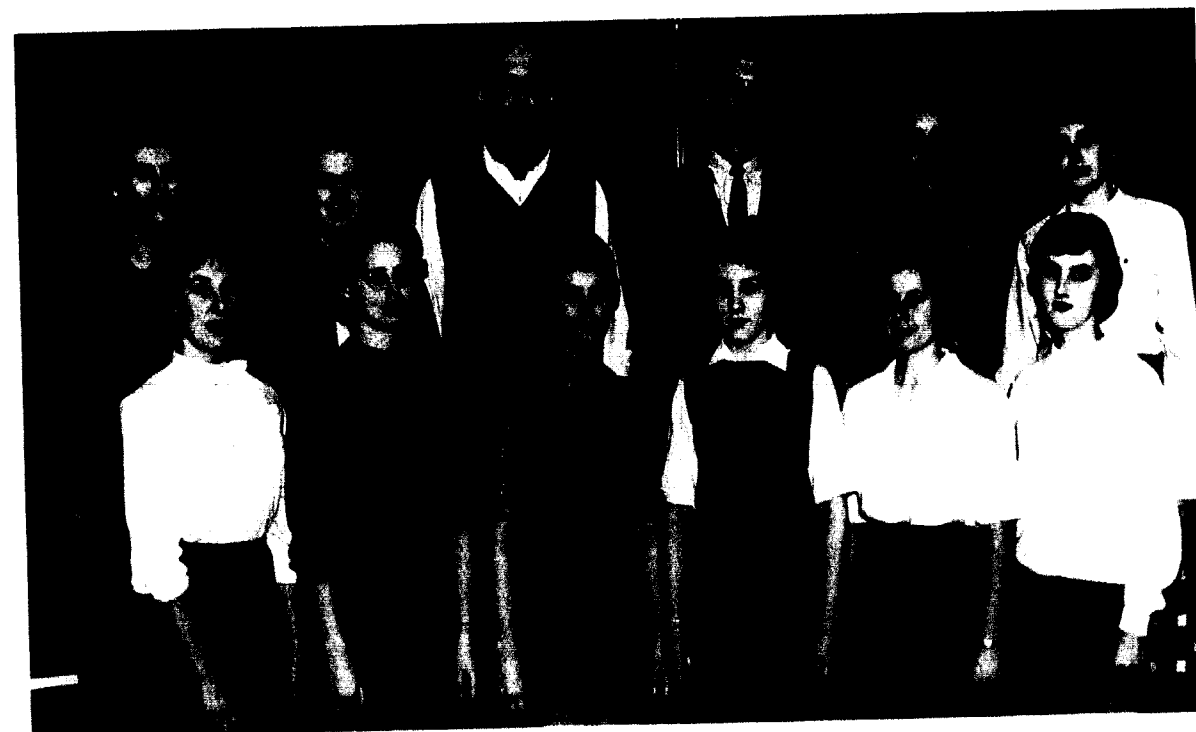

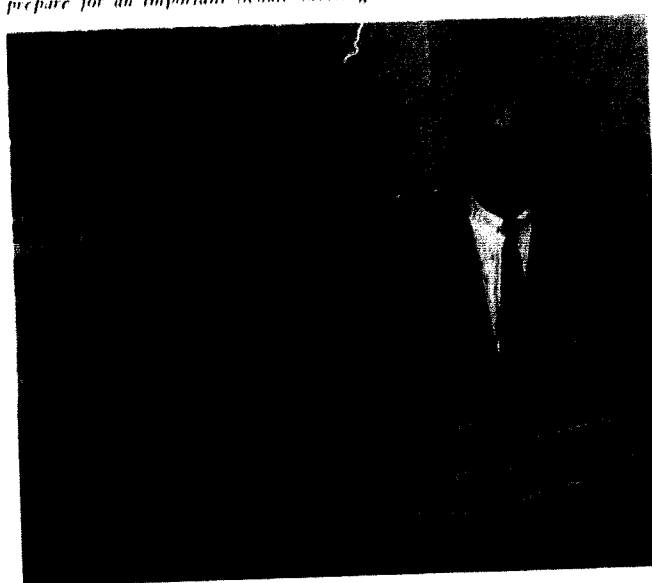

The Student Senate, composed of representatives of all areas of the student body, is the coordinator of most campus activities. The All-School Picnic, Homecoming, Cardinal Capers (formerly Rhythm Roundup), class officer and cheerleader elections, and the publication of the school handbook are among the major activities of the Senate. The Senate is also ultimately responsible for the functioning of the student publications through its membership on the Board of Control.

The Chairman of the Student Senate is the Student Body President who is elected each year by the students. The Secretary-Treasurer of the Senate is elected by the Senate from its membership. Other members include the president, vice-president, secretary, and treasurer of each class; the President of the College Union Board; and one representative from each of the sororities and fraternities, one off-campus and one on-campus non-affiliated student.

Committees of the Senate carry on the bulk of the work. These committees are in the areas of academic affairs, campus grounds, chapel, orientation, school spirit, senate organization, and student affairs. Senate members are assisted by selected non-senate members. These committees are coordinated by the executive committee consisting of the Student Body President, Secretary-Treasurer, public relations director of the Senate, and the National Student Association Coordinator.

"LET'S SEE WHAT'S ON THE AGENDA!" says President David Burhans to Secretary-Treasurer Peggy Wilson as they prepare for an important Senate meeting.

David Burhans, Student Body President, attended the National Student Body Presidents' Conference and was joined by Gary Flack, National Student Association Coordinator, and Peggy Wilson, Secretary-Treasurer, for the 12th Annual National Student Congress at the University of Illinois in Champaign-Urbana, Illinois.

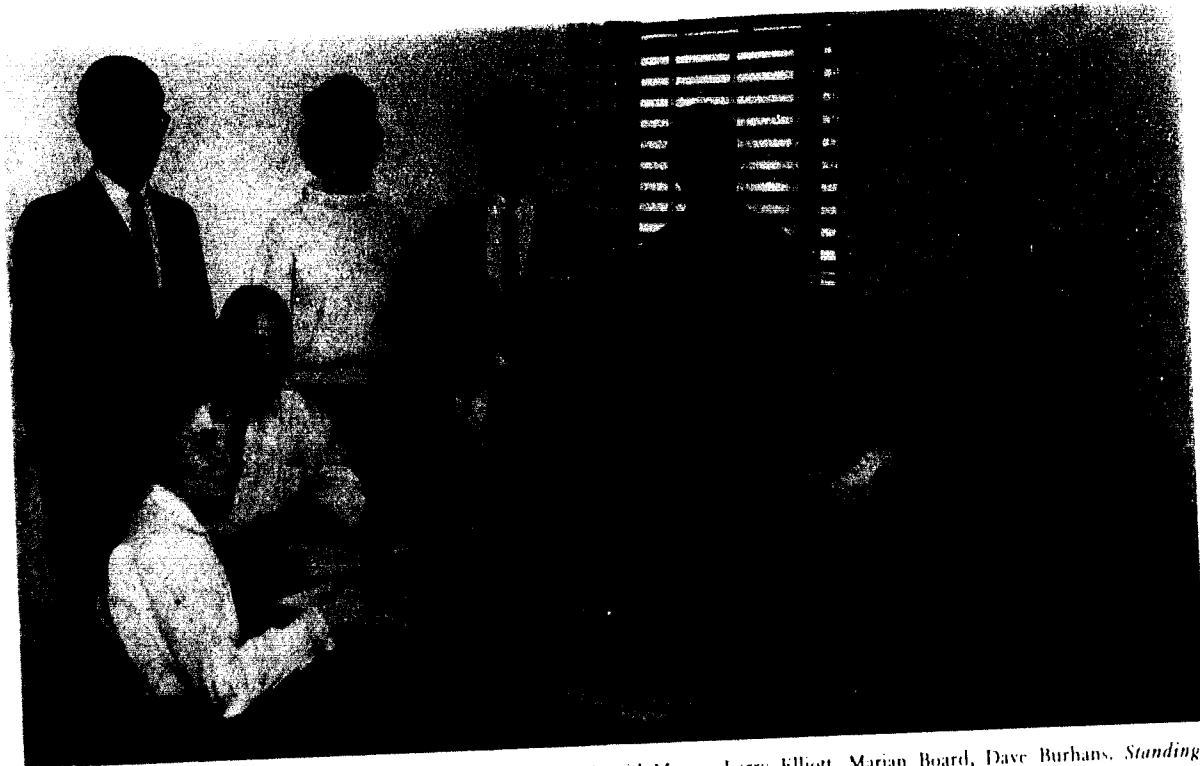

Fifteen delegates along with two faculty members and nine administration members went to the Lake of the Ozarks for the annual Fall Encampment.

Included in the plans for next year is the establishment of an honorary organization for freshman men which will be under the direction of the academic affairs committee. It was this committee which set up the tutoring program in the language department. A completely new orientation program will be installed next fall under the direction of the orientation committee.

UNION BOARD—Seated: Myra Lane, Rod Swearingen, Dr. David Moore, Larry Elliott, Marian Board, Dave Burhans. Standing: Bill Dunbar, Jo Hawkins, Dr. Frank Edson, Wayne Rudloff.

Union Board Activities Greatly Expanded

The College Union Board has been organized to serve the campus in cultural, educational, recreational, and social activities. It is responsible to the college administration for its actions. The Union Board has been named for a College Union rather than a Student Union because it is for the use of faculty and administration as well as students.

The Union Board is closely united with the Student Senate through several connections: The Union Board President is a voting member of the Senate, and the Student Body President is a member of the Union Board; the president of the Board must report the activities to the Student Senate; the appointment of the Board members must be approved by a two-thirds vote of the Senate.

The William Jewell College Union was opened in the fall of 1957 to provide a community center for the entire college family. It further strives to unify all segments of college life.

The College Union Board is the student-faculty board which is responsible for the all-campus activities program. The members include the Union Director, seven student directors, and two faculty members. The students on the board are upper-classmen who have exhibited service to the campus life and have established themselves as leaders. The president and secretary of the board are elected from the student members.

The students on the board are known as Student Directors and each one is responsible for a particular area. The areas are further divided and are supervised by Committee Chairmen. The Publicity Committee, the Personnel Director, and the Business Manager are directly responsible to the secretary of the Union Board. The Recreation area is subdivided into the committees of Ping Pong, Bridge, Tours, Shuffleboard, Crafts and Hobbies, and the Game-of-the-Week. Another specific area concerns parties and receptions. The committees include Homecoming, Achievement Day, Tree Trimming, Christmas Party, Winterfest, Spring Festival, After-Game-Parties, and After-Movie-Parties. The Communication Director guides the leaders of Special Demonstrations, Campus Talent, News Service, Forums, Faculty Teas, and the Married Students Program. The last division is that of Special Programs and includes Movies, Art Shows, Special Arts, Special Music Programming, and the very important Concert-Lecture Series. The chairmen of these committees constitute a group known as the College Union Council.

The Student Activities Council operated on a budget of more than $2000. This figure did not include the Concert-Lecture Series which had a separate account. The total breaks down into slightly more than $2 per student.

The newly organized committee pertaining to concerts and lectures under the chairmanship of Bootsie Porter proved to be very successful. Being the largest of the committees with over twenty-five members the group was able to sponsor four excellent evenings of entertainment. The season began with the appearance of Meredith Willson and his wife, Rini, on October 23. They presented a night of wit and music in which Mr. Willson reminded about his boyhood in Iowa and then was joined by his wife in presenting a sketch of the "Music Man." The Roger Wagner Chorale provided a delightful program of music on January 9. The group consisting of twenty-four voices and an accompanying chamber orchestra had just completed a tour of Latin American countries and were conducting their fifth tour of the United States and Canada. The third guest in the series was Will Rogers, Jr. who lectured about his famous father in a program called "As Will Rogers Saw It." Receptions were held in the Union lounge after each of the three programs to honor the well-known guests. The last performance, which was sponsored by the Union Board in conjunction with the Student Senate, was the Cell Block Seven and their dixieland jazz music at the Cardinal Capers.

Other highlights of the year were the ping pong, bridge, and shuffleboard tournaments in which the students competed for prizes, the displays of award-winning paintings in the lounge, and the sledding party held during one of the large snows of the season.

The Committee in charge of the news brings the latest events happening throughout the country to the attention of students as they broadcast at intervals during the day. An experiment was also made in setting up a radio service for the college.

UNION COMMITTEES play an important role in the success of all Union activities.

Cardinal Capers Replaces Rhythm Round-Up

Cardinal Capers was presented this year as the successful replacement of the Old Rhythm Round-up. The newly organized event was sponsored by the Student Senate in cooperation with the College Union Board, and was directed by co-chairmen Martha Johnson and Norman Bowman.

The schedule included a picnic for all students held in the Student Union Cafeteria. The buffet consisted of barbecued beef sandwiches, baked beans, potato chips, and ice cream served by members of the faculty.

The entertainment of the evening was also held indoors in the gymnasium because of the unexpected rain. The program began with songs presented by each of the seven Greek organizations on campus. Unlike Rhythm Roundup there was no competition among the Greek groups. The main attraction of the night was provided by the Cell Block Seven, who presented several hours of lively music. The group consists of seven dixieland jazz musicians from Southern Methodist University in Dallas, Texas, who have been working together since December, 1952.

Panhellenic

The purpose of the Senior Panhellenic Council is to promote a spirit of cooperation among the three national sororities on the campus. Composed of representatives from each group, the members meet twice a month with their advisor, Mrs. Gladys Newman, dean of women.

The Panhellenic Council sets up the rushing rules to be published in the handbook for new students, discuss mutual problems, and supervises the formal rush week procedures. In the spring of each year the Council sponsors a banquet for alumnae, members, and guests of the sororities. Mrs. Wesley Warner, Providence President of Zeta Tau Alpha, was the speaker at the dinner.

Junior Panhellenic

Promoting cooperation and good relations among the pledge classes is the underlying purpose of the Junior Panhellenic Council. Initiated eight years ago by the Senior Council, the group consists of three representatives from each sorority pledge class.

The Junior Panhellenic Council is organized on the same basis as the Senior Council and it serves them in various ways. The major project of the girls is to help the admissions department find accommodations and entertainment for prospective women students who are visiting the campus.

By working together the members are trained for positions on the Senior Panhellenic Council.

Interfraternity Council

The Interfraternity Council is designed to develop and promote better understanding and closer relationships among the four fraternities on the campus and between the fraternities and the college administration. Through the common ground of discussion of mutual problems, the council helps to promote the spirit of cooperation and friendliness, make and enforce the rushing rules, and decide the general policy in campus affairs.

The Interfraternity Council is composed of the presidents and one other representative from each organization who hold meetings at least once each month. Murray Hunt served as the faculty advisor.

House Councils

The House Councils from top to bottom are the House Presidents' Council, Jones Hall, Melrose Hall, and Semple Hall. House Councils of the individual dorms are composed of representatives from each wing of the dorm, the dormitory president, a social chairman, and the house director. They meet "after hours" weekly to discuss problems that arise in the wings and are responsible for giving demerits and seeing that quiet hours are enforced. Problems of a more general or serious nature or suggestions for better dormitory living are taken to the House Presidents' Council made up of the president of each dorm, the wing president from each sorority, and the Dean of Women. They also meet weekly to discuss matters affecting all women students and to hear appeals of "late minutes."

Parties and get-togethers were held in each dorm for the residents throughout the year. Semple Hall girls celebrated Halloween with a party in the main lounge at which the girl with the most original Halloween mask was chosen. After the entertainment the girls enjoyed the doughnuts and apple cider. During the Christmas season Semple Hall again held open house for faculty members, parents and friends. All the rooms were decorated in a Christmas theme and cake and punch were served. Other celebrations included a Valentine party and a May Day party honoring seniors and brides.

The girls of Jones Hall welcomed their new house director, Mrs. Prince, with a lively Halloween party. Several other parties were held through the year including a Christmas party at which carols were sung and gifts were exchanged, a Valentine party, and a going away party in the spring.

No one's birthday is forgotten at Melrose Hall, for each month the girls get together in the recreation room for a party honoring everyone who has had a birthday during that month. In October the celebration took the form of a Halloween party with costumes, prizes and refreshments. The Christmas season brought the traditional Christmas party, followed in April by an Easter party.

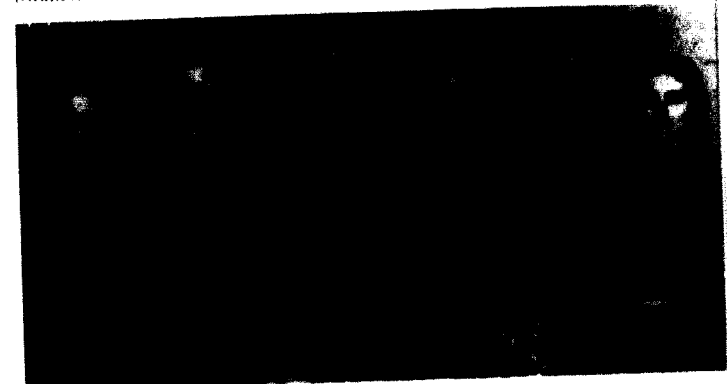

In February Dean Gladys Newman with the assistance of the House Presidents' Council gave a Sadie Hawkins Tea in the College Union. Guests at this tea were commuters, new second semester women students, and members of the administration.

FORMAL ACHIEVEMENT DAY CONVOCATION is held to honor Billy Graham, Grady Wilson, and five outstanding Jewell alumni.

Alumni Return for Achievement Day

Many forums, alumni awards, honorary degrees, and a dinner at the Hotel Muehlebach were included in the activities of the sixteenth annual Achievement Day, November 3, 1959. This year Jewell was especially honored to have the internationally known evangelist, Rev. Billy Graham, as speaker both for the morning convocation and for the Achievement Day dinner.

The day began with the five alumni honorees and five previously honored leaders conducting ten student forums. Supplementary leader, Dr. William E. King, is pastor of the Maywood Baptist Church, Independence; Jack Henry is a Kansas City merchant; Randall S. Jessee of Kansas City is the Executive Director of the Metropolitan Area Planning Council; Dr. W. Wallace Greene, also of Kansas City, is a physician; and Mrs. Mary Margaret Mayfield is a Jefferson City public school teacher.

The forums were followed by a formal convocation which drew an overflow crowd of students and other interested persons to Gano Chapel. During the ceremonies Billy Graham and his associate, Grady B. Wilson, received honorary doctor's degrees, and Dr. Binns presented awards to the five alumni who were honored for outstanding achievement in their chosen professions. Dr. Paul Chester Sharrah, '36, Fayetteville, Ark., was a visiting lecturer here for the Summer Science Foundation Program. He did graduate work at Brown University, and received his doctor's degree at the University of Missouri. Since then, he has been at the University of Arkansas, the Naval Ordinance Laboratory (Washington, D.C.), and at Oak Ridge working on X-ray and neutron diffraction. He has written much for scientific journals and is an active church layman.

Graham. Following this, Graham, Wilson, and other members of the party were guests at a private luncheon for honorees, school trustees, and Dr. Binns.

The annual Achievement Day dinner was held at 7 p.m. in the Grand Ballroom of the Hotel Muehlebach. The program included entertainment by the A Cappella Choir, and Billy Graham was again the principal speaker. The evangelist, an ordained Baptist minister whose headquarters is in Minneapolis, Minn., is a graduate of Wheaton College, Wheaton, Ill. He has conducted outstanding evangelistic campaigns in many leading cities including New York. His campaigns in England and Australia were highly successful. On leaving Jewell, he went to Africa for an extensive missionary campaign.

Graham gained nationwide recognition in 1949, and has since spoken to over twenty-two million persons in America and several foreign countries. His television program, "The Hour of Decision," and his widely read books have contributed to his reputation as a world figure. Rev. Graham came to William Jewell in succession to fifteen men of outstanding importance to the national and international scene.

Who's Who Lists Fifteen Seniors

"Who's Who in American Colleges and Universities" is a national publication which recognizes the achievements of students in over 700 colleges and universities. This year William Jewell is proud that fifteen outstanding seniors will be listed.

In the fall each year a faculty committee meets to choose those students who they feel are qualified for listing in the publication. The qualifications are set by the publication board and are sent in the form of a letter to the college.

The faculty committee, which is representative of all phases of campus life, meets the first time to suggest possible names for the group. At a later meeting, a careful evaluation of each student's qualifications in the areas of scholarship, leadership, service, and future promise of service in the community is made and the members selected.

Announcement of those chosen is made in the Student, and later in the year certificates are presented to them in Chapel.

Students selected for listing this year have been outstanding in extra-curricular activities as well as distinguishing themselves in their various areas of academic specialization. Art Carder of Liberty and Tom Lewis of Kansas City, Kansas, majored in chemistry. Charles Dale Durbin of Independence was a math major, while Ed Elliot of Gran Valley and Cara Rodenbach of McPherson, Kansas, were outstanding in physical education. The English Department was well-represented by Martha LaFrenz of Liberty, Myra Lane of St. Louis, and Rod Swearingen of St. Joseph. Other campus leaders selected for listing were Wilma Lee Grove of Pleasant Hill, a speech major; Vanita Holtby of Whiting, Kansas, a biology major; Suzanne Johnson of Lombard, Illinois, a political science major; Anna Margaret Kepley of Kansas City, an elementary education major; Stan Lemons of Paoli, Pennsylvania, a history major; Martha Mathews of North Reading, Massachusetts, a music major; Lenny Poppenhagen of Chillicothe, a business major.

According to records in the Alumni Office, achievements of previous "Who's Who" members since their graduation are in keeping with the leadership they demonstrated while on the William Jewell campus.

Colonel Alexander Doniphan

GEORGE ARTHUR CARDER

Colonel Alexander Doniphan, the famed hero who led his men in the longest march of the Mexican War in 1846, is the most celebrated and best known name connected with the history of William Jewell College. Each year the student body traditionally selects one senior man who they feel possesses the qualities of leadership which characterized Colonel Alexander Doniphan.

Art Carder of Liberty was voted this year as Colonel Alexander Doniphan, the senior man most likely to "march farthest in life." Art's activities include Acons, "Who's Who," Kappa Alpha Secretary, Sophomore Class President, Freshman Class Vice President, Co-Captain of Varsity Football and Track, All-Conference Football, American Chemical Society, Beta Beta Beta, "J" Club, BSU, and Tatler Revue Co-Chairman. Art is a pre-med student and plans to attend Washington University after graduation.

First Lady of the Campus

WILMA LEE GROVE

The student body also annually selects the most outstanding senior woman who receives the title, First Lady of the Campus. This year Wilma Lee Grove of Pleasant Hill was chosen as the senior woman representing the finest type of womanhood and possessing the qualities of leadership and character found in Colonel Alexander Doniphan.

Wilma's activities on the campus were varied. She was elected to Panaegis, listed in "Who's Who," served as Beta Sigma Omicron President, Big Sister Council Vice President, and was a member of Alpha Lambda Delta and Pi Kappa Delta. Wilma also helped organize the '59 Tatler Revue as Co-Chairman, was Attendant in the Homecoming Court, was active on the debate squad, and played the part of Julie Jordan in "Carousel." After graduation Wilma plans to attend graduate school. Upon completing her graduate work she will teach speech.

Panaegis . . . Senior Women's Honorary

The highest honor that can come to a William Jewell woman is the tiny gold key on which is inscribed the image of Athena, the goddess of wisdom, identifying a member of Panaegis. Five outstanding women from last year's Junior Class were selected for membership.

Wilma Grove, a speech major from Pleasant Hill, was elected First Lady of the Campus, listed in "Who's Who," was Beta Sigma Omicron President, and was very active in dramatic and musical productions.

Suzanne Johnson of Lombard, Illinois, served Alpha Delta Pi as President. She was also active in athletics acting as W.R.A. President. Sue was listed in "Who's Who" and was a member of several groups connected with her major, political science.

Martha LaFrenz of Liberty graduated at the end of first semester with a major in English. "Murt" was particularly adept in this field winning first place in the Susie Ray Robinson Poetry Contest. She was also Beta Sigma Omicron President, listed in "Who's Who" and very active in athletics and various honorary groups.

Myra Lane who hails from St. Louis was also an English major. Myra participated in a wide variety of campus activities which included Panhellenic, Rhythm Round-Up and Tatler Revue Co-Chairman, College Union Board, and several honoraries. She also served Alpha Gamma Delta as President and was listed in "Who's Who."

Martha Mathews from North Reading, Massachusetts, distinguished herself in the field of music. A member of Alpha Delta Pi, "Marty" was also listed in "Who's Who," was La Camerata President, BSM State President, and held membership in a number of honorary organizations.

One event practiced and enjoyed each year is a breakfast held by Panaegis and Aeons on the morning of Baccalaureate Sunday.

Aeons . . . Senior Men's Honorary

Aeons is a self-perpetuating group which chooses its members each year from the outstanding men of the Junior Class. Members of this secret society are recognized only by the small crossed keys badge and their attempts to bring about higher thought and action on the campus.

James Banning, a psychology major from Kansas City was active in student government serving as President of the Junior Class. Jim was also Lambda Chi Alpha President, Interfraternity Council President, BSM President, and a Co-Chairman of Religious Focus Week.

Art Carder from Liberty, who earned many honors in chemistry, was also well-known as an all-round athlete serving as Co-Captain on both the Varsity Football and Varsity Track teams. Art was also selected Colonel Alexander Doniphan, listed in "Who's Who," served as Tatler Revue Co-Chairman and as secretary of Kappa Alpha.

Stan Lemons, a history major, who hails from Paoli, Pennsylvania, favored dramatics, participating in a majority of the Players' productions during his years at Jewell. Stan was also Lambda Chi President, listed in "Who's Who," and a member of the championship Cross-Country team.

Ollie Parker, an economics major from Louisiana served as Kappa Alpha President, a member of Student Senate, Tatler Revue Co-Chairman, and participated in football, basketball, and intramurals.

Rod Swearingen, an English major from St. Joseph, divided his time between his various presidencies. Listed in "Who's Who" and a member of "J" Club, Rod was also Phi Gamma Delta President, College Union Board President, Sigma Tau Delta President, and Varsity Tennis Squad Captain.

Staff members who are Aeons are Mr. Tom Bray, Dr. Edson, and Mr. Cuthbertson. Dr. Binns is an honorary member.

Sigma Pi Sigma

The William Jewell College chapter of Sigma Pi Sigma was founded in 1930. Students with above average grades in physics and all subjects are invited to become members.

Special guests are invited to the monthly meetings to participate in the programs and to listen to papers presented by the students. One outstanding event of the year was the regional conference in which William Jewell acted as host to thirteen other schools.

Kappa Mu Epsilon

Kappa Mu Epsilon is the national honorary mathematics fraternity established in 1931 for the purpose of encouraging students to delve more deeply into the study of mathematics and related fields. Gamma chapter was installed at William Jewell College in 1947.

To be eligible for initiation a student must be taking calculus or another advanced course. He must also have a general grade point average above that of the student body and have excelled in all courses prerequisite to calculus.

American Chemical Society

Any student in good standing and majoring in chemistry may be a Student Affiliate of the American Chemical Society. Other interested students enrolled in chemistry courses may be associates of the Society.

This organization offers an opportunity for the students of chemistry and chemical engineering to develop to the fullest their potential in their particular fields. Due to the high emphasis of the department and the chapter, many former students of ACS have gained distinction in chemistry.

Sigma Tau Delta

Sigma Tau Delta is the creative writers' society on the Jewell campus. Two opportunities to submit pieces of writing for evaluation by present members are offered to students each year. Members are selected on the basis of this evaluation.

Monthly meetings are held in Liberty homes and Yates College Union to which guest speakers are often invited. Sigma Tau Delta again took part this year in sponsoring The Gryphon, a publication featuring selected writings of students.

Phi Sigma Iota

Phi Sigma Iota, the national Romance Language Honor Society, sponsored by Dr. P. T. McCarty and Miss Ruth McDaniel, encourages high scholarship and individual research in this field.

There are a great number of international students who feel the need of communications between peoples of the world. This adds to the belief of Phi Sigma Iota that the breaking down of the language barrier can be a great deterrent to misunderstanding between countries of the world.

Alpha Lambda Delta

Alpha Lambda Delta is the national freshman women's honorary society. Those girls who make a 3.5 grade average either the first semester of their freshman year or as a combination of the first two semesters are invited to join. Pledging and initiation for the group was held in the spring.

The purpose of the organization is to stimulate and further academic development during college years. Miss Latic Chiles and Mrs. Lydia Lovan acted as sponsors and Tom Bolenbaugh was this year's president.

La Camerata

La Camerata was organized on the campus to stimulate interest in the music program and to provide experience and opportunity for the attainment of musical skills and tastes. Membership is open to music majors with eight hours of music and a 2.5 grade average or five hours with a grade point average of 3.0.

La Camerata co-sponsors with the Department of Music the Senior Recitals of the music majors. Programs given at the meetings are designed to demonstrate the place of music in life.

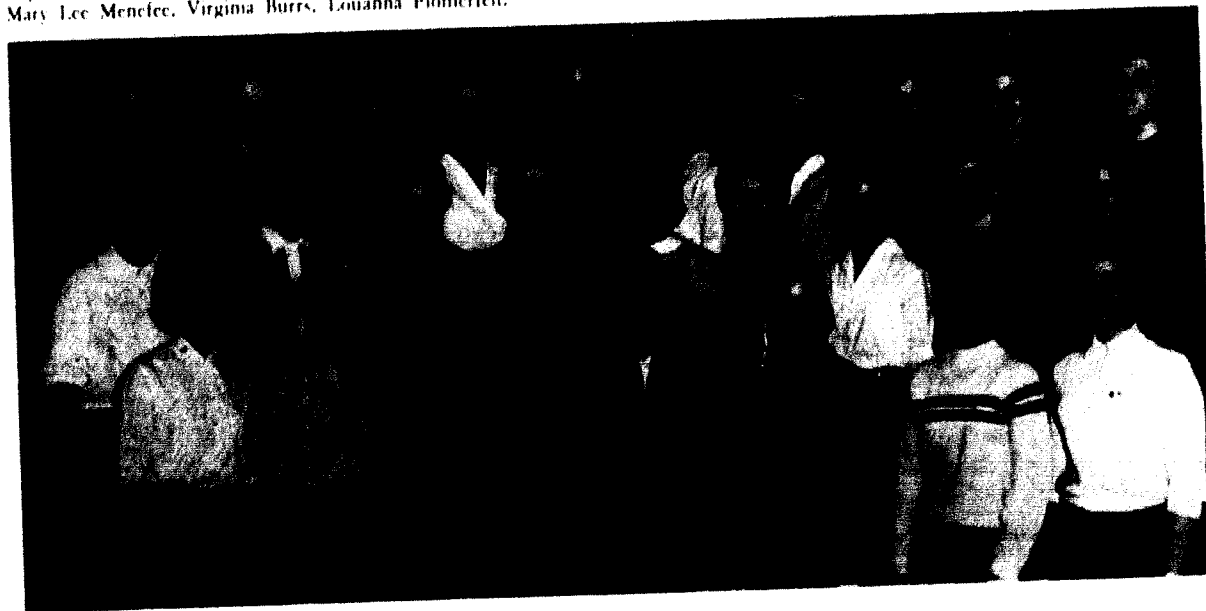

Tom Eagles, Ralph Clark, Gene Anderson, Jack Underwood, Arthur Kennedy, John Timberlake, James Holland, Dr. E. J. Gier, William Foster.

Alpha Phi Omega

Since its founding on campus in 1939, Alpha Phi Omega has earned itself a reputation for its motto, "Service." The membership consists of former boy scouts who are willing to serve their country and their school. This fraternity engages in any project which will in any way benefit the college, faculty or student body. One important undertaking was this group's aid to the bloodmobile by arranging for visits to the campus and encouraging donors. This year the group was sponsored by Dr. Gier with Art Kennedy as president.

Pi Gamma Mu

Pi Gamma Mu is an organization which grants recognition to those students who have excelled in the field of social science. Students who have reached their junior year, have a minimum of 20 hours work in social science, have maintained a "B" average in the social sciences, and have no failures on their records are eligible for membership.

Meetings are held once a month to encourage the undergraduate study of the social sciences. Dr. Thompson was the sponsor for this year.

Phi Alpha Theta

Phi Alpha Theta, national history honorary fraternity, was established in 1921 to stimulate scholarship in the field of history, to promote historical writing, and to encourage the members to be informed about national and international affairs.

The organization sponsors a national convention which is held every other year. The local chapter presents at convention each year a scholarship key to the senior member with the highest grade average in the field of history.

Row 1: Audrey Vought, Helen Houston, Martha Johnson, Ken Bohringer, Bill Garrett, Wayne Rudloff, Janet Neer, Shirley Lopeman.

Jewell Debaters Win Honors

Speech activities are centered in Pi Kappa Delta, honorary forensics fraternity. This year's squad of 18 debaters and 5 individual events speakers participated in 14 tournaments. Highlights were the Harvard Invitational Debate Tournament, where Donald Herrick won first in extemporaneous speaking, and the highly competitive West Point National Debate Tournament, where 36 top ranking teams from across the nation debated.

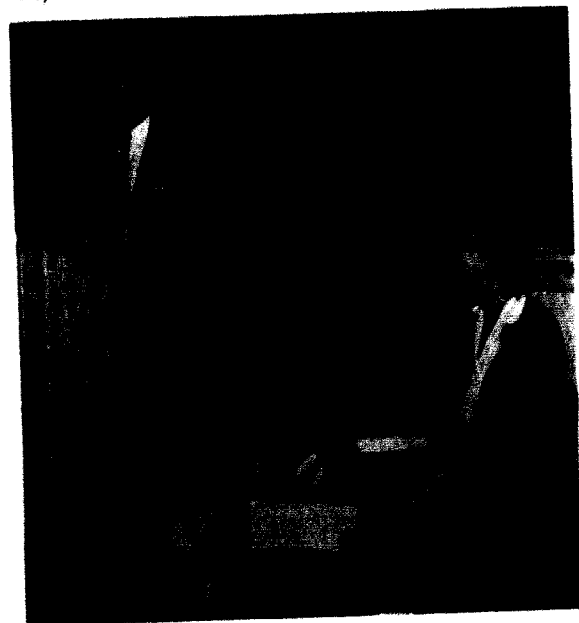

Honors won by the squad included third in women's debate at Central State College, Edmond, Okla., second at the University of Arkansas, and Superior at the Missouri State Speech Tournament; third in senior men's debate at Pittsburg State Teachers College, first at Southwestern College, Winfield, Kans., and Superiors at the Blizzard Tournament, the University of Nebraska, the Missouri State Tournament, and the 4-state Provincial Pi Kappa Delta Tournament at Central College, Pella, Ia. Top individual awards were first in extemp for freshmen Ed Draper and first in oratory for Shirley Lopeman at the University of Arkansas; for Donald Herrick, firsts in extemp at Southwestern, Harvard, Missouri, and Provincial meets, and first in oratory at Emporia Teachers College, Central State College, University of Wichita, Missouri, and Provincial tournaments.

Projects sponsored by PKD were a high school debate clinic in October, the yearly Blizzard Debate Tournament in January, the Missouri Speech Tournament in March, and an intramural freshman speech contest in May. Officers were Ron Walstrom, president, Gene Voigts, vice president, Bill Garrett, secretary, Shirley Lopeman, treasurer.

The national organization consists of 185 chapters and some 35,000 members. Designed to foster improvement in speech, it provides a system of increasing honors for continued participation. This year five William Jewell students qualify for the highest award, the diamond key of special distinction: Wilma Grove, Jo Hawkins, Donald Herrick, Gene Voigts, and Ron Walstrom.

PRACTICE DEBATES such as this one help Gene Voigts, Shirley Lopeman and Jo Hawkins prepare for stiff inter-collegiate competition.

Political Science Club

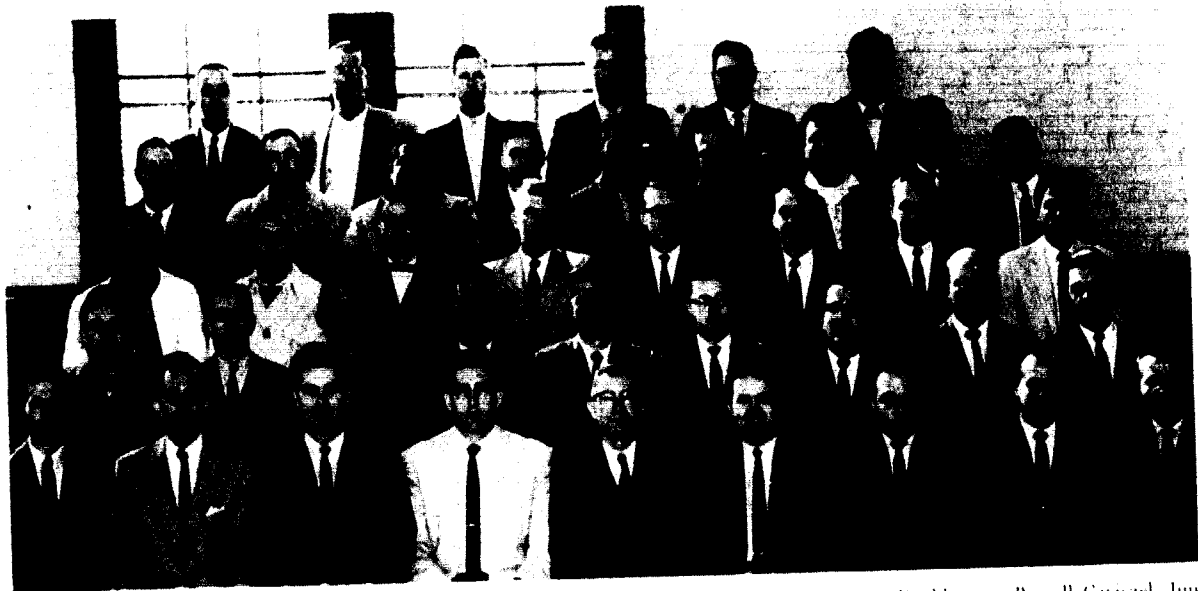

Organized on the William Jewell Campus in 1956, the Political Science Club offers professional contacts and friendships with students interested in this field of study. Students with a grade point average of 2.25 in at least ten hours of political science may apply for membership. Once a semester the club publishes the Political Science Newsletter, for which any student may submit articles. The President of the Political Science Club this year was Richard Stillwagon.

B S M

The Baptist Student Movement is the religious organization on campus primarily for American Baptist students. They meet on Sunday evenings in the recreation room of Melrose Hall. The types of meeting vary from invited speaker to discussion, devotional worship, or fellowship, all geared to the spiritual and intellectual development of the group. The BSM alternates with BSU the responsibility for Thursday night Student Worship. Leadership has been provided this year by Jim Conger, President, and Dr. and Mrs. Robert Trotter, advisors.

Ministerial Association Has Varied Activities

On April 30, 1953, the ministerial students of William Jewell College reorganized in accordance with provisions of a formal constitution and adopted the name of the H. I. Hester Ministerial Association in recognition of Dr. Hester and his years of personal interest, leadership, and invaluable counsel to students preparing for Christian service. Though not always identified by its present name, the Association is the oldest organization on the Hill, having been in existence since the beginning of Jewell's history.

This year approximately 150 members held meetings at chapel time on Mondays at which they heard speakers from seminaries and nearby churches. On Fridays Rev. Tom Bray, director of religious activities conducted a practical workshop.

BSU Links Church and College

The Baptist Student Union seeks to make and keep vital in the life of a student the various organizations within the church. Serving primarily as a unifier of religious programs on the campus is the BSU Executive Council, selected yearly to plan and direct the college's religious activities. The 1959-60 religious program included Morning Watch devotionals, Evening Vespers, mission projects, social programs at the church for new students on campus, and planning and presentation of seasonal religious programs in Chapel.

During the "big snow" of Spring, 1960, representatives from William Jewell attended a nationwide BSU convention in Fort Worth, Texas.

In its broadest sense, however, the Baptist Student Union is not religious programs, or conventions, but the voluntary religious activities of all students on campus.

Young Women's Auxiliary Membership Grows

The Young Women's Auxiliary is an organization for teaching missions and promoting missionary work in the Baptist Church. Membership in YWA this year is larger than it has been for the past several years, an indication of the popularity of the group's varied and widespread activities. Students will find comparable organizations throughout the Baptist world when they leave

Young Women's Auxiliary meets twice a month during the school year. The year's program opened with the traditional tea at the home of Dr. and Mrs. Walter Binns and included seasonal activities held at the Liberty Baptist Church and guidance meetings for the girls at Hilltop House, one of the BSU-supported mission projects.

Row 3: Beverly Riddle, Shirley Williams, Judy Stubbs, Beverly Goss, Culah Hanlin, Arletta Hughes, June Owen, Vanita Holtby, Eleanor Scott, Grace Goodson.

Epsilon Omega Pi

The spirit of Epsilon Omega Pi is characterized by the ever-present spirit of Christ. This organization led by Vanita Holtby as president is composed of girls who are preparing for full-time Christian service and who wish to develop every phase of their lives and learn more about Christian work.

Areas which these members will select for their life work are many and varied, but each girl will remember and hope to live up to the motto of EOP, "Into Service Prepared."

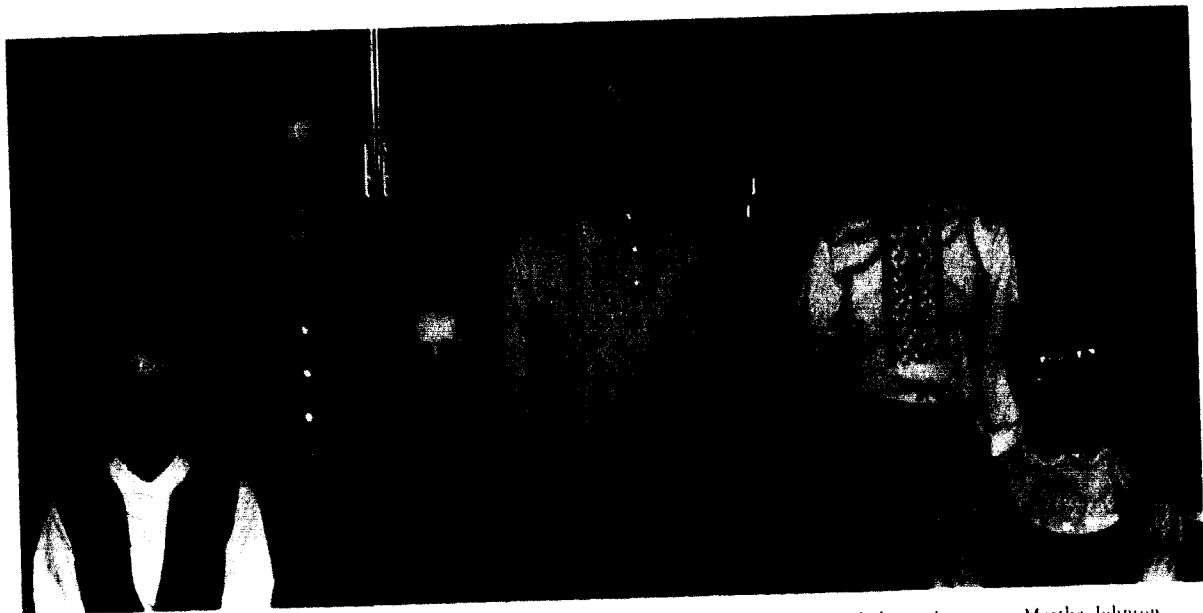

Gamma Beta Nu

Gamma Beta Nu, organized in 1931, is composed of the wives of ministerial students at William Jewell who wish to carry out the motto of the group, "wives help to win."

Their meetings give these women contact with others and a social group of their own in which they find helpful discussions of common problems, relaxation with those of mutual interests, and best of all, friendships to last through the years.

W R A

In its second year, the Women's Recreation Association has continued to co-ordinate the women's intramural sports program on the campus. Each woman student at Jewell is a member and the Women's Recreation Board consists of representatives elected from the student body and the three sororities.

The group planned the annual play day for high schools in the surrounding area, held a sports day with Park College, and set up the tournament for the seasonal sports program this year.

Physical Education Majors

The Physical Education Majors Club is affiliated with the American Association for Health, Physical Education, and Recreation. It was established five years ago on the William Jewell campus.

This organization provides an opportunity for majors in physical education to become better acquainted with professional views on athletics and to officiate at intramural games. The requirement for voting membership is a "C" average. Members of the department served as sponsors.

Row 1: Stan Lemons, Tom Suter, Bob Howard, Mike Compton, Jerry Roundall, Ray Wilson, Ron Scago, Ron Kelley, Jim Schenck. "J" Letters in Eight Varsity Sports

William Jewell Cardinal men have eight different sports in which to compete for a varsity numeral by inter-collegiate competition. Letters are awarded for participation in four major sports—football, basketball, track and baseball, and in four minor sports: wrestling, cross-country, tennis and golf.

For membership into the "J" club, an athlete must have earned a varsity letter and passed through the club's initiation.

The letter club sponsors the annual alumni football game in the fall. To initiate the roundball season, the lettermen act as hosts at the annual William Jewell high school invitational basketball tournament. In addition, the men service the concession stands at all the Cards' home basketball games. The annual William Jewell Relays are sponsored by the "J" club.

Cardinals Win 1959 MCAU Championship

The 1959 version of the "Big Red" machine made good use of hard, quick line play and a fast backfield to roll to an eight win and one loss record. This season was of unusual significance, for the M.C.A.U. champion Cardinals displayed impressive enough football to maintain a national rating throughout most of the season and finished in the fifteenth place bracket despite a one loss blemish on the record.

Starting their rampage by defeating Ottawa 14-6 in the opener, they went on to draw blood from Culver-Stockton, Maryville, Tarkio, Graceland, Missouri Valley, Iowa Wesleyan, and Baker before tasting the bitterest of defeats at the hands of St. Benedicts in the final game.

Scarcely deserving anything less than a perfect record, Coach Norris Patterson's gridders piled up some impressive statistics. Ranked 10th nationally in defense and 13th in offense, the Cardinals allowed only 63 points to be scored against them, while they scored 244 points.

Five Jewell starters were placed on the M.C.A.U. all-conference team. They were Dave Bolsenga, Bob Howard, Art Carder, Ed Elliott, and Ralph Kincaid. Kincaid, the outstanding performer of the season, ranked 11th nationally in total offense and led the Jewell statistics in scoring, punting, passing, and rushing averages.

A total of thirty-two letters were awarded to the 1959 squad. Despite the loss of eleven of these through graduation, the prospects for the 1960 season look favorable. Of the twenty-one returning lettermen, seven are juniors, ten are sophomores, and four are freshmen. Six provisional letters were also awarded.

With the close of the year, the co-captains were elected for the 1960 season. These will be Ken Pollock, Vance Morris, and Jim Millen.

Basketball Team Wins Fourth Place in N.A.I.A.

As they were dubbed by one of their press clippings, William Jewell's 1960 cagers were indeed "A Stranger in Paradise" team. This squad of round ballers managed to scrap their way through only a mediocre season and finish with a flourish that astounded even the most optimistic of fans.

Being plagued by an inconsistency which was truly a study of hots and colds, Coach Jim Nelson's boys finished regular season play with an 18-7 record and a second place berth in the M.C.A.U. conference. In tournament play they brought home trophies for second place in the Ottawa Tournament, third place in the Kansas City University Tournament, and a third place in the Graceland Tournament. John Hickman, junior guard, and Wayne Kuhlman, sophomore center, were chosen for the Ottawa all-tourney team. The consistent all around play of junior Charles Rutherford was rewarded by his selection to the M.C.A.U. all-conference team.

This season has been one which will be long remembered in Jewell basketball history. With captain Tom Lewis as the only senior on the entire squad, this scrappy bunch of underclassmen literally stole their way into N.A.I.A. Tournament play. Meeting conference champion Westminster for the District 16 playoffs, Jewell got the edge in two out of three games 55-66, 70-52, and 62-60. Then meeting Stetson College in the tournament opener, Jewell won 68-66 to set off a tremendous effort at clutch play. Jewell went on to defeat Parsons College 73-71, and New Mexico Highlands 67-62, before being stopped by tournament champion Southeast Texas. Taking a bad beating in the final game from powerful 1959 champion Tennessee A & I, Jewell found herself still well into the realm of glory by holding down the fourth place berth in the National N.A.I.A. Tournament. With eight returning lettermen . . . watch out next year.

meet victories over St. Joseph Juco, Tarkio, Missouri Valley, and twice over Westminster. The defeats came at the hands of Kirksville and a fine Graceland team. Also in a triangular meet with Graceland and Missouri Valley, Jewell captured the second place spot. The outstanding performer of the year was freshman Jim Munson. Other varsity letters went to Larry Heaps, Bob West, Ron Hamilton and Stan Lemons.

Wrestling

With a freshman studded squad and only three returning lettermen the 1960 William Jewell wrestling squad took on a tough schedule of eleven matches. Coach Darrell Gourley and his crew of fifteen team members underwent a rather disappointing season in finishing with a 1-10 record. The grapplers were not up to expected strength due, in part, to the inability of heavyweight Ben Disselhoff to wrestle, and the late season injury of Captain Ed Elliott.

Matches were held with Northwest Missouri State, Graceland College, Fort Hays State, Iowa University, Missouri University, Omaha University and Westminster College. Lettermen for the 1960 season were Ed Elliott, Charles Hartzell, Ned Bartee, Dan Lambert and Clarence Schneider. With the experience gained this year the wrestling squad is looking forward to a much improved record in the 1961 campaign.

Track Men Face Keen Competition

The William Jewell Track men were faced with one of the toughest track schedules in recent years in this 1960 endeavor. Although the results didn't show it, Coach Darrell Gourley's under-bunnies did a very commendable job in handling the task put before them. Dual meets were scheduled with Ottawa University, Northwest Missouri State, Tarkio College, Westminster College, Washington University, Graceland College, St. Benedict's, and Missouri Valley College. In addition to these meets William Jewell sent representatives to the Kansas State Invitational at Manhattan, the Drake Relays, the Graceland Relays, and the Kansas University Relays.

The Jewell squad was fortunate to have several outstanding performers, yet lacked the depth of material to be fully effective. The outstanding consistent scorer for the season was Larry Hamilton in the 440, 100 and 220. Others who consistently placed in meets were Art Carder and Larry Elliott in the hurdles, Bob Hufft in the 440 and half mile, Art Miller in the high jump and javelin, Larry Heaps in the distances, Jim Conger in the middle distances, Tom C. Jones in the pole vault and Art Davis and Grundy Newton in the weights. Two school records fell this year. Tom C. Jones, a freshman, vaulted 12'10" in the M.C.A.U. conference meet and Art Davis boosted the shot put record to 48' 10 1/2".

Traveling to Missouri Valley on May 13 and 14 the endermen managed to capture a third place in the M.C.A.U. conference meet. Here again the lack of depth was fatal to a better showing, but the prospects for next year look better. Many of the better performers are underclassmen and can look forward to a bright future.

Baseball Team M.C.A.U. Co-Champions

The William Jewell Cardinal Baseball squad under the leadership of Coach Norris A. Patterson enjoyed an early spring by making a trip into Oklahoma and Texas as a warm up for the season.

The 1960 campaign opened with a veteran lineup including fourteen returning lettermen, plus a promising crop of freshman hopefuls.

The Cardinal baseballers opened the season with a resounding win, which set the pattern for a highly successful season. After the Southland trip the schedule called for games with Graceland, Rockhurst, Northwest Missouri State, St. Bene-dier's, and Kansas City University in non-league competition.

In Missouri Collegiate Athletic Union play, the Cardinals competed with Central, Westminster, and Culver Stockton.

The list of returning lettermen included Dave Bolsenga, Ray Wilson, Pat White, Elmer Yordt, Tom Hightower, Don Jamieson, Ron Morrison, Dick Rinchart, Tom Lovejoy, and Ron Seago.

At the season's end the team emerged as M.C.A.U. Co-Champions with a conference record of 8 wins and 4 losses and an overall record of 13 wins and 12 losses.

Tennis Team

A mixture of experience and enthusiasm sparked the Jewell tennis team which enjoyed a very successful season this year.

Coached by Jim Nelson, the team had matches with the following schools: Graceland, Park College, Kansas City University, Rockhurst, Central, Missouri Valley, and Springfield.

The Jewell net men took a trip to Lamoni, Iowa, to compete in the Graceland Relays in May, and participated in the M.C.A.U. conference meet which was held at Missouri Valley on May 13 and 14.

Golf Team

The William Jewell golf team enjoyed a successful 1960 golf season. Dr. David O. Moore served as golf coach. Matches were played with men from Kansas City University, Graceland, Rockhurst, Missouri Valley, and St. Benedict's.

One of the highlights of the year was a first place finish in Iowa May 5 and 6.

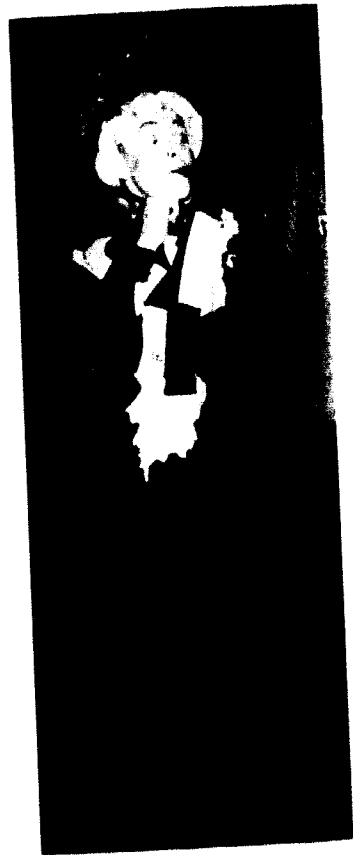

The Jewell golf men also participated in the M.C.A.U. regional tournament at Springfield, Missouri.

ADPis Place in Homecoming and Tatler Revue

The year has been a successful one for the members of Gamma Nu, one of the 101 chapters of Alpha Delta Pi. The national sorority was founded at Wesleyan Female College in Macon, Georgia, on May 15, 1851, and it is the oldest secret society for women in the world.

Twenty four girls pledged Alpha Delta Pi as a result of a very successful rush week during which the ADPis welcomed rushers to their blue and white chapter room at Progressive Tea. Later they gave a "Beathaven" party and the traditional "Plantation Party."

Throughout the year, the ADPis were busy with many activities. As usual, Halloween presented the perfect time to serenade the fraternity houses. The pledge dance, "Autumn Fantasy," was attractively decorated with the colorful leaves of the fall season. Then came the winter formal with "Fantasy in Frost" chosen as the theme. At that time Memorial Hall was transformed by much crepe paper and beautiful hanging stars. Everyone had a most enjoyable time.

Two new trophies came to Alpha Delta Pi. After long hours of "stuffing" and "twisting," the girls took third place at Homecoming with a beautiful float, "Squeeze 'Em Out a Victory," carrying a huge octopus. At Tatler Revue they again won third place for "Cinderella and the Beatnik Drag." The skit was a tongue-in-cheek version of the well-known fairy tale. Cinderella was renamed Modine Gunch and was charmed by a beatnik prince.

The Pis also had their share of beauty queens: Kaye Cokely reigned as Homecoming Queen; Cara Rodenbach was Homecoming First Princess and also William Jewell's Football Queen; Paula Young was First Princess to the Tatler Queen. The typical school spirit of the group was revealed during the Homecoming Festivities when Linda Hufft was elected "Miss Peppy."

Alpha Delta Pis received many campus honors and participated in the leading organizations:

Row 3: LaVelle Tucker, Laz Choplin, Gretchen Van Hooser, Judy Tucker, Judy Nail, Kaye Cokely, Ann Labnostock, Elaine Schaeffer, Sue Frank, Karilyn Nelson.

Marty Mathews and Sue Johnson belong to Panagis; Sue and Marty along with Cara Rodenbach were also elected to Who's Who in American Colleges and Universities; Kaye Cokely was Secretary of the Junior Class and Peggy Wilson was elected as the Secretary Treasurer of the Student Senate; Cara Rodenbach, Carol Smith, Kaye Cokely, and Joyce Poppenhagen served the school as cheerleaders; LaVelle Tucker was president of the Women's Recreation Association (WRA) and Business Manager of the Tatler; Osa Marie Eppinger and Kaye Cokely acted as Co-Chairmen of Homecoming and Religious Focus Week respectively; Rita Wilke, Osa Marie Eppinger, Rosa Lee Taylor, and Judy Williams were members of A Cappella; and Cindy Tucker was voted the "Best Dressed Girl on Campus" by a committee composed of faculty members and students.

In reviewing the year the members will remember the many punning serenades, the intramural swimming meet in which their skilled swimmers won first place, the informal parties in the dormitory, and the desserts at the fraternity houses. They accomplished much of note due to considerable hard work and the bubbling ADPi spirit.

Alpha Gams Are Active in Many Campus Activities

Epsilon Epsilon Chapter of Alpha Gamma Delta, which was chartered at William Jewell in October, 1946, is one of eighty-seven chapters located throughout the United States and Canada. Since its installation the chapter has attempted to maintain the traditions and high ideals of the international sorority founded at Syracuse University in May, 1904.

During rush week the Alpha Gams entertained rushees at two enjoyable parties, the "Showboat," and the "Pearls of Alpha Gam." Rush proved to be a success, and the first social event of the year was the presentation of twenty-four new pledges at a formal tea in Yates College Union. Many activities soon followed including the annual pledge dance, "Blue Lagoon," which was decorated appropriately.

Homecoming approached rapidly, and the Alpha Gams were kept busy stuffing the float entitled "Pinocchio 'Nose' We'll Win." Karin Grosse and Linda Bennett helped lead the victory cheers, and Jan Williams served as a majorette with the band.

In December the winter formal, "Silver Bells," was given at Pithian Hall. The hall was transformed into a winter wonderland by means of huge bells suspended from the ceiling and murals painted with snow scenes. In the Christmas spirit, the Alpha Gams went caroling in Liberty and filled several baskets with food and clothing for the needy families in the area. They also completed their sale of candy to raise money for the national altruistic project, helping cerebral palsied children. After Christmas vacation the girls industriously planned and practiced their Tatler skit "Slenderella." Each girl felt especially proud when Donna Holmes was selected as Tatler Queen.

The highlight of the year came in March with the initiation of twenty-four new members. The occasion was celebrated by the traditional Feast of Roses held at the Wishbone in Kansas City. At that time the officers for the coming year were announced and awards were given. The active scholarship and activities awards were presented to Virginia Burrs and Louanna Flomerfelt; the pledge awards went to Julie Tschirner for activities and Judy Miler for scholarship.

The Alpha Gams were well represented in campus functions and organizations: Mary Worthington starred as Nora in "The Doll's House," and Shirley Lopeman had the lead in the Greek drama "Antigone." Myra Lane who was tapped for Panacis and elected to Who's Who in American Colleges and Universities also served as secretary of the Union Board and as Co-Chairman of Tatler Revue; Judy Miler was elected Freshman Class Secretary while Nancy Behrendsen presided as Junior Panhellenic President; Karen Huso aided the Big Sister Council by acting as Semple Hall coordinator; Sally Gregory was associate Business Manager of the Student; Marcia Brown was Editor of the Tatler, with Virginia Burrs as Associate.

The year also proved a memorable one for Alpha Gamma Delta in sports. They placed second in the swimming meet, and second in the volleyball tournament. Other notable events were The Hawaiian party given by the pledges, International Reunion Day, the many pinning serenades, and the hilarious informal Sadie Hawkins dance.

Beta Sigs Place First With Homecoming Float

The history and tradition of Beta Sigma Omicron has been one of achievement since its founding in 1888 at Stephens College in Columbia, Missouri. Proud of their distinction of being the oldest sorority on the hill, since September, 1951, Beta Sigs have participated in a wide variety of activities on the campus.

The very special honor of being selected First Lady of the Campus went to Wilma Grove, Wilma and Martha LaFrenz were honored by membership in Panacgis, and Who's Who in American Colleges and Universities claimed Anna Margaret Kepley, Martha LaFrenz, and Wilma Grove. Last summer all the girls of Alpha Psi were thrilled when Linda Long was chosen as Miss Missouri.

Betas upheld their tradition of high scholarship by winning the Panhellenic Scholarship Trophy for the tenth consecutive year. Alpha Psi Chapter also won their own national scholarship trophy for the seventh year. Toni Bolenbaugh won the emerald and diamond pin for the Beta with the highest grade point average.

The opening of fall rush week found the Betas welcoming rushees with two colorful parties, the first featuring Dennis the Menace followed by the traditional Pink Lady Party. Twenty-three of the rushees became Beta Sigs during the year.

To begin the whirl of social activity which is typical of a Beta year the pledges gave a dance for members of the active chapter. The theme of the dance was "Tambika," a south sea island, complete with bongos and costumes. At the end of these girls' pledgeships Janet Neer was chosen "Out-standing Pledge."

Homecoming brought many honors and much excitement to the girls of Beta Sigma Omicron. "The Great Undertaking" featuring a series of caskets containing symbols of defeated teams won first place as the Beta entry in the annual Homecoming Float Parade. All the girls enjoyed working on the float as well as marching in the parade as pall bearers, Sandy Glaeseman and Marion Board cheered a winning team; and Beta Sig was represented in the Homecoming Court by Linda Long, Second Princess; Marion Board, First Attendant; Wilma Grove, Second Attendant.

Another exciting event of the year was Tatler Revue. The title of this year's Beta skit was "The Speareshakian Tragedy, Macbeth." Particularly memorable were the performances of the three witches and the moving forest.

In addition to membership in many honoraries, the Beta Sigs were well represented in dramatics, musical activities, and other organizations on the hill. Wilma Grove, Sondra Morgan, and Karen Curnett were in A Cappella Choir; Martha Johnson served as President of the Big Sister Council and Associate Editor of the Student; Jo Hawkins, Marion Board, and Anna Margaret Kepley were directors on the College Union Board; Mary Lee Menefee led the House President's Council as its president. Betas were also active in student government with Nancy Casterline, Senior Class Secretary; Martha Johnson, Junior Class Treasurer; Jane Ann Hunt and Connie Capen, Sophomore Class Secretary and Treasurer.

Kappa Alpha Has Pledge Class of Thirty-Nine

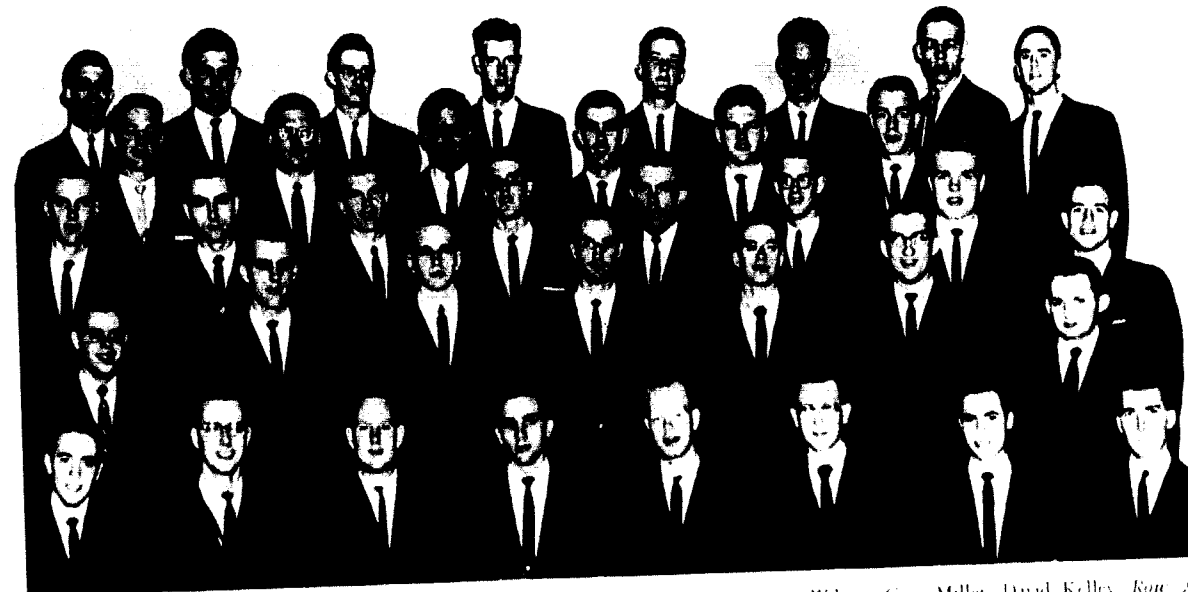

From the time of its inception in the heart of the Old South at Washington and Lee University in 1865 until now, Kappa Alpha has sought to instill in young men the ideal of the "Southern Gentleman" as typified in the life of General Robert E. Lee, the spiritual founder. Alpha Delta Chapter of the Kappa Alpha Order has been a substantial contributor to the William Jewell tradition since the founding of this chapter on the campus one Saturday morning back in 1887, when a group known as "The Invincible Twenty-Three" banded together to form the thirty-second chapter of the Kappa Alpha Order. Although this group is the northernmost chapter, it is nonetheless southern as portrayed by the beautiful southern architecture of the Alpha Delta Chapter house.

The 1960 school year began with an outstanding rush program in which Kappa Alpha took thirty-nine new pledges. Social activities for the year consisted of various parties, including the fall hayride, informal gatherings, fireside parties, and "Old South" weekend. "Old South" is held in May of alternate years and is one of the fraternity's outstanding social affairs. It includes a parade in the Liberty square, an elaborate ball, and a picnic. The men wear the uniforms of the Confederacy and their dates dress as southern belles. Convivium, Kappa Alpha's yearly observance of Robert E. Lee's birthday and the founding of the Order was held at the Herford House with a large group of alumni present. Tatler Review saw Kappa Alpha capture a second place trophy with their skit "Shmoe White and the Seven Dwarfs."

The men of Kappa Alpha received many honors and positions this year. Ollie Parker and Art Carder were initiated into Acons. Art Carder also served as Tatler Review Co-Chairman, was selected "Colonel Alexander Doniphan," elected to Who's Who in American Colleges and Universities, and Gene Voigts was a member of the highly ranked senior debate team.

Kappa Alpha also possessed some outstanding athletes. They boasted four varsity football lettermen: Art Carder, Ray Bowman, Art Miller, and Bob Hufft. In basketball Kappa Alpha was represented by Charlie Rutherford, Jim Dudley, and George Payne as members of the varsity squad.

The quality of the Alpha Delta Chapter is perhaps best shown by the trophy which adorns the mantle of the house, presented to Alpha Delta as the outstanding of the seven Missouri chapters.

Mrs. A. L. Hanna maintains an atmosphere of warm southern hospitality.

Lambda Chis Maintain High Scholarship Standards

Lambda Chi Alpha, one of the youngest of the national fraternities, was founded at Boston University in 1909. Since that time the organization has grown to include 151 chapters thus becoming one of the largest of such Greek groups. The local fraternity, Zeta Chi, became Epsilon Nu Chapter of Lambda Chi Alpha in 1942. Each successive year has found its members upholding high traditions in places of leadership on the William Jewell campus.

This year fall rush netted too few men. Therefore, the members redoubled their efforts and tripled the number of pledges since the first of the year. Undaunted, Lambda Chi won second place for the third consecutive year in the Homecoming Float Contest with a colorful contribution, "The Grim Reaper."

As the Lambda Chi's began their second year in their new house, facilities were expanded to accommodate six additional members. This expansion enabled more men to live in the house than at any time in Epsilon Nu's history.

The Chis were again tops in scholarship. Epsilon Nu ranked ninth out of the 151 national chapters of Lambda Chi Alpha. The newsletter, Epsilon Nu's, under the editorship of Stanley Lemons and published by the chapter for the benefit of the alumni was ranked first in all of Lambda Chi Alpha this past year.

The strength of the Chis was also evident on the varsity sports' scene. Bob West, Stanley Lemons, and Art Cunningham were members of the MCAU championship cross-country team. Wayne Kuhlman was center on the basketball team, maintained a fifteen point per game average, and was the only sophomore chosen for the All-Tournament Team at the Ottawa Tournament. Bill Hockensmith and David Buzzzell were varsity wrestlers. James Conger represented Epsilon Nu on the track team. Robin Pratt was one of Jewell's number one tennis players, and Art Cunningham and Dave Carney did a fine job as varsity golfers.

In the social world Epsilon Nu enjoyed its usual round of events. The fall formal was a "Pleasure Pyramid" and the pledge dance was a "Sweetheart Hop." Other events of the year included open houses every weekend, four informals, the Christmas Party, Mother's Day Tea, Family Day, Homecoming Buffet Dinner for the alumni, and the White Rose Crescent Ball.

Again this year Lambda Chi Alpha has had many of its members in the honorary and service organizations, dramatics, music, student government, and religious groups. Outstanding in student government were David Burhans as Student Body President and James Conger who led the Junior Class as its President. James Banning and Stanley Lemmons were two of the five men tapped by Acons. Stan was also selected for listing in the publication Who's Who in American Colleges and Universities. Two of the four debaters attending the Harvard Debate Tournament were Ron Walstrom, President of Pi Kappa Delta, and Bill Garrett, President of the William Jewell Players. Harvey Hecht was Associate Editor of the Student, and John Jackson served Sigma Pi Sigma as its President. Members with dramatic inclinations included Ken Bohringer, Stan Lemons, and Don Rogers who all had leading parts in various plays presented by the Players.

Phi Gams Win First Place in Catler Revue

This year Zeta Phi Chapter of Phi Gamma Delta celebrated its seventy-fourth year on the William Jewell campus. The men of Zeta Phi are proud of the traditions and accomplishments of the oldest fraternity on the hill.

Phi Gamma Delta was founded in 1848 at Washington and Jefferson College in Cannonsburg, Pennsylvania, and came to William Jewell in 1886. In 1871 Phi Gamma Delta was a Zeta Phi Fraternity and in 1886 joined the national organization, becoming the Zeta Phi Chapter of Phi Gamma Delta. Since that time the "Fiji's" have succeeded in instilling friendship and spirit in their men and have filled their place of leadership in the activities on the campus.

Zeta Phi began a successful year by adding to their fold, thirty new pledges. These men have responded to active social functions by giving a "Beatnik" Dance held at the Fraternity house with suitable decorations. Other dances followed with themes in keeping with such seasons as Halloween, Christmas, and Valentine's Day. Phi Gamma Delta served as host to the three sororities on separate Monday nights, besides the many pinning serenades that have taken place at the house. The big event and the highlight of the social year was the "Fiji Weekend" which included a Fiji Island Party in costume Saturday night and a picnic Sunday afternoon.

For the graduate chapter of Zeta Phi, the annual "Pig Dinner" was held the first weekend in April. This year's turnout was extremely good with over 125 present at the dinner. An award went to Ray Barr as the Outstanding Graduate Member. The Outstanding Senior and Outstanding Pledge also received special recognition.

When Homecoming rolled around the brothers pitched in and secured an Honorable Mention with the float, "You Go to Your Bowl, and We'll Go to Our's." The Phi Gams swept first place with their Tatler skit, "Texas Valentine" in which Jim Reno was the Presidential candidate of the Romantic Party. The skit featured several lively chorus numbers and rhymlical campaign speeches.

The membership of Phi Gamma Delta includes several campus leaders. Rod Swearingen has served as President of the College Union Board, President of Sigma Tau Delta, a member of Acons, and the varsity tennis team. Rod and Lenny Poppenhagen were both listed in Who's Who in American Colleges and Universities. Lenny was Business Manager of the Student and directed this year's Tatler

Revue skit. Pat White was named one of the Co-Captains of the Baseball Team, Larry Hamilton was chosen a Co-Captain in Track, and Bob Howard was chosen Captain of the Tennis Squad. Serving on the College Union Council were Wayne Rudloff, Ed Frantz, Al Diman, Don Head, Dick Kerns, Ron Seago, and Lenny Poppenhagen.

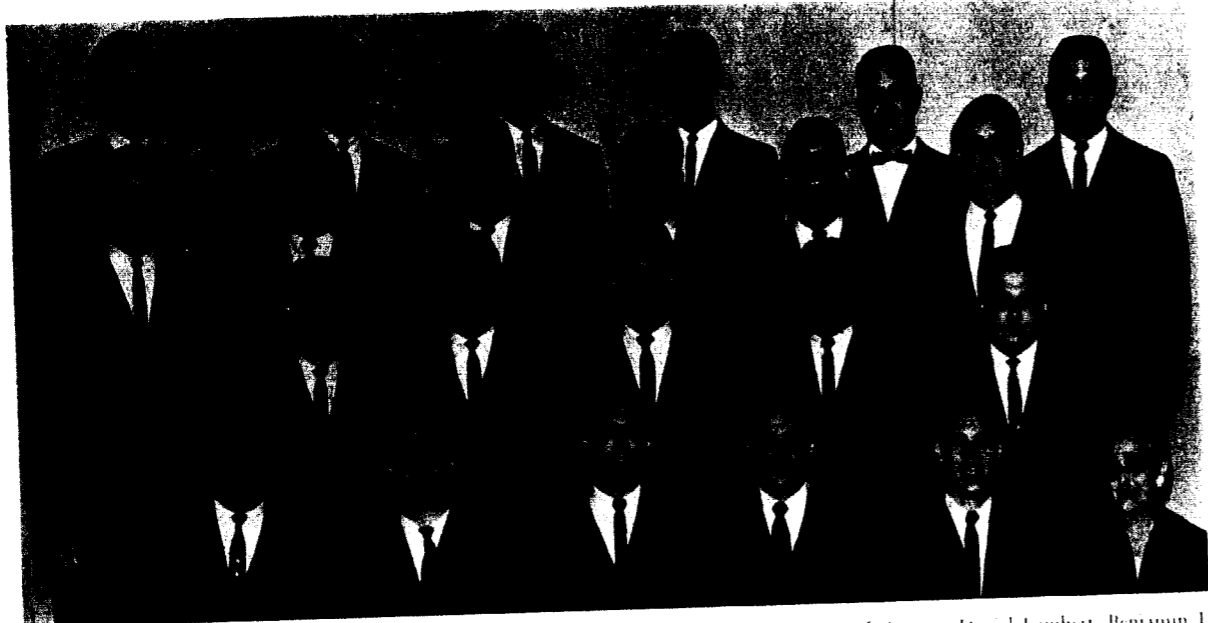

The comfortable, red brick fraternity house took on a truly home like atmosphere as this year Phi Gamma Delta welcomed a new housemother, Mrs. Mary Malone. "Mom" was greatly received by the brothers and has gained the respect and friendship of all.

Sigma Nus Actively Participate in Varsity Sports

Beta Xi Chapter of Sigma Nu enjoyed another year full of activities and good times in 1959-60. Rush week at the beginning of the first semester brought seventeen new pledges to the oldest fraternity house west of the Mississippi River.

Founded in 1869 at Virginia Military Institute, Sigma Nu is now one of the largest members of the National Interfraternity Council. The wearers of the five-armed star have made a valuable contribution to campus life since their coming to the Jewell campus in 1894.

Members of Beta Xi were successful in the activities on the hill this year. Richard "Boxcar"

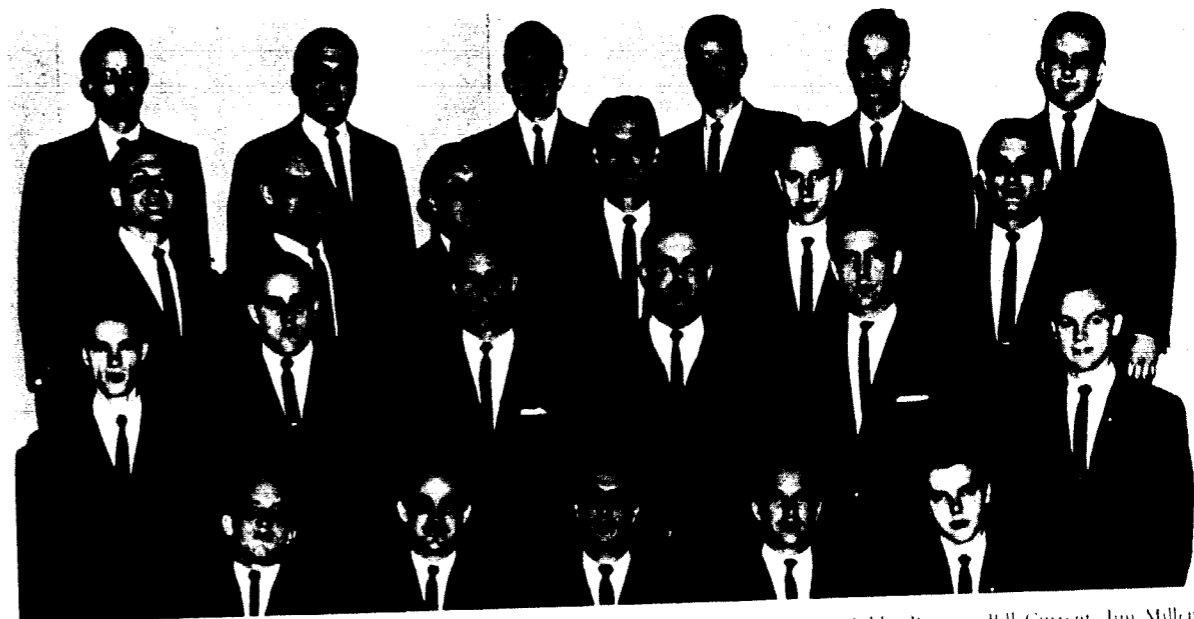

Bailey was chosen Ugly Man on campus, and during Homecoming Dick Cox was chosen Mr. School Spirit. The Sigma Nu contribution to the Homecoming Parade was a float entitled "All Out to Clout."

The members of the active chapter were particularly proud this year of the fact that they had one of the highest grade averages of any Sigma Nu active chapter in the nation. Their overall grade average was 2.6 which was above the all men's average of the college.

The many sports events on the hill gave the men of Sigma Nu the opportunity to show their athletic abilities. Dick Cox and John Hickman played a big part in sending the William Jewell varsity basketball team to the NAIA basketball tournament in Kansas City where the team emerged with fourth place. The varsity football team also felt the strength of Beta Xi men. Members and pledges of the fraternity filled nineteen places on the team. The Tri-Captains for the 1960 football season are to be Sigma Nus.

One outstanding highlight of the year occurred during the Christmas season when the Sigma Nus played host to thirty-one underprivileged children ranging from five to ten years of age. The children were entertained at the house by the members and their dates with a visit from Santa topping the day.

With the beginning of second semester work was begun on the Tatler skit which this year was entitled "The Useless Effort." The skit was based upon a series of episodes presenting scenes from France, Russia, and Africa. Featured in the episodes were a quartet of singing waiters, a rugged Russian chorus line, and two authentic witch doctors with luminous costumes.

The largest Alumni Dinner in the history of Beta Xi Chapter was organized and directed by P. Caspar Harvey this year. Other events of the social season were the annual hayride and colorful informal dances. Activities were brought to a traditional close with the beautiful White Rose Formal which was well attended and greatly enjoyed.

Members of Beta Xi were very fortunate to have Mrs. Homer Huff continuing as housemother. Mother Huff first assumed this position in 1955, and since that time she has endeared herself to the men as their favorite Sigma Nu girl. This year the members of Beta Xi worked very hard to finance Mother Huff's trip to Paris. The brothers of Sigma Nu were most happy to be able to make it possible for Mrs. Huff to visit her relatives in France.

1959 Homecoming Revue Is a High Point in a Big Weekend

The student body and alumni of William Jewell celebrated a very busy and exciting Homecoming on November 6 and 7. This year's festivities were organized and co-ordinated by Osa Marie Eppinger and David Williams, Co-Chairmen of the event.

Activities got underway with a pep rally and bonfire on Thursday evening, November 5. Friday was a Homecoming Holiday with a series of seminars held on Friday afternoon for returning alumni.

An outstanding highlight of the weekend was the Homecoming Revue and the crowning of the Homecoming Queen which took place Friday night. The Revue, organized by Lou Esther and Ron Jenkins and directed by Mrs. Gladys Ward and Mrs. Gloria Lane, presented an island in the South Pacific with many similarities to the one of the Broadway musical of the same name. This particular island was inhabited by a group of sailors and some visiting sorority girls which led to a luau and a series of hilarious musical situations. The evening was completed by the presentation of Mr. Myers Mayberry and Miss Helen Early as Mr.

The big day Saturday began at 10 a.m. with the Homecoming Parade made up of clever floats entered by the seven Greek organizations on the campus. The William Jewell band as well as bands from several high schools in the surrounding area contributed to the spirit and color of the event.

The floats were judged and trophies were presented at Jewell's victorious football game against Baker University Saturday afternoon. The third place trophy went to Alpha Delta Pi for "Squeezin' Out a Victory," second place went to Lambda Chi for "The Grim Reaper" and the first place trophy was presented to Beta Sigma Omicron for "The Great Undertaking." Following the game a huddle was held for parents and guests in the Union with the Alumni Dinner at 6:30.

Band Promotes Excitement and School Spirit

The William Jewell College Band under the direction of Mr. Edward Lakin has established itself as an important part of many campus functions. Anyone who can play a band instrument and is interested in further developing his ability is invited to play in the band.

Dressed in their new navy blue uniforms with red trim, the members of the marching band presented many skillful halftime demonstrations at the football games. The musical tribute of the band helped encourage our victorious football team.

The six majorettes—Lou Esther, Joyce Ballew, Sue Frank, Mary Ruppelius, Jan Williams, and Peggy Wilson along with Jim Conger, drum major led the Homecoming Parade through Liberty. Their lively tunes and colorful costumes added to the gala event.

The members of the band along with the cheerleaders took part in several chapel programs to practice the fight songs and cheers. These programs did much to promote school spirit among the entire student body. This year the band was unable to make a tour of high schools in the area due to the snow which lasted over a month. At the time of graduation the concert band presented their traditional program on the lawn.

The members of the band receive valuable training in the field of music. They broaden their experiences and have the opportunity to seriously study almost every kind of music from march style to Mozart.

The members of the band with their instruments are: Piccolo—Alice Cunningham and Carolyn Marcell; Flute—Donelda Atkinson, Harriet Petty, Sue Ramsbottom, Byron Smith, Barbara Swaney, and Barbara Thompson; Oboe—Hugh Campbell and Eleanor Scott; Clarinet—Stella Clark, Marvin Dixon, Bill Fulkerson, Jim Hughes, Connie Mattox, Dixie Norton, Melba Sharp, Barbara Vaughn, Jan Williams, Carolyn White, John Sticer, Don Gregory, Dubby Hobbs, and Mary Ruppelius; Bassoon—Bill Grime; Saxophone—Joyce Emerick, Nancy Long, Earnest Waldrom, Jim Pate, Joahn Taylor, and Donn Patterson; Horn—Jim Conger, Don Douglas, and Gary Miller; Trumpet—Jim Crenshaw, Tom Eagle, Jon Halferty, Larry Mendenhall, Judy Miler, Charles Rutherford, Gary Schneider, Don Upton, and Pat Wilson; Trombone—Merrick Mohler, Pat Morris, Larry Osborne, Martha Simrall, Loyal Stubbs, and Gary Wilson; Baritone—Chal Beisenherz, Ron McCoy, and Oliver Swaney; Bass—Donald Griesback, Jon Harp, Dale Lemons, and Larry Rice; Percussion—Don Inloes, Becky Lovan, Mike Bussell, Linda Newton, and Joyce Stringfield.

All these members have contributed to the tenth successful year of the band. Since its organization student interest in the band has been high and support has been enthusiastic.

Orchestra Provides Music for Special Occasion

The College Orchestra has acquired a prominent position in campus musical activities. Under the direction of Mr. Edward Lakin members have found participation in the orchestra an excellent opportunity for improving their skill.

First organized in 1955, the orchestra grew out of the interest of some music-loving students who were concerned with keeping up their music and being in an orchestra for music enjoyment and practice. By taking part in this musical activity, the orchestra members have become more proficient in the mechanics of playing and also have become more aware of the interpretation and thought behind a musical selection. They broaden their experiences and are given an opportunity to seriously study almost every kind of music, for selections include classic, romantic, and modern. The orchestra also offers students a valuable working experience in learning while playing with a group.

The William Jewell Orchestra is a community project in that it may include not only students from the college but also interested persons from the community of Liberty and the surrounding area.

Some especially music-minded orchestra members are also members of the William Jewell Band, thereby gaining experience in playing different types of music with a different type musical organization. Members of the orchestra are also often found performing as instrumental soloists and in ensembles for various college functions and at local community affairs.

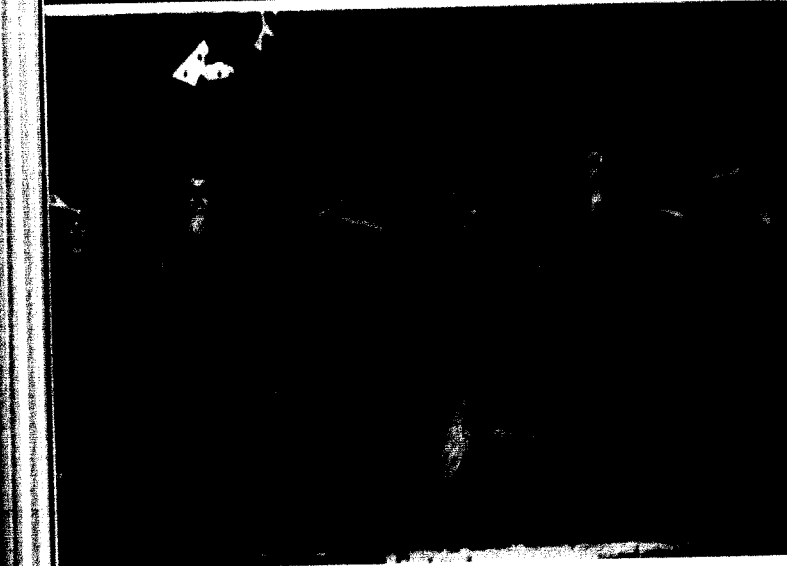

Most Jewell students first heard the fall orchestra perform this year as it provided the intricate musical accompaniment for the Christmas presentation of "The Messiah."

Members of the orchestra with their instruments are: Flute—Harriet Petty and Sue Ramsbottom; Oboe—Eleanor Scott; Clarinet—Dixie Norton and Connie Mattox; Bassoon—Billy Grime; Horn—

Tatler Revue

For the first time Tatler Revue was presented on two consecutive nights. On Friday evening the seven Greek organizations presented their skits and the queen was selected. Then on Saturday evening the skits were judged and three trophies were awarded. The Co-Chairmen for this newly organized event were Myra Lane and Art Carder.

Donna Holmes of Alpha Gamma Delta was chosen as the 1960 Tatler Queen with Paula Young, Alpha Delta Pi, as First Princess and Mary Lee Menefee, Beta Sigma Omicron, as Second Princess. The queen candidates had "walked" in street dresses between the acts, and at the conclusion of the program the girls, dressed in formal attire, were escorted through a huge red heart. Other candidates for queen were: Alpha Delta Pi - Anita Fahnestock; Alpha Gamma Delta - Virginia Burris; Beta Sigma Omicron - Sandy Glaesman; and Non Affiliated Students Barbara Bishop and Pat Butler.

On Saturday evening the trophies were presented to the three winning skits by the queen and her attendants. Phi Gamma Delta took first place with its humorous skit, "Texas Valentine," in which Jim Reno was campaigning for the presidency backed by the Romantic Party. The Phi Gams performed skillfully in song and dance numbers while they advocated more lovin' and kissin'.

Second place was won by Kappa Alpha with their presentation of "Schmo White." It was a clever take off on the well known fairy tale in which the portrayal of the seven dwarfs and the novel stage setting will be particularly remembered.

Alpha Delta Pi captured third place in the revue with "Cinderella and the Beatnik Drag." Cinderella, renamed Modine Gunch, was rescued from drudgery by her fairy godfather, Big Daddy O, and was able to win the heart of her beatnik prince.

Choir Participates in Chapel Services

The William Jewell College Choir is composed of students who are interested in music and who enjoy singing together as a chorus. Not all members of the choir are music majors, nor are they all voice students. However, the satisfaction members receive from presenting a good performance compensates for the many hours of practice that are needed to maintain the high quality of the choir.

This year under the direction of Harrison C. Boughton the choir presented a 30 minute program at the Missouri Baptist Convention in the Music Hall, participated as a robed choir in chapel services, and presented special anthems for such occasions as Religious Focus Week and Achievement Day. Outstanding during the year was the choir's participation in the Christmas presentation of Handel's Messiah.

A Cappella Choir Enjoys Spring Tour

The A Cappella Choir is composed of twenty-four members selected by Mr. Harrison Boughton, who is new in the music department this year. The choir was chosen on the basis of voice, tone quality, general musical ability, and academic standing in auditions held early in the fall semester. Throughout the year, the choir participated in many campus, civic, and religious affairs. They made their first appearance at the annual Achievement Day Banquet held at the Muehlebach Hotel in Kansas City. Shortly before the holidays the choir presented a program of Christmas music in chapel.

The highlight of the year came during the spring semester when the choir made a tour of six Missouri cities. The choir gave their first concert on March 23 at the East Baptist Church in Sedalia and then sang at the high schools in Tipton, Russellville, and Eldon. The great majority of the engagements were presented in the St. Louis area. There they gave programs at three high schools and six churches. The choir concluded the tour on March 28 with appearances at St. Charles and Washington High schools. Throughout the tour the choir sang sacred and secular music. Several arrangements included on the program were: "Blessing, Glory and Wisdom," by J. S. Bach; "Oh Shenandoah," arranged by Kjelson; "Ain't That Good News," arranged by Dawson. During the six days in which they travelled about Missouri, the choir sang to 7,000 persons and appeared on television in St. Louis.

After their return from the tour the members of A Cappella Choir presented their program to the student body during two chapel sessions in order to commemorate the Easter season. Also during the year they appeared at the Veterans' Hospital in Excelsior Springs and at several churches in the area including the Calvary Baptist Church and the First Baptist Church of Excelsior Springs.

Members of the choir are: Soprano—Alice Cunningham, Karen Burnett, Wilma Grove, Sondra Pirch, Patricia Weter, and Mary Worthington; Alto—Osa Marie Eppinger, Becky Lovan, Linda Newton, Rosa Lee Taylor, Rita Rae Wilke, and Judy Williams; Tenor—David Crouse, Norman Harris, Dick Kerns, Larry Rosenstengel, Loyal Stubbs, and Don Upton; Bass—Earnest Campbell, Ron Jenkins, Charles Helm, John Henderson, Don La Fontaine, and Dave Williams.

Focus Week Features Outstanding Leaders

During the week of March 13-18 ten outstanding people were adopted into the college family for five days of activity which made up Religious Focus Week. Under the guidance of Tom Bray, campus director of religious activities, and student co-chairmen, Kaye Cokely and Ed Elliott, this week was a spiritual success.

Dr. G. Kearnie Keegan, Secretary of the Student Department, coordinated the activities of the Focus Week team which included Dr. W. Bryant Hicks, Mr. Blanchard V. Antes, M.D., Mrs. Harriet Willingham, Dr. William J. Fallis, Dick Harp, Dr. August Hintz, Glen Harold Stassen, Dr. Lofton Hudson, and Bill Keller. Dr. Keegan received a B.A. degree from Northwestern College and the Th.M. degree from Southwestern Seminary, Fort Worth, Texas. In 1945 he received the D.D. degree from Howard Payne College. Dr. Keegan has served as pastor in the Southern and American Baptist Convention, and has been a missionary in Brazil. Areas of special study include social science, theology, psychology, and journalism.

Representing the medical profession, Dr. Blanchard Antes came to us from Canton, Ohio. He was awarded his medical degree from Johns Hopkins Medical School where he specialized in Obstetrics and Gynecology for three years. For 35 years, he has been on the staff of Aultmas Hospital in Canton.

Mrs. Harriett S. Willingham of New York, was the only woman visitor. She did her graduate work at Vassar College Institute of Euthenics in Massachusetts and was formerly a high school English teacher in Carrollton, Ill. Mrs. Willingham has many interests including Girl Scout Work, YWCA, and Westhampton College alumnae work, where she earned her A.B. in 1926.

Serving as Book Editor of the Broadman Press since 1949, Dr. William J. Fallis resides in Nashville, Tenn. He was awarded his doctorate in 1948 at Southern Baptist Theological Seminary and has served as state secretary for Virginia, and as editor of the Sunday School Young People's Quarterly.

With a variety of alma maters, Dr. Wade Bryant Hicks gives Richmond, Virginia, as his mailing address, although he is a professor in the Philippine Baptist Theological Seminary. He attended Virginia Military Institute, University of South Carolina, Cornell University Midshipmen's School, Oberlin College, University of North Carolina, and Southern Baptist Theological Seminary.

Dr. R. Loftan Hudson, of the Midwest Christian Counseling Center drove to the hill to conduct several seminars. A former student of Vanderbilt University, Dr. Hudson received his Th.D. from George Peabody College of Nashville, in 1946. He has served as pastor of four congregations, the last being the Wornall Road Baptist Church in Kansas City.

Also present was an outstanding Kansas City businessman, Mr. Bill Keller is an executive with the Cook Paint and Varnish Company and is an active layman at the Wornall Road Baptist Church.

Mr. Glen Harold Stassen, a New Yorker, is studying at the Union Seminary in New York City. He attended the University of Virginia, where he earned a B.A. in physics in 1957. At the university, Mr. Stassen lettered in both wrestling and track. He was also a successful debater.

Lawrence, Kansas, was represented by Mr. Dick Harp. He received his B.A. from the University of Kansas in 1940. He is currently basketball

Players Present Variety in Drama

The William Jewell Players, under the direction of Miss Virginia D. Rice, have had another successful year. The Players, with over fifty members, have participated in every phase of dramatic productions from acting to stage designing and ticket sales.

The members of the group have combined their efforts in presenting four enjoyable plays. The season began with the presentation of Charley's Aunt in November. The play represented the lighter side of English school life at Oxford in the last decade of the 19th century, including its pranks, its frivolities, and its romances. The portrayal of Charley's Aunt by Don Inloes was especially noteworthy as he, an Oxford undergraduate, had to masquerade as a woman in a black skirt, a lace fichu, an old fashioned bonnet and a wig. The staging of the play adhered to the characteristics of the 19th century and incorporated a profile effect against the backdrop.

MEMBERS OF THE CAST in an important scene from "Charley's Aunt."

A new experiment in stage technique was begun this year and proved successful. The theater-in-the-round was used for two plays which were presented in the College Union. The first of these, A Doll's House, by Henrik Ibsen starred Mary Worthington as Nora, and Kermit Wilkins as Torvald Helmer, her husband. The plot centered around the clash between a man who preferred to treat his wife as a little girl or "doll" at all times and a woman who needed to grow up.

The second coffee drama in the College Union was Twelve Angry Men. The play, which was an award-winning television drama, concerned a jury that had retired to reach a verdict in a murder trial. Mrs. Gloria Lane, who joined the faculty in the fall, assisted Miss Rice in the direction of the two plays using the theater-in-the-round technique.

The final production of the season was the Greek tragedy, Antigone, in April.

Antigone Is Highlight of the Dramatic Year

The first Greek tragedy ever presented on this campus was presented April 29 and 30 by the William Jewell Players directed by Miss Rice. Although the play, Antigone, was written by Sophocles two thousand years ago, it still has definite modern appeal with its passions, intrigue, and intense characterization.

The plot is built mainly on the vices and virtues of both man and woman. The main conflict is between Antigone and her uncle, King Creon. Creon has decreed that the body of Polynices, her brother, shall be left unburied. Antigone defies this order and covers the body with dust. For this she is condemned to death. This pride and stubbornness on the part of Creon results in tragedy and death for his own family.

Upper Left RECEIVING HER DEATH SENTENCE. Shirley Lopeman as Antigone waits with the sentry, Bill Sharp, to be taken to the cave where she is to be left.

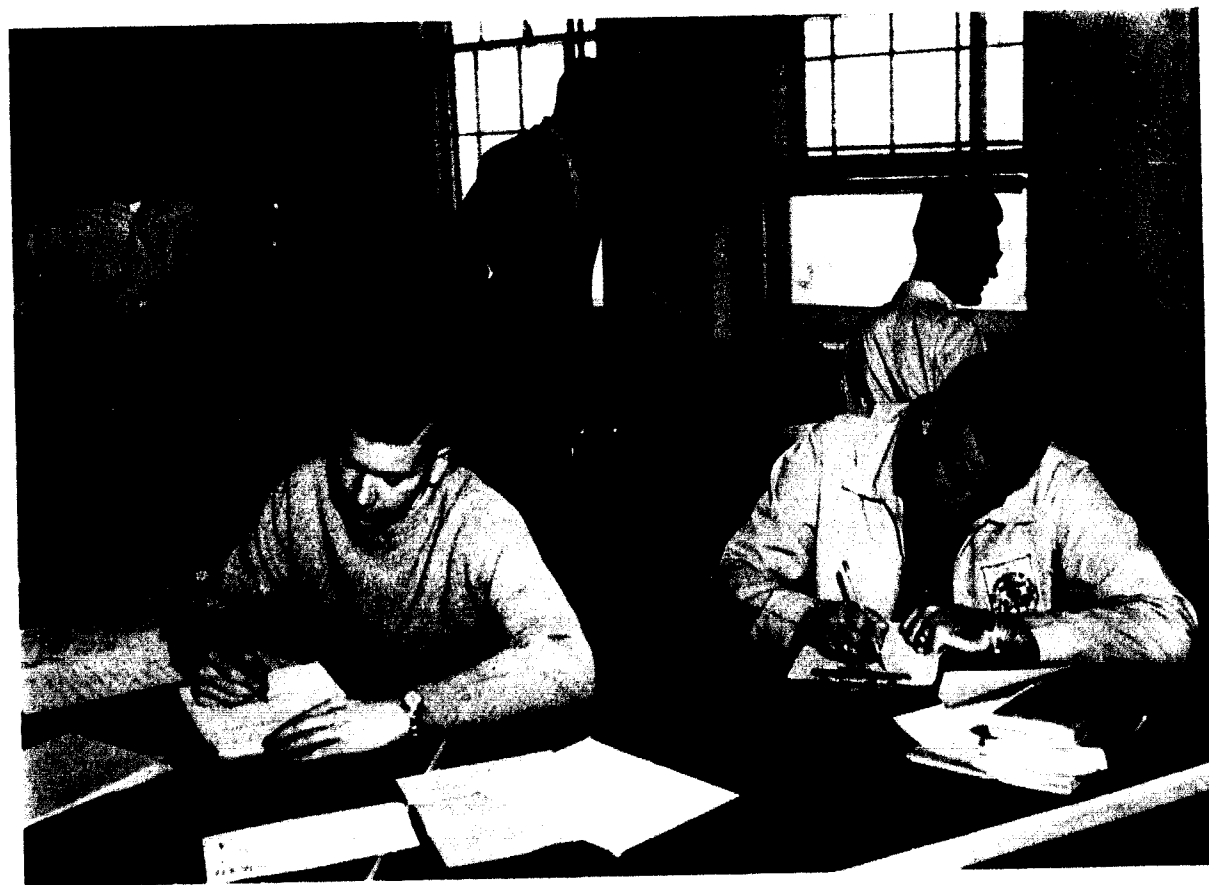

Lower Left PLEADING FOR ANTIGONE'S LIFE is Bob Moore as Hamon, Creon's son, and Antigone's betrothed.

of the Dramatic Year

The use of both a male and female speaking chorus accented by percussion accompaniment to the verse, and a specially chosen musical score to introduce the mood and spirit of each scene, and the five interpretive dancers who performed while the chorus spoke helped to make the play the highlight of the dramatic year.

The cast for the production was as follows: Antigone, Shirley Lopeman; Ismene, Nancy Renfer; Eurydice, Anita Stark; Creon, Kermit Wilkins; Hamon, Bob Moore; Teiresius, Ken Bohringer; sentry, Bill Sharp; Melitos, Harry Lines; Choragus, Bill Garrett; Theban women (chorus), Karen McKinney, Ann Carter, Joann Bush, Jancy Neer and Julie Tschurner; women attendants, Lois Potter and Karen Stolte; soldiers, Roy Williams, Terry Yocum and Darrell Baker; Theban men (chorus), John Sharp, Bill Graham, Ken Bohringer and Addison Johnson.

MEMBERS OF THE JOURNALISM CLASS busily engaged in the business of putting out an excellent weekly paper.

Interest Increases as Student Becomes a Weekly

The William Jewell Student this year became weekly under the leadership of Charles Dale Durbin, editor, and Lenny Poppenhagen, business manager, and produced a total of 30 issues.

Planning for a single issue is more complicated than might be anticipated. On Tuesday evening before the issue to appear the next Thursday, the assignment sheets of the stories to be written is made up and given out Wednesday morning. Also during this week all the pictures which will appear in the issue are taken and Friday night or Saturday they are sent usually to Columbia to be engraved.

On Monday morning, the journalism class meets and writes many of the stories which were assigned and these are turned in to the printer at 1 p.m. On Monday afternoon the editor and associate editors and business manager finish working on the necessary amount of copy and this is turned in by 5 o'clock if possible.

Any copy which cannot be in by Monday afternoon is written Monday night and turned in by Tuesday morning. By this time the engravings are back from Columbia, and they are mounted. At 4 p.m. on Tuesday the staff meets and makes up the dummy of the paper from the galleys, and also corrects any errors. This process takes from 2 to 5 hours, usually, depending upon the specific situation. The assignment sheet for the next issue is then made up.

On Wednesday morning the dummy of the paper is given to the printer and the final page proof is finished by Wednesday noon. The page proof is then read and given back to the printer usually by 1 p.m. Wednesday, and the 1100 copies are then printed Wednesday afternoon.

The Student is folded early Thursday morning after the ink is thoroughly dry, and then they are distributed at the end of the Thursday Chapel service.

Many major stories news-wise came into focus this year, resulting in the largest number of 5-column headlines ever run in the Student. A few of these were the Billy Graham story, the N.A.A. story, and the Commencement story.

Emphasis was also placed on more pictures this year.

Staff Members Present the 1960 Tatler

The year 1960 at William Jewell has been an exciting and a successful one. College memories are a mixture of the warmth of friendships made; the important lessons learned; the thrill of such special events as Homecoming, Tatler Revue, the NAA Tournament; and the small daily experiences which have made the year outstanding.

It is the purpose of a yearbook to record these memory making experiences. The production of such a book requires the cooperative effort of many persons. The Editor wishes to recognize those individuals who were of great help in making the book a reality. Special thanks are due to Mr. Nowell, for all the color photography and much expert advice; to Dr. Jones, faculty advisor; to Mr. Glassen of Becktold Company; to Dr. Green, Dr. Bowman and Mr. Truex, and the Board of Control; to Virginia Burrs, next year's editor; and to the staff as a whole.

It's been quite a year; but at last the final picture has been taken, the last story has been written, and the book has become your record of the school year. The Staff hopes that you will forgive our shortcomings and will feel that the 1960 Tatler was worth waiting for.

PHOTOGRAPHERS ARE IMPORTANT PEOPLE! Here Art Huhta and Nancy Nutter process some pictures.

WILLIAM JEWELL COLLEGE

welcomes to its long list of distinguished alumni the members of the Class of 1960

For one hundred eleven years, William Jewell College has kept faith with its founding fathers who wanted here a superior college of the liberal arts and sciences.

Its thousands of graduates have achieved success in many fields. The Class of 1960 join this honored rank, and will see to it that the past is but prologue to an even greater future for their Alma Mater.
